33. In this Order the expression "urban district" means an urban district other than a borough, and the expression "ordinary election" means the election held in any year to fill any ordinary vacancies in the urban district councillors for the district, and includes any first election of additional urban district councillors for the district or election to fill a casual vacancy in the office of urban district councillor for the district which can be held at the time of the election to fill such ordinary vacancies, and any first election of urban district councillors for a newly constituted district which can be held at the time appointed for ordinary elections.

Adaptation of forms to elections other than the ordinary election.

34. If the election is not the ordinary election, such modifications as may be necessary shall be made in the forms contained in the Second Schedule to this Order.

This Order may be cited as the "Urban District Councillors Election Order, 1898."

THIRD SCHEDULE.

PROVISIONS OF THE BALLOT ACT, 1872, AS ADAPTED AND ALTERED IN THEIR APPLICATION TO THE ELECTION OF URBAN DISTRICT COUNCILLORS IN ANY DISTRICT OTHER THAN A BOROUGH.

PROCEDURE AT ELECTIONS OF URBAN DISTRICT COUNCILLORS.

2. The ballot of each voter shall consist of a paper (in this Act called a ballot paper) showing the names and description of the candidates. Each ballot paper shall have a number printed on the back, and shall have attached to a counterfoil with the same number printed on the face. At the time of voting, the ballot paper shall be marked on both sides with an official mark, and delivered to the voter within the polling station, and the number of such voter on the register of voters shall be marked on the counterfoil, and the voter having secretly marked his vote on the paper, and folded it up so as to conceal his vote, shall place it in a closed box in the presence of the officer presiding at the polling station (in this Act called "the presiding officer") after having shown to him the official mark at the back. Poll at elections.

If in the register of parochial electors for a parish, the same number is placed opposite to the name of more than one parochial elector, the returning officer shall put a distinguishing mark on each part of the register which contains numbers used in other parts of the register, and when the number of any voter on any part of the register is entered on the counterfoil of a ballot paper, the mark on that part shall also be entered thereon.

Any ballot paper which has not on its back the official mark, or on which votes are given to more candidates than the voter is entitled to vote for, or on which anything, except the said number on the back, is written or marked by which the voter can be identified, shall be void and not counted.

After the close of the poll the ballot boxes shall be sealed up, so as to prevent the introduction of additional ballot papers, and shall be taken charge of by the returning officer, and that officer shall, in the presence of such agents, if any, of the candidates as may be in attendance, open the ballot boxes, and ascertain the result of the poll by counting the votes given to each candidate, and shall forthwith declare to be elected the candidates or candidate to whom the majority of votes have been given. The decision of the returning officer as to any question arising in respect of any ballot paper shall be final, subject to reversal on petition questioning the election or return.

Appendix II.

OFFENCES.

Offences in respect of ballot papers and ballot boxes.

3. Every person who—

(1) Forges and counterfeits or fraudulently defaces or fraudulently destroys any ballot paper, or the official mark on any ballot paper; or

(2) Without due authority supplies any ballot paper to any person; or

(3) Fraudulently puts into any ballot box any paper other than the ballot paper which he is authorised by law to put in; or

(4) Fraudulently takes out of the polling station any ballot paper; or

(5) Without due authority destroys, takes, opens, or otherwise interferes with any ballot box or packet of ballot papers then in use for the purposes of the election (p);

shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and be liable, if he is a returning officer or an officer or clerk in attendance at a polling station, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding two years, with or without hard labour, and if he is any other person, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labour.

Any attempt to commit any offence specified in this section shall be punishable in the manner in which the offence itself is punishable.

In any indictment or other prosecution for an offence in relation to the ballot boxes, ballot papers, and marking instruments at an election, the property in such papers, boxes, and instruments may be stated to be in the returning officer at such election, as well as the property in the counterfoils.

Infringement of secrecy.

4. Every officer, clerk, and agent in attendance at a polling station shall maintain and aid in maintaining the secrecy of the voting in such station, and shall not communicate, except for some purpose authorised by law, before the poll is closed, to any person any information as to the name or number on the register of parochial electors of any elector who has or has not applied for a ballot paper or voted at that station, or as to the official mark, and no such officer, clerk, or agent, and no person whosoever, shall interfere with or attempt to interfere with a voter when marking his vote, or otherwise attempt to obtain in the polling station information as to the candidate for whom any voter in such station is about to vote or has voted, or communicate at any time any information obtained in a polling station as to the candidate for whom any voter in such station is about to vote, or has voted, or as to the number on the back of the ballot paper given to any voter at such station. Every officer, clerk, agent, and person in attendance at the counting of the votes shall maintain and aid in maintaining the secrecy of the voting, and shall not attempt to ascertain at such counting the number on the back of any ballot paper, or communicate any information obtained at such counting as to the candidate for whom any vote is given in any particular ballot paper. No person shall directly or indirectly induce any voter to display his ballot paper after he shall have marked the same, so as to make known to any person the name of the candidate for or against whom he has so marked his vote.

Every person who acts in contravention of the provisions of this section shall be liable, on summary conviction before two justices of the peace, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labour (q).

USE OF SCHOOL AND PUBLIC ROOM FOR POLL.

6. The returning officer at an election of urban district councillors may use free of charge, for the purpose of taking the poll or for counting the votes at such election, any room in a school receiving a grant out of moneys provided by Parliament, and any room the expense of maintaining which is payable out of any local rate, but he shall make good any damage done to such room, and defray any expense incurred by the person or body of persons, corporate or unincorporate, having control over the same on account of it being used for the purpose of taking the poll or for counting the votes as aforesaid.

The use of any room in an unoccupied house for taking the poll shall not render any person liable to be rated or to pay any rate for such house.

DUTIES OF RETURNING AND ELECTION OFFICERS.

General powers and duties of returning officer.

8. Subject to the provisions of this Act, every returning officer shall provide such nomination papers, polling stations, ballot boxes, ballot papers, stamping instruments, copies of register of parochial electors, and other things, appoint and pay such officers, and do such other acts and things as may be necessary for effectually conducting the election.

Every deputy returning officer shall, in so far as he acts as returning officer, be deemed to be included in the term returning officer.

(p) For a conviction under this clause for trying to destroy by a liquid papers already in the box, see R. v. Chapin (1910), 74 J. P. 71.

(q) See Stannanought v. Hazeldine (1879), 4 C. P. D. 191; 43 J. P. 352.

Appendix II.

Keeping of order in station.

9. If any person misconducts himself in the polling station, or fails to obey the lawful orders of the presiding officer, he may immediately, by order of the presiding officer, be removed from the polling station by any constable in or near that station, or any other person authorised in writing by the returning officer to remove him; and the person so removed shall not, unless with the permission of the presiding officer, again be allowed to enter the polling station during the day.

Any person so removed as aforesaid, if charged with the commission in such station of any offence, may be kept in custody until he can be brought before a justice of the peace.

Provided that the powers conferred by this section shall not be exercised so as to prevent any elector who is otherwise entitled to vote at any polling station from having an opportunity of voting at such station (r).

Powers of presiding officer and administration of oaths, etc.

10. For the purpose of the adjournment of the poll, a presiding officer shall have the power by law belonging to a deputy returning officer in a parliamentary election; and any presiding officer and any clerk appointed by the returning officer to attend at a polling station shall have the power of asking the questions and administering the oath authorised by law to be asked of and administered to voters, and any justice of the peace and any returning officer may take and receive any declaration authorised by this Act to be taken before him.

Liability of officers for misconduct.

11. Every returning, presiding clerk, and clerk who is guilty of any wilful misfeasance or any wilful act or omission in contravention of this Act shall, in addition to any other penalty or liability to which he may be subject, forfeit to any person aggrieved by such misfeasance, act, or omission a penal sum not exceeding one hundred pounds (s).

No returning officer or officer appointed by him in connection with the election of urban district councillors for any urban district, nor any partner or clerk of any such officer, shall act as agent for any candidate in the management or conduct of his election as an urban district councillor. If any returning officer or officer appointed by him, or the partner or clerk of any such officer, shall so act he shall be guilty of a misdemeanour.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Prohibition of disclosure of vote.

12. No person who has voted at an election shall, in any legal proceeding to question the election or return, be required to state for whom he has voted.

Non-compliance with rules.

13. No election shall be declared invalid by reason of a defect in the title or appointment of the returning officer or deputy returning officer or of a non-compliance with the rules contained in the First Schedule to this Act or in the Urban District Councillors Election Order, 1898, or any mistake in the use of the forms in the Second Schedule to this Act or in the said Order, if it appears to the tribunal having cognizance of the question that the election was conducted in accordance with the principles laid down in the body of this Act and of the Local Government Act, 1894, and that such non-compliance or mistake did not affect the result of the election (t).

PERSONATION.

Definition and punishment of personation.

24. The following enactments shall be made with respect to personation at an election of urban district councillors:

It shall be the duty of the returning officer to institute a prosecution (u) against any person whom he may believe to have been guilty of personation (x), or of aiding, abetting, counselling, or procuring the commission (y) of the offence of personation by any person,

(r) Should confusion arise from a rush being made into the polling station the presiding officer is justified in having it cleared and order restored before proceeding with the poll (Worcester (1880), 3 O'M. & H. 184).

(s) A person who has lost the election by reason of such misfeasance, act, or omission on the part of the officer or clerk is a person aggrieved within the meaning of this provision. And an action will lie to recover the penalty without any allegation of malice or want of reasonable care (Pickering v. James (1873), L. R. 8 C. P. 489; 37 J. P. 679).

(t) The result of the election does not necessarily mean the result as to another candidate being elected at the poll. The result would be affected if the majority was substantially reduced (per GROVE, J., Hackney (1874), 2 O'M. & H. 84). For an instance of non-compliance with rules not avoiding the election, see Pembroke Petition, [1908] 2 I. R. 158, 433.

(u) It is not necessary either to charge in the indictment, or to prove, that the presiding officer at the polling station where the offence is alleged to have been committed was duly appointed (R. v. Garvey (1887), 16 Cox, C. C. 252.)

(x) See definition, ante, p. 1785.

(y) This offence is complete though the vote is not got in. "Procuring" is complete if the person procured actually applies for a ballot paper, though he never gets it; and "counselling" is complete though the person counselled never even applies for a ballot paper. See Hague v. Brown, ante, p. 1785.

Appendix II. at the election for which he is returning officer, and the costs and expenses of the prosecutor and the witnesses in such case, together with compensation for their trouble and loss of time, shall be allowed by the court in the same manner in which courts are empowered to allow the same in cases of felony.

Sections 86 to 89, both inclusive, of the Parliamentary Voters Registration Act, 1843 (z), shall apply to personation at an election of urban district councillors in the same manner as they apply to a person who knowingly personates and falsely assumes to vote in the name of another person as mentioned in the said Act, but with the substitution of the words " any parochial elector or any agent appointed under the Urban District Councillors Election Order, 1898," for " any such agent so appointed as aforesaid " or for any reference to any such agent, and of " the presiding officer " for " the returning officer or his respective deputy."

EFFECT OF SCHEDULES.

28. The schedules to this Act, and the notes thereto, and directions therein shall be construed and have effect as part of this Act.

SCHEDULES TO ACT.

FIRST SCHEDULE TO ACT.

RULES FOR ELECTIONS OF URBAN DISTRICT COUNCILLORS.

The poll.

15. At every polling place the returning officer shall, subject to the provisions of the Urban District Councillors Election Order, 1898, provide a sufficient number of polling stations for the accommodation of the electors entitled to vote at such polling place, and shall distribute the polling stations amongst those electors in such manner as he thinks most convenient.

17. A separate room or separate booth may contain a separate polling station, or several polling stations may be constructed in the same room or booth.

18. No person shall be admitted to vote at any polling station except the one allotted to him.

20. The returning officer shall provide each polling station with materials for voters to mark the ballot papers, with instruments for stamping thereon the official mark, and with copies of the register of voters, or such part thereof as contains the names of the voters allotted to vote at such station. He shall keep the official mark secret.

21. The presiding officer appointed to preside at each station shall keep order at his station, shall regulate the number of electors to be admitted at a time, and shall exclude all other persons except the clerks, the agents of the candidates, and the constables on duty.

22. Every ballot paper shall contain a list of the candidates described as in their respec-

(z) The effect of these sections as applied is as follows :

If at the time any person applies for a ballot paper after he has voted and before he leaves the polling station, any parochial elector or polling agent, of whose appointment proper notice has been given, declares to the presiding officer that he verily believes and undertakes to prove that the person so voting is not in fact the person in whose name he assumes to vote, or to the like effect, the presiding officer must immediately after such person has voted, by word of mouth order any constable to arrest him, and the order is sufficient warrant for the constable to do so. But the presiding officer must, nevertheless, not refuse a ballot paper to anyone answering in the affirmative the questions permitted by law and taking the oath authorised and required of him, nor may the presiding officer refuse to allow the ballot paper of any such person to be put into the ballot box.

The constable must take the accused at the earliest convenient time before two justices for the place within which the voting has taken place. If two justices cannot be found, within three hours of the close of the poll, the constable must take him before one justice who must release him on bail to appear before two justices. If not even one justice can be found within four hours of the close of the poll, the prisoner must be discharged ; but he may in such case be subsequently re-arrested and the charge inquired into.

If on the hearing before two justices they are satisfied on the oath of two credible witnesses that the prisoner is guilty, they must commit him for trial. But if, on the contrary, they think the charge unfounded, they must make a written order on the elector or agent, at whose instance the prisoner was arrested, to pay him compensation, if he will accept it, to the amount of not more than £10 nor less than £5. The compensation so awarded may be levied by warrant of distress on the goods of the elector or agent, or of the candidate by whom the agent was employed. Acceptance of the compensation bars all further actions.

Appendix II.

tive nomination papers (a), and arranged alphabetically in the order of their surnames, and (if there are two or more candidates with the same surname) of their other names; it shall be in the form set forth in the Second Schedule to this Act or as near thereto as circumstances admit and shall be capable of being folded up.

23. Every ballot box shall be so constructed that the ballot papers can be introduced therein, but cannot be withdrawn therefrom, without the box being unlocked. The presiding officer at any polling station, just before the commencement of the poll (b), shall show the ballot box empty to such persons, if any, as may be present in such station, so that they may see that it is empty, and shall then lock it up, and place his seal upon it in such manner as to prevent its being opened without breaking such seal, and shall place it in his view for the receipt of ballot papers, and keep it so locked and sealed.

24. Immediately before a ballot paper is delivered to an elector, it shall be marked on both sides with the official mark, either stamped or perforated, and the number, name, and description of the elector as stated in the copy of the register shall be called out, and the number of such elector, together with the distinguishing mark, if any, of the part of the register in which the number occurs, shall, as required by section 2 of this Act, as adapted, be marked on the counterfoil, and a mark shall be placed in the register against the number of the elector, to denote that he has received a ballot paper, but without showing the particular ballot paper which he has received.

25. The elector, on receiving the ballot paper, shall forthwith proceed into one of the compartments in the polling station, and there mark (c) his paper, and fold it up so as to conceal his vote, and shall then put his ballot paper, so folded up, into the ballot box (d); he shall vote without any undue delay and shall quit the polling station as soon as he has put his ballot paper into the ballot box.

26. The presiding officer, on the application of any voter who is incapacitated by blindness or other physical cause from voting in manner prescribed by this Act, or (if the poll be taken on Saturday) of any voter who declares that he is of the Jewish persuasion, and objects on religious grounds to vote in manner prescribed by this Act, or of any voter who makes such a declaration as hereinafter mentioned that he is unable to read, shall, in the presence of the agents of the candidates, cause the vote of such voter to be marked on a ballot paper in manner directed by such voter, and the ballot paper to be placed in the ballot box, and the name and number on the register of voters of every voter whose vote is marked in pursuance of this rule, and the reason why it is so marked shall be entered on a list, in this Act called " the list of votes marked by the presiding officer."

The said declaration, in this Act referred to as " the declaration of inability to read," shall be made by the voter at the time of polling, before the presiding officer, who shall attest it in the form hereinafter mentioned, and no fee, stamp, or other payment shall be charged in respect of such declaration, and the said declaration shall be given to the presiding officer at the time of voting (e).

27. If a person, representing himself to be a particular elector named on the register applies for a ballot paper after another person has voted as such elector, the applicant shall, upon duly answering the questions permitted by the Urban District Councillors Election Order, 1898, to be asked of voters at the time of polling, and upon taking an oath in the form hereinafter set out, which the presiding officer shall administer, be entitled to mark a ballot paper in the same manner as any other voter, but the ballot paper (in this Act called a tendered ballot paper) shall be of a colour differing from the other ballot papers, and, instead of being put into the ballot box, shall be given to the presiding officer and endorsed by him with the name of the voter and his number in the register of voters, and set aside in a separate packet, and shall not be counted by the returning officer (f).

(a) If a candidate has been more than once validly nominated by different descriptions, his name should be entered only once in the nomination paper with both or all the descriptions as alternatives (Northcote v. Pulsford (1875), L. R. 10 C. P. 476; 39 J. P. 487).

(b) A spare box was only exhibited empty and sealed when it was required for use: held immaterial (Pembroke Petition, ante, p. 2319).

(d) This must be done in the presence of the presiding officer, after having shown him the official mark on the back. See s. 2, ante, p. 2317, and HAWKINS, J., in Ackers v. Howard (1886), 16 Q. B. D. 739 at p. 752; 50 J. P. 519.

(e) The presiding officer must not put these declarations wrapped up with the ballot papers into the box, but he must put them aside and afterwards make them up together with the tendered votes list and the lists of votes marked by him in a sealed packet for the returning officer. See Woodward v. Sarsons, supra.

(f) The tendered vote will be added on a scrutiny, if it be proved that the person tendering it was entitled to vote (Oldham (1869), 1 O'M. & H. 152; St. Andrews (1886), 4 O'M. & H. 32), even though the presiding officer has omitted to endorse on it the name of the voter (Stepney (1886), 4 O'M. & H. 43), but it would not be counted if the person tendering the vote, instead of returning the ballot paper to the presiding officer to be endorsed, puts it into the ballot box (Buckrose (1886), 4 O'M. & H. 115).

Appendix II.

And the name of the voter and his number on the register shall be entered on a list, in this Act called "the tendered votes list."

The oath shall be administered in the following form:

"You do swear that you are the same person whose name appears as A. B. on the register of parochial electors for the parish of in this district [or on such part of the register of parochial electors for the parish of as relates to this ward], and that you have not already voted at the present election for this district [add, in case of an election for a ward, in this or any other ward].

"SO HELP YOU GOD."

Provided that any person entitled to affirm in lieu of taking an oath may affirm in the following form:

"I, A. B., do solemnly, sincerely, and truly declare and affirm that I am the same person whose name appears as A. B. on the register of parochial electors for the parish of in this district [or on such part of the register of parochial electors for the parish of as relates to this ward], and that I have not already voted at the present election for this district [add, in case of an election for a ward, in this or any other ward]."

28. A voter who has inadvertently dealt with his ballot paper in such a manner that it cannot be conveniently used as a ballot paper, may, on delivering to the presiding officer the ballot paper so inadvertently dealt with, and proving the fact of the inadvertence to the satisfaction of the presiding officer, obtain another ballot paper in the place of the ballot paper so delivered up (in this Act called a spoilt ballot paper), and the spoilt ballot paper shall be immediately cancelled.

29. The presiding officer of each station, as soon as practicable after the close of the poll, shall make up into separate packets sealed with his seal,

(1) Each ballot box in use at his station, unopened but with the key attached; and
(2) The unused and spoilt ballot papers, placed together; and
(3) The tendered ballot papers; and
(4) The marked copies of the register of parochial electors, and the counterfoils of the ballot papers (g); and
(5) The tendered votes list, and the list of votes marked by the presiding officer, and a statement of the number of voters whose votes are so marked by the presiding officer under the heads "physical incapacity," "Jews," and "unable to read," and the declarations of inability to read;

and shall deliver such packets to the returning officer, or deputy returning officer by whom the votes are to be counted, unless he is himself such officer.

30. The packets shall be accompanied by a statement made by such presiding officer showing the number of ballot papers entrusted to him, and accounting for them under the heads of ballot papers in the ballot box, unused, spoilt, and tendered ballot papers, which statement is in this Act referred to as the ballot paper account.

Counting votes.

31. Each candidate may appoint an agent to attend the counting of the votes.

32. The returning officer shall make arrangements for counting the votes in the presence of the agents of the candidates as soon as practicable after the close of the poll, and shall give to the agents of the candidates appointed to attend at the counting of the votes notice in writing of the time and place at which he will begin to count the same.

33. The returning officer, his assistants and clerks, the agents of the candidates, and any person to whom Rule 51 of this Schedule applies, and no other person, except with the sanction of the returning officer, may be present at the counting of the votes (h).

34. If a poll has been taken as to the election of urban district councillors only, before the returning officer proceeds to count the votes, he shall, in the presence of the agents of the candidates, open each ballot box, and taking out the papers therein, shall count and record the number thereof, and then mix (i) together the whole of the ballot papers contained in the ballot boxes. If polls have been taken at the same date for the election both of urban district councillors and of guardians, before the returning officer proceeds to count the votes, he shall, in the presence of the agents of the candidates, open one of the ballot boxes and taking out the papers therein shall separate those relating to the election of urban district councillors from any relating to the election of guardians, and shall count and record the number of ballot papers relating to each election. He shall then secure the ballot papers relating to each election by placing them in separate packets under his own seal, and the seals of such of the agents of the candidates as desire to affix their seals, and shall proceed in like manner with any other ballot boxes and the papers therein. When all the ballot boxes and the papers therein have been so dealt with, he shall open all the packets of ballot papers relating to one election, and shall mix all such papers together, and shall proceed to count the votes, keeping the papers relating to any other election sealed up until he has completed such counting. He shall afterwards deal in manner aforesaid with the packets and papers relating to the other election or elections.

(g) Having regard to the difference in the provisions for the inspection of the marked register and of the counterfoils, it is better to seal them up in separate packets (Stowe v. Jolliffe (1874), L. R. 9 C. P. 446; 38 J. P. 617).

(h) Even the alteration of the wording of Rule 31 does not seem to oust the general right of a candidate to be present although he may have appointed an agent, and that agent is also present. See Clementson v. Mason (1875), L. R. 10 C. P. 209; 39 J. P. 360. The returning officer may order any person interrupting the proceedings by making a great noise or disturbance to be taken into custody and brought before a justice to give security for good behaviour (Spilsbury v. Micklethwaite (1808), 1 Taunt. 406).

(i) Failure to so mix them will not necessarily avoid the election (Pembroke Petition, ante, p. 2319).

The returning officer, while counting and recording the number of ballot papers and counting the votes, shall keep the ballot papers with their faces upwards, and take all proper precautions for preventing any person from seeing the numbers printed on the backs of such papers.

35. The returning officer shall, so far as practicable, proceed continuously with counting the votes, allowing only time for refreshment, and excluding, if and so far as he thinks it necessary, the hours between the close of the poll and nine o'clock on the succeeding morning. During the excluded time the returning officer shall place the ballot papers and other documents relating to the election under his own seal and the seals of such of the agents of the candidates as desire to affix their seals, and shall otherwise take proper precautions for the security of such papers and documents.

36. The returning officer shall endorse "rejected" on any ballot paper which he may reject as invalid, and shall add to the endorsement "rejection objected to," if an objection be in fact made by any agent to his decision (k). The returning officer shall draw up a statement showing the number of ballot papers rejected and not counted by him under the several heads of—

1. Want of official mark;
2. Voting for more candidates than entitled to;
3. Writing or mark by which voter could be identified;
4. Unmarked or void for uncertainty (l);

and shall on request allow any agents of the candidates to copy such statement. If the votes are counted by a deputy returning officer he shall, with the declaration of the result of the poll, report to the returning officer the number of ballot papers rejected and not counted by him, under the above heads, and no such statement as aforesaid shall be drawn up by the returning officer. The deputy returning officer shall, on request, allow any agents of the candidates, before such report is sent in, to copy it.

37. Upon the completion of the counting, the returning officer shall seal up in separate packets the counted and rejected ballot papers. He shall not open the sealed packet of tendered ballot papers or marked copy of the register of voters and counterfoils, but shall proceed, in the presence of the agents of the candidates, to verify the ballot paper account given by each presiding officer by comparing it with the number of ballot papers recorded by him as aforesaid, and the unused and spoilt ballot papers in his possession and the tendered votes list, and shall re-seal each sealed packet after examination. The returning officer shall draw up a statement as to the result of such verification, and shall, on request, allow all agents of the candidates to copy it.

If the votes are counted by a deputy returning officer, he shall report to the returning officer the result of the verification, and no such statement as aforesaid shall be drawn up by the returning officer. The deputy returning officer shall, on request, allow any agents of the candidates, before such report is sent in, to copy it. He shall with his report send to the returning officer the sealed packets of counted and rejected ballot papers, and the unopened sealed packets which he has received from any presiding officer.

38. Lastly, the returning officer shall carefully preserve for the period hereinafter mentioned all the packets of ballot papers in his possession, together with the said reports, the ballot paper accounts, tendered votes lists, lists of votes marked by the presiding officer, statements relating thereto, declarations of inability to read, and packets of counterfoils, and marked copies of registers, endorsing on each packet a description of its contents and the date of the election to which they relate, and the name of the district for which such election was held.

39. The returning officer shall retain for six months all documents relating to an election of urban district councillors, and then, unless otherwise directed by an order of the county court having jurisdiction in the parish or in any part thereof, or of any tribunal in which the election is questioned, shall cause them to be destroyed.

40. No person shall be allowed to inspect any rejected ballot papers in the custody of the returning officer, except under the order of the county court or tribunal aforesaid, to be granted by such court or tribunal on being satisfied by evidence on oath that the inspection or production of such ballot papers is required for the purpose of instituting or maintaining a prosecution for an offence in relation to ballot papers, or for the purpose of a petition questioning an election or return; and any such order for the inspection or production of ballot papers may be made subject to such conditions as to persons, time, place, and mode of inspection or production as the court or tribunal making the same may think expedient, and shall be obeyed by the returning officer (m).

(k) Where the returning officer omitted to endorse rejected ballot papers, but merely put them aside, and after he had finished counting placed all the rejected ballot papers in one parcel and sealed it up and endorsed it "Rejected ballot papers," this was held not to avoid the election (Woodward v. Sarsons, ante, p. 2321).

(l) See Pontardawe R. D. C. Election, ante, p. 2308.

41. No person shall, except by order of the county court having jurisdiction in the district or any part thereof, or of any tribunal having cognizance of any question relating to the election (n), open the sealed packet of counterfoils after the same has been once sealed up, or be allowed to inspect any counted ballot papers in the custody of the returning officer. Such order may be made subject to such conditions as to persons, time, place, and mode of opening or inspection as the court or tribunal making the order may think expedient: Provided that on making and carrying into effect any such order, care should be taken that the mode in which any particular elector has voted shall not be discovered until he has been proved to have voted, and his vote has been declared by a competent court to be invalid (o).

42. All documents in the custody of a returning officer in pursuance of this Act, other than ballot papers and counterfoils, shall be open to public inspection at such time and under such regulations as may have been or may hereafter be prescribed by the council of the county in which the district is situate, and the returning officer shall supply copies of or extracts from the said documents to any person demanding the same, on payment of such fees and subject to such regulations as may have been or may hereafter be prescribed by the county council.

43. Where an order is made for the production by the returning officer of any document in his possession relating to any specified election of urban district councillors the production by such officer or his agent of the document ordered, in such manner as may be directed by such order, or by an order of the court having power to make such first-mentioned order, shall be conclusive evidence that such document relates to the specified election; and any endorsement appearing on any packet of ballot papers produced by such returning officer or his agent shall be evidence of such papers being what they are stated to be by the endorsement. The production from proper custody of a ballot paper purporting to have been used at any election, and of a counterfoil marked with the same printed number and having a number marked thereon in writing, shall be primâ facie evidence that the person who voted by such ballot paper was the person who at the time of such election had affixed to his name in the register of voters at such election the same number as the number written on such counterfoil.

43A. There shall be an appeal from any order of the county court under these rules in like manner as in other cases in such court (p).

General provisions.

47. If the returning officer presides at any polling station, the provisions of this Act relating to a presiding officer shall apply to such returning officer with the necessary modifications as to things to be done by the returning officer to the presiding officer, or the presiding officer to the returning officer.

48. The returning officer may, in addition to any clerks, appoint competent persons to assist him in counting the votes.

49. No person shall be appointed by a returning officer for the purposes of an election who has been employed by any other person in or about the election.

50. The presiding officer may do, by the clerks appointed to assist him, any act which he is required or authorised to do by this Act at a polling station, except ordering the arrest, exclusion, or ejection from the polling station of any person.

51. A candidate may himself undertake the duties which any agent of his, if appointed under Rule 31 of this Schedule, might have undertaken, and may, if he does not appoint such an agent (q), be present at the counting of the votes, or may himself take the place of such agent: Provided that any persons acting under this rule may, at any time before so acting, make the statutory declaration as to secrecy required by Rule 54 of this Schedule, but he shall not so act until he has made such declaration.

52. The name and address of every agent of a candidate appointed to attend the counting of the votes shall be transmitted to the returning officer one clear day at the least before the opening of the poll; and the returning officer may refuse to admit to the place where the votes are counted any agent whose name and address has not been so transmitted, notwithstanding that his appointment may be otherwise valid, and any notice required to be given to an agent by the returning officer may be delivered at or sent by post to such address.

Appendix II.

53. If any person appointed an agent for the purposes of attending a polling station, or at the counting of the votes dies, or becomes incapable of acting during the time of the election, another agent may be appointed in his place, and notice shall forthwith be given to the returning officer in writing of the name and address of any agent so appointed.

54. Every returning officer, and every officer, clerk, or agent authorised to attend at a polling station, and also every officer, clerk, or agent authorised to attend at the counting of the votes, shall, before the opening of the poll, make a statutory declaration of secrecy, in the presence, if he is the returning officer, of a justice of the peace, and if he is any other officer or agent, of a justice of the peace or of the returning officer; but no such returning officer, officer, clerk, or agent as aforesaid shall, save as aforesaid, be required, as such, to make any declaration or take any oath on the occasion of any election.

55. Where in this Act any expressions are used requiring or authorising or inferring that any act or thing is to be done in the presence of the agents of the candidates, such expressions shall be deemed to refer to the presence of such agents of the candidates as may be authorised to attend, and as have in fact attended, at the time and place where such act or thing is being done, and the non-attendance of any agents or agent at such time and place shall not, if such act or thing be otherwise duly done, in any wise invalidate the act or thing done.

SECOND SCHEDULE TO ACT.

NOTE.—The forms contained in this Schedule, or forms as nearly resembling the same as circumstances will admit, shall be used in all cases to which they refer and are applicable, and when so used shall be sufficient in law.

FORM OF BALLOT PAPER.

Form of front of ballot paper.

ELECTION OF URBAN DISTRICT COUNCILLORS.

Counterfoil No.

NOTE.—The counterfoil is to have a number to correspond with that on the back of the Ballot Paper.

1	CADE (John Cade, of 22, Wellclose Place, Accountant.)
2	GIBSON (Henry Gibson, of 10, High Street, Oilman.)
3	JOHNSON (Charles Johnson, of 7, Albion Street, Gentleman.)
4	ROBINSON (Jane Ellen Robinson, of 12, Green Street, Grocer.)
5	THOMPSON (William Henry Thompson, of 14, Queen Street, Silversmith.)

Form of back of ballot paper.

No.

Election of urban district councillors for urban district [or ward of urban district].

NOTE.—The number on the ballot paper is to correspond with that on the counterfoil.

DIRECTIONS AS TO PRINTING BALLOT PAPER.

Nothing is to be printed on the ballot paper except in accordance with this schedule.

The surname of each candidate, and if there are two or more candidates of the same surname, also the other names of such candidates, shall be printed in large characters, and the names, places of abode, and descriptions and the number on the back of the paper, shall be printed in small characters.

Appendix II.

FORM OF DIRECTIONS FOR THE GUIDANCE OF THE VOTER IN VOTING, WHICH SHALL BE PRINTED IN CONSPICUOUS CHARACTERS, AND PLACARDED OUTSIDE EVERY POLLING STATION AND IN EVERY COMPARTMENT OF EVERY POLLING STATION.

The voter may vote for candidates as urban district councillors.

The voter will go into one of the compartments, and, with the pencil provided in the compartment, place a cross on the right-hand side, opposite the name of each candidate for whom he votes, thus X.

The voter will then fold up the ballot paper so as to show the official mark on the back, and leaving the compartment will, without showing the front of the paper to any person, show the official mark on the back to the presiding officer, and then, in the presence of the presiding officer, put the paper into the ballot box and forthwith quit the polling station.

If the voter inadvertently spoils a ballot paper, he can return it to the officer, who will, if satisfied of such inadvertence, give him another paper.

If the voter votes for more than candidates, or places any mark on the paper by which he may be afterwards identified, his ballot paper will be void, and will not be counted.

If the voter takes a ballot paper out of the polling station, or deposits in the ballot box any other paper than the one given him by the officer, he will be guilty of a misdemeanor and be subject to imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labour.

NOTE.—These directions shall be illustrated by examples of the ballot paper.

FORM OF STATUTORY DECLARATION OF SECRECY.

I solemnly promise and declare, that I will not at this election of urban district councillors for the Urban District of [or Ward of the Urban District of], do anything forbidden by section four of the Ballot Act, 1872, which has been read to me.

NOTE.—The section must be read to the declarant by the person taking the declaration. One declaration may be made by the returning officer for all the wards for which he is returning officer.

FORM OF DECLARATION OF INABILITY TO READ.

FOURTH SCHEDULE.

SECTIONS 74 AND 75 OF THE MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS ACT, 1882, AS ADAPTED AND ALTERED IN THEIR APPLICATION TO THE ELECTION OF URBAN DISTRICT COUNCILLORS IN A DISTRICT OTHER THAN A BOROUGH.

Offences in relation to nomination papers.

74.—(1) If any person forges or fraudulently defaces or fraudulently destroys any nomination paper, or delivers to the returning officer any forged nomination paper, knowing it to be forged, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be liable to imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labour.

(2) An attempt to commit any such offence shall be punishable as the offence is punishable.

Neglect of duty by returning officer or deputy

75.—(1) If a person who has undertaken to act as returning officer, or deputy returning officer, at an election of urban district councillors, neglects or refuses to conduct or declare the election in manner provided by the Local Government Act, 1894, and the Urban District Councillors Election Order, 1898, he shall for every such offence be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds, recoverable by action.

returning officer.

(2) An action under this section shall not lie after three months from the neglect or refusal.

FIFTH SCHEDULE.

PROVISIONS OF THE MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS ACT, 1882, WITH RESPECT TO THE ACCEPTANCE OF OFFICE, RESIGNATION, RE-ELIGIBILITY OF HOLDERS OF OFFICE, AND FILLING OF CASUAL VACANCIES, AS ADAPTED AND ALTERED IN THEIR APPLICATION TO THE ELECTION OF URBAN DISTRICT COUNCILLORS IN ANY DISTRICT OTHER THAN A BOROUGH.

Obligation to accept office or pay fine.

34.—(1) Every qualified person elected or deemed to be re-elected to the office of urban district councillor, unless exempt under this section or otherwise by law, either shall accept the office by making and subscribing the declaration required by this Act within one month after notice of being elected or deemed to be re-elected, or shall, in lieu thereof (s), be liable to pay to the district council a fine of such amount, not exceeding fifty pounds, as the district council by regulations determine.

(2) If there are no regulations determining fines, the fine shall be twenty pounds.

(3) The persons exempt under this section are—

Any person disabled by lunacy or imbecility of mind, or by deafness, blindness, or other permanent infirmity of body, and any person who, having within five years before the day of election served the office of urban district councillor for the district or ward, claims exemption within ten days after notice of election or of being declared to be deemed to be re-elected.

(4) A fine payable under this section shall be recoverable summarily (t).

(5) If a person is either elected or deemed to be re-elected district councillor in more than one ward in the urban district for which the election is held, he shall not accept office in respect of more than one of such areas, and if he accepts office or pays the fine for non-acceptance of office in respect of one of such areas, he shall not be liable to a fine for non-acceptance of office in respect of any other of such areas.

(6) Any person who has been nominated and elected without his consent to his nomination being previously obtained shall not be liable to a fine under this section.

Declaration on acceptance of office.

35. A person elected or deemed to be re-elected to the office of urban district councillor shall not, until he has made and subscribed before two members of the district council or the clerk to the district council, or, if he is absent from the United Kingdom, before a British consul, a declaration in the following form, or in a form to the like effect, act in the office except in administering that declaration:

Form of Declaration on Acceptance of Office.

I, A. B., having been elected [or being deemed to be re-elected] urban district councillor for the urban district of [in respect of the ward of the district], hereby declare that I take the said office upon myself, and will duly and faithfully fulfil the duties thereof according to the best of my judgment and ability.

Dated this day of , 19 .

This declaration was made and subscribed before us.*

Members of the district council { ———
of the above-named district. { ———

* If the declaration is made and subscribed before the clerk or a consul, adopt term accordingly.

Power to receive declaration.

239.—(1) Members of the district council or the clerk, or a British consul, shall have authority to receive the declaration required to be made by an urban district councillor without any commission or authority other than this Act.

(2) The declaration, if made before a British consul, shall be forthwith sent to the clerk to the district council.

Penalty on acting in office without making declaration.

41. If any person acts in the office of urban district councillor without having made the declaration by this Act required, he shall for each offence be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds, recoverable by action (u).

Resignation of office.

36.—(1) A person elected as urban district councillor may at any time, by writing signed by him and delivered to the clerk to the urban district council, resign the office, on payment of the fine provided for non-acceptance thereof.

(2) In any such case the council shall forthwith declare the office to be vacant, and signify the same by notice in writing, signed by three members of the district council, and countersigned by the clerk, and fixed on the principal external gate or door of the offices of the district council, and the office shall thereupon become vacant (x).

(s) Thus relieving himself from the obligation to serve (R. v. Bower (1822), 1 B. & C. 585).

Re-eligibility of office holders.

37. A person ceasing to hold the office of urban district councillor shall, unless disqualified to hold the office, be re-eligible.

Filling of casual vacancies.

40.—(1) On a casual vacancy in the office of urban district councillor, an election shall be held in accordance with the Urban District Councillors Election Order, 1898; and the person elected shall hold the office until the time when the person in whose place he is elected would regularly have gone out of office, and he shall then go out of office.

(2) In case of more than one casual vacancy in the office of urban district councillor being filled at the same election, not being the ordinary election, the councillor elected by the smallest number of votes should be deemed to be elected in the place of him who would regularly have first gone out of office, and the councillor elected by the next smallest number of votes shall be deemed to be elected in the place of him who would regularly have next gone out of office, and so with respect to the others; and if there has not been a contested election, or if any doubt arises, the order of rotation shall be determined by the district council.

(3) Non-acceptance of office by a person elected or deemed to be re-elected creates a casual vacancy.

Time for filling casual vacancies.

66.—(1) On a casual vacancy in the office of urban district councillor, the election shall be held within one month after notice in writing of the vacancy has been given to the chairman of the district council or to the clerk by two councillors.

(3) The day of election shall be fixed by the clerk to the district council.

(4) Nothing in this Act shall authorise or require a returning officer to hold an election to fill a casual vacancy which occurs within six months before the ordinary day of retirement from the office in which the vacancy occurs, and the vacancy shall be filled at the next ordinary election (y).

Given under the Seal of Office of the Local Government Board, dated this first day of January in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight.

ELECTION OF RURAL DISTRICT COUNCILLORS AND OF PARISH COUNCILLORS—CIRCULAR.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD, WHITEHALL, S.W.,
January 1st, 1898.

SIR,—I am directed by the Local Government Board to state that they have had under consideration the rules for the election of rural district councillors.

The Board have hitherto in each year issued an Order under the powers conferred upon them by the Local Government Act, 1894, prescribing rules for the ordinary election of rural district councillors in that year. They think, however, that the time has now come when a permanent Order might be issued prescribing rules which shall apply to all elections of rural district councillors, and they have issued an Order accordingly. [Order No. 37,499. 2 copies.]

The new Order prescribes rules not only for the elections held in any year to fill any ordinary vacancies in the rural district councillors, but also for the first election of any additional rural district councillors, and for the first election of any councillors to be elected for any rural parish which may hereafter be constituted. The Order also prescribes rules for every election which may be held to fill a casual vacancy in the office of rural district councillor, and, except as regards any election the proceedings in respect of which have been already commenced, the Rural District Councillors (Additional Councillors) Election Order, 1895, and the Rural District Councillors Casual Vacancies Election Order, 1895, are rescinded. [Order No. 37,500. 2 copies.]

(x) See Pease v. Lowden, [1899] 1 Q. B. 386.

(y) In 1896 the law officers advised that s. 48 (4) (b) of the L. G. A., 1894 (here reproduced), applies only where the person whose retirement, death, etc., has caused the casual vacancy would himself have gone out of office in the ordinary course of events within six months (60 J. P. 800).

Under rule 1 of the Order, you will be the returning officer for the purposes of any election held under it, unless you are unable or unwilling to act. If such should be the case as regards any ordinary election to be held in the district in the present year, the rural district council should, as early as practicable, appoint some other person to act, but the same person must in all cases be the returning officer at the election of the rural district councillors and of any parish councillors to be elected at the same time in the parish. Appendix II.

By rules 5 and 23 (3) of the Order duties are imposed on the overseers of any parish for which an election is held. When sending to the overseers forms of nomination paper and the copies of the notice referred to in rule 23 (3), you should draw their attention to the duties which devolve upon them in relation to these matters.

The Board may refer to the tables in the first schedule to the Order, in which the times for the proceedings at any election of rural district councillors are prescribed or defined. As regards any ordinary election to be held this year, the times for the proceedings will be as follows :—

1. Notice of Election	Not later than Friday, the 11th of March.
2. Receipt of Nomination Papers .	Not later than 12 o'clock at noon on Thursday, the 17th of March.
3. Sending Notice of Decision as to Validity of Nomination Papers.	Not later than Friday, the 18th of March.
4. Making out Statement as to persons nominated.	Not later than Saturday, the 19th of March.
5. Withdrawal of candidates . .	Not later than 12 o'clock at noon on Tuesday, the 22nd of March.
6. Notice of Poll	Five clear days at least before the day of Election.
7. Day of Election	Monday, the 4th of April, or such other day not being earlier than Saturday, the 2nd of April, or later than Wednesday, the 6th of April, as may for special reasons be fixed by the county council.

The Board have also issued a permanent Order prescribing rules for the annual elections of parish councillors. Under rule 20 of the Order, you, as clerk to the rural district council, will be the returning officer for the purposes of the election in any parish in the district for which parish councillors are to be elected, unless you are unable or unwilling to act. If such should be the case as regards any ordinary election to be held in the present year, the rural district council should, as early as practicable, appoint some other person to act, but the same person must, as already pointed out, in all cases be the returning officer at the election of the parish councillors and of any rural district councillors to be elected at the same time in any parish.

You should at the earliest date practicable give notice to the clerk to the parish council, or if there is no such clerk to the overseers of the parish, as to whether you will yourself act as returning officer, or whether some other person has been appointed to act, and if so, as to his name and address.

As regards the dates for the several proceedings in connection with a poll at any annual election of parish councillors, the Board may draw attention to the First Schedule to the Parish Councillors Election Order. In the present year the latest time for the withdrawal of candidates after the parish meeting will be 12 o'clock at noon on Tuesday, the 22nd of March, and the day of the poll will be Monday, the 4th of April, or such other day not being earlier than Saturday, the 2nd of April, or later than Wednesday, the 6th of April, as may for special reasons be fixed by the county council.

Two copies of the Order as to the election of rural district councillors and also of that as to the election of parish councillors are enclosed, and the Board request that if you do not intend to act as returning officer, you will send them, together with this letter, to the person appointed in your place. The Orders will be placed on sale, so that further copies may, if required, be purchased from Messrs. Eyre and Spottiswoode, East Harding Street, Fleet Street, E.C., either directly or through any bookseller.

I am directed to add that by the Expiring Laws Continuance Act, 1897, the Local Government Elections Act, 1896, has been continued in force until the 31st of December, 1898. Hence if any difficulty arises during the present

Appendix II. year with respect to any election of parish or rural district councillors, or to the first meeting after the ordinary election of such councillors, or if from an election not being held, or being defective, or otherwise, the parish or rural district council has not been properly constituted, the county council may by order make any appointment or do anything which appears to them necessary or expedient for the proper holding of any such election or meeting, and properly constituting the council, and may, if it appears to them necessary, direct the holding of an election or meeting, and fix the dates for any such election or meeting.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

HUGH OWEN, Secretary.

The Clerk to the Rural District Council.

RURAL DISTRICT COUNCILLORS—GENERAL ORDER. RULES AS TO NOMINATION AND ELECTION.

(January 1st, 1898.)

TO THE COUNTY COUNCIL of every administrative county in England and Wales, except the administrative county of London; To the Rural District Council of every rural district in England and Wales; To the Clerk to every such Rural District Council as aforesaid; And to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS [recites sections 20, 24, 48, of the L. G. A., 1894].

And whereas by the Rural District Councillors (Additional Councillors) Election Order, 1895, and the Rural District Councillors Casual Vacancies Election Order, 1895, we prescribed rules for the first election of any additional rural district councillors for any rural parish in England and Wales, and the first election of a rural district councillor or councillors to be appointed for any rural parish which might thereafter be constituted, and for every election to be held to fill a casual vacancy in the office of rural district councillor in any rural parish in England and Wales:

Now therefore, we, the Local Government Board, in pursuance of the powers given to us in that behalf, do hereby rescind the said Rural District Councillors (Additional Councillors) Election Order, 1895, and the said Rural District Councillors Casual Vacancies Election Order, 1895, except as regards any election the proceedings in respect of which have been already commenced;

And we do hereby order that, subject to any directions which may be given by us, and until we otherwise order, the following rules shall apply to, and shall be observed in connexion with, elections of rural district councillors as hereinafter set forth; that is to say,—

(a) the election held in any year to fill any ordinary vacancies in the rural district councillors for any rural parish in England and Wales;

(b) the first election of any additional rural district councillors for any rural parish or parishes in England and Wales, and the first election of a rural district councillor or councillors to be elected for any such rural parish which may hereafter be constituted; and

(c) every election which may be held to fill a casual vacancy in the office of rural district councillor in any rural parish in England and Wales.

Returning officer.

1.—(1) The clerk to the rural district council of the rural district in which the parish is situate or with which it is co-extensive shall be the returning officer, or if there is more than one such clerk, then the person who acts as such clerk for the purpose of the Public Health Act, 1875 (z).

(2) If the clerk is unwilling to act as returning officer, or if the office of clerk is vacant at the time when any duty relative to the election has to be performed by the returning officer, or if the clerk from illness or other sufficient cause is unable to perform such duty, the rural district council shall appoint some other person to act as returning officer or to perform such other duties of the returning officer as then remain to be performed as the case may be,

(z) See s. 190 of that Act, ante, p. 452.

Appendix II.

but the same person shall in all cases be the returning officer at the election of the rural district councillors and of any parish councillors to be elected at the same date in the parish.

(3) The returning officer shall appoint some place within the union or rural district in which the parish is situate as an office for the purpose of the election.

(4) The returning officer may, in writing, appoint a fit person to be his deputy for all or any of the purposes relating to the election of rural district councillors, and shall appoint such a deputy in the case and for the purposes mentioned in Rule 19 of this Order. A deputy returning officer shall have all the powers, duties, and liabilities of the returning officer in relation to the matters in respect of which he is appointed as deputy.

(5) The same person shall act as deputy returning officer in respect of the election both of rural district councillors and of any parish councillors to be elected at the same date in the parish.

Day of election.

2.—(1) The day of the election of rural district councillors in the parish shall be that prescribed or defined for the purpose by the First Schedule to this Order.

(2) Provided that the day of election of rural district councillors in the parish and the day of the poll for the election of any parish councillors to be elected at the same date in the parish shall be the same.

Notice of election.

3. Not later than the day prescribed for that purpose by the First Schedule to this Order, the returning officer shall prepare and sign a notice of the election of rural district councillors in the parish or parishes in which the election is to be held, and shall cause notice to be given of the same in accordance with Rule 31 of this Order in each such parish. The notice shall be in the Form No. 1 in the Second Schedule to this Order, or in a form to the like effect (a).

Nomination of candidates.

4. (1) Each candidate for election as a rural district councillor shall be nominated in writing.

(2) The nomination paper shall state the name of the parish or other area (b) for which the candidate is nominated, the surname and other name or names in full of the candidate (c), and his place of abode (d), and description (e), and whether he is qualified as a parochial elector of some parish within the poor law union in which the rural district or the part of the rural district containing the parish or other area is comprised, or by having during the whole of the twelve months preceding the election resided in the union, or by being qualified to be a councillor for a borough wholly or partly situate within the union. It shall be signed (f) by two parochial electors of the parish or other area, as proposer and seconder, and no more, and shall state their respective places of abode. It shall be in the form set out in the notice in the Form No. 1 in the Second Schedule to this Order, or in a form to the like effect.

(3) The name of more than one candidate shall not be inserted in any one nomination paper.

(4) A parochial elector shall not sign more nomination papers than there are rural district councillors to be elected for the parish or other area in the rural district for which the election is to be held. He shall not sign a nomination paper for any parish or other area unless he is registered as a parochial elector in respect of a qualification therein. Neither shall he sign nomination papers for more than one parish or other area in the rural district (g).

(5) If any parochial elector shall sign nomination papers for more than one parish or other area in the rural district or shall sign a larger number of nomination papers than the number of rural district councillors to be elected for the parish or other area, such of the nomination papers signed by him as relate to the first parish or other area for which a nomination paper signed by him is received by the returning officer shall alone be valid, and of the nomination papers signed by him which relate to that parish or other area such as are first received by the returning officer up to the number of rural district councillors to be so elected shall alone be valid (h). Provided that for the purposes of this paragraph nomination papers not properly filled up and signed shall be excluded (i).

Nomination papers to be provided.

5. The returning officer shall provide nomination papers, and shall furnish the overseers of the parish with a supply thereof. Any parochial elector may obtain nomination papers from either the returning officer or the overseers free of charge.

Time for sending in nomination papers.

6. Every nomination paper shall be sent (k) to the returning officer so that it shall be received at his office within the time prescribed for that purpose by the First Schedule of this Order. A nomination paper received after that time shall not be valid. The returning officer shall note on each nomination paper whether it was received before or after that time.

Dealing with nominations by the returning officer.

7.—(1) The returning officer shall number the nomination papers in the order in which they are received by him; and the first valid nomination paper received for a candidate shall be deemed to be the nomination of that candidate.

(2) The returning officer shall, as soon as practicable after the receipt of any nomination paper, examine and decide whether it has or has not been properly filled up and signed by two parochial electors of the parish or other area, and whether it is or is not invalid under Rule 4 (5) or Rule 6 (l). His decision that a nomination paper has been so filled up and signed, and is not invalid as aforesaid, shall be final, and shall not be questioned in any proceeding whatever.

(3) If the returning officer shall decide that a nomination paper is invalid, he shall put a note on it to this effect, stating the grounds of his decision, and he shall sign such note (m).

(4) After deciding that the nomination of any candidate is valid, or (except where a nomination of any candidate has been decided to be valid) that a nomination paper for the candidate is invalid, the returning officer shall, not later than the day prescribed for that purpose by the First Schedule to this Order, send, by post, or otherwise, notice of his decision to the candidate.

Statement as to persons nominated.

8. Not later than the day prescribed for that purpose by the First Schedule to this Order, the returning officer shall make out a statement in the Form No. 2 in the Second Schedule to this Order, or in a form to the like effect, containing the names, places of abode, and descriptions of the persons nominated as rural district councillors for the parish or the several parishes for which the election is to be held, and also containing a notice of his decision as regards each candidate as to whether he has been nominated by a valid nomination paper or not. He shall forthwith cause a copy thereof to be suspended in the board room of the guardians of the poor law union in which any of these parishes are situate, and another to be affixed on the principal external gate or door of every workhouse of such union, and, if the board room of the guardians is not situate at any such workhouse, on the external gate or door of the building in which the board room is comprised.

Withdrawal of candidate.

9. Any candidate may withdraw his candidature by delivering or causing to be delivered at the office of the returning officer, within the time prescribed for that purpose by the First Schedule to this Order, a notice in writing of such withdrawal, signed by him (n).

Relation of nomination to election.

10. Section 56 of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, shall be altered and adapted in its application to the election of rural district councillors in the parish so as to provide as follows:

(1) If the number of candidates who receive valid (o) nominations and who do not withdraw their candidature under Rule 9 exceeds that of the persons to be elected as rural district councillors, the councillors shall be elected from amongst the persons nominated.

(2) If the number of valid nominations does not exceed the number of rural district councillors to be elected, or if, by the withdrawal of any candidate as provided by Rule 9, the number of candidates for the parish is reduced to a number not exceeding the number to be elected, or if this number of candidates is otherwise (p) so reduced, the returning officer shall, as early as practicable, give public notice in the parish in accordance with Rule 31 of this Order to the effect that no poll will be taken, and that the candidates, or the remaining candidates, as the case may be, will be declared to be elected ; and also, in the case of the ordinary election, if the number of such candidates is less than the number of rural district councillors to be elected, that such of any retiring councillors for the parish as were highest on the poll at their election, or, if the poll was equal or there was no poll, as shall have been selected for that purpose by the returning officer by lot to make up the required number, will be declared to be deemed to be re-elected.

(3) If there is no valid nomination, the returning officer shall, as early as practicable, give public notice in the parish in accordance with Rule 31 of this Order that no poll will be taken, and, in the case of the ordinary election, that the retiring councillors will be declared to be deemed to be re-elected.

(4) The returning officer shall forthwith send, by post or otherwise, a copy of any notice under this rule to each of the persons who will be declared to be elected, or to be deemed to be re-elected.

(5) This notice shall be in the Form No. 3 or the Form No. 4, as the case may be, in the Second Schedule to this Order, or in a form to the like effect.

Day and hours of poll.

11.—(1) The poll, if any, shall be held on the day of election as prescribed or defined by the First Schedule to this Order, and the hours during which the poll shall be open shall be such as shall be fixed by the county council by any general or special order, or if no such order is in force in the parish, then such hours as were applicable at the last ordinary election of parish councillors or rural district councillors in the parish, so, however, that the poll shall always be open between the hours of six and eight in the evening.

(2) Provided that the hours during which any poll shall be open for the election of rural district councillors and of any parish councillors for the parish shall be the same.

Polling districts.

12.—(1) (a) If the parish is divided into polling districts for the election of county councillors or of parish councillors, the whole of each such district being comprised in the parish, and the lists of parochial electors are made out in separate parts for such districts, each district shall be a polling district for the election of rural district councillors.

(b) If the parish is not so divided, but is divided into wards for the election of parish councillors, each ward shall be a polling district for the election of rural district councillors.

(c) If neither paragraph (a) nor paragraph (b) of this rule applies to the parish the returning officer may, if he thinks fit, divide the parish into polling districts for the election of rural district councillors, but each district shall consist of an area for which a separate list of parochial electors will be available: Provided that the parish shall not be divided into polling districts, if the population thereof, according to the census last published, is not three hundred or upwards.

(d) The polling districts for the election of rural district councillors and of any parish councillors to be elected at the same date in the parish shall be the same.

(2) If the parish is divided into polling districts, each parochial elector shall give his vote in the polling district in which the property in respect of which he is entitled to vote is situate, and if it is situate in more than one polling district, he may vote in any one (but in one only) of the polling districts in which it is situate.

Polling places and stations.

13. The returning officer shall determine the number and situation of the polling places and polling stations.

Provided as follows:

(a) No premises licensed for the sale of intoxicating liquor shall be used for a polling station ;

(b) The same polling stations shall be used for the election of rural district

Appendix II.

councillors and of any parish councillors to be elected at the same date in the parish ;

(c) Where the number of parochial electors in the parish, or (if the parish is divided into polling districts) in any polling district, is not more than five hundred, only one polling station shall, unless the county council otherwise direct, be provided for the parish or polling district ; and so on for each additional five hundred parochial electors or for any less number of parochial electors over and above the last five hundred.

Notice of poll.

14.—(1) If a poll has to be taken, the returning officer shall, within the time prescribed for that purpose by the First Schedule to this Order, give public notice thereof in accordance with Rule 31 of this Order. The notice shall specify—

(a) the day and hours fixed for the poll ;
(b) the number of rural district councillors to be elected for the parish ;
(c) the names, place of abode, and description of each candidate for the parish whom he has decided to have been nominated by a valid nomination paper, and who has not withdrawn his candidature ;
(d) the names of the proposer and seconder who signed the nomination paper of each candidate ;
(e) a description of the polling districts, if any ; and
(f) the situation and allotment of the polling places and polling stations (q), and the description of the persons entitled to vote thereat.

(2) The notice shall be in the Form No. 5 in the Second Schedule to this Order, or in a form to the like effect.

(3) If polls are to be taken in the parish as to the election of both rural district councillors and parish councillors, the returning officer may, if he thinks fit, give one notice only for both polls, and such notice shall be in the Form No. 6 in the Second Schedule to this Order, or in a form to the like effect.

Presiding officers.

15. The returning officer, or some person appointed by him for the purpose, shall preside at each polling station. The person presiding at any polling station shall be called the presiding officer.

Provided as follows :

(a) At any polling station the same person shall act as presiding officer for the election of rural district councillors and of any parish councillors to be elected at the same date in the parish.
(b) In making appointments under this rule the returning officer shall, as far as practicable, secure the services of suitable persons resident in the parish, so as to diminish expense.

Compartments of polling stations. Ballot papers.

16. The returning officer shall furnish every polling station with a sufficient number of compartments in which the voters can mark their votes screened from observation, and shall furnish each presiding officer with such number of ballot papers as may be necessary for effectually taking the poll at the election.

Polling agents.

17. If there are only two candidates, each of them may, in writing, appoint a polling agent for each polling station, who may be paid or unpaid. If there are more than two candidates, any number of them, being not less than one-third of the whole number of candidates, may, in writing, appoint one polling agent for each polling station, who may be paid or unpaid. Any such appointment shall be delivered at the office of the returning officer not less than two clear days before the day of the poll. Except as aforesaid, no polling agent, whether paid or unpaid, shall be appointed for the purposes of the election.

Prohibition of voting in more than one parish. Questions to elector.

18.—(1) An elector shall not vote in more than one parish in the district.

(2) The presiding officer may, and if required by any parochial elector of the parish, or any polling agent appointed under Rule 17, shall, put to any elector at the time of his applying for a ballot paper, but not afterwards, the following questions, or one of them and no other :

(a) Are you the person entered in the parochial register for this parish [or ward] as follows [read the whole entry from the register] ?
(b) Have you already voted at the present election of rural district councillors in this or any other parish or ward in the rural district of ?

(q) See note (e), ante, p. 2307.

Appendix II.

(3) A person required to answer either of these questions shall not receive a ballot paper or be permitted to vote until he has answered it (r).

Counting the votes.

19.—(1) The returning officer, when he does not act as presiding officer at any polling station for the parish, shall appoint the presiding officer or some one of the presiding officers to act as deputy returning officer for the parish, as regards the custody and opening of the ballot boxes, the counting and recording of the votes, and the declaration of the number of votes given for each candidate and of the election of the candidate or candidates to whom the largest number of votes has been given. The person so appointed shall, in addition to his other powers and duties, have all the powers and duties of the returning officer in relation to the decision of any question as to any ballot paper and otherwise as to the ballot papers. Provided that, if the parish is divided into wards for the election either of rural district councillors or of parish councillors, but not for both elections, or, if the parish is so divided for both elections, and the wards are not the same for both elections, one deputy returning officer shall act under this rule for the whole of the parish.

(2) The same person shall act as deputy returning officer in respect of the election both of rural district councillors and of any parish councillors to be elected at the same date for the parish.

(3) The votes shall be counted in the parish or in some place near thereto as soon as practicable after the close of the poll.

Equality of votes.

20. If any equality of votes is found to exist between any candidates, and the addition of a vote would entitle any of such candidates to be declared elected, the returning officer or deputy returning officer, as the case may be, may, if a parochial elector of the parish, give such additional vote in writing, but shall not otherwise be entitled to vote at the election (s). If in such a case the returning officer or deputy returning officer, as the case may be, is not a parochial elector of the parish or is unwilling to vote, he shall determine by lot which of the candidates whose votes are equal shall be elected (t).

Who to be deemed to fill casual vacancies at ordinary election.

21. In the event of one or more casual vacancies being filled at an ordinary election, where there is a poll, the person elected by the fewest votes shall be deemed elected to fill such vacancies. Should there be an equality of votes between such persons, the rural district council shall determine by ballot which of such persons shall be deemed elected to fill the casual vacancy. If the persons elected to fill the casual vacancies will hold office for different periods, the person elected by the fewest votes, or if the votes were equal the person selected by the rural district council by ballot from the persons so elected shall hold office for the shorter period. Where there is no poll the person or persons to be deemed to be elected to fill the casual vacancy or vacancies shall be determined by the rural district council by ballot.

Declaration of result of poll.

22.—(1) The declaration of the result of the poll shall be in the form No. 7 in the Second Schedule to this Order, or in a form to the like effect.

(2) The returning officer or deputy returning officer, as the case may be, making the declaration shall forthwith cause a copy of it to be affixed on the front of the building in which the votes have been counted. If the declaration is made by a deputy returning officer, he shall forthwith send it to the returning officer.

Publication of result of elections.

23.—(1) The returning officer shall prepare and sign in duplicate a notice (u) of the result of the elections in all the parishes in the district for which elections are held, and shall by such notice declare to be elected or to be deemed to be re-elected the persons who, under Rule 10, are to be declared to be elected or to be deemed to be re-elected without a poll being taken. The notice shall be in the form No. 8 in the Second Schedule to this Order, or in a form to the like effect.

(2) One of these notices shall be sent by the returning officer, as early as practicable, to the clerk of the rural district council, and the other to the clerk to the guardians of the union comprising the rural district or the part of the rural district; and copies of the notice shall be sent by the returning officer to the persons elected or deemed to be re-elected.

Appendix II.

(3) The returning officer shall also send a sufficient number of copies of the notice to the overseers of all the parishes in the rural district for which elections are held, and the overseers of every such parish shall cause public notice to be given thereof in accordance with Rule 31 of this Order.

Application and adaptation of Ballot Act, 1872.

24. The provisions of the Ballot Act, 1872, which, with adaptations and alterations, are set out in the Third Schedule to this Order, and only such provisions of that Act, shall, subject to such adaptations and alterations, apply to the election of rural district councillors in like manner as in the case of a municipal election.

Provided as follows:

(a) Such application shall be subject to the provisions of this Order.

(b) If an election of rural district councillors and of any parish councillors is held in the parish at the same date, one ballot box may, if the returning officer thinks fit, be used for the two elections; but, if separate ballot boxes are used for the two elections respectively, no vote for any rural district councillor shall be rendered invalid by the ballot paper being placed in the box intended for the reception of ballot papers for parish councillors.

(c) The ballot papers used at the election of rural district councillors for the parish shall be of a different colour from that of any ballot papers used in the election of parish councillors held in the parish at the same date.

Adaptation of Municipal Corporations Act, 1882.

25.—(1) The provisions of sections 74 and 75 of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, which, with adaptations and alterations, are set out in the Fourth Schedule to this Order, and such of the provisions of that Act as relate to the acceptance of office, re-eligibility of holders of office, and filling of casual vacancies, and are, with adaptations and alterations, set out in the Fifth Schedule to this Order, shall, subject to such adaptations and alterations, apply to the election of rural district councillors and to the persons elected or deemed to be re-elected thereat.

(2) In the application of Part IV. of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882 (relating to corrupt practices and election petitions) (x), as amended by the Municipal Elections (Corrupt and Illegal Practices) Act, 1884 (y), the following adaptations and alterations shall have effect:

(a) Such applications shall be subject to the provisions of this Order.

(b) References to the election of rural district councillors shall be substituted for references to a municipal election or to an election to a corporate body. "Parish or united parishes," and in section 93 (2) "poor law union" shall be substituted for "borough," "poor rate of the parish or poor rates of the united parishes" shall be substituted for "borough fund or borough rate," the "returning officer" shall be substituted for the "town clerk," and "voter" shall mean "a parochial elector, or a person who votes or claims to vote at an election of rural district councillors."

(c) In the application of sub-section (2) of section 89, such sub-section shall be adapted and altered so as to read as follows:

"(2) The security shall be to the amount of fifty pounds, unless in any case the High Court or a judge thereof, on summons, order that the same shall be to a lesser amount, or to a larger amount not exceeding three hundred pounds, and shall be given in the prescribed manner either by a deposit of money or by recognisance entered into by not more than four sureties, or partly in one way and partly in the other.

Adaptation of Municipal Elections (Corrupt and Illegal Practices) Act, 1884.

26. In the application of the Municipal Elections (Corrupt and Illegal Practices) Act, 1884 (y), the following adaptations and alterations shall have effect:

(1) Such application shall be subject to the provisions of this Order.

(2) The expressions "parish or united parishes," "returning officer of rural district councillors," and "poor rate of the parish or poor rates of the united parishes" shall be deemed to be substituted in the Act for "borough," "town clerk," and "borough fund or rate," respectively.

(x) Ante, p. 1708. (y) Ante, p. 1764.

Appendix II.

(3) The expression "corporate office" in the Act shall mean "the office of rural district councillor," and "a municipal election" shall mean "an election of one or more rural district councillors"; and the expressions "municipal election court," "municipal election list," and "municipal election petition" shall be construed accordingly.

(4) So much of section 13 of the Act as permits one polling agent to be employed in each polling station shall not apply, except so far as the employment of polling agents is permitted by Rule 17 of this Order.

(5) An election petition complaining of the election on the ground of an illegal practice may be presented at any time within six weeks after the day of election.

(6) A petition relating to the election of a rural district councillor for a parish may be tried at any place within the poor law union in which the parish is situate.

(7) Nothing in the Act shall render it unlawful to hold a meeting for the purpose of promoting or procuring the election of a candidate to the office of rural district councillor on any licensed or other premises not situate in an urban district or in the administrative county of London.

(8) In section 34 of the Act "burgess roll" shall mean "register of parochial electors."

(9) Section 37 of the Act shall be read as if a reference to an election of rural district councillors was substituted for a reference to any of the elections mentioned in the First Schedule to the Act.

Expenses.

27.—(1) Any sum which may be payable to the returning officer in respect of his services in taking a poll in the parish, or in respect of expenses incurred in relation to such poll, shall be defrayed by the rural district council of the district, and shall be charged to the parish in their accounts and shall be raised in like manner as any sums payable by the parish in respect of the general expenses of the rural district council.

(2) Any other sum which may be payable to the returning officer in respect of his services in the conduct of the election, or in respect of expenses incurred in relation to the election, shall be defrayed by the rural district council of the district, and shall be charged in their accounts as follows:

(a) If the election is the ordinary election, as general expenses;

(b) In the case of an election under this Order not held at the time of the ordinary election, to the parish; in which case any such sum shall be raised in like manner as any sums payable by the parish in respect of the general expenses of the rural district council: Provided that where any such sum shall be payable in respect of two or more parishes, the same shall be apportioned between them according to the number of parochial electors registered in such parishes respectively.

(3) If a poll for the election of rural district councillors and of any parish councillors is taken at the same date in the parish, one half of any expenses which may be payable in respect of the two polls jointly, including the remuneration of any officers employed in the conduct thereof, shall be deemed to have been incurred in relation to the poll for the election of rural district councillors, and shall be defrayed accordingly.

If parish in more than one county.

28. If the parish is situate in more than one administrative county, it shall for the purposes of this Order be deemed to be wholly situate in the county which, according to the census last published, contains the larger part of its population.

Wards.

29. If the parish is divided into wards for the election of rural district councillors, the rules in this Order shall, except as otherwise provided, apply to each of such wards as if it were a parish.

Provided as follows:

(a) If the parish is so divided, an elector shall not be permitted to vote in more than one ward.

(b) Any sum which in pursuance of this rule and of Rule 27 would be charged to any ward shall be charged to the parish in which the ward is situate and shall be raised accordingly.

United parishes.

30.—(1) If the parish is united with any other parish for the election of rural district councillors the rules in this Order shall, subject as hereinafter mentioned, apply as if such parishes formed the parish.

Appendix II.

(2) The questions which under Rule 18 the presiding officer may, and if required by any parochial elector, or any polling agent appointed under Rule 17, shall, put to any elector shall be as follows:

(a) Are you the person entered in the parochial register for one of the united parishes, viz., the parish of as follows [read the whole entry from the register]?

(b) Have you already voted at the present election of rural district councillors in either of the united parishes of and , or in any other parish or ward in the rural district of ?

(3) Any sum which in pursuance of this rule and of Rule 27 would be charged to the united parishes shall be divided between them in proportion to the number of parochial electors registered in such parishes respectively, and shall be raised accordingly.

Publication of notices.

31. Any public notice required by this Order shall be given by posting the same on or near the principal door of each church and chapel in the parish, and in some conspicuous place or places within the parish.

Mark instead of signature.

32. In place of any signature required by this Order, it shall be sufficient for the signatory to affix his mark, if the same is witnessed by two parochial electors.

Misnomer. Inaccurate descriptions.

33. No misnomer or inaccurate description of any person or place named in any notice or nomination paper under this Order shall hinder the full operation of such notice or paper with respect to that person or place, provided the description of that person or place is such as to be commonly understood.

Definition of "rural parish" and "ordinary election."

34. In this Order the expression "rural parish" means a parish situate in a rural district; and the expression "ordinary election" means the election held in any year to fill any ordinary vacancies in the rural district councillors for the district, and includes any first election of rural district councillors for the parish or election to fill a casual vacancy in the office of rural district councillor for the parish which can be held at the time of the election to fill such ordinary vacancies.

Adaptation of forms to elections other than the ordinary election.

35. If the election is not the ordinary election, such modifications as may be necessary shall be made in the forms contained in the Second Schedule to this Order.

This Order may be cited as the "Rural District Councillors Election Order, 1898."

THIRD SCHEDULE.

PROVISIONS OF THE BALLOT ACT, 1872, AS ADAPTED AND ALTERED IN THEIR APPLICATION TO THE ELECTION OF RURAL DISTRICT COUNCILLORS.

PROCEDURE AT ELECTIONS OF RURAL DISTRICT COUNCILLORS.

Poll at elections.

2. The ballot of each voter shall consist of a paper (in this Act called a ballot paper) showing the names and description of the candidates. Each ballot paper shall have a number printed on the back, and shall have attached a counterfoil with the same number printed on the face. At the time of voting, the ballot paper shall be marked on both sides with an official mark, and delivered to the voter within the polling station, and the number of such voter on the register of voters shall be marked on the counterfoil, and the voter having secretly marked his vote on the paper, and folded it up so as to conceal his vote, shall place it in a closed box in the presence of the officer presiding at the polling station (in this Act called "the presiding officer") after having shown to him the official mark at the back.

Appendix II.

If in the register of parochial electors for a parish the same number is placed opposite to the name of more than one parochial elector, the returning officer shall put a distinguishing mark on each part of the register which contains numbers used in other parts of the register, and when the number of any voter on any part of the register is entered on the counterfoil of a ballot paper the mark on that part shall also be entered thereon.

Any ballot paper which has not on its back the official mark, or on which votes are given to more candidates than the voter is entitled to vote for, or on which anything except the said number on the back, is written or marked by which the voter can be identified, shall be void and not counted.

After the close of the poll the ballot boxes shall be sealed up, so as to prevent the introduction of additional ballot papers, and shall be taken charge of by the returning officer, and that officer shall, in the presence of such agents, if any, of the candidates as may be in attendance, open the ballot boxes, and ascertain the result of the poll by counting the votes given to each candidate, and shall forthwith declare to be elected the candidates or candidate to whom the majority of votes have been given. The decision of the returning officer as to any question arising in respect of any ballot paper shall be final, subject to reversal on petition questioning the election or return.

OFFENCES.

Offences in respect of ballot papers and ballot boxes.

3. Every person who—

(1) Forges or counterfeits or fraudulently defaces or fraudulently destroys any ballot paper, or the official mark on any ballot paper; or

(2) Without due authority supplies any ballot paper to any person; or

(3) Fraudulently puts into any ballot box any paper other than the ballot paper which he is authorised by law to put in; or

(4) Fraudulently takes out of the polling station any ballot paper; or

(5) Without due authority destroys, takes, opens, or otherwise interferes with any ballot box or packet of ballot papers then in use for the purposes of the election (z);

shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and be liable, if he is a returning officer or an officer or clerk in attendance at a polling station, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding two years, with or without hard labour, and if he is any other person, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labour.

Any attempt to commit any offence specified in this section shall be punishable in the manner in which the offence itself is punishable.

In any indictment or other prosecution for an offence in relation to the ballot boxes, ballot papers, and marking instruments at an election, the property in such papers, boxes, and instruments may be stated to be in the returning officer at such election, as well as the property in the counterfoils.

Infringement of secrecy.

4. Every officer, clerk, and agent in attendance at a polling station shall maintain and aid in maintaining the secrecy of the voting in such station, and shall not communicate, except for some purpose authorised by law, before the poll is closed, to any person any information as to the name or number on the register of parochial electors of any elector who has or has not applied for a ballot paper or voted at that station, or as to the official mark, and no such officer, clerk, or agent, and no person whatsoever, shall interfere with or attempt to interfere with a voter when marking his vote, or otherwise attempt to obtain in the polling station information as to the candidate for whom any voter in such station is about to vote or has voted, or communicate at any time to any person any information obtained in a polling station as to the candidate for whom any voter in such station is about to vote or has voted, or as to the number on the back of the ballot paper given to any voter at such station. Every officer, clerk, and agent in attendance at the counting of the votes shall maintain and aid in maintaining the secrecy of the voting, and shall not attempt to ascertain at such counting the number on the back of any ballot paper, or communicate any information obtained at such counting as to the candidate for whom any vote is given in any particular ballot paper. No person shall directly or indirectly induce any voter to display his ballot paper after he shall have marked the same, so as to make known to any person the name of the candidate for or against whom he has so marked his vote.

Every person who acts in contravention of the provisions of this section shall be liable on summary conviction before two justices of the peace, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labour (a).

USE OF SCHOOL AND PUBLIC ROOM FOR POLL.

6. The returning officer at an election of rural district councillors may use, free of charge, for the purpose of taking the poll or for counting the votes at such election, any room in a school receiving a grant out of moneys provided by Parliament, and any room

(z) See note (p), ante, p. 2318.

Appendix II — the expense of maintaining which is payable out of any local rate, but he shall make good any damage done to any such room, and defray any expense incurred by the person or body of persons, corporate or unincorporate, having control over the same on account of its being used for the purpose of taking the poll or for counting the votes as aforesaid.

The use of any room in an unoccupied house for the purpose of taking the poll shall not render any person liable to be rated or to pay any rate for such house.

DUTIES OF RETURNING AND ELECTION OFFICERS.

General powers and duties of returning officer.

8. Subject to the provisions of this Act, every returning officer shall provide such nomination papers, polling stations, ballot boxes, ballot papers, stamping instruments, copies of register of parochial electors and other things, appoint and pay such officers, and do such other acts and things as may be necessary for effectually conducting the election.

Keeping of order in station.

9. If any person misconducts himself in the polling station, or fails to obey the lawful orders of the presiding officer, he may immediately, by order of the presiding officer, be removed from the polling station by any constable in or near that station, or any other person authorised in writing by the returning officer to remove him; and the person so removed shall not, unless with the permission of the presiding officer, again be allowed to enter the polling station during the day.

Any person so removed as aforesaid, if charged with the commission in such station of any offence, may be kept in custody until he can be brought before a justice of the peace.

Provided that the powers conferred by this section shall not be exercised so as to prevent any elector who is otherwise entitled to vote at any polling station from having an opportunity of voting at such station (b).

Powers of presiding officer and administration of oaths, etc.

10. For the purpose of the adjournment of the poll a presiding officer shall have the power by law belonging to a deputy returning officer in a Parliamentary election; and any presiding officer and any clerk appointed by the returning officer to attend at a polling station shall have the power of asking the questions and administering the oath authorised by law to be asked of and administered to voters, and any justice of the peace and any returning officer may take and receive any declaration authorised by this Act to be taken before him.

Liability of officers for misconduct.

11. Every returning officer, presiding officer, and clerk who is guilty of any wilful misfeasance or any wilful act or omission in contravention of this Act shall, in addition to any other penalty or liability to which he may be subject, forfeit to any person aggrieved by such misfeasance, act, or omission a penal sum not exceeding one hundred pounds (c).

No returning officer or officer appointed by him in connection with the election of rural district councillors for any rural district, nor any partner or clerk of any such officer, shall act as agent for any candidate in the management or conduct of his election as a rural district councillor. If any returning officer or officer appointed by him, or the partner or clerk of any such officer, shall so act he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Prohibition of disclosure of vote.

12. No person who has voted at an election shall, in any legal proceeding to question the election or return, be required to state for whom he has voted.

Non-compliance with rules.

13. No election shall be declared invalid by reason of a defect in the title or appointment of the returning officer or deputy returning officer or of a non-compliance with the rules contained in the First Schedule to this Act or in the Rural District Councillors Election Order, 1898, or any mistake in the use of the forms in the Second Schedule to this Act or in the said Order, if it appears to the tribunal having cognizance of the question that the election was conducted in accordance with the principles laid down in the body of this Act and of the Local Government Act, 1894, and that such non-compliance or mistake did not affect the result of the election (d).

PERSONATION.

Definition and punishment of personation.

24. The following enactments shall be made with respect to personation at an election of rural district councillors:

It shall be the duty of the returning officer to institute a prosecution (e) against any person whom he may believe to have been guilty of personation (f) or of aiding, abetting, counselling or procuring the commission (g) of the offence of personation by any person, at the election for which he is returning officer, and the costs and expenses of the prosecutor and the witnesses in such case, together with compensation for their trouble and loss of time, shall be allowed by the court in the same manner in which courts are empowered to allow the same in cases of felony. Appendix II.

Sections 86 to 89, both inclusive, of the Parliamentary Voters Registration Act, 1843 (h), shall apply to personation at an election of rural district councillors in the same manner as they apply to a person who knowingly personates and falsely assumes to vote in the name of another person as mentioned in the said Act, but with the substitution of the words "any parochial elector or any agent appointed under the Rural District Councillors Election Order, 1898," for "any such agent so appointed as aforesaid" or for any reference to any such agent, and of "the presiding officer" for "the returning officer or his respective deputy."

EFFECT OF SCHEDULES.

28. The schedules to this Act, and the notes thereto, and directions therein shall be construed and have effect as part of this Act.

SCHEDULES TO ACT.

FIRST SCHEDULE TO ACT.

RULES FOR ELECTIONS OF RURAL DISTRICT COUNCILLORS.

15. At every polling place the returning officer shall, subject to the provisions of the Rural District Councillors Election Order, 1898, provide a sufficient number of polling stations for the accommodation of the electors entitled to vote at such polling place, and shall distribute the polling stations amongst those electors in such manner as he thinks most convenient. The poll.

17. A separate room or separate booth may contain a separate polling station, or several polling stations may be constructed in the same room or booth.

18. No person shall be admitted to vote at any polling station except the one allotted to him.

20. The returning officer shall provide each polling station with materials for voters to mark the ballot papers, with instruments for stamping thereon the official mark, and with copies of the register of voters, or such part thereof as contains the names of the voters allotted to vote at such station. He shall keep the official mark secret.

21. The presiding officer appointed to preside at each station shall keep order at his station, shall regulate the number of electors to be admitted at a time, and shall exclude all other persons except the clerks, the agents of the candidates, and the constables on duty.

22. Every ballot paper shall contain a list of the candidates described as in their respective nomination papers (i), and arranged alphabetically in the order of their surnames and (if there are two or more candidates with the same surname) of their other names: it shall be in the form set forth in the Second Schedule to this Act or as near thereto as circumstances admit, and shall be capable of being folded up.

23. Every ballot box shall be so constructed that the ballot papers can be introduced therein, but cannot be withdrawn therefrom, without the box being unlocked. The presiding officer at any polling station, just before the commencement of the poll (k), shall show the ballot box empty to such persons, if any, as may be present in such station, so that they may see that it is empty, and shall then lock it up, and place his seal upon it in such manner as to prevent its being opened without breaking such seal, and shall place it in his view for the receipt of ballot papers, and keep it so locked and sealed.

24. Immediately before a ballot paper is delivered to an elector, it shall be marked on both sides with the official mark, either stamped or perforated, and the number, name, and description of the elector as stated in the copy of the register shall be called out, and the number of such elector, together with the distinguishing mark, if any, of the part of the register in which the number occurs shall, as required by section 2 of this Act as adapted be marked on the counterfoil, and a mark shall be placed in the register against the number of the elector, to denote that he has received a ballot paper, but without showing the particular ballot paper which he has received.

Appendix II.

25. The elector, on receiving the ballot paper, shall forthwith proceed into one of the compartments in the polling station, and there mark (l) his paper, and fold it up so as to conceal his vote, and shall then put his ballot paper, so folded up, into the ballot box (m); he shall vote without undue delay, and shall quit the polling station as soon as he has put his ballot paper into the ballot box.

26. The presiding officer, on the application of any voter who is incapacitated by blindness or other physical cause from voting in manner prescribed by this Act, or on the application before sunset (if the poll be taken on Saturday) of any voter who declares that he is of the Jewish persuasion, and objects on religious grounds to vote in manner prescribed by this Act, or of any voter who makes such a declaration as hereinafter mentioned that he is unable to read, shall, in the presence of the agents of the candidates, cause the vote of such voter to be marked on a ballot paper in manner directed by such voter, and the ballot paper to be placed in the ballot box, and the name and number on the register of voters of every voter whose vote is marked in pursuance of this rule, and the reason why it is so marked, shall be entered on a list, in this Act called "the list of votes marked by the presiding officer."

The said declaration, in this Act referred to as "the declaration of inability to read," shall be made by the voter at the time of polling, before the presiding officer, who shall attest it in the form hereinafter mentioned, and no fee, stamp, or other payment shall be charged in respect of such declaration, and the said declaration shall be given to the presiding officer at the time of voting (n).

27. If a person, representing himself to be a particular elector named on the register, applies for a ballot paper after another person has voted as such elector, the applicant shall, upon duly answering the questions permitted by the Rural District Councillors Election Order, 1898, to be asked of voters at the time of polling, and upon taking an oath in the form hereinafter set out, which the presiding officer shall administer, be entitled to mark a ballot paper in the same manner as any other voter, but the ballot paper (in this Act called a tendered ballot paper) shall be of a colour differing from the other ballot papers, and, instead of being put into the ballot box, shall be given to the presiding officer and endorsed by him with the name of the voter and his number in the register of voters, and set aside in a separate packet, and shall not be counted by the returning officer (o). And the name of the voter and his number on the register shall be entered on a list, in this Act called "the tendered votes list."

The oath shall be administered in the following form:

"You do swear that you are the same person whose name appears as A. B. on the register of parochial electors for the parish of [or ward of the parish of], and that you have not already voted at the present election of rural district councillors in this or any other parish or ward in the rural district.

"SO HELP YOU GOD."

Provided that any person entitled to affirm in lieu of taking an oath may affirm in the following form:

"I, A. B., do solemnly, sincerely, and truly declare and affirm that I am the same person whose name appears as A. B. on the register of parochial electors for the parish of [or ward of the parish of], and that I have not already voted at the present election of rural district councillors in this or any other parish or ward in the rural district."

28. A voter who has inadvertently dealt with his ballot paper in such manner that it cannot be conveniently used as a ballot paper, may, on delivering to the presiding officer the ballot paper so inadvertently dealt with, and proving the fact of the inadvertence to the satisfaction of the presiding officer, obtain another ballot paper in the place of the ballot paper so delivered up (in this Act called a spoilt ballot paper), and the ballot paper shall be immediately cancelled.

29. The presiding officer of each station, as soon as practicable after the close of the poll, shall make up into separate packets sealed with his seal,

(1) Each ballot box in use at his station, unopened but with the key attached; and
(2) The unused and spoilt ballot papers, placed together; and
(3) The tendered ballot papers; and
(4) The marked copies of the register of parochial electors, and the counterfoils of the ballot papers (p); and
(5) The tendered votes list, and the list of votes marked by the presiding officer, and a statement of the number of the voters whose votes are so marked by the presiding officer under the heads "physical incapacity," "Jews," and "unable to read," and the declarations of inability to read;

Appendix II.

and shall deliver such packets to the returning officer, or deputy returning officer, by whom the votes are to be counted, unless he is himself such officer.

30. The packets shall be accompanied by a statement made by such presiding officer, showing the number of ballot papers entrusted to him, and accounting for them under the heads of ballot papers in the ballot box, unused, spoilt, and tendered ballot papers, which statement is in this Act referred to as the ballot paper account.

Counting votes.

31. Each candidate may appoint an agent to attend the counting of the votes.

32. The returning officer shall make arrangements for counting the votes in the presence of the agents of the candidates as soon as practicable after the close of the poll, and shall give to the agents of the candidates appointed to attend at the counting of the votes notice in writing of the time and place at which he will begin to count the same.

33. The returning officer, his assistants and clerks, the agents of the candidates, any person to whom Rule 51 of this Schedule applies and no other person, except with the sanction of the returning officer, may be present at the counting of the votes (q).

34. If a poll has been taken as to the election of rural district councillors only, before the returning officer proceeds to count the votes, he shall, in the presence of the agents of the candidates, open each ballot box, and taking out the papers therein, shall count and record the number thereof, and then mix (r) together the whole of the ballot papers contained in the ballot boxes. If polls have been taken at the same date for the election both of rural district councillors and of parish councillors, before the returning officer proceeds to count the votes, he shall, in the presence of the agents of the candidates, open one of the ballot boxes and taking out the papers therein shall separate those relating to the election of rural district councillors from any relating to the election of parish councillors, and shall count and record the number of ballot papers relating to each election. He shall then secure the ballot papers relating to each election by placing them in separate packets under his own seal, and the seals of such of the agents of the candidates as desire to affix their seals, and shall proceed in like manner with any other ballot boxes and the papers therein. When all the ballot boxes and the papers therein have been so dealt with, he shall open all the packets of ballot papers relating to one election, and shall mix all such papers together, and shall proceed to count the votes, keeping the papers relating to any other election sealed up until he has completed such counting. He shall afterwards deal in manner aforesaid with the packets and papers relating to the other election or elections.

The returning officer, while counting and recording the number of ballot papers and counting the votes, shall keep the ballot papers with their faces upwards, and take all proper precautions for preventing any person from seeing the numbers printed on the backs of such papers.

35. The returning officer shall, so far as practicable, proceed continuously with counting the votes, allowing only time for refreshment, and excluding, if and so far as he thinks it necessary, the hours between the close of the poll and nine o clock on the succeeding morning. During the excluded time the returning officer shall place the ballot papers and other documents relating to the election under his own seal and the seals of such of the agents of the candidates as desire to affix their seals, and shall otherwise take proper precautions for the security of such paper and documents.

36. The returning officer shall endorse " rejected " on any ballot paper which he may reject as invalid, and shall add to the endorsement " rejection objected to," if an objection be in fact made by any agent to his decision (s). The returning officer shall draw up a statement showing the number of ballot papers rejected and not counted by him under the several heads of—

1. Want of official mark ;
2. Voting for more candidates than entitled to ;
3. Writing or mark by which the voter could be identified ;
4. Unmarked or void for uncertainty ;

and shall on request allow any agents of the candidates to copy such statement. If the votes are counted by a deputy returning officer he shall, with the declaration of the result of the poll, report to the returning officer the number of ballot papers rejected and not counted by him, under the above heads, and no such statement as aforesaid shall be drawn up by the returning officer. The deputy returning officer shall, on request, allow any agents of the candidates before such report is sent in, to copy it.

37. Upon the completion of the counting, the returning officer shall seal up in separate packets the counted and rejected ballot papers. He shall not open the sealed packet of tendered ballot papers or marked copy of the register of voters and counterfoils, but shall proceed, in the presence of the agents of the candidates, to verify the ballot paper account

Appendix II. given by each presiding officer by comparing it with the number of ballot papers recorded by him as aforesaid, and the unused and spoilt ballot papers in his possession and the tendered votes list, and shall reseal each sealed packet after examination. The returning officer shall draw up a statement as to the result of such verification, and shall, on request, allow any agents of the candidates to copy it.

If the votes are counted by a deputy returning officer, he shall report to the returning officer the result of the verification, and no such statement as aforesaid shall be drawn up by the returning officer. The deputy returning officer shall, on request, allow any agents of the candidates, before such report is sent in, to copy it. He shall, with his report, send to the returning officer the sealed packets of counted and rejected ballot papers, and the unopened sealed packets which he has received from any presiding officer.

38. Lastly, the returning officer shall carefully preserve for the period hereinafter mentioned all the packets of ballot papers in his possession, together with the said reports, the ballot paper accounts, tendered votes lists, lists of votes marked by the presiding officer, statements relating thereto, declarations of inability to read, and packets of counterfoils, and marked copies of registers, endorsing on each packet a description of its contents and the date of the election to which they relate, and the name of the parish for which such election was held.

39. The returning officer shall retain for six months all documents relating to an election of rural district councillors, and then, unless otherwise directed by an order of the county court having jurisdiction in the rural district or in any part thereof, or of any tribunal in which the election is questioned, shall cause them to be destroyed.

40. No person shall be allowed to inspect any rejected ballot papers in the custody of the returning officer, except under the order of the county court or tribunal aforesaid, to be granted by such court or tribunal on being satisfied by evidence on oath that the inspection or production of such ballot papers is required for the purpose of instituting or maintaining a prosecution for an offence in relation to ballot papers, or for the purpose of a petition questioning an election or return; and any such order for the inspection or production of ballot papers may be made subject to such conditions as to persons, time, place, and mode of inspection or production as the court or tribunal making the same may think expedient, and shall be obeyed by the returning officer (t).

41. No person shall, except by order of the county court having jurisdiction in the rural district or any part thereof, or of any tribunal having cognisance of any question relating to the election, open the sealed packet of counterfoils after the same has been once sealed up, or be allowed to inspect any counted ballot papers in the custody of the returning officer. Such order may be made subject to such conditions as to persons, time, place, and mode of opening or inspection as the court or tribunal making the order may think expedient: Provided that on making and carrying into effect any such order, care shall be taken that the mode in which any particular elector has voted shall not be discovered until he has been proved to have voted, and his vote has been declared by a competent court to be invalid (u).

42. All documents in the custody of a returning officer in pursuance of this Act, other than ballot papers and counterfoils, shall be open to public inspection at such time and under such regulations as may have been or may hereafter be prescribed by the council of the county in which the parish is situate, and the returning officer shall supply copies of or extracts from the said documents to any person demanding the same, on payment of such fees and subject to such regulations as may have been or may hereafter be prescribed by the county council.

43. Where an order is made for the production by the returning officer of any document in his possession relating to any specified election of rural district councillors, the production by such officer or his agent of the document ordered, in such manner as may be directed by such order, or by an order of the court having power to make such first-mentioned order, shall be conclusive evidence that such document relates to the specified election; and any endorsement appearing on any packet of ballot papers produced by such returning officer or his agent shall be evidence of such papers being what they are stated to be by the endorsement. The production from proper custody of a ballot paper purporting to have been used at any election, and of a counterfoil marked with the same printed number and having a number marked thereon in writing, shall be primâ facie evidence that the person who voted by such ballot paper was the person who at the time of such election had affixed to his name in the register of voters at such election the same number as the number written on such counterfoil.

43 (a). There shall be an appeal from any order of the county court under these rules in like manner as in other cases in such court (x).

(x) See note (p), ante, p. 2324.

Appendix II.

General provisions.

47. If the returning officer presides at any polling station the provisions of this Act relating to a presiding officer shall apply to such returning officer with the necessary modifications as to things to be done by the returning officer to the presiding officer, or the presiding officer to the returning officer.

48. The returning officer may, in addition to any clerks, appoint competent persons to assist him in counting the votes.

49. No person shall be appointed by a returning officer for the purposes of an election who has been employed by any other person in or about the election.

50. The presiding officer may do, by the clerks appointed to assist him, any act which he is required or authorised to do by this Act at a polling station except ordering the arrest, exclusion, or ejection from the polling station of any person.

51. A candidate may himself undertake the duties which any agent of his, if appointed under Rule 31 of this Schedule, might have undertaken, and may, if he does not appoint such an agent (y), be present at the counting of the votes, or may himself take the place of such agent.

Provided that any person acting under this rule may at any time before so acting make the statutory declaration required by Rule 54 of this Schedule, but he shall not so act until he has made such declaration.

52. The name and address of every agent of a candidate appointed to attend the counting of the votes shall be transmitted to the returning officer one clear day at the least before the opening of the poll; and the returning officer may refuse to admit to the place where the votes are counted any agent whose name and address has not been so transmitted, notwithstanding that his appointment may be otherwise valid, and any notice required to be given to an agent by the returning officer may be delivered at or sent by post to such address.

53. If any person appointed an agent for the purposes of attending a polling station, or at the counting of the votes dies, or becomes incapable of acting during the time of the election, another agent may be appointed in his place, and notice shall forthwith be given to the returning officer in writing of the name and address of any agent so appointed.

54. Every returning officer, and every officer, clerk, or agent authorised to attend at a polling station, and also every officer, clerk, or agent authorised to attend at the counting of the votes, shall, before the opening of the poll, make a statutory declaration of secrecy, in the presence, if he is the returning officer, of a justice of the peace, and if he is any other officer or an agent, of a justice of the peace or of the returning officer; but no such returning officer, officer, clerk, or agent as aforesaid shall, save as aforesaid, be required, as such, to make any declaration or take any oath on the occasion of any election.

55. Where in this Act any expressions are used requiring or authorising or inferring that any act or thing is to be done in the presence of the agents of the candidates, such expressions shall be deemed to refer to the presence of such agents of the candidates as may be authorised to attend, and as have in fact attended, at the time and place where such act or thing is being done, and the non-attendance of any agents or agent at such time and place shall not, if such act or thing be otherwise duly done, in any wise invalidate the act or thing done.

SECOND SCHEDULE TO ACT.

NOTE.—The forms contained in this Schedule, or forms as nearly resembling the same as circumstances will admit, shall be used in all cases to which they refer and are applicable and when so used shall be sufficient in law.

FORM OF BALLOT PAPER.

Form of front of ballot paper.

ELECTION OF RURAL DISTRICT COUNCILLORS.

Counterfoil No.

NOTE.—The counterfoil is to have a number to correspond with that on the back of the Ballot Paper.

1	ADAMS (Walter Adams, of Green Farm, Farmer).
2	HIGGINS (William Henry Higgins, of Mudford, Agricultural Labourer).
3	MERTON (Hon. George Travis, commonly called Viscount Merton, of Swanworth, Wilts, gentleman).
4	PRITCHARD (Jane Pritchard, of Rose Villa, Married Woman).

Appendix II.

Form of back of ballot paper.

No.

Election of Rural District Councillors for Parish [or United Parishes, or Ward of Parish] , 19 .

NOTE.—The number on the ballot paper is to correspond with that in the counterfoil.

DIRECTIONS AS TO PRINTING BALLOT PAPER.

Nothing is to be printed on the ballot paper except in accordance with this schedule.

The surname of each candidate, and if there are two or more candidates of the same surname, also the other names of such candidates, shall be printed in large characters, and the names, places of abode, and descriptions, and the number on the back of the paper, shall be printed in small characters.

FORM OF DIRECTIONS FOR THE GUIDANCE OF THE VOTER IN VOTING, WHICH SHALL BE PRINTED IN CONSPICUOUS CHARACTERS, AND PLACARDED OUTSIDE EVERY POLLING STATION AND IN EVERY COMPARTMENT OF EVERY POLLING STATION.

The voter may vote for candidates as rural district councillors.

The voter will go into one of the compartments, and, with the pencil provided in the compartment, place a cross on the right-hand side, opposite the name of each candidate for whom he votes, thus X.

The voter will then fold up the ballot paper so as to show the official mark on the back, and leaving the compartment will, without showing the front of the paper to any person, show the official mark on the back to the presiding officer, and then, in the presence of the presiding officer, put the paper into the ballot box and forthwith quit the polling station.

If the voter inadvertently spoils a ballot paper, he can return it to the officer, who will, if satisfied of such inadvertence, give him another paper.

If the voter votes for more than candidates, or places any mark on the paper by which he may be afterwards identified, his ballot paper will be void, and will not be counted.

If the voter takes a ballot paper out of the polling station, or deposits in the ballot box any other paper than the one given him by the officer, he will be guilty of a misdemeanor, and be subject to imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labour.

NOTE.—These directions will be illustrated by examples of the ballot paper.

FORM OF STATUTORY DECLARATION OF SECRECY.

I solemnly promise and declare, that I will not at this election of rural district councillors for the parish of [or united parishes of , or ward of the parish of] do anything forbidden by section four of the Ballot Act, 1872, which has been read to me.

NOTE.—The section must be read to the declarant by the person taking the declaration. One declaration may be made by the returning officer in respect of all the parishes for which he is returning officer.

FORM OF DECLARATION OF INABILITY TO READ.

FOURTH SCHEDULE.

Appendix II.

SECTIONS 74 AND 75 OF THE MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS ACT, 1882, AS ADAPTED AND ALTERED IN THEIR APPLICATION TO THE ELECTION OF RURAL DISTRICT COUNCILLORS.

Offences in relation to nomination papers.

74.—(1) If any person forges or fraudulently defaces or fraudulently destroys any nomination paper, or delivers to the returning officer any forged nomination paper, knowing it to be forged, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be liable to imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labour.

(2) An attempt to commit any such offence shall be punishable as the offence is punishable.

Neglect of duty by returning officer or deputy returning officer.

75.—(1) If a person who has undertaken to act as returning officer, or deputy returning officer, at an election of rural district councillors, neglects or refuses to conduct or declare the election in manner provided by the Local Government Act, 1894, and the Rural District Councillors Election Order, 1898, he shall for every such offence be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds, recoverable by action.

(2) An action under this section shall not lie after three months from the neglect or refusal.

FIFTH SCHEDULE.

PROVISIONS OF THE MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS ACT, 1882, RELATING TO THE ACCEPTANCE OF OFFICE, RE-ELIGIBILITY OF HOLDERS OF OFFICE, AND FILLING OF CASUAL VACANCIES, AS ADAPTED AND ALTERED IN THEIR APPLICATION TO THE ELECTION OF RURAL DISTRICT COUNCILLORS.

Obligation to accept office or pay fine.

34.—(1) Every qualified person elected or deemed to be re-elected to the office of rural district councillor, unless exempt under this section or otherwise by law, either shall accept the office by making and subscribing the declaration required by this Act within one month after notice of being elected or deemed to be re-elected, or shall, in lieu thereof, be liable to pay to the district council a fine of such amount, not exceeding fifty pounds, as the district council by regulations determine, and such fine shall be placed to the credit of the parish for which the person fined was elected.

(2) If there are no regulations determining fines, the fine shall be twenty pounds.

(3) The persons exempt under this section are—

Any person disabled by lunacy or imbecility of mind, or by deafness, blindness, or other permanent infirmity of body, and any person who having within five years before the day of election served the office of rural district councillor for the parish or other area, claims exemption within ten days after notice of election or of being declared to be deemed to be re-elected.

(4) A fine payable under this section shall be recoverable summarily.

(5) If a person is either elected or deemed to be re-elected rural district councillor in more than one parish or other area in the rural district for which the election is held, he shall not accept office in respect of more than one of such areas, and if he accepts office or pays the fine for non-acceptance of office in respect of one of such areas, he shall not be liable to a fine for non-acceptance of office in respect of any other of such areas.

(6) Any person who has been nominated and elected without his consent to his nomination being previously obtained shall not be liable to a fine under this section.

Declaration on acceptance of office.

35.—A person elected or deemed to be re-elected to the office of rural district councillor shall not, until he has made and subscribed before two members of the district council, or the clerk to the district council, or, if he is absent from the United Kingdom, before a British consul, a declaration in the following form or in a form to the like effect, act in the office except in administering that declaration :

Form of Declaration on Acceptance of Office.

I, A. B., having been elected [or being deemed to be re-elected] rural district councillor for the rural district of , in respect of the parish of [or of the united parishes of and , or of the ward of the parish of], hereby declare that I take the said office upon myself, and will duly and faithfully fulfil the duties thereof according to the best of my judgment and ability.

Dated this day of , 19 .

This declaration was made and subscribed before us*

Members of the district council } .
of the above-named district. } .

* If the declaration is made and subscribed before the clerk or a consul, adapt form accordingly.

Appendix II.

Power to receive declaration.

239.—(1) Members of the district council or the clerk or a British consul shall have authority to receive the declaration required to be made by a rural district councillor without any commission or authority other than this Act.

(2) The declaration, if made before a British consul, shall be forthwith sent to the clerk to the district council Penalty on acting in office without making declaration.

41.—(1) If any person acts in the office of rural district councillor without having made the declaration by this Act required, he shall for each offence be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds, recoverable by action.

Re-eligibility of office-holders.

37. A person ceasing to hold the office of rural district councillor shall, unless disqualified to hold the office, be re-eligible.

Filling of casual vacancies.

40.—(1) On a casual vacancy in the office of rural district councillor, an election shall be held in accordance with the Rural District Councillors Election Order, 1898; and the person elected shall hold the office until the time when the person in whose place he is elected would regularly have gone out of office, and he shall then go out of office.

(2) In case of more than one casual vacancy in the office of rural district councillor being filled at the same election, not being the ordinary election, the councillor elected by the smallest number of votes shall be deemed to be elected in the place of him who would regularly have first gone out of office, and the councillor elected by the next smallest number of votes shall be deemed to be elected in the place of him who would regularly have next gone out of office, and so with respect to the others; and if there has not been a contested election, or if any doubt arises, the order of rotation shall be determined by the district council.

(3) Non-acceptance of office by a person elected or deemed to be re-elected creates a casual vacancy.

Time for filling casual vacancies.

66.—(1) On a casual vacancy in the office of rural district councillor, the election shall be held within one month after notice in writing of the vacancy has been given to the chairman of the district council or to the clerk by two councillors.

(3) The day of election shall be fixed by the clerk to the district council.

(4) Nothing in this Act shall authorise or require a returning officer to hold an election to fill a casual vacancy which occurs within six months before the ordinary day of retirement from the office in which the vacancy occurs, and the vacancy shall be filled at the next ordinary election (a).

Given under the Seal of Office of the Local Government Board, this first day of January, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight.

ELECTRIC LIGHTING.

BOARD OF TRADE REGULATIONS UNDER THE ELECTRIC LIGHTING ACTS, 1882 AND 1888.

(A) FOR SECURING THE SAFETY OF THE PUBLIC, AND (B) FOR ENSURING A PROPER AND SUFFICIENT SUPPLY OF ELECTRICAL ENERGY.

DEFINITIONS.

In the following regulations—

The expression "the Order" means the

The expression "the undertakers" means the undertakers for the purposes of the Order.

The expression "consumer's wires" means any electric lines on the consumer's premises which are connected with the service lines of the undertakers at the consumer's terminals.

The expression "sub-station" means any premises in which energy is transformed or converted for the purpose of supply to consumers, and which are large enough to admit the entrance of a person after the transforming or converting apparatus is in position, provided that for the purpose of these regulations any place within any such premises which is used solely for some purpose other than such transformation or conversion shall not be deemed to form part of a sub-station.

(a) See note (y), ante, p. 2328.

Appendix II.

The expression "overhead line" means any electric line which is placed above ground and in the open air.

The expression "pressure" means the difference of electrical potential between any two conductors through which a supply of energy is given, or between any part of either conductor and the earth; and, subject to the variations allowed by No. B 3 of these regulations—

(a) Where the conditions of the supply are such that the pressure at any pair of consumer's terminals does not exceed 250 volts, the supply shall be deemed a low pressure supply;

(b) Where the conditions of the supply are such that the pressure exceeds 250 volts but does not exceed 650 volts, the supply shall be deemed a medium pressure supply;

(c) Where the conditions of the supply are such that the pressure exceeds 650 volts but does not exceed 3,000 volts, the supply shall be deemed a high pressure supply; and

(d) Where the conditions of the supply are such that the pressure exceeds 3,000 volts, the supply shall be deemed an extra high pressure supply.

The expressions "factory," "workshop," and "quarry" have the same meaning as in the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901.

The expression "mine" means a mine to which the Coal Mines Regulations Act, 1887, or the Metalliferous Mines Regulation Act, 1872, applies.

Where these regulations require any metallic body to be "efficiently connected with earth," it shall be connected with the general mass of earth in such manner as will ensure at all times an immediate and safe discharge of electrical energy.

Other expressions to which meanings are assigned in the Order or in the Electric Lighting Acts, 1882 and 1888, have the same respective meanings in these regulations.

A.—REGULATIONS FOR SECURING THE SAFETY OF THE PUBLIC.

General.

1. The pressure of a supply delivered to any consumer shall not exceed the limit of low pressure, except for special purposes, for which a medium pressure supply may be given on the consumer undertaking to comply with the following conditions:—

(a) Where the supply is for power purposes—

(1) The frame of every electric motor shall be efficiently connected with earth.

(2) The consumer's wires forming the connections to motors, or otherwise in connection with the supply, shall be, as far as practicable, completely enclosed in strong metal casing efficiently connected with earth, or they shall be fixed in such a manner that there shall be no danger of any shock.

(3) The supply to every motor shall be controlled by means of an efficient cut-off switch, placed in such a position as to be easily handled by the person in charge of the motor, and connected so that by its means all pressure can be cut off from the motor itself, and from any regulating switch, resistance or other device in connection therewith.

(4) Switches, efficient fuses or other automatic circuit-breakers shall be provided, so as to protect the circuits from excess of current, and all switches and cut-outs shall be so enclosed and protected that there shall be no danger of any shock being obtained in the ordinary handling thereof, or of any fire being caused by their normal or abnormal action.

(5) A notice shall be fixed in a conspicuous position at every motor and switch board in connection with the supply forbidding unauthorised persons to touch the motors or apparatus.

(b) Where the supply is for arc lamps in series—

(1) The consumer's wires forming the connections to the arc lamps, or otherwise in connection with the supply, shall be, as far as practicable, completely enclosed in strong metal casing efficiently connected with earth, or they shall be fixed in such a manner that there shall be no danger of any shock.

(2) The supply to every arc lamp shall be controlled by means of an efficient cut-off switch, placed in such a position as to be easily handled by the person in charge of the arc lighting, and connected so that by its means all pressure can be cut off from the arc lamp itself, and from any regulating switch, resistance or other device in connection therewith. Provided that where the arc lamps are connected in series across the outer conductors of a three-wire system, it shall be sufficient if one such switch be provided for each series of arc lamps.

(3) Switches, efficient fuses or other automatic cut-outs shall be provided, so as to protect the circuits from excess of current, and all switches and cut-outs shall be so enclosed and protected that there shall be no danger of any shock being obtained in the ordinary handling thereof, or of any fire being caused by their normal or abnormal action.

(c) Where the supply is for incandescent lamps in series—

(1) The consumer's wires forming the connections to the incandescent lamps, or otherwise in connection with the supply, shall be completely enclosed in strong metal casing, and this casing, together with the switches and lamp holders, if metallic, shall be efficiently connected with earth.

(2) Switches, efficient fuses or other automatic cut-outs shall be provided so as to protect the circuits from excess of current, and all switches and cut-outs shall be so enclosed and protected that there shall be no danger of any shock being obtained in the ordinary handling thereof, or of any fire being caused by their normal or abnormal action.

Where the supply is for any special purpose other than those above mentioned, or where the pressure of the supply exceeds the limits of medium pressure, it shall be subject to such other regulations as the Board of Trade may from time to time prescribe.

This regulation shall not apply within the premises of a factory, a workshop, a mine, or a quarry.

2. When the pressure between the outer conductors of a three-wire system exceeds 250 volts and the three wires of the system or two pairs of wires are brought into a consumer's premises, the supply shall be given to two pairs of terminals arranged in such a manner that there shall be no danger of any shock, and the wiring from these terminals shall be kept distinct.

This regulation shall not apply within the premises of a factory, a workshop, a mine, or a quarry.

3. An extra high pressure supply shall not be given to any consumer's premises other than a factory, a workshop, a mine, a quarry, or electric traction works, waterworks, sewerage or drainage works; and no such supply shall be given to electric traction works, waterworks, sewerage or drainage works, except with the consent of the Board of Trade and subject to such regulations as the Board may prescribe.

4. The sectional area of the conductor in any electric line laid or erected in any street after the date of these regulations shall not be less than that of a strand of seven wires, each of which is of No. 20 standard wire gauge, and the sectional area of every wire in a strand forming any such conductor shall not be less than that gauge.

This regulation shall not apply in the case of an electric line placed in a lamp-post.

5. Every low pressure and medium pressure main shall be tested for insulation after having been placed in position and before it is used for the purposes of supply, the testing pressure being the maximum pressure to which it is intended to be subjected in use, and in any case at least 200 volts, and the undertakers shall duly record the results of the tests of each main, or section of a main.

6. The insulation of every complete circuit used for the supply of energy, including all machinery, apparatus, and devices forming part of, or in connection with, that circuit, shall be so maintained that the leakage current shall not under any conditions exceed one-thousandth part of the maximum supply current; and suitable means shall be provided for the indication and localisation of leakage. Every leakage shall be remedied without delay.

Every such circuit shall be tested for insulation at least once in every week, and the undertakers shall duly record the results of the testings.

Provided that where any part of any electric circuit is connected with earth, either in accordance with these regulations or with the approval of the Board of Trade, the provisions of this regulation shall not apply to that part of the circuit so long as the connection with earth exists.

7. A high pressure circuit shall not be brought into use unless the insulation of every part thereof has withstood the continuous application, during half an hour, in the case of every electric line of a pressure twice the maximum pressure to which it is intended to be subjected in use, and, in the case of every machine, device, or apparatus, of a pressure 50 per cent. greater than the said maximum pressure.

The undertakers shall duly record the results of each test.

8. Every high pressure main, conductor, or other apparatus shall be protected by a suitable fuse or automatic circuit-breaker.

Provided that it shall not be incumbent upon the undertakers to provide such a fuse or circuit-breaker for the outer conductor of a concentric main which is, with the approval of the Board of Trade, efficiently connected with earth.

9. In every case where a high pressure supply is transformed for the purpose of supply to one or more consumers, some suitable automatic and quick-acting means shall be provided to protect the consumer's wires from any accidental contact with or leakage from the high pressure circuit, either within or without the transforming apparatus.

This regulation shall not apply within the premises of a factory, a workshop, a mine, or a quarry, where the high pressure transformer is under the jurisdiction of the Home Office.

10. The metallic portion of every high pressure transformer, with the exception of the conductors thereof, shall be efficiently connected with earth.

This regulation shall not apply within the premises of a factory, a workshop, a mine, or a quarry, where the high pressure transformer is under the jurisdiction of the Home Office.

11. Where any portion of any electric line or any support for an electric line is exposed in such a position as to be liable to cause injury from lightning, it shall be efficiently protected against such liability.

12. Where any accident by explosion or fire, or any other accident of such kind as to have caused or to be likely to have caused loss of life or personal injury has occurred at any part of any electric line or work, the undertakers shall give immediate notice thereof to the Board of Trade.

Overhead Lines.

13. Overhead lines shall not after the date of these regulations be erected or maintained except in accordance with such regulations as the Board may prescribe; provided that this regulation shall not apply to any electric lines which have been erected at the date of these regulations so long as those lines are maintained in accordance with any regulations of the Board of Trade which are in force and applicable thereto at that date and with any requirements of the Board made thereunder.

Electric Lines other than Overhead Lines.

14. All conduits, pipes, casings, and street boxes used as receptacles for electric lines shall be constructed of durable material, and where laid under carriage ways shall be of ample strength to prevent damage from heavy traffic, and reasonable means shall be taken by the undertakers to prevent accumulation of gas in such receptacles.

15. Where any electric line crosses, or is in proximity to, any metallic substance, special precautions shall be taken by the undertakers against the possibility of any electrical charging of the metallic substance from the line or from any metal conduit, pipe, or casing enclosing the line.

16. All metal conduits, pipes, or casings containing any high pressure electric line shall be efficiently connected with earth, and shall be so jointed and connected across all street boxes and other openings as to make good electrical connection throughout their whole length.

17. Where the conductors of electric lines placed in any conduit are not continuously covered with insulating material they shall be secured in position, and no unfixed uninsulated material of a conducting nature shall be contained in the conduit. No such conductor shall be at a pressure exceeding 300 volts from earth.

Adequate precautions shall also be taken to ensure that no accumulation of water shall take place in any part of the conduit, and to prevent any dangerous access of moisture to the conductors or the insulators.

The insulators of any such electric line shall be so disposed that they can be readily inspected, but this requirement shall not apply to any such insulators which before the date of these regulations were not required by any regulation then in force to be so capable of ready inspection.

18. Every portion of any high pressure electric line placed above the surface of the ground, or in any subway not in the sole occupation of the undertakers shall be completely enclosed either in a tube of highly insulating material embedded in brickwork, masonry, or cement concrete, or in strong metal casing efficiently connected with earth.

19. Where any high pressure electric line is laid beneath the surface of the ground, efficient means shall be taken to render it impossible that the surface of the ground or any neighbouring electric line or conductor shall become charged by leakage from the high pressure electric line.

20. A high pressure electric line shall not be used for the supply of energy before it has been completely laid, properly jointed, examined, and tested, or until it is in the sole charge of the undertakers, and every such line shall during its use be in the sole charge of the undertakers.

Sub-stations and Street Boxes.

21. Sub-stations shall be established in suitable places and shall be in the sole occupation and charge of the undertakers. Sub-stations shall be erected above ground wherever possible, but where necessarily underground, due provision shall be made for ventilation and for drainage.

22. In addition to the provisions contained in regulation 14 as to the construction of receptacles for electric lines, the following conditions shall be observed with respect to street boxes :—

(a) The covers of all street boxes shall be so secured that they cannot be opened except by means of a special appliance.

(b) The covers of all street boxes containing high pressure apparatus other than cables shall be connected to strips of metal laid immediately underneath the street, and efficient means shall be taken to render it impossible that the covers or other exposed parts of these boxes, or any adjacent material forming the surface of the street, shall become electrically charged, whether by reason of leakage, defect, or otherwise.

(c) Where street boxes are used as transformer chambers, reasonable means shall be taken to prevent as far as possible any influx of water, either from the adjacent soil or by means of pipes ; and in the case of any such street box exceeding one cubic yard in capacity, ample provision shall be made, by ventilation or otherwise, for the immediate escape of any gas which may by accident have obtained access to the box, and for the prevention of danger from sparking.

(d) All street boxes shall be regularly inspected for the presence of gas, and if any influx or accumulation is discovered, the undertakers shall give immediate notice to the authority or company whose gas mains are laid in the neighbourhood of the street box.

(e) Where mains at different pressures pass through the same street box they shall be readily distinguishable from one another.

23. The maximum power supplied to any underground sub-station or street box shall not, without the consent of the Board of Trade, exceed 30 kilowatts in the case of a sub-station or street box containing a single transformer, or 75 kilowatts in the case of a sub-station or street box containing two or more transformers. Appendix II.

Consumer's Premises.

24. The undertakers shall be responsible for all electric lines, fittings, and apparatus belonging to them, or under their control, which may be upon a consumer's premises, being maintained in a safe condition and in all respects fit for supplying energy.

25. In delivering the energy to a consumer's terminals the undertakers shall exercise all due precautions so as to avoid risk of causing fire on the premises.

26. A suitable safety fuse or other automatic circuit-breaker shall be inserted in each service line within a consumer's premises as close as possible to the point of entry, and contained within a suitable locked or sealed receptacle of fireproof construction, except in cases where the service line is protected by fuses in a street box; but no fuse or automatic circuit-breaker shall be inserted in the intermediate conductor of a three-wire system.

27. All service lines and apparatus placed on a consumer's premises shall be highly insulated and thoroughly protected against injury to the insulation or access of moisture, and any metal forming part of the electric circuit shall not unless efficiently connected with earth be exposed so that it can be touched. All electric lines shall be so fixed and protected as to prevent the possibility of electrical discharge to any adjacent metallic substance.

28. Where the general supply of energy is a high pressure supply, and transforming apparatus is installed on a consumer's premises, the whole of the high pressure service lines, conductors, and apparatus, including the transforming apparatus itself, so far as they are on the consumer's premises, shall be completely enclosed in solid walls, or in strong metal casing efficiently connected with earth and securely fastened throughout.

29. The undertakers shall not connect a consumer's wires with their mains unless they are reasonably satisfied that the connection would not cause a leakage from those wires or fittings exceeding one ten-thousandth part of the maximum supply current to the premises; and where the undertakers decline to make such connection they shall serve upon the consumer a notice stating their reasons for so declining.

30. If the undertakers are reasonably satisfied, after making all proper examination by testing or otherwise, that a leakage exists at some part of a consumer's wires or fittings of such extent as to be a source of danger, any officer of the undertakers, duly authorised by them in writing, or, if the undertakers so require, an electric inspector, may, for the purpose of discovering whether the leakage exists at any part of a circuit within or upon any consumer's premises, by notice require the consumer at some reasonable time after the service of the notice to permit him to inspect and test the wires and fittings belonging to the consumer and forming part of the circuit.

In any case where the undertakers require the services of an electric inspector under this regulation they shall pay him the prescribed fee.

If on any such testing the officer or the electric inspector discovers a leakage from the consumer's wires exceeding one ten-thousandth part of the maximum supply current to the premises, or if the consumer does not give all due facilities for inspection and testing, the undertakers shall forthwith discontinue the supply of energy to the premises in question, giving immediate notice of the discontinuance to the consumer, and shall not recommence the supply until they are reasonably satisfied that the leakage has been removed. This regulation shall not affect any power contained in the order or otherwise enabling the undertakers to discontinue the supply.

31. If any consumer is dissatisfied with the action of the undertakers in refusing to give, or in discontinuing or in not recommencing the supply of energy to his premises, the wires and fittings of that consumer shall, on his application and on payment of the prescribed fee, be tested for the existence of leakage by an electric inspector.

Appendix II.

This regulation shall be endorsed on every notice given under the provisions of either of the two last preceding regulations.

Arc Lighting.

32. Arc lamps used in any street for public lighting shall be so fixed as not to be in any part at a less height than 10 feet from the ground.

33. All arc lamps shall be so guarded as to prevent pieces of ignited carbon or broken glass falling from them, and shall not be used in situations where there is any danger of the presence of explosive dust or gas.

Connections of Circuits with Earth.

34. Where the pressure of a supply between the adjacent conductors of a three-wire system of mains exceeds 125 volts, the intermediate conductor shall be connected with earth in accordance with the following conditions :—

(a) The connection with earth of the intermediate conductor shall be made at one point only on each distinct circuit, namely, at the generating station, sub-station, or transformer, and the insulation of the circuit shall be efficiently maintained at all other parts.

(b) The current from the intermediate conductor to earth shall be continuously recorded, and if it at any time exceed one-thousandth part of the maximum supply current, steps shall be immediately taken to improve the insulation of the system.

Penalties.

35. If the undertakers make default in complying with any of the preceding regulations, they shall on conviction be liable to a penalty not exceeding £10 for every such default, and to a daily penalty not exceeding £10.

The recovery of a penalty under these regulations shall not affect the liability of the undertakers to make compensation in respect of any damage or injury which may be caused by reason of the default.

B.—Regulations for ensuring a Proper and Sufficient Supply of Electrical Energy.

1. From the time when the undertakers commence to supply energy through any distributing main, they shall maintain a supply sufficient for the use of all the consumers for the time being entitled to be supplied from that main ; and that supply shall, except so far as the Board of Trade may otherwise from time to time permit, be constantly maintained, and in the case of continuous currents, without change of polarity. Provided that, for the purposes of testing, or for any other purposes connected with the efficient working of the undertaking, the authority by whom the electric inspector is appointed may give permission to the undertakers to discontinue the supply at such intervals of time and for such periods as that authority may think expedient. When the supply is so discontinued, or the polarity is changed, notice to all persons likely to be affected shall be given of such discontinuance, or change, and of the probable duration thereof.

2. The system of distributing mains shall be separated into sections corresponding approximately to the different feeders, and these sections shall be interconnected only through suitable circuit breakers or fuses, arranged so as to be easily inspected.

3. Before commencing to give a supply of energy to any consumer, the undertakers shall declare to that consumer the constant pressure at which they propose to supply energy at his terminals. The pressure so declared shall be constantly maintained, subject to a variation not exceeding 4 per cent. above or below the declared pressure, under any conditions of supply which the consumer is entitled to receive, or such other variation as the Board of Trade may from time to time allow, and shall not be altered or departed from to an extent greater than that variation except by consent of the Board of Trade, and upon such terms and conditions as the Board of Trade may impose, and after public notice has been given during the period of one month, in such manner as the Board of Trade may require, of the intention of the undertakers to apply for consent to alter the same.

Provided that any regulations in force at the date of these regulations whereby the consent of any consumer (or in default thereof the consent of the Board of Trade) was then required to a change in the declared constant pressure to that consumer's premises shall, notwithstanding anything in these regulations, continue of full force and effect in the case of any consumer whose consent was then so required, and shall apply in that case as if it had been expressly set out in these regulations.

4. Before commencing to give a supply of energy to any consumer, the undertakers shall declare to that consumer the system which they propose to adopt, whether alternating or continuous current, and, in the case of alternating current, the frequency—that is to say, the number of complete periods per second at which they propose to supply. The system and frequency so declared shall be maintained subject, as respects frequency, to a variation not exceeding 2½ per cent. above or below the declared frequency, and shall not be altered or departed from except by consent of the Board of Trade, and upon such terms and conditions as the Board of Trade may impose, and after public notice has been given during the period of one month, in such manner as the Board of Trade may require, of the intention of the undertakers to apply for consent to alter the same.

5. If the undertakers make default in complying with any of these regulations as to supply, they shall, subject to the provisions of the Order, be liable on conviction to a penalty not exceeding £5 for every such default, and to a daily penalty not exceeding £5.

These regulations are made subject to the power of the Board of Trade to make such further or other regulations as they may think expedient; and nothing in these regulations shall be construed to authorise the undertakers to lay any electric line or work their undertaking otherwise than in accordance with the Order and the principal Act, or to supply energy otherwise than by a system for the time being approved by the Board of Trade under the Order.

These are the regulations and conditions for securing the safety of the public and for ensuring the proper and sufficient supply of electrical energy, made by the Board of Trade under the provisions of the Electric Lighting Acts, 1882 and 1888, and of the   , referred to in the letter from the Board of Trade to the   , of the 30th day of June, one thousand nine hundred and nine.

Except as hereinafter mentioned, the date of these regulations shall be the 1st day of July, 1909.

As to so much of any electrical station as was constructed before the 1st day of July, 1908, the date of these regulations shall be the 1st day of January, 1910.

Assistant Secretary,
Board of Trade.

ELECTRIC LIGHTING ACTS, 1882 TO 1909.

Rules made by the Board of Trade in pursuance of Section 5 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, with respect to Applications for Provisional Orders.

A.—Mode and Time of Making Application.

Rule I.—Every application for a Provisional Order must be made by memorial signed or sealed by, or on behalf of, the applicants, headed with a short title descriptive of the objects of the proposed application (corresponding with that at the head of the advertisement hereinafter mentioned, see Rule II.), addressed to the Board of Trade. The memorial must be lodged on or before the 21st day of December.

Appendix II.

B.—STEPS TO BE TAKEN BEFORE MAKING THE APPLICATION.

(a) Notices which must be given.

Rule II.—Applicants for a Provisional Order must, in the month of October or November, publish notice by advertisement of their intended application, and every such advertisement must contain the following particulars :—

1. The objects of the application.
2. The address and description of the applicants.
3. A description of the proposed area of supply (if any).
4. The names of the streets (if any) in which it is proposed that electric lines should be laid down within a specified time.
5. A list of the streets not repairable by a local authority and of the railways and tramways (if any) which the applicants propose to take special powers by the Order to break up.
6. The address of an office in London, and another office within the area of supply at which printed copies of the draft Order when applied for, and of the Order when made, can be obtained at a price of not more than one shilling each.

7.—(a) In the case of a Provisional Order to authorise the compulsory acquisition or the use of land for a generating station, a description of that land (b).

(b) In the case of a Provisional Order relating to the purchase of a generating station, mains, or other works used solely for supplying electricity within the districts of two or more local authorities, but not situated within any of those districts, a description of the position of the generating station, mains, or other works to be purchased.

(c) In the case of a Provisional Order for the constitution of a joint committee or joint board, the basis upon which the representation on, and the financial requirements of the joint committee or joint board and the contribution to the common fund by the constituent authorities are to be provided for.

The advertisement must in each case be headed with a short title, descriptive of the objects of the proposed application (corresponding with that at the head of the memorial), and it must state that every local or other public authority, company, or person desirous of bringing before the Board of Trade any objection respecting the application must do so by letter addressed to the Board of Trade, marked on the outside of the cover enclosing it, "Electric Lighting Acts," on or before the 15th day of January next ensuing, and that a copy of such objection must also be forwarded to the parliamentary agents or solicitors for the Order.

The advertisement must be inserted once at least in each of two successive weeks in one and the same local newspaper, circulating in the district or districts to which the application relates, or, in the case of an application under section 7 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, in the districts of the local authorities making the application, or in such other newspaper as the Board of Trade may direct ; and once at least in the London, Edinburgh, or Dublin Gazette, according as the districts or district is or are situated in England, Scotland, or Ireland.

Rule III.—Any company or person intending to apply for a Provisional Order to authorise the distribution of electricity must on or before the 1st day of July in the year in which the application is made give notice to the local authority. (See section 4 (1), Electric Lighting Act, 1882) (c).

NOTE.—In a case where this notice has not been given the Board of Trade may notwithstanding grant the order provided the local authority waives its right to receive the said notice. (See section 9, Electric Lighting Act, 1909.) The fact that such right has been waived must be proved in the same manner as the consent of a local authority. (See Rule IX.) Appendix II.

(b) At the time of proving the publication of the notice, the Board of Trade will require proof that at the date of the first publication of the notice no part of the land proposed to be compulsorily acquired belonged to any gas or water undertakers and was used or authorised to be used by them for the purposes of their undertaking. (See s. 24, Electric Lighting Act, 1909.)

(c) Except in the case of an application by the local authority for the district a Provisional Order to authorise the distribution of electricity will not be granted by the Board of Trade except to the body or person by whom or on whose behalf the notice required by s. 4, sub-s. 1, of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, was given.

Rule IV.—Any local authority, company, or person intending to apply for a Provisional Order to authorise the distribution of electricity must, on or before the 1st day of November in the year in which the application is made, give notice of their intended application to every company or person authorised under statutory powers to distribute electricity within the area to which the proposed application relates; and any local authority, company, or person intending to apply for a Provisional Order to authorise the supply of electricity in bulk must, on or before the said date, give notice of their intended application to every local authority, company, or person authorised under statutory powers to supply electricity in bulk or to distribute electricity within the area to which the proposed application relates.

Rule V.—In the case of a Provisional Order to authorise the compulsory acquisition of land for the purpose of a generating station, the applicants must on or before the 15th day of December in the year in which the application is made, serve a notice on the owners, or reputed owners, lessees, or reputed lessees, and occupiers of all lands intended to be so acquired as shown on the deposited plan, describing in each case the particular lands intended to be so acquired.

Every such notice as aforesaid shall be as nearly as may be in the form set out in the schedule to these rules.

Rule VI.—On or before the 15th day of December in the year in which the application is made for a Provisional Order to authorise the compulsory acquisition or the use of land for the purpose of a generating station, the applicants must serve a notice upon the local authority of the district in which the land is situate and upon all owners or reputed owners and lessees or reputed lessees of land situate within three hundred yards of the land proposed to be so acquired or used (d).

Rule VII.—In any case where a local authority, company, or person is required to give notice to any local authority, company, or person, the notice must be given in writing, and must be served, either by leaving the same at the offices of the local authority or company or at the address of the person on or before the day prescribed in that behalf or by forwarding the same by post in a registered letter so that the same would in the ordinary course of post be delivered on or before that date.

(b) Consent which must be obtained and how the same must be proved.

Rule VIII.—An application for a Provisional Order to authorise the distribution or the supply in bulk of electricity (other than an application from the local authority of the district which comprises the area of supply) or the breaking up of roads outside the applicants' area of supply, will not be entertained by the Board of Trade unless proof of the consent of every local authority having jurisdiction within the area of supply or within the districts in which the roads are situate, as the case may be, to the grant of the Order, or where any such consent has been refused a request from the applicants asking the Board of Trade to dispense with the consent of such local authorities as have not consented and giving the reasons for such request, is deposited with the Board of Trade on or before the 22nd day of February.

Rule IX.—Where the consent of any local authority is required to the grant of the Provisional Order, the consent must be given by a resolution passed at a meeting of the local authority held after previous notice of the same and of the purpose thereof has been given in the manner in which notices of meetings of the local authority are usually given; and the fact that such a resolution as aforesaid was duly passed must be proved by a certificate signed by the secretary or clerk to the local authority reciting a copy of the notice and of the resolution and declaring that the notice was duly given and the resolution duly passed (e).

(d) A generating station for the purposes of this Rule does not include a station for transforming, converting, or distributing electrical energy. (See s. 2 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909.)

(e) At the time of proving a consent of the local authority to the grant of a Provisional Order, the applicants must deposit with the Board of Trade a copy of any agreement relating to such consent.

Appendix II.

(c) Deposits which must be made on or before the 30th November.

Rule X.—The applicants must in each case deposit at the office of the Board of Trade on or before the 30th day of November a copy of the advertisement referred to in Rule II.

In the case of a Provisional Order to authorise the distribution of electricity, the applicants must also deposit at the office of the Board of Trade a published map of the district on a scale of not less than six inches to a mile, or if there is no published map, then the best map procurable, showing the boundaries of the area of supply, and the streets in which it is proposed that electric lines shall be laid down within a specified time.

In the case of a Provisional Order to authorise the breaking up of roads, railways, and tramways outside an area of supply, or the supply of electricity in bulk, the applicants must deposit at the office of the Board of Trade a similar map showing, as the case may be, the roads, railways, and tramways proposed to be broken up, or the districts in which the supply in bulk is to be given.

In the case of a Provisional Order relating to the purchase of a generating station, mains, or other works used solely for supplying electricity within the districts of two or more local authorities, but not situated within any of those districts, the applicants must deposit at the office of the Board of Trade a similar map showing the area of supply and the position of the generating station, mains, and other works to be purchased.

In the case of a Provisional Order for the constitution of a joint committee or joint board the applicants must deposit at the office of the Board of Trade a similar map showing the districts or parts of districts in respect of which the joint committee or joint board is proposed to be constituted.

In the case of a Provisional Order to authorise the compulsory acquisition or the use of land for the purposes of a generating station, the applicants must deposit at the office of the Board of Trade a plan of the site of the land and, in the case of compulsory acquisition, a book of reference.

The plan must be on a scale of not less than a quarter of an inch to every hundred feet and must have shown thereon any building, yard, courtyard, land within the curtilage of any building, and any ground cultivated as a garden.

The book of reference must contain the names of the owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees, and occupiers of all lands and houses proposed to be taken compulsorily and must describe such lands and houses respectively. It must also contain the names of the owners or reputed owners and lessees or reputed lessees of land situate within three hundred yards of the land upon which the generating station is to be constructed.

The applicants must also on or before the 30th day of November deposit a copy of the said advertisement and of the said maps or plan and book of reference for public inspection—

In England or Ireland, at the office of the clerk of the peace for every county, riding, or division, and at that of the local authority of every district

In Scotland, at the office of the principal sheriff clerk for every county, and where any county is divided into districts for sheriff court purposes, at the office of the sheriff clerk in each of such districts, and also at that of the local authority of every district to which the application relates.

In the case of a Provisional Order relative to the administrative county of London, the applicants must also on or before the date aforesaid deposit a copy of the said maps, plan, and book of reference at the office of the London County Council.

(d) Preparation of Draft Order.

Rule XI.—The applicants must in each case prepare a draft of the proposed Order.

The draft Order must be in print. It must be printed on one side only and each schedule annexed must begin a new page.

The names and addresses of the parliamentary agents or solicitors for the Order must be printed on the outside of the draft.

Appendix II.

There must be a notice at the end of the draft stating that objections are to be made by letter addressed to the Board of Trade, marked on the outside of the cover enclosing it "Electric Lighting Acts," and that the letter is to be sent to the Board of Trade on or before the 15th day of January next ensuing, and that a copy of the objections is to be forwarded to the parliamentary agents or solicitors for the Order.

The draft must, where the application is other than for the constitution of a joint committee or joint board, contain amongst other things—

1. The address and description of the applicants.

2. A description of the proposed area of supply (if any), and in the case of a Provisional Order for authorising the supply of electricity in bulk, a description of the roads, railways, and tramways along the route along which electric lines are to be laid for the purpose of giving the supply.

3 (f). A statement of the purposes for which a supply is to be given, viz., any or all of the public or private purposes specified in section 3 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, or in bulk.

4 (f). Provisions concerning the breaking up of roads, railways, and tramways, where powers are sought to be obtained by the Order for those purposes.

5 (f). Conditions of supply.

6 (f). Provisions for securing the safety of the public from injury by shock, fire, or otherwise.

7 (f). Provisions for enforcing the performance by the undertakers of their duties in relation to the supply of electricity and for the revocation of the Order where the undertakers fail to perform such duties.

8. In the case of a Provisional Order to authorise the compulsory acquisition or the use of land for the purposes of a generating station, a description of such land.

9. In the case of a Provisional Order to authorise a supply of electricity at any point within an area to be used for purposes incidental to the working or lighting of a railway, tramway, or canal (other than haulage or traction or the lighting of vehicles or vessels) partly within and partly without that area, a description of the railway, tramway, or canal, the names of the districts in which the electricity is to be used and a statement of the purposes for which the supply is to be given.

10. In the case of a Provisional Order relating to the purchase of a generating station, mains, or other works used solely for supplying electricity within the districts of two or more local authorities but not situate within any of those districts, a description of the generating station, mains, or other works to be purchased, and a list of the districts to which electricity is supplied therefrom.

11. In the case of a Provisional Order for the constitution of a joint committee or joint board the draft Order must, in addition to such of the particulars hereinbefore stated as shall be applicable, contain :—

(a) A description of the purposes for which the committee or board is to be constituted.

(b) Provisions for constituting the committee or board, for the appointment and removal of members, and for the meetings of the committee or board.

(c) Provisions (1) relating to the financial arrangements between the proposed constituent authorities ; (2) for the appointment and remuneration of officers ; and (3) for settling differences between the committee or board and any of the constituent authorities.

(d) Provisions as to audit of accounts (g).

(e) Provisions for adapting the provisions of the Electric Lighting Acts, 1882 to 1909, or any Provisional Order in force in the area of supply or any part thereof to the case of the committee or board proposed to be constituted.

(f) Except in the case of applications relating to the county of London, these particulars must not be set out at length in the draft Order, but must be provided for by the incorporation of the provisions contained in the schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899.

(g) Where the accounts of one or more of the constituent authorities are subject to audit by an auditor appointed by a Government department the draft Order must provide for the accounts of the joint committee or joint board being so audited.

C.—Steps to be Taken when Making the Application.

(a) Deposits which must be made with the Board of Trade.

Rule XII.—The applicants must in each case when lodging their memorial deposit with it—

1. Six printed copies of the draft Order.

2. A list of the local authorities in whose districts the area of supply (if any) is situated.

3. In the case of a Provisional Order relating to the purchase of a generating station, mains, or other works used solely for supplying electricity within the districts of two or more local authorities but not situate within any of those districts, a list of the local authorities within whose districts the generating station, mains, and other works are situate.

4. A list of the local authorities, companies, or persons (if any) authorised to supply electricity under statutory powers within the area of supply.

5. In the case of an application by a local authority, the following particulars :—

(a) The sum proposed to be expended on the undertaking :

(b) Whether it is proposed to raise a loan for the purposes of the undertaking :

(c) The rateable value of the district :

(d) The amount of indebtedness and the borrowing powers of the applicants for all purposes :

(e) The amount of the rates in the pound : and

(f) A statement showing that a definite scheme (including an estimate of the cost) for the supply of electricity has been prepared and considered by the local authority, and a report by an electrical engineer on the proposed scheme.

In the case of a Provisional Order for the constitution of a joint committee or joint board there must be deposited with the memorial (in addition to such of the deposits hereinbefore specified as are applicable) the following particulars :—

(g) The rateable value of each of the districts of the proposed constituent authorities.

(h) The amount of indebtedness and the borrowing powers of each of the proposed constituent authorities.

(i) The amount of rates in the pound in the district of each of the proposed constituent authorities.

(j) A statement showing (where the proposal is not for the combination of existing undertakings actually worked) that a definite scheme (including an estimate of the cost) for the supply of electricity has been prepared and considered by the proposed constituent authorities and also a report by an electrical engineer on the proposed scheme.

(k) A statement of the proportions in which the cost is to be defrayed by the proposed constituent authorities.

(l) A copy of any agreement between the proposed constituent authorities relating to the application.

In the case of an application other than by a local authority, a statement of the capital proposed to be expended in connection with the undertaking, and the mode in which such capital is to be provided.

In the case of a Provisional Order to authorise the breaking up of roads, railways, or tramways outside an area of supply for the purpose of enabling electricity to be brought into that area from a generating station situated outside that area, there must also be deposited :—

(m) A list of the local authorities in whose districts the roads, railways, or tramways are situate ;

(n) A list of the roads, railways, and tramways.

6. If the applicants are a company incorporated under the provisions of the Companies Acts, a copy of the memorandum and articles of association.

7. A fee of £35 by cheque, payable to the Accountant-General of the Board of Trade, to cover ordinary expenses. If in consequence of inquiries or otherwise additional expense is incurred, the amount will be charged to the applicants and must be paid by them in addition to the ordinary fee.

(b) Deposits which must be made at the Offices referred to in the Advertisement.

Rule XIII.—The applicants must, or on before the 21st day of December, deposit a sufficient number of printed copies of the draft Order at offices in London and within the area of supply specified in the advertisement herein-before mentioned (see Rule II.), such copies to be there furnished to all persons applying for them, at a price of not more than one shilling each.

(c) Deposits which must be made with the Local Government Board, the Secretary for Scotland, or the Local Government Board for Ireland.

Rule XIV.—In the case of a Provisional Order for the constitution of a joint committee or joint board the applicants must, on or before the 21st day of December, deposit with the Local Government Board, the Secretary for Scotland, or the Local Government Board for Ireland, according as the application relates to an area of supply in England, Scotland, or Ireland, a copy of the draft Order and of every map, plan, or other document required to be deposited with the Board of Trade.

(d) Deposit which must be made with the London County Council.

Rule XV.—In the case of a Provisional Order relating to the administrative county of London the applicants must, on or before the 21st day of December, deposit a copy of the draft Order at the office of the London County Council who shall be entitled to make representations to and be heard by the Board of Trade thereon.

D.—OBJECTIONS TO GRANT OF ORDER—HOW TO BE MADE.

Rule XVI.—If any local or other public authority, company, or person desires to bring before the Board of Trade any objection respecting an application for a Provisional Order, they must do so by letter addressed to the Board of Trade, marked on the outside of the cover enclosing it, "Electric Lighting Acts," on or before the 15th day of January next after the application. A copy of the objection must also on or before the said date be furnished to the parliamentary agents or solicitors for the Order. If any local or other public authority, company, or person desires to have any clauses or other amendments inserted in the Order, they must deliver the same to the Board of Trade, and also to the parliamentary agents or solicitors for the Order, within the time limited for bringing objections.

E.—PROOF OF COMPLIANCE WITH THE ELECTRIC LIGHTING ACTS AND FOREGOING RULES.

Rule XVII.—The parliamentary agents or solicitors for the Order must be prepared to prove compliance with the provisions of the Acts and the foregoing rules by the 15th day of January, and all such proofs must be completed on or before the 22nd day of February. Six days' notice will be given of the day and hour at which such agents or solicitors are to attend for the purpose at the office of the Board of Trade, and printed forms of proof will accompany the notice. These forms must be filled up and brought with the requisite documents to the office of the Board of Trade at the time fixed for receiving proof.

F.—STEPS TO BE TAKEN AFTER ORDER IS GRANTED.

Rule XVIII.—When a Provisional Order has been granted by the Board of Trade and delivered to the applicants, they must forthwith deposit printed copies for public inspection at the offices specified in Rule X., and must supply copies to all persons applying for the same, at a price of not more than one shilling each, and must further publish the same as the Board of Trade may direct.

Appendix II.

Proof of compliance with this rule must be made within one month from the grant of the Order in such manner as the Board of Trade may direct.

Rule XIX.—Where in a Provisional Order granted by the Board of Trade a deposited map is referred to, the promoters must, within one month from the grant of the Order, deposit at the Board of Trade a published map on a scale of not less than six inches to a mile, or if there is no published map then the best map procurable, showing the area of supply. The map must be mounted on linen, and must be certified as correct as regards its district by the clerk or surveyor to every local authority having jurisdiction within the area of supply.

G.—PROCEDURE WHEN BOARD OF TRADE HAVE REFUSED TO GRANT A PROVISIONAL ORDER AND APPLICANTS PROPOSE TO PROCEED BY PRIVATE BILL (SECTION 4 OF THE ELECTRIC LIGHTING ACT, 1909).

Rule XX.—In any case where the Board of Trade refuse to grant a Provisional Order to authorise a supply of electricity in bulk, on the ground that the matter ought to be dealt with by private Bill, and the applicants intend to proceed by private Bill, the notice required by section 4, sub-section 2, of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, informing all opponents of that intention must be served by being addressed to each opponent or his parliamentary agent or solicitor within fourteen days from the date of the Board's refusal to grant the Provisional Order.

H. LLEWELLYN SMITH,
Secretary.

THE BOARD OF TRADE,
29*th July*, 1910.

NOTE.—When applications for Provisional Orders to authorise the distribution of electricity within the district of any local authority are received by the Board of Trade from that local authority, and also from any other authority, company, or person, the Board of Trade will give a preference to the application of the local authority of the district in every case where, in the opinion of the Board of Trade, no special circumstances exist which render such a preference inexpedient.

In cases of applications for a Provisional Order, to which objection is made by any person locally interested, the Board of Trade will, if they consider it expedient, hold a local inquiry, of which due notice will be given.

These rules are in addition to any requirements relating to applications for Provisional Order which are contained in the Standing Orders of Parliament

Schedule referred to in Rule V.

Form of Notice to Landowners and others.

(Insert Title of Order.)

SIR,—We beg to inform you that application is intended to be made to the Board of Trade for a Provisional Order under the Electric Lighting Acts, 1882 to 1909, and under the above-named short title, and that the property mentioned in the annexed Schedule or some part thereof, in which we understand you are interested as therein stated, will be liable to be taken compulsorily for the purposes of a generating station.

We also beg to inform you that a plan of the said land with a book of reference thereto have been or will be deposited on or before the 30th November for public inspection at the office of [specify the office (if in England or Ireland) of the clerk of the peace for the county, riding, or division and of the local authority of the district (if in Scotland) of the sheriff clerk for the county, of the sheriff clerk for the district (if any) and of the local authority of the district] on which plan your property is designated by the numbers in the annexed Schedule.

If there should be any error or misdescription in the annexed Schedule, we shall feel obliged by your informing us thereof at your earliest convenience, that we may correct the same without delay.

If you desire to bring before the Board of Trade any objection respecting the said application, you must do so by letter addressed to the Board of Trade marked on the outside of the cover enclosing it "Electric Lighting Acts" on or before the 15th day of January next, and a copy of the objection must be furnished to us. Appendix II.

We are, &c.,

ORDER IN COUNCIL.

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 10th day of January, 1910.

PRESENT.

The King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas by "The Weights and Measures Act, 1889," it is, among other things, enacted that the Board of Trade shall from time to time cause such new denominations of standards for the measurement of electricity as appear to them to be required for use in trade to be made and duly verified.

And whereas by Order in Council dated the twenty-third day of August, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four, Her late Majesty Queen Victoria, by virtue of the power vested in her by the said Act, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, was pleased to approve the several denominations of standards set forth in the Schedule thereto as new denominations of standards for electrical measurement.

And whereas in the said schedule the limits of accuracy attainable in the use of the said denominations of standards are stated as follows:—

For the ohm within one-hundredth part of one per cent.

For the ampere within one-tenth part of one per cent.

For the volt within one-tenth part of one per cent.

And whereas, at an International Conference on Electrical Units and Standards held in London in the month of October, one thousand nine hundred and eight, the international electrical units corresponding with the said denominations of standards were defined as follows:—

The international ohm is the resistance offered to an unvarying electric current by a column of mercury at the temperature of melting ice 14·4521 grammes in mass of a constant cross sectional area and of a length of 106·300 centimetres.

The international ampere is the unvarying electric current which when passed through a solution of nitrate of silver in water deposits silver at the rate of 0·00111800 of a gramme per second.

The international volt is the electrical pressure which when steadily applied to a conductor whose resistance is one international ohm will produce a current of one international ampere.

And whereas it has been made to appear to the Board of Trade to be desirable that the denominations of standards for the measurement of electricity should agree in value with the said international electrical units within the said limits of accuracy attainable.

And whereas the denominations of standards made and duly verified in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four and set forth in the schedule to the said Order in Council have been again verified.

And whereas the Board of Trade are advised that the said denominations of standards agree in value with the said international electrical units within the said limits of accuracy attainable, except that in the case of the ohm the temperature should be 16·4 C. in place of 15·4 C. as specified in the schedule to the said Order in Council.

And whereas it has been made to appear to the Board of Trade that the said denominations of standards should be amended so that the aforesaid exception may be remedied.

Now, therefore, His Majesty, by virtue of the power vested in him by the said Act, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, is pleased to revoke

Appendix II. the said Order in Council dated the twenty-third day of August, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four, and is further pleased to approve the several denominations of standards set out in the schedule hereto as denominations of standards for the measurement of electricity.

ALMERIC FITZROY.

" I. Standard of Electrical Resistance.

" A standard of electrical resistance denominated one ohm agreeing in value within the limits of accuracy aforesaid with that of the international ohm, and being the resistance between the copper terminals of the instrument marked ' Board of Trade Ohm Standard Verified, 1894 and 1909,' to the passage of an unvarying electrical current when the coil of insulated wire forming part of the aforesaid instrument and connected to the aforesaid terminals is in all parts at a temperature of 16·4 C.

" II. Standard of Electrical Current.

" A standard of electrical current denominated one ampere agreeing in value within the limits of accuracy aforesaid with that of the international ampere and being the current which is passing in and through the coils of wire forming part of the instrument marked ' Board of Trade Ampere Standard Verified, 1894 and 1909,' when on reversing the current in the fixed coils the change in the forces acting upon the suspended coil in its sighted position is exactly balanced by the force exerted by gravity in Westminster upon the iridioplatinum weight marked A and forming part of the said instrument.

" III. Standard of Electrical Pressure.

" A standard of electrical pressure denominated one volt agreeing in value within the limits of accuracy aforesaid with that of the international volt, and being one-hundredth part of the pressure which when applied between the terminals forming part of the instrument marked ' Board of Trade Volt Standard Verified, 1894 and 1909,' causes that rotation of the suspended portion of the instrument which is exactly measured by the coincidence of the sighting wire with the image of the fiducial mark A before and after application of the pressure and with that of the fiducial mark B during the application of the pressure, these images being produced by the suspended mirror and observed by means of the eyepiece.

" In the use of the above standards the limits of accuracy attainable are as follows :—

" For the ohm, within one-hundredth part of one per cent.

" For the ampere, within one-tenth part of one per cent.

" For the volt, within one-tenth part of one per cent.

" The coils and instruments referred to in this Schedule are deposited at the Board of Trade Standardising Laboratory, 8 Richmond Terrace, Whitehall, London."

EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN.

I.

CIRCULAR TO LOCAL AUTHORITIES.

HOME OFFICE, WHITEHALL, S.W.,
14*th November*, 1903.

SIR,—I am directed by the Secretary of State to call the attention of the (h) County Council of to the provisions of the Employment of Children (i) Act of last session, and the important powers which are conferred by the Act on the council. A copy of the Act is enclosed.

(h) The circular letters issued to town councils and urban district councils were in the same terms.

(i) 3 Edw. 7, c. 45, ante, p. 2036.

The general purpose of the Act (which was preceded by the inquiry and report (k) of the Employment of School Children Committee, 1901) is to provide means for regulating the employment of children in those occupations in which it has hitherto been unregulated. One or two of the provisions of the Act (to be mentioned presently) apply to children employed in regulated occupations—that is to say, occupations which come under the Factory and Mines Acts; but speaking generally, its provisions apply only to occupations outside those Acts, such as work in and about shops (chiefly errand running, delivery of parcels, milk, newspapers, etc.); home industries not under the Factory Act; agricultural work; and street trading.

The inquiry of the Committee showed that "in England and Wales, a substantial number of children, amounting probably to 50,000, are being worked more than 20 hours a week in addition to 27½ hours at school, that a considerable portion of this number are being worked 30, 40, and some even 50 hours a week, and that the effect of this work is in many cases detrimental to their health, their morals, and their education, besides being often so unremitting as to deprive them of all reasonable opportunity for recreation." At the same time it was pointed out by the committee that no harm results from children doing a limited amount of work under healthy conditions, but that, on the contrary, limited and restricted work may be beneficial to them.

With a view to safeguard the health and morals of children so employed, and to prevent their employment seriously interfering with their education, Parliament has in the present Act laid down certain general restrictions applicable to all employments of children, and has, further, conferred on local authorities wide powers of imposing by byelaws additional restrictions either generally or for particular occupations. "Employment" is defined in the Act (l) so as to include every kind of employment in any labour exercised by way of trade or for the purposes of gain, whether the gain be to the child or to any other person; but it does not include merely gratuitous services rendered by children to their parents or relatives in cases in which neither the children nor those for whom the services are performed make any gain thereby.

I.—STATUTORY RESTRICTIONS.

The general restrictions, applicable to all employment of children, which are imposed by the Act are contained in section 3.

They prohibit:

(1) The employment of any child (i.e. a person under the age of 14) between 9 p.m. and 6 a.m. (see below as to power of council to vary these hours, p. 2374);

(2) The employment of any child under 11 in street trading;

(3) The employment of any factory or workshop half-timer in any other occupation;

(4) The employment of any child to lift, carry, or move heavy weights likely to cause injury to the child; and

(5) Generally the employment of any child in any occupation likely to be injurious to the child's life, health or education, regard being had to his physical condition.

The duty of enforcing these statutory restrictions (with an exception to be mentioned presently) is placed on the local authorities. For the special purpose of enforcing the prohibition as regards employment in dangerous or unhealthy occupations, or in lifting heavy weights, power is given to the council to serve on an employer a medical certificate that the occupation or the lifting of any specified weight is injurious to the child, and such certificate becomes admissible as evidence in any proceedings against the employer.

These general provisions are the only provisions in the Act which apply to occupations regulated by the Factory and Mines Acts, and in such occupations the power of enforcing them is to be exercised by the Government inspector, and not by the local authority.

It must be remembered, however, that numerous home industries and many laundries (including small laundries in which the only persons employed are

Appendix II. members of the same family dwelling there and not more than two persons dwelling elsewhere) do not come under the Factory Act, and in these the council will be the authority to enforce the Act.

II.—BYELAWS.

The most important function of the council under the Act will be to supplement these general restrictions by additional provisions for the regulation of the age, the hours of employment, and the conditions of the employment of children in their district.

By sections 1 and 2 of the Act, wide powers are given to the council for this purpose, embracing the whole field of employment, always excepting those occupations which are already regulated by the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, and the Mines Regulation Acts, 1872 and 1887. It is important to note that home industries and small laundries not under the Factory Act (m) will fall within the scope of the council's powers, and any employment of factory or mine children outside the factory, workshop, mine, etc. which is not covered by the Factory Act or Mines Acts.

Byelaws may be made to apply to the whole of the area of the council or to any specified part thereto.

Byelaws Regulating Employment of Children (Section 1).

Section 1 (1) empowers the council to prescribe for all children, or for boys and girls separately, and either for all occupations generally or for any specified occupation :—

(1) The age below which employment shall be illegal ;
(2) The hours of the day between which employment shall be illegal ;
(3) The daily and weekly maximum number of hours beyond which employment shall be illegal.

Section 1 (2) gives a power in the case of particular occupations, of prohibiting employment absolutely or permitting it subject to conditions.

The question to what extent it will be desirable for your council to regulate in the area under its jurisdiction the employment of children either in particular occupations or generally in all occupations will depend on the circumstances of the locality, and in the first instance is one for the consideration and determination of the council.

It will probably not be desirable in districts where there exists a variety of child occupations to attempt to impose one set of restrictions applicable to all. The restrictions for each occupation should be carefully considered with reference to the circumstances of the occupation, the hours at which it is carried on, the effects of the occupation on the health and character of the children, the extent to which it interferes with their education by making them unfit for work during school hours, etc., etc. A broad distinction may be drawn for example between indoor and outdoor employments. Employment in badly ventilated and insanitary homes on industrial work of a sedentary character, or in laundry work, is more harmful, and may properly be subjected to more stringent restrictions both as to age and hours than outdoor employments, such as that of messenger or newspaper boys which, if the hours are not excessive, is not found to be injurious to the health of the children employed in it ; or as employment in agricultural or garden work, which if moderate in amount and carrried on under good conditions is eminently beneficial (see pp. 11 and 15 of the Committee's Report).

The power of absolutely prohibiting particular employments is designed to meet exceptional cases where the physical or moral surroundings, or the dangerous or unhealthy character of the occupation, are such as to involve serious risk to the health or morals of the children employed in it.

It will be of the greatest importance for the successful administration of the Act that the restrictions imposed by the byelaws made under it should, as far as possible, be of such a character that infringements will be capable of easy detection and punishment. It would seriously weaken the benefits and influence of the Act if restrictions were imposed which were so difficult to enforce as to render the byelaws practically a dead letter. In regard to the limitation of hours it should be borne in mind that fixed daily hours are easier to enforce than a daily maximum of hours, and both are easier to enforce than a weekly maximum. Experience under other Acts, especially the Factory Act, has shown that it is impossible for inspectors charged with the enforcement of a weekly maximum of hours to count the hours during which the child or young person is at work, and that the child or young person cannot be relied on to give evidence on this point; and it therefore becomes a matter of great difficulty to produce sufficient evidence to justify a conviction. It will, for this reason, be desirable that, as far as possible, the council in any byelaws for limiting the hours of employment which it may desire to make should fix definite hours of employment; a weekly maximum should only be fixed by way of addition, or in special cases where it is found impossible to fix definite hours or a daily maximum.

Lastly, the byelaws must not distinguish between different classes of children or make the right to labour depend on the poverty or social circumstances of the child or its parents. To do so would, as pointed out by the Committee, "cast on the local authority the duty of distinguishing poor children from those in better circumstances, and give rise to endless discontent. . . . All children should have liberty to work as much and in such ways as is good for them, and no more."

With a view to assisting the council in the drafting of byelaws, the Secretary of State has prepared some forms of byelaws, which are enclosed herewith. They have been drawn up so as to indicate the kind of restrictions which may be imposed, and the form which the byelaws may take, without dealing with the question of the occupations to which they should apply; although in some cases particular occupations are given in the forms by way merely of example. They are intended only for the assistance of the local authority, and are not recommended by the Secretary of State for adoption in any or every case.

Byelaws Regulating Street Trading (Section 2).

Special powers of regulation are given by section 2 in regard to street trading, which is defined in the Act to include the hawking of newspapers, matches, flowers, and other articles; playing, singing, or performing for profit; shoeblacking and any other like occupation carried on in streets or public places. It was found by the Committee that this work was carried on "by a worse class of children and under worse moral influences than any other," that it was specially detrimental to young girls, and that in large centres of population it required special treatment (see pp. 16 and 21 of their Report). The local authority is accordingly empowered to make byelaws imposing conditions as to age, sex, etc., on the employment of persons under 16 in street trading, and if they think fit requiring all such person trading in the streets to be licensed by them. They may also determine the places and times at which street trading may be carried on, e.g., restrict it to certain parts of their areas; and may impose other conditions as to the wearing of badges and general conduct of the children.

Two provisions of importance, to which the Secretary of State desires to draw the special attention of the council, are attached by the statute to the exercise of these powers.

The first is that the grant of a licence or the right to trade in the streets shall not be made subject to any conditions having reference to the poverty or general bad character of the person applying for a licence or claiming to trade. A child for example may not be refused a licence because his parents are dissolute or even criminal, nor because the child's own character is bad. It is precisely in such cases that a child has most difficulty in getting other and better employment, and, if street trading be forbidden to him, he may be deprived of the only means of earning a living honestly, and driven to a course of crime. This statutory restriction will not, however, the Secretary of State thinks, prevent the council providing in its byelaws for the suspension or revocation of a licence on the ground of bad conduct on the part of the licence holder—see No. 12 of Forms of Byelaws enclosed.

Secondly, the local authority in making byelaws are to have special regard to the desirability of preventing the employment of girls under 16 in streets or

Appendix II. public places. This is a question of great importance which will require careful inquiry and consideration by the council in connection with any byelaws they may propose to make. Street trading is of all occupations that which is the least suitable for young girls, and calls for more stringent regulations in their case than in that of boys. The clause will enable the council to prevent altogether the employment of girls in places specially dangerous to their morals, e.g., in docks or crowded thoroughfares or the approaches to railway stations; or, where they do not prohibit it altogether, to impose conditions under which they may trade. At the same time, in considering the question of prohibition, whether absolute or conditional, the council should bear in mind that unless other employments will be open to the girls engaged in this occupation the effect of prohibition may be, by depriving them of their means of livelihood, to drive them to earning money by the very courses from which it is desired to protect them. These girls for the most part belong to the poorest and worst educated classes, are often unsuitable for domestic service and would not, in many cases, be able to obtain employment in factories or workshops. Again, any restriction proposed should be carefully limited to the particular mischief at which the council may desire to aim. The universal prohibition of street employment of girls would have the effect of preventing a farmer's daughter going round with a cart selling milk or butter in a country town, or preventing children of costermongers assisting their parents in street selling under conditions which are no worse than the conditions under which they live at home.

Street trading by young persons is already regulated in some large towns (Liverpool, Manchester, Bolton, Huddersfield, Halifax, Swansea, etc.) under powers similar to those in section 2, which have been obtained in local Acts; and a set of draft byelaws based on the byelaws actually in force in those towns has been drawn up for the guidance of councils who may have to deal with conditions similar to those of Liverpool, etc. In other places where street trading is carried on on a smaller scale and under less harmful conditions the restrictions imposed would naturally be fewer and simpler.

Power is given to the council to vary by byelaw the hours of employment fixed by section 3 (1) of the Act, either generally for all occupations in the council's district or for any specified occupation.

Under this power, the council may either shorten the period of employment fixed by the Act, or may alter the times at which employment may begin or end. For example, it may be found desirable in agricultural districts, where milking is done at an early hour by children, to vary the morning hour from six to five (see Report of Committee, p. 11). Where, however, an earlier hour is fixed in the morning for commencement of employment it will be desirable as a general rule that a correspondingly earlier hour should be fixed for the termination of employment in the evening; and similarly, when a later hour is fixed in the evening, a correspondingly later hour should be fixed in the morning.

Two draft forms which byelaws under this heading might take have been prepared and are enclosed.

Byelaws under Prevention of Cruelty to Children Act.

Section 4 (6) provides that byelaws under section 2 of the Prevention of Cruelty to Children Act, 1894 which are at present made by the borough and district councils subject to the procedure of the Public Health Act, 1875, are for the future to be made by the same authority, and confirmed in the same way, as byelaws under the present Act (n). Except, therefore, in the case of municipal boroughs with a population of over 90,000 and of other urban districts with a population of over 20,000, the councils of which are authorities under the present Act, the county council will be the authority for byelaws under the Act of 1894.

Section 2 of the Act of 1894 makes it an offence to cause, procure, or allow any boy under 14 or girl under 16 to be in any street or licensed premises (other than premises licensed for public entertainments) between 9 p.m. or 6 a.m. for the purpose of singing, playing, or performing for profit, or offering anything for sale, but power is given by byelaw to restrict or extend those hours either on every day or any specified day or days of the week, and either as to the whole of the district or as to any specified area therein.

Confirmation of Byelaws.

All byelaws made under the Act will require the confirmation of the Secretary of State before they can come into force, and may not be confirmed until at least 30 days after they have been published by the council in such manner as the Secretary of State may direct. Before confirming any byelaw the Secretary of State is required to consider any objections from persons affected, and may, if he thinks it desirable, order a local inquiry to be held.

The Secretary of State has made a general order as to the manner in which byelaws are to be published before confirmation, and a copy is enclosed (o), for the information of the council.

It is most desirable, as in the case of other byelaws submitted to the Secretary of State, that all byelaws should be submitted to him in draft before being formally passed by the council. This course enables the terms of a byelaw to be settled beforehand and avoids any necessity of withdrawing the byelaw after it has been finally adopted, and going through the whole procedure afresh in order to make small amendments.

Employment of Children in Public Entertainments.

Another power under the Prevention of Cruelty to Children Act, 1894, which is transferred to the council is that of enforcing the provisions of that Act in connection with the employment of children at theatres and public entertainments.

Under section 3 (p) of that Act, as re-enacted and amended by this Act (section 11), the restrictions (q) which are imposed on the employment of children in places of public entertainment or amusement, and on the training of persons under 16 as acrobats, etc., are not to apply in the case of those above the age of 10, if they are licensed by a petty sessional court—the court having power to attach such restrictions or conditions to the licence as it thinks fit. The duty of seeing that any such restrictions or conditions were duly complied with has hitherto rested with the inspectors of factories. Under section 11 of the present Act it is not given to the inspectors or other officers of the local authority, who are entrusted with all the powers of entering, inspecting, and examining any place of public entertainment which were conferred on the factory inspectors by the Act of 1894. To enable the council's officers effectively to discharge this duty, the Secretary of State has given instructions to the factory inspectors to forward to the council without delay the copy of any licence granted which is forwarded to them under the requirement in section 3 (4) of the Act of 1894.

Enforcement of Act and Byelaws.

It will be desirable that the council, as the authority charged with the enforcement of the Act, and of any byelaws made under it, should consider at an early (o) This order is printed on p. 2078.

(p) Section 3 is now superseded by s. 3 of the Prevention of Cruelty to Children Act, 1904.

(q) The restrictions which apply to the employment of unlicensed children in places of public entertainment, etc., are as follows :—

(1) No unlicensed child under 11 may be employed at any time in places of public entertainment or amusement (s. 2 (c) of Act of 1904).

(2) No unlicensed child under 14 may be employed in places of public entertainment or amusement after the hour of 9 p.m., or such other hour as may be fixed by the local authority by byelaw under s. 3 (1) of the Employment of Children Act, 1903 (s. 3 of that Act).

(3) No unlicensed person under 16 may be trained as an acrobat, etc. (s. 2 (d) of Act of 1904).

Appendix II. date the arrangements to be made by them for that purpose. In regard to some matters the best course will probably be to utilise the services of the police. This will especially be the case in regard to children engaged in street trading, whose occupation necessarily brings them directly under the notice of the police, and whose mode of carrying on their occupation so far as it may cause obstruction, annoyance, etc., has, in any case, to be dealt with by them. Where inspectors have been appointed to enforce the provisions of the Shop Hours Acts they will naturally be employed for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this Act, and any byelaws made by the council, so far as they affect the employment of children in, or in connection with shops. Generally, the new duties arising under the Act will be closely akin to those discharged by the school attendance officers appointed by the council, and those officers will, from the nature of their duties, be able to render the greatest assistance to an inspector or officer appointed for the purpose of enforcing the Act and byelaws, if they are not themselves entrusted with the duty.

Provision is made by section 12 of the Act for meeting the expenses which are incurred by the council in carrying into effect the provisions of the Act, or any byelaws made thereunder.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
M. D. CHALMERS.

SPECIMEN FORMS OF BYELAWS.

NOTE.—The following specimen byelaws cannot be adopted as a whole. They merely suggest convenient forms which any regulations the council decide to adopt may take. It will be observed that, in some instances, alternative forms are suggested.

EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN ACT, 1903.

I.—Byelaws regulating Employment of Children.

1. No child under the age of [12] shall be employed in [ ].

2. No boy under the age of [10] and no girl under the age of [12] shall be employed in [ ].

3. No child who is liable to attend school full time shall be employed in the [selling or delivering of milk] except between the hours of 6 and 8 in the morning and 4 and 6 in the afternoon.

4. No child who is liable to attend school half or full time shall be employed in the [selling or delivering of newspapers] except between the hours of 7.30 and 9 in the morning and 5 and 8 in the afternoon.

4A. No child who is liable to attend school full time shall be employed in the [selling or delivering of newspapers] except either between the hours of 7 and 9 in the morning or between the hours of 5 and 8 in the afternoon.

5. (1) No child who is liable to attend school full time shall be employed in [any industrial work at home] except between the hours of [5 and 8] in the afternoon.

(2) No child who is liable to attend school half time shall be employed in [any industrial work at home] except between the hours of 8 in the morning and 1 in the afternoon if attending school in the afternoon; or between the hours of 1 and 6 (on Saturdays 4) in the afternoon if attending school in the morning; nor for more than five hours on Saturday.

(r) (3) No child who is exempt from attendance at school shall be employed in [any industrial work at home] before the hour of [6] in the morning or after the hour of [9] in the evening (or on Saturday after the hour of 4 in the afternoon). Every child employed shall be allowed for meals and absence from work between the said hours not less (except on Saturday) than [$4\frac{1}{2}$] hours, and on Saturday not less than [$2\frac{1}{2}$] hours. Appendix II.

(r) The hours inserted in this form are those fixed by the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, for employment of young persons in domestic factories and workshops. In cases where the work carried on is not such as constitute the home a domestic factory or workshop, it will be possible further to restrict the hours.

(4) No child employed in [any industrial work at home] on any day shall be employed on the same day in any other occupation.

(5) No child shall be employed on Sunday in [any industrial work at home].

Industrial work shall mean any work in which manual labour is exercised by way of trade or for purposes of gain in making, altering, repairing, ornamenting, finishing, adapting for sale, or cleaning any article.

6. No boy who is liable to attend school full time shall be employed [in carrying parcels] except between the hours of 5 and 8 in the afternoon on week days other than Saturday, and either between 8 in the morning and 2 in the afternoon, or between 2 and 9 in the afternoon, on Saturday.

7. No child shall be employed, except as otherwise provided, in or in connection with any shop before 8 in the morning or after 8 in the evening, nor in the case of a child attending school at any time during, or in the interval between, school hours ; provided that if on one day in the week the shop closes not later than 2 in the afternoon, employment may be continued on one other day (to be specified in a notice kept constantly affixed in the shop) to 9 in the evening.

8. No child shall be employed [as a lather boy or in a similar occupation in any barber's shop].

9. No child employed in a place of public entertainment in pursuance of a licence under section 11 of the Act shall be employed on the same or following day in any other employment.

10. No child who is not wholly exempt from attendance at school shall be employed in any agricultural work during school term except between the hours [ ] in the months April to September, and except between the hours [ ] in the months October to March ; or in the holidays except between the hours [ ]

II.—Byelaws regulating Street Trading (s).

(a) General Regulations.

1. No child under the age of (t) shall be employed or engage in street trading.

2. No girl under the age of 16 shall be employed in or carry on street trading in or at the entrances to any railway station, nor in the following streets and public places :—[ ]

3. No person under the age of 16 shall be employed in or carry on street trading after [8 in the evening between 1st October and 31st March, or after 9 in the evening between 1st April and 30th September].

4. No person under the age of 16 engaged in street trading shall enter any premises licensed for public entertainment or for the sale of intoxicating liquor for consumption on the premises, for the purpose of trading or delivering goods .

5. [No child under 14 shall be employed or engage in street trading on Sunday.]

6. No child who is not exempt from school attendance shall be employed in or carry on street trading during school hours.

(b) Regulations as to Licences.

7. No person under 16 shall be employed or engage in street trading unless furnished with a licence from the council.

8. A licence to engage in street trading shall not be refused by the council to any person between the ages of [11] and 16 applying for it except on the ground

(s) In some few cases, byelaws—made under local Acts—have been approved which require street-trading children to be decently clad ; but approval has only been given when the Secretary of State has been satisfied that, through the agency of some charitable society, clothing can be supplied to really destitute children.

(t) The age fixed must not be lower than eleven, see s. 3 (2) of the Act.

Appendix II. that the applicant is by reason of physical or mental deficiency unfit to trade in the streets, or that he has not his parent's or guardian's consent to his being so employed.

9. Licences shall be granted for a period of one year only, and shall expire on [ ].

10. Every licensed person while trading in the streets shall wear in the appointed way the badge prescribed by the council.

11. No charge shall be made by the council for any licence or badge.

12. The council may suspend or revoke any licence if the holder is convicted of any offence; or commits any breach of these byelaws; or in any way defaces, lends, or parts with his badge.

III.—Byelaws varying the Hours of Employment under Section 3 (1).

1. The hours fixed by section 3 (1) of the Employment of Children Act, 1903 (u), for the employment of children shall be varied as follows for children employed in [ ]:—

The hour before which a child may not be employed in the morning shall be [seven].

The hour after which a child may not be employed in the evening shall be [eight].

2. The hours fixed by section 3 (1) of the Employment of Children Act, 1903, for the employment of children shall be varied as follows for children employed in [ ]:—

The hour before which a child may not be employed in the morning shall be [five]; and the hour after which a child may not be employed in the evening shall be [eight].

III.

ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE.

ORDER, DATED NOVEMBER 11TH, 1903, MADE BY THE SECRETARY OF STATE, UNDER SECTION 4 OF THE EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN ACT, 1903, DIRECTING MODE OF PUBLICATION OF BYELAWS.

In pursuance of section 4 (1) of the Employment of Children Act, 1903, I hereby direct that the publication required by that section shall take place as follows:—

1. Every byelaw shall be advertised at least once in two newspapers circulating in the district or districts in which the byelaw is to apply.

2. A notice of every byelaw shall be posted up in streets and public places where it is likely to be seen by persons affected, and in such manner that the same can be easily read.

3. In the case of any byelaw regulating or prohibiting the employment of children in a particular trade or occupation, a notice thereof shall also so far as practicable be distributed to all persons engaged in that trade or occupation; provided that the non-receipt of a notice by any person shall not prevent the confirmation of the byelaw.

4. Every advertisement or notice as aforesaid shall state the full terms of the byelaw and shall also state that objections in writing to the byelaw may be made by any person affected to the Secretary of State and addressed to him at the Home Office, London.

A. AKERS-DOUGLAS,

One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

Whitehall,
11*th November*, 1903.

(u) In byelaws applying to children singing, playing, performing for profit or selling in the streets, the words "and section 2 (b) of the Prevention of Cruelty to Children Act, 1904," should be added.

FACTORIES AND WORKSHOPS. (x)

LIMEWASHING, ETC.

ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE, DATED NOVEMBER 2ND, 1903, GRANTING SPECIAL EXCEPTIONS :—LIMEWASHING, ETC.

1903. No. 934.

In pursuance of the powers conferred on me by section 1 (4) of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, I hereby grant to the factories and parts of factories named in the Schedules to this Order a special exception that the provisions in sub-section 3 of the said section with respect to limewashing or washing shall not apply thereto :—

Provided—

(1) that the special exception shall not apply to any part of a factory included in Schedule A which does not afford clear 500 cubic feet, or to any part of a factory included in Schedule B which does not afford clear 2,500 cubic feet, for each person employed therein ;

(2) that the exception shall not apply to mess rooms, engine-houses, fitting shops, or sanitary conveniences, except as regards walls or tops made of glazed bricks, tiles, glass, slate, marble, or galvanized iron, and washed with water and soap once at least within every 14 months ;

(3) that nothing in this Order shall be taken to affect the obligation of keeping the factory in a cleanly state, as prescribed by sub-section (1) of the said section ;

(4) that if it appear to an inspector that any part of a factory to which the exception applies is not in a cleanly state, he may, by written notice, require the occupier to limewash or wash the same ; and in the event of the occupier failing to comply with such requisition within two months from the date of the notice, the special exception shall cease to apply to such part of a factory.

The Orders of 16th November, 1895, 8th February, 1896, and 26th March, 1902, are hereby revoked.

This Order shall come into force on 1st January, 1904.

A. AKERS-DOUGLAS,
His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department.

Home Office, Whitehall,
2nd November, 1903.

SCHEDULE A.

CUBIC SPACE.

ORDER OF SECRETARY OF STATE, DATED JANUARY 17TH, 1902, MODIFYING THE PROPORTION OF CUBIC FEET OF SPACE IN WORKSHOPS USED AS SLEEPING PLACES.

1902. No. 23.

In pursuance of the power conferred on me by sub-section (3) of section 3 of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, I hereby direct that, where a workshop other than a domestic workshop is occupied by day as a workshop and by night as a sleeping place, the proportion of cubic feet of space prescribed in sub-section (1) of the said section shall be modified by substituting "four hundred" for "two hundred and fifty," and accordingly such workshop shall, for the purposes of the law relating to public health, be deemed to be so overcrowded as to be dangerous or injurious to the health of the persons employed therein if the number of cubic feet of space in any room bears to the number of persons employed at one time in the room a proportion less than four hundred cubic feet to each person.

CHAS. T. RITCHIE,
One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

Home Office, Whitehall,
17*th January*, 1902.

ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE, DATED DECEMBER 30TH, 1903, MODIFYING THE PROPORTION OF CUBIC FEET OF SPACE TO BE PROVIDED IN CERTAIN BAKEHOUSES.

1903. No. 1157.

In pursuance of the power conferred on me by sub-section (2) of section 3 of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, I hereby direct that the proportion of cubic feet of space to each person employed prescribed in sub-section (1) of the said section shall be modified

(1) As regards UNDERGROUND BAKEHOUSES by substituting "five hundred cubic feet of space to every person" for two hundred and fifty cubic feet of space to every person"; and

(2) As regards BAKEHOUSES (other than such as are underground) WHERE WORK IS CARRIED ON AT NIGHT BY ARTIFICIAL LIGHT OTHER THAN ELECTRIC LIGHT by substituting in respect of the period between 9 in the evening and 6 in the succeeding morning "four hundred cubic feet of space to every person" for "two hundred and fifty cubic feet of space to every person."

This Order shall come into force on the 1st day of January, 1904.

VENTILATION.

ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE, DATED FEBRUARY 4TH, 1902, PRESCRIBING A STANDARD OF VENTILATION FOR CERTAIN HUMID TEXTILE FACTORIES OTHER THAN COTTON CLOTH FACTORIES.

1902. No. 79.

In pursuance of the powers conferred on me by section 7 of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, I hereby prescribe that the means of ventilation to be provided and maintained in every textile factory, not being a cotton cloth factory, in which atmospheric humidity is artificially produced by steaming or other mechanical appliances, and in which special rules or regulations with respect to humidity are not for the time being in force, shall be such as to supply during working hours not less than 600 cubic feet of fresh air per hour for each person employed.

SANITARY ACCOMMODATION.

THE SANITARY ACCOMMODATION ORDER OF FEBRUARY 4TH, 1903.

1903. No. 89.

In pursuance of section 9 of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, I hereby determine that the accommodation in the way of sanitary conveniences provided in a factory or workshop shall be deemed to be sufficient and suitable within the meaning of the said section if the following conditions are complied with and not otherwise :—

1. In factories or workshops where females are employed or in attendance there shall be one sanitary convenience for every 25 females.

In factories or workshops where males are employed or in attendance there shall be one sanitary convenience for every 25 males ; provided that—

(a) In factories or workshops where the number of males employed or in attendance exceeds 100, and sufficient urinal accommodation is also provided, it shall be sufficient if there is one sanitary convenience for every 25 males up to the first 100 ; and one for every 40 after ;

(b) In factories or workshops where the number of males employed or in attendance exceeds 500, and the district inspector of factories certifies in writing that by means of the check system, or otherwise, proper supervision and control in regard to the use of the conveniences are exercised by officers specially appointed for that purpose it shall be sufficient if one sanitary convenience is provided for every 60 males, in addition to sufficient urinal accommodation. Any certificate given by an inspector shall be kept attached to the general register, and shall be liable at any time to be revoked by notice in writing from the inspector.

In calculating the number of conveniences required by this Order, any odd number of persons less than 25, 40, or 60, as the case may be, shall be reckoned as 25, 40, or 60.

2. Every sanitary convenience shall be kept in a cleanly state, shall be sufficiently ventilated and lighted, and shall not communicate with any work-room except through the open air or through an intervening ventilated space : provided that in work-rooms in use prior to 1st January, 1903, and mechanically ventilated in such manner that air cannot be drawn into the work-room through the sanitary convenience, an intervening space shall not be required.

3. Every sanitary convenience shall be under cover and so partitioned off as to secure privacy, and if for the use of females shall have a proper door and fastenings.

4. The sanitary conveniences in a factory or workshop shall be so arranged and maintained as to be conveniently accessible to all persons employed therein at all times during their employment.

5. Where persons of both sexes are employed, the conveniences for each sex shall be so placed or so screened that the interior shall not be visible, even when the door of any convenience is open, from any place where persons of the other sex have to work or pass ; and, if the conveniences for one sex adjoin those for the other sex, the approaches shall be separate.

Appendix II.

6. This Order shall come into force on the 1st day of July, 1903.

7. This Order may be referred to as the Sanitary Accommodation Order of 4th February, 1903.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS FOR FRUIT PRESERVING.

ORDER DATED SEPTEMBER 11TH, 1907.

1907. No. 728.

In pursuance of sections 41 and 58 of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, I hereby order that the following conditions shall be observed in factories and workshops in which women or young persons are employed in the process of cleaning or preparing fruit in pursuance of the special exception allowed by section 41 :—

Provided that the conditions prescribed in paragraphs 1, 2, 3 (e), 3 (f), and 4 shall not take effect until June 1st, 1908.

1. There shall be sufficient and suitable sanitary accommodation for the use of all persons employed, as defined in the Special Order made by the Secretary of State under section 9 of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901.

2. There shall be sufficient and suitable washing accommodation for the use of all persons employed in cleaning or preparing fruit.

3. In each room in which women or young persons are employed in pursuance of the special exception :—

(a) There shall be not less than 400 cubic feet of air space for each person employed in the room.

(b) If any process is carried on which entails the giving off of steam, a fan or other efficient means shall be maintained and used for the removal of steam at or near to the point of origin.

(c) A thermometer shall be kept affixed.

(d) The floors shall be maintained in good condition ; and, if any wet process is carried on, so drained as to carry the wet away from the workers.

(e) The walls and ceilings shall once in every six months be limewashed, or, if the surface be such as not to admit of limewashing, washed.

(f) There shall be adequate lighting.

4. No woman or young person shall be employed in pursuance of the special exception unless and until the occupier holds a certificate from the inspector of the district, to the effect that provision has been made to his satisfaction for compliance with the foregoing requirements of this Order, for the maintenance of reasonable temperature, and for ventilation.

Such certificate shall be in writing, and shall be kept attached to the general register, and shall be revocable at any time by one week's notice in writing from the inspector of the district.

5. No young person shall be employed to lift, carry, or move any weight so heavy as to be likely to cause injury to such young person.

6.—(a) No woman or young person shall be employed before six o'clock in the morning or after ten o'clock in the evening.

(b) In the case of young persons, a period of not less than ten hours shall elapse between the termination of work on one day and the commencement of work on the following day.

7. No woman or young person shall be employed continuously for more than five hours without an interval of at least half an hour.

8. There shall be an interval of one hour at least, either at the same time or at different times, before three o'clock in the afternoon.

9. No woman or young person shall be employed in pursuance of the exception who has since the first day of October last preceding been employed by the same occupier outside the ordinary period of employment in pursuance of any other special exception.

Appendix II.

10. The occupier shall each year, before employing any person in pursuance of the special exception, enter in the prescribed notice, which shall be kept affixed in the factory or workshop, the name of such person, and whether under 16, under 18, or over 18 years of age, and a declaration that such person has not been employed outside the ordinary period of employment in pursuance of any other special exception since the first day of October last preceding.

11. On every day on which a woman or young person is employed in pursuance of the special exception, the occupier shall enter in the prescribed register, and report to the inspector of the district in the prescribed form, the hour at which the fruit arrived at the factory or workshop, the processes on which women or young persons were employed in pursuance of the exception, the periods of employment of such women and young persons, and the intervals allowed them for meals.

12. The Order of 17th June, 1902, is hereby repealed.

H. J. GLADSTONE,
One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

Whitehall,
11*th September*, 1907.

CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT IN CASES OF SPECIAL EXCEPTIONS.

ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE, DATED DECEMBER 20TH, 1882 (y), IMPOSING CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT IN CASES OF SPECIAL EXCEPTIONS.

Whereas the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878 (z), part 2, section 63, provides as follows:—

Where it appears to the Secretary of State, that the adoption of any special means or provision for the cleanliness or ventilation of a factory or workshop is required for the protection of the health of any child, young person, or woman employed, in pursuance of an exception under this part of this Act, either for a longer period than is otherwise allowed by this Act, or at night, he may by order made under this part of this Act direct that the adoption of such means or provisions shall be a condition of such employment:

An whereas it appears to me that special means or provisions for the ventilation of factories and workshops is required for the protection of the health of the young persons and women employed in pursuance of an exception made under part 2, section 53, of the said Act for a longer period than is otherwise allowed by the said Act:

Now I, the Right Honourable Sir William Vernon Harcourt, one of Her Majesty's principal Secretaries of State, by this Order, made under the said sixty-third section, direct that it shall be a condition of the employment in any factory or workshop mentioned in Part III. of Schedule III. to the same Act of any young person or woman, in pursuance of an exception under the said fifty-third section, that there shall be a cubic space of at least four hundred feet for every young person and woman so employed.

This Order shall come into effect on 1st January, 1883, and shall continue in force until revoked.

W. V. HARCOURT.

Whitehall,
20*th December*, 1882.

(y) So far as the Factories are concerned, s. 3 of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, has superseded the provisions of the Order. In the case of workshops, however, the effect of that section is not to supersede the Order, but to give to the local authority a co-ordinate power to deal with overcrowding under the law relating to public health; the Order, therefore, remains in full force so far as regards workshops, and the condition which it imposes on the working of overtime in workshops is enforceable by the factory inspectors.

REGISTRATION OF MANUFACTORIES OF MARGARINE AND MARGARINE-CHEESE—GENERAL ORDER.

TO THE OWNERS AND OCCUPIERS for the time being of manufactories of and to the wholesale dealers in, margarine or margarine-cheese in England and Wales; To the several local authorities under the Margarine Act, 1887, and the Sale of Food and Drugs Act, 1899, for the time being in England and Wales; And to others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS by section 9 of the Margarine Act, 1887 (a) (hereinafter referred to as "the Act of 1887"), provision was made for the registration of every manufactory of margarine in England and Wales by the owner or occupier thereof with the local authority from time to time in such manner as we, the Local Government Board, might direct;

And whereas by an Order dated the 22nd day of December, 1887 (hereinafter referred to as "the Order of 1887"), we directed the manner of registration under the Act of 1887 of every such manufactory of margarine;

And whereas by section 5 of the Sale of Food and Drugs Act, 1899 (b) (hereinafter referred to as "the Act of 1889"), it is enacted that the provisions of the Act of 1887, as amended by the Act of 1899, shall extend to margarine-cheese as defined by that Act, and shall apply accordingly with the substitution of "margarine-cheese" for "margarine";

And whereas by sub-section (4) of section 7 of the Act of 1899 (c) it is enacted that the provisions of section 9 of the Act of 1887 relating to registration of manufactories shall extend to any premises wherein the business of a wholesale dealer in margarine or margarine-cheese is carried on:

Now therefore, we, the Local Government Board, hereby order and direct as follows:

Art. 1. This Order shall come into operation forthwith, and shall remain in force until we shall otherwise direct; and the order of 1887 is hereby rescinded: Provided that in every case where a manufactory of margarine, or an owner or occupier carrying on the manufacture of margarine has been duly registered, and such registration has effect at the date of this Order, such registration shall, notwithstanding the rescission of the Order of 1887 but subject to the provisions of Article 4 of this Order, continue to have effect: Provided also, that any book which prior to the date of this Order has been used by a local authority in pursuance of the Order of 1887 for purposes of registration shall, so far as such book contains any entry applicable to any such case as aforesaid, be deemed to be part of the register of the local authority for the purposes of this Order.

Art. 2. Every owner or occupier of a manufactory of and every wholesale dealer in margarine or margarine-cheese in England and Wales who shall make application to the proper local authority for a certificate of registration under the Act of 1887 and the Act of 1899, or under either of the said Acts, shall, in his application, state the following particulars:

(a) The name and address of the owner or occupier or wholesale dealer making the application.

(b) The situation of the manufactory, or of the premises wherein the business of the wholesale dealer is carried on.

(c) The name and address, or names and addresses, of the owner or owners, or occupier or occupiers, or wholesale dealer or dealers, carrying on the manufacture or the business.

Every such application shall be signed by the person making the same, or by someone acting on his behalf.

Art. 3. If the application is in due form, the local authority shall cause the manufactory, or the premises, as the case may be, to be registered by entering in a book the particulars of the application for registration; and thereupon a certificate, in the Form (A.) set forth in the Schedule hereto, shall be issued by the local authority to the person applying for the same.

Appendix II.

Art. 4. Where any change occurs in the persons carrying on the manufacture, or the business, written notice thereof shall be given by the owner or occupier of the manufactory, or by the wholesale dealer carrying on the business, to the local authority, and the register shall thereupon be amended by making therein the requisite alteration, and an endorsement shall be made by the local authority on the certificate in accordance with the Form (B.) set forth in the said Schedule.

REGISTRATION OF BUTTER FACTORIES, AND OF FACTORIES, OF AND DEALERS IN MILK-BLENDED BUTTER—GENERAL ORDER.

TO THE OWNERS AND OCCUPIERS for the time being of butter factories and of premises on which there is manufactured milk-blended butter, and to the wholesale dealers in milk-blended butter in England and Wales; To the several local authorities under the Margarine Act, 1887, the Sale of Food and Drugs Act, 1899, and the Butter and Margarine Act, 1907, for the time being in England and Wales; And to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS by section 9 of the Margarine Act, 1887 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act of 1887"), as extended by section 7 of the Sale of Food and Drugs Act, 1899 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act of 1899"), provision was made for the registration of every manufactory of margarine and of all premises wherein the manufacture of margarine or the business of a wholesale dealer in margarine is carried on in England and Wales with the local authority from time to time in such manner as we, the Local Government Board, might direct;

And whereas by section 1 of the Butter and Margarine Act, 1907 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act of 1907"), it is enacted that the provision aforesaid shall apply to butter factories and to any premises on which milk-

Appendix II. blended butter is manufactured or on which the business of a wholesale dealer in milk-blended butter is carried on:

Now therefore, we, the Local Government Board, hereby order and direct as follows :—

ART. 1. Every owner or occupier of a butter factory or of premises on which there is manufactured any milk-blended butter, or on which there is carried on the business of a wholesale dealer in milk-blended butter in England and Wales who shall make application to the proper local authority for a certificate of registration under the Act of 1887 as amended by the Act of 1899 and the Act of 1907, shall, in his application, state the following particulars :—

(a) The name and address of the owner or occupier making the application;
(b) The situation of the factory, or of the premises on which the manufacture, or the business of the wholesale dealer, is carried on ;
(c) The name and address, or names and addresses, of the owner or owners, or occupier or occupiers, or wholesale dealer or dealers, carrying on the manufacture or the business ;
(d) Whether the premises are proposed to be registered as—(i.) a butter factory ; or
  (ii.) premises on which there is manufactured any milk-blended butter ; or (iii.) premises on which there is carried on the business of a wholesale dealer in milk-blended butter.

The application shall be signed by the person making the same, or by someone acting on his behalf.

ART. 2. If the application is in due form, the local authority shall cause the factory, or the premises, as the case may be, to be registered by entering in a book the particulars of the application for registration ; and thereupon a certificate, in the Form A. set forth in the Schedule hereto, shall be issued by the local authority to the person applying for the same.

ART. 3. Where any change occurs in the persons carrying on the manufacture, or the business, written notice thereof shall be given by the owner or occupier of the butter factory, or of the premises on which the manufacture of milk-blended butter or the business of a wholesale dealer in milk-blended butter, as the case may be, is carried on, to the local authority, and the register shall thereupon be amended by making therein the requisite alteration, and an endorsement shall be made by the local authority in the certificate in accordance with the Form B. set forth in the said Schedule.

SALE OF BUTTER REGULATIONS, 1902 (for these see ante, p. 1968).

SALE OF MILK REGULATIONS, 1901—1912 (for these see ante, p. 1967).

MILK AND CREAM REGULATIONS, 1912.

TO THE SEVERAL LOCAL AUTHORITIES in ENGLAND AND WALES for the time being authorised to appoint an analyst for the purposes of the Sale of Food and Drugs Acts, 1875 to 1907; To Officers of Customs and Excise; To the Principal Chemist of the Government Laboratories; To Medical Officers of Health; To Public Analysts; To Dairymen, and to Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Milk and Cream; And to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS by section 1 of the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907 [the section (see ante, p. 1095), is set out].

And whereas we, the Local Government Board, are empowered by regulations made under the Public Health Act, 1896, and the enactments mentioned in that Act, to provide for the regulations being enforced and executed by the officers of Customs and Excise, as well as by other authorities and officers, and sub-section 2 (a) of section 1 of the Public Health Act, 1896, requires that the regulations shall be subject to the consent, so far as they apply to the officers of Customs and Excise, of the Commissioners of Customs and Excise;

And whereas in the exercise of our powers under the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907, we, by the Public Health (First Series: Unsound Food) Regulations, 1908, made regulations in relation to articles of food;

And whereas, for the prevention of danger arising to public health, it is expedient that such regulations as are hereinafter set forth be made in relation to Milk and Cream;

And whereas the Commissioners of Customs and Excise have signified their consent to the said regulations, so far as they apply to the officers of Customs and Excise:

NOW THEREFORE, we, the Local Government Board, by this our Order, and in the exercise of the powers conferred upon us by the Public Health Act, 1875, the Public Health (London) Act, 1891, the Public Health Act, 1896, and the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907, and of every other power enabling us in that behalf, do make the following regulations, that is to say:—

PART I.

ARTICLE I.—In these regulations, unless the contrary intention appears: Interpretation.

(a) The expression "preservative substance" means any substance, preparation, or solution which when added to milk or cream is capable of retarding the onset of sourness or decomposition, or is capable of neutralising acidity (sourness) in milk or cream, and the expression "thickening substance" means sucrate of lime, gelatine, starch paste, or any other substance which, when added to cream, is capable of increasing its thickness:

Provided that neither cane nor beet sugar shall be regarded as a preservative or as a thickening substance;

(b) The expression "milk" includes separated, skimmed, condensed and dried milk;

(c) The expression "cream" means that portion of milk rich in milk fat which has risen to the surface of milk on standing and has then been removed, or which has been separated from milk by centrifugal force;

(d) The expression "preserved cream" means cream containing 35 per cent. or more by weight of milk fat, to which has been added—

(i.) boric acid, borax or a mixture of those preservative substances, or

(ii.) hydrogen peroxide;

(e) The expression "seller" includes any person who exposes or offers for sale, or has in his possession for the purpose of sale;

(f) The expression "foreign" used in relation to milk, cream, or preserved cream means brought from a place situate elsewhere than in the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands, or the Isle of Man;

(g) The expression "local authority" means any local authority authorised to appoint an analyst for the purposes of the Sale of Food and Drugs Acts, 1875 to 1907, and the expression "public analyst" means an analyst so appointed;

(h) The expression "Unsound Food Regulations" means the Public Health (First Series: Unsound Food) Regulations, 1908;

(i) Other expressions have the same meaning, mutatis mutandis, as in the Unsound Food Regulations.

Commencement of regulations.

ARTICLE II.—Subject as provided in sub-division (1) of Article V. hereof these regulations shall come into operation on the first day of October, one thousand nine hundred and twelve.

PART II.

Prohibition of preservatives in milk.

ARTICLE III.—(1) No person shall add, or order or permit any other person to add, any preservative substance to milk intended for sale for human consumption.

(2) No person shall sell, or expose or offer for sale, or have in his possession for the purpose of sale, any milk to which any preservative substance has been added in contravention of the provisions of sub-division (1) of this article.

Restriction on the use of preservatives in cream.

ARTICLE IV.—(1) No person shall add, or order or permit any other person to add—

(a) any thickening substance to cream or preserved cream;

(b) any preservative substance to cream containing less than 35 per cent. by weight of milk fat;

(c) to cream containing 35 per cent. or more by weight of milk fat any preservative substance other than—

(i.) boric acid, borax or a mixture of those preservative substances; or in any case in which the cream is intended for sale for human consumption.

(ii.) hydrogen peroxide;

(2) No person shall sell, or expose or offer for sale, or have in his possession for the purpose of sale, any cream to which any thickening substance or any preservative substance has been added in contravention of the provisions of sub-division (1) of this Article.

Declaration of preservatives in cream.

ARTICLE V.—(1) Every seller of preserved cream shall, in every advertisement, price list, or trade list which is used in connection with the sale of preserved cream for human consumption, describe that article as preserved cream, and in no such document shall any words be contained which might imply that the preserved cream is cream to which a preservative substance has not been added.

The provision in this sub-division of this article shall come into operation on the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

(2) No seller of preserved cream shall deposit for sale in any place, or dispatch or deliver to any purchaser, or to any other person, any receptacle containing preserved cream intended for human consumption unless the receptacle is labelled in the manner prescribed in the schedule to these regulations, and unless, in the case of preserved cream containing boric acid, borax or a mixture of those preservative substances, the amount of those substances calculated as boric acid (H_3BO_3) is accurately stated as not exceeding the limit specified on the label in the manner prescribed in the said schedule:

Provided that if in any public refreshment room, restaurant, shop, or other public premises preserved cream is delivered to a purchaser or other person for consumption on the premises, the receptacle containing the preserved cream shall not be required to be labelled in accordance with the foregoing provisions if there is placed in a conspicuous position in every room on the premises in which customers are served with refreshments a notice, printed in large and easily legible type, indicating that the cream supplied for consumption on the premises is preserved cream, or if a statement to that effect is conspicuously made on every bill of fare exhibited to customers, or if by some other adequate means similar intimation is publicly given.

Powers and duties of local authority.

ARTICLE VI.—The local authority shall enforce and execute the regulations in this part of this Order, and for this purpose shall authorise the making of inquiries and the taking of any other steps which may seem to them to be necessary for securing the due observance of the regulations in their district:

Provided that before the local authority institute proceedings against any person for a contravention of any of the regulations in this part of this Order the local authority shall afford him an opportunity of furnishing an explanation in writing or otherwise as they may appoint, and shall duly consider any such explanation and all the circumstances of the case.

Samples.

ARTICLE VII.—Any of the officers named in section 13 of the Sale of Food and Drugs Act, 1875, may under the direction of the local authority appointing him procure for examination, in accordance with the provisions of section 14 of that Act (as amended by subsequent legislation), so far as the same may be applicable, samples of milk or cream or preserved cream, or of any article resembling milk or cream, or of any substance which appears to be intended for addition to milk or cream; and the owner or occupier of any premises on which there is deposited milk or cream or preserved cream intended for sale, or for preparation for sale, for human consumption, or the person having the custody thereof, shall afford to the officer or to any officer of the Local Government Board all reasonable facilities for entering the said premises for the purpose of taking samples or making inquiries or for any other purpose of the regulations in this part of this Order.

PART III.

Restrictions on importation.

ARTICLE VIII.—No person shall import into England or Wales:—

(a) any foreign milk to which any preservative substance has been added;
(b) any foreign cream to which any thickening substance has been added;
(c) any foreign cream containing less than 35 per cent. by weight of milk fat to which any preservative substance has been added;
(d) any foreign cream containing 35 per cent. or more by weight of milk fat to which has been added any preservative substance other than—
  (i.) boric acid, borax or a mixture of those preservative substances; or
  (ii.) hydrogen peroxide;
(e) any foreign preserved cream which is not contained in a vessel or receptacle duly labelled in the manner prescribed in the schedule to these regulations.

Powers and duties of officers of Customs and Excise.

ARTICLE IX.—(1) The officers of Customs and Excise shall enforce and execute the Regulations in this part of this Order and for this purpose shall, in accordance with directions given by the Treasury after consultation with us, take samples of consignments of imported milk or cream or articles resembling milk or cream.

Appendix II.

(2) When any officer of Customs and Excise takes a sample in pursuance of sub-division (1) of this article he shall divide it into not less than three parts, and send one part to the importer and one part to the principal chemist of the Government laboratories and retain one part for future comparison.

(3) In any proceeding under this part of this Order the certificate of the principal chemist of the Government laboratories of the result of the analysis shall be sufficient evidence of the facts therein stated unless the defendant require that the person who made the analysis be called as a witness, and the defendant shall not be entitled to require the person who made the analysis to be called as a witness unless he shall, at least three clear days before the return day, give notice to the prosecutor that he requires his attendance, and deposit with the prosecutor a sum sufficient to cover the reasonable costs and expenses of his attendance, which costs and expenses shall be paid by the defendant in the event of his conviction.

(4) If in any case the officer of Customs and Excise is of opinion that an offence has been committed under this part of this Order he shall communicate to us for our information the name of the importer and such other information as he possesses or may obtain as to the destination of the consignment.

PART IV.

Determination of differences.

ARTICLE X.—(1) If a difference arises in relation to any subject matter of, or to anything done under, these regulations, the difference may, on the application of all the parties affected, be referred to us for determination.

(2) It shall be at our option to determine any such difference as arbitrators or otherwise; and, if we elect to determine the difference as arbitrators, the provisions of the Regulation of Railways Act, 1868, respecting arbitrations by the Board of Trade, and the enactments amending those provisions, shall apply as if they were re-enacted in these regulations and in terms made applicable to us, and to the determination of the difference.

(3) Where we elect to determine any such difference otherwise than as arbitrators, we may by Order determine the difference, and our determination shall be final and conclusive.

(4) Every Order made by us in pursuance of this article shall have effect as if the Order were enacted in these regulations.

Powers to be cumulative.

ARTICLE XI.—All powers given by these regulations shall be deemed to be in addition to, and not in derogation of any other powers conferred by regulations under the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907; and those other powers may be exercised in the same manner as if these regulations had not been made.

Short title.

ARTICLE XII.—These regulations may be cited as "The Public Health (Milk and Cream) Regulations, 1912."

SCHEDULE.

REGULATIONS WITH RESPECT TO THE LABELLING OF PRESERVED CREAM.

1. Every receptacle containing preserved cream shall be labelled by the attachment thereto of an adhesive label, in this schedule referred to as the "declaratory label."

2. Every declaratory label shall be in the form and contain the information indicated in Label I. or Label II. set out in this schedule, as the case may require. Such information shall be printed in black type, of not less size than that shown in the said Label I. or Label II., upon a white ground in the centre of the declaratory label, and nothing else shall be printed on the declaratory label; except that in every case in which Label I. is used the maximum amount per cent. of boric acid (H_3BO_3) contained in the preserved cream shall be stated in figures on the declaratory label.

LABEL I.

PRESERVED CREAM CONTAINING
NOT EXCEEDING PER CENT.

LABEL II.

PRESERVED CREAM
(PEROXIDE).

3. The size of the declaratory label shall be determined as follows :— Appendix II.

Capacity of Receptacle.	Size of Label.
	Inches. Inches.
Not exceeding 1 pint	$\frac{3}{4}$ by $1\frac{3}{4}$
Exceeding 1 pint	3 by 5

4. The declaratory label shall be so attached to the receptacle that the whole of the label shall be visible and clearly legible, and the declaratory label shall not be overlapped by any other label or otherwise obscured.

5. The declaratory label shall not be affixed either over the mouth of the receptacle or beneath the receptacle.

6. Where on any receptacle containing preserved cream or on any wrapper or package in which such receptacle is enclosed, there appears any reference by label (other than the declaratory label) or otherwise to preserved cream contained therein, the preserved cream shall in every case be described as "preserved cream," the words "preserved" and "cream" being set out in letters of the same size.

7. No receptacle containing preserved cream shall bear or shall have attached on any label a trade description within the meaning of the Merchandise Marks Act, 1887, which shall be false or in any way likely to mislead a purchaser as to the presence or utility of the preservative substance or as to the declaratory label or as to the regulations.

Given under the Seal of Office of the Local Government Board, this first day of August, in the year one thousand nine hundred and twelve.

(L.S.) JOHN BURNS, President.

H. C. MONRO, Secretary.

NOTICE.—The Public Health Act, 1896, provides by sub-section (3) of section 1 that if any person wilfully neglects or refuses to obey or carry out, or obstructs the execution of, any regulation made under any of the enactments mentioned in that Act he shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds, and, in the case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding fifty pounds for every day during which the offence continues.

The power of making regulations under the Public Health Act, 1896, and the enactments mentioned in that Act is enlarged by the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907.

Date of publication in the London Gazette, 2nd August, 1912.

UNSOUND FOOD REGULATIONS (FIRST SERIES), 1908.

TO ALL PORT SANITARY AUTHORITIES ; to all other Sanitary Authorities as herein defined ; to all Officers of Customs ; to all Medical Officers of Health of the Sanitary Authorities aforesaid ; to all Masters of ships ; and to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS by section 1 of the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907, [the section (see ante, p. 1095) is set out].

And whereas we, the Local Government Board, are empowered by regulations made under the Public Health Act, 1896, and the enactments mentioned in that Act, to provide for the regulations being enforced and executed by the officers of Customs, as well as by other authorities and officers, and by subsection 2 (a) of section 1 of the Public Health Act, 1896, it is provided that the regulations shall be subject to the consent, so far as they apply to the officers of Customs, of the Commissioners of His Majesty's Customs ;

And whereas, for the prevention of danger arising to public health, it is expedient that such regulations as are hereinafter set forth be made in relation to articles of food ;

And whereas the Commissioners of His Majesty's Customs have signified their consent to the said regulations, so far as they apply to the officers of Customs :

NOW, THEREFORE, we, the Local Government Board, by this our Order, and in the exercise of the powers conferred upon us by the Public Health Act, 1875, the Public Health (London) Act, 1891, the Public Health Act, 1896,

Appendix II. and the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907, and of every other power enabling us in that behalf, do make the following regulations, that is to say :—

PART I.

Interpretation.

ARTICLE I.—In these regulations, unless the contrary intention appears—

(a) Words importing the masculine gender include females ;

(b) Words in the singular include the plural, and words in the plural include the singular ;

(c) Expressions referring to writing include references to printing, and other modes of representing or reproducing words in a visible form ;

(d) The expression "ship" includes a vessel or boat ;

(e) The expression "master" used in relation to a ship includes the officer, or other person for the time being in charge or command of the ship ;

(f) The expression "officer of Customs" includes any person acting under the authority of the Commissioners of His Majesty's Customs ;

(g) The expression "article of food" means an article of food which, as part of the cargo of a ship, is brought to, or delivered or landed at a place within England or Wales either as a place of actual or appointed destination, or as a place of deposit for the purpose of transmission to a place of actual or appointed destination elsewhere in the United Kingdom ;

(h) The expression "importer" means any person in the United Kingdom who, either as owner or consignee, agent or broker, is entitled to the possession, custody, or control of any article of food ;

(i) The expression "sanitary authority" means every port sanitary authority, and every council of a municipal borough or other urban district, and every rural district council whose borough or district includes or abuts on any part of a Customs port which part is not within the jurisdiction of a port sanitary authority ;

(j) The expression "the district" means the district of a sanitary authority ;

(k) The expression "medical officer of health" includes any duly qualified medical practitioner appointed or employed by a sanitary authority to act in the execution of these regulations ; and any other person appointed or employed by the sanitary authority under these regulations to exercise any powers, or to discharge any duties assigned to the medical officer of health ;

(l) The expression "local authority" means every council of a municipal borough or other urban district and every rural district council, not being a sanitary authority within the meaning of these regulations, and includes the common council of the city of London and every council of a metropolitan borough ;

(m) The expression "area" used in relation to a local authority means the area subject to the jurisdiction of the local authority for the purposes of the Public Health Act, 1875, or of the Public Health (London) Act, 1891, as the case may be ;

(n) The expression "provincial enactments" means sections one hundred and sixteen to one hundred and nineteen of the Public Health Act, 1875, and section twenty-eight of the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890 (which relate to unsound food) ; and

(o) The expression "London enactments" means section forty-seven of the Public Health (London) Act, 1891 (which relates to unsound food).

Commencement and extent of regulations.

ARTICLE II.—These regulations shall come into operation on the first day of October, one thousand nine hundred and eight, and shall then and thereafter apply and have effect in relation to the district of every sanitary authority throughout England and Wales.

PART II.

Application of statutory provisions.

ARTICLE III.—Subject to the Public Health Act, 1896, and the enactments therein mentioned, as applied by the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907, any provision in any Act of Parliament which applies to a proceeding under or consequent upon the provincial enactments, or the London enactments, shall, according as the district is one in which the provincial enactments, or the London enactments, are or may be put in force, apply, with the necessary modifications and adaptations, to a proceeding under or consequent upon Articles IV. to VI. in this part, and as if those articles were comprised in, and were in force as part of the provincial enactments or the London enactments, as the case may be. Appendix II.

Powers, &c., of medical officer of health in relation to unsound food.

ARTICLE IV. (d)—(1) The medical officer of health may examine an article of food which has been landed within the district.

Where the circumstances, in his opinion, so require, the medical officer of health may examine the article of food while it is on board a ship within the district, or after it has been delivered overside, and before it has been landed.

(2) The master of a ship, or a person having the custody of any lands or premises within the district shall, at the request of the medical officer of health, afford him access to the ship, or to the lands or premises, at any reasonable time, for the examination of an article of food which is on board the ship, or which has been deposited on the lands or premises.

(3) The importer, the master of the ship, or a person having the custody of any lands or premises shall, at the request of the medical officer of health, afford, by the convenient and suitable arrangement, unpacking or uncovering of so much of the cargo, or of any consignment delivered overside or landed or deposited on the lands or premises, as comprises articles of food, all such facilities as the medical officer of health may reasonably require for the examination of the article of food.

(4) If, on his examination, the medical officer of health is of opinion that the article of food is unsound or unwholesome, or unfit for human consumption, he may himself, or by an assistant, seize and carry away the article of food, or he may by a notice in writing to the importer, or to the master of the ship, or to any other person having charge of the article of food, require that, until the article of food has been examined by a justice, the article of food shall not, without the permission of the medical officer of health, be removed from the place at which the medical officer of health has examined it, or from any other place which he specifies in the notice.

(5) Except where the medical officer of health, at the request, or with the consent of the importer, allows an article of food, in relation to which a notice has been given in pursuance of sub-division (4) of this article, to be removed for immediate destruction under the supervision of the medical officer of health, or for the application and completion, under the like supervision, of any such process as the medical officer of health approves, and as will effectually prevent the use of the article of food for human consumption, the importer, the master of the ship, or another person shall not, without the permission of the medical officer of health, remove the article of food from the place at which the medical officer of health has examined it, or from any other place specified in the notice, until the article of food has been examined by a justice.

Powers, &c., of justice in relation to unsound food.

ARTICLE V.—On the complaint of the medical officer of health that an article of food seized and carried away in pursuance of sub-division (4) of Article IV., or that an article of food in relation to which a notice has been given in pursuance of that sub-division, is unsound or unwholesome, or unfit for human consumption, a justice, if satisfied, on his examination of the article of food, and on the evidence adduced before him, that the article of food is unsound or unwholesome, or unfit for human consumption, and that there is an absence of proof that the article of food is not intended for sale for human consumption, shall condemn the article of food and order it to be destroyed or disposed of under the supervision of the medical officer of health by such means and in such a manner as to prevent its being used for human consumption.

Where, on any such complaint, a justice, on his examination of the article of food, and on the evidence adduced before him, is satisfied that the article of food is unsound or unwholesome or unfit for human consumption, but that it has been proved that the article of food is not intended for sale for human consumption, the justice shall make an order of dismissal of the complaint, and shall, in that order, set forth the description of, and such other details as will suffice to identify the article of food ; together with the name, description, and abode of the importer, and the name, description, and abode of the person to whom the article of food is to be delivered ; and shall forthwith furnish the sanitary authority with a copy of the order.

(d) See post, p. 2398, for forms for use under this article.

Appendix II.

Powers, &c., of medical officer of health and justice in relation to unsound food in special cases.

ARTICLE VI.—(1) Where the medical officer of health has reason to believe that an article of food which has been landed within the district, and has not been examined by the medical officer of health, is deposited on any lands or premises within the district, and access to the lands or premises at a reasonable time, for the examination of the article of food by the medical officer of health, has been refused by the person having the custody of the lands or premises, the medical officer of health may make complaint to a justice.

The justice may thereupon by a warrant authorise the medical officer of health to enter the lands or premises, and to search for, seize, and carry away the article of food by an assistant or otherwise.

(2) The person having the custody of the lands or premises named in the warrant shall, at any reasonable time, afford all such facilities as the medical officer of health may reasonably require to enable him, by an assistant or otherwise, to search for, seize, and carry away the article of food.

(3) If, as the result of a search on the authority of a warrant granted in pursuance of sub-division (1) of this article, the medical officer of health finds and examines the article of food, and, on his examination, is of opinion that the article of food is unsound or unwholesome, or unfit for human consumption, he may himself or by an assistant seize and carry away the article of food, or he may, by a notice in writing to the importer, or to the person having the custody of the lands or premises, require that, until the article of food has been examined by a justice, the article of food shall not, without the permission of the medical officer of health, be removed from the place at which the medical officer of health has examined it, or from any other place which he specifies in the notice.

(4) Except where the medical officer of health, at the request, or with the consent of the importer, allows an article of food in relation to which a notice has been given in pursuance of sub-division (3) of this article, to be removed for immediate destruction under the supervision of the medical office for health, or for the application and completion, under the like supervision, of any such process as the medical officer of health approves, and as will effectually prevent the use of the article of food for human consumption, the importer or another person shall not, without the permission of the medical officer of health, remove the article of food from the place at which the medical officer of health has examined it, or from any other place specified in the notice, until the article of food has been examined by a justice.

(5) On production of the warrant granted in pursuance of sub-division (1) of this article, and on the complaint of the medical officer of health that an article of food which has been seized and carried away in pursuance of the warrant, or in relation to which a notice has been given in pursuance of sub-division (3) of this article is unsound or unwholesome, or unfit for human consumption, a justice, if satisfied on his examination of the article of food and on the evidence adduced before him that the article of food is unsound or unwholesome, or unfit for human consumption, and that there is an absence of proof that the article of food is not intended ior sale for human consumption, shall condemn the article of food, and order it to be destroyed or disposed of under the supervision of the medical officer of health by such means and in such a manner as to prevent its being used for human consumption.

Where, on any such complaint, a justice, on his examination of the article of food, and on the evidence adduced before him, is satisfied that the article of food is unsound or unwholesome or unfit for human consumption, but that it has been proved that the article of food is not intended for sale for human consumption, the justice shall make an order of dismissal of the complaint, and shall, in that order, set forth the description of, and such other details as will suffice to identify the article of food ; together with the name, description, and abode of the importer, and the name, description, and abode of the person to whom the article of food is to be delivered ; and shall forthwith furnish the sanitary authority with a copy of the order.

PART III.

Record of unsound food destroyed.

ARTICLE VII.—Where, in pursuance of these regulations, an article of food is destroyed or otherwise disposed of under the supervision of the medical officer of health, the sanitary authority before the destruction or other disposal of the article of food shall cause the description of, and such other details as will suffice to identify the article of food to be duly recorded, and shall keep the record in their custody for a period of not less than twelve months.

ARTICLE VIII. (e)—(1) The medical officer of health may take a sample from a consignment of articles of food for any purpose of these regulations, and, subject to sub-division (2) of this article, shall dispose of the sample in such manner as the sanitary authority direct.

Samples, &c.

(2) Where the medical officer of health who takes a sample from a consignment of articles of food is of opinion that special procedure is necessary for the examination of the articles of food, or where, at the request of the importer, the medical officer of health who takes any such sample has recourse to special procedure for the examination of the articles of food, the importer or another person who has the custody or control of the consignment shall, as regards the convenient and suitable arrangement and the place of deposit of the articles of food comprised in the consignment, afford during such time not exceeding forty-eight hours as the medical officer of health by notice in writing appoints, or during any longer time which the medical officer of health by notice in writing appoints, and to which the importer consents, all such facilities as the medical officer of health may reasonably require for the completion of his examination of the articles of food.

Notice by post.

ARTICLE IX.—A notice which, in pursuance of these regulations, the medical officer of health is empowered to give may be given by properly addressing, prepaying, and posting a letter containing the notice.

Answers to questions, &c.

ARTICLE X.—A person, in relation to anything within his knowledge, shall answer truly all such questions put to him by, and give all such information to the medical officer of health as are necessary for any purpose of these regulations; and a person, in relation to anything within his knowledge and material to any purpose of proceedings in pursuance of these regulations, shall make a true statement, and truly answer any question, when required or put by a justice or other competent authority in the course and for any purpose of those proceedings.

Appointment and powers, &c., of assistants.

ARTICLE XI.—(1) The sanitary authority may, with our consent, appoint and pay a legally qualified medical practitioner to act in the execution of these regulations, either in the place of, or as an assistant to the medical officer of health.

(2) The sanitary authority may also, with our consent, appoint or employ and pay a person to act, under the direction of the medical officer of health, in the exercise of any such powers or in the discharge of any such duties of the medical officer of health under these regulations as the sanitary authority assign to the person so appointed.

Combinations.

ARTICLE XII.—A sanitary authority and a local authority, or two or more sanitary authorities or local authorities shall act together for the purposes of these regulations in every case in which we, by Order, require any such joint action.

In every such case these regulations shall, in relation to each sanitary authority, to each district of a sanitary authority, to each local authority, and to each area of a local authority to whom and to which the Order applies, have effect subject to such adaptations and modifications as are made by the Order.

Determination of differences.

ARTICLE XIII.—(1) If a difference arises in relation to any subject matter of, or to anything done under these regulations, the difference may, on the application of all the parties affected, be referred to us for determination.

(2) It shall be at our option to determine any such difference as arbitrators or otherwise; and, if we elect to determine the difference as arbitrators, the provisions of the Regulation of Railways Act, 1868, respecting arbitrations by the Board of Trade, and the enactments amending those provisions shall apply, as if they were re-enacted in these regulations, and in terms made applicable to us, and to the determination of the difference.

(3) Where we elect to determine any such difference otherwise than as arbitrators, we may by our Order determine the difference, and our determination shall be final and conclusive.

(e) See post, p. 2402, for forms for use under this article.

Appendix II.

(4) Every Order made by us in pursuance of this article shall have effect as if the Order were enacted in these regulations.

Powers to be cumulative, and to be exercised subject to Customs procedure and co-operation.

ARTICLE XIV.—(1) All powers given by these regulations shall be deemed to be in addition to, and not in derogation of any other powers conferred by regulations under the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907; and those other powers may be exercised in the same manner as if these regulations had not been made.

(2) Where the duties of an officer of Customs with respect to the examination of a cargo or consignment comprising an article of food have not been wholly discharged, an examination of the article of food for the purposes of these regulations shall not be made without the consent of the officer of Customs; but every officer of Customs shall afford such facilities as the circumstances require for the examination of the article of food in pursuance of these regulations.

Short title.

ARTICLE XV.—These regulations may be cited as "The Public Health (First Series: Unsound Food) Regulations, 1908."

Given under the Seal of Office of the Local Government Board, this twelfth day of September, in the year one thousand nine hundred and eight.

(a) [the above articles of food under the supervision of the medical officer of health of the said sanitary authority, and to destroy, or] deliver to the port sanitary authority or their officer for destruction [any of] the said articles . . . . consumption.

Appendix II.

The above would be used where the whole of the consignment referred to in the notice, e.g., canned meats, was unfit for human consumption, and the medical officer of health considered it necessary that it should be destroyed by the port sanitary authority.

(b) sort the above articles of food under the supervision of the medical officer of health of the said sanitary authority, and to destroy, [or deliver to . . . . for destruction] any of the said articles . . . . consumption.

The above would be employed when a proportion of the articles, e.g., bananas, are supposed to be unsound, and it is considered desirable to give the consignees the opportunity of sorting the sound from the unsound, and to allow them or their agents to dispose of the unsound articles under the supervision of the medical officer of health.

(c) sort the above articles of food under the supervision of the medical officer of health of the said sanitary authority, and to [destroy or] deliver to the port authority or their officer for destruction any of the said articles . . . . consumption.

The above provides for a similar case to (b), except that it is desirable that the articles of food found to be unsound, e.g., canned meats, should be dealt with by the port sanitary authority.

(d) destroy the above articles of food under the supervision of the medical officer of health of the said sanitary authority, [and . . . . consumption].

The above is applicable where the whole of the articles, e.g., fruit, are unfit for human consumption, and where there is no objection to the consignee, or his agent, himself destroying them under the supervision of the medical officer of health.

Other variations in the wording can, of course, be employed to meet special cases.

FOREIGN MEAT REGULATIONS, 1908.

TO ALL PORT SANITARY AUTHORITIES ; To all other Sanitary Authorities as herein defined : To all Officers of Customs ; To all Medical Officers of Health of the Sanitary Authorities aforesaid ; To all Masters of Ships ; And to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS by section 1 of the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907 [the section (see ante, p. 1095) is set out].

And whereas we, the Local Government Board, are empowered by regulations made under the Public Health Act, 1896, and the enactments mentioned in that Act, to provide for the regulations being enforced and executed by the officers of Customs, as well as by other authorities and officers, and by sub-section 2 (a) of section 1 of the Public Health Act, 1896, it is provided that the regulations shall be subject to the consent, so far as they apply to the officers of Customs, of the Commissioners of His Majesty's Customs ;

And whereas, for the prevention of danger arising to public health, it is expedient that such regulations as are hereinafter set forth be made in relation to articles of food ;

And whereas the Commissioners of His Majesty's Customs have signified their consent to the said regulations, so far as they apply to the officers of Customs ;

Now THEREFORE, we, the Local Government Board, by this our Order, and in the exercise of the powers conferred upon us by the Public Health Act, 1875, the Public Health (London) Act, 1891, the Public Health Act, 1896, and the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907, and of every other power enabling us in that behalf, do make the following regulations, that is to say :—

ARTICLE I. [This article was revoked by the Amending Regulations of 1909, and Article I. thereof (see post, p. 2407) was substituted for it.] Interpretation.

ARTICLE II.—These regulations shall come into operation on the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and nine, and shall then and thereafter apply and have effect in relation to the district of every sanitary authority throughout England and Wales, and shall be enforced and executed by every officer of Customs, by every sanitary authority, and by the medical officer of health, and where the circumstances so require, by any other officer of a sanitary authority. Commencement and extent of regulations.

ARTICLE III.—(1) The officer of Customs, on the arrival of a ship within the district, shall ascertain whether the cargo of the ship comprises any foreign meat. Examination of foreign meat by Customs officer.

Appendix II.

(2) Where the officer of Customs finds, or has reason to believe, that the cargo comprises foreign meat having, according to the best opinion which, in the circumstances of the case, his knowledge enables him to form, the characteristics of foreign meat of Class I., or of foreign meat of Class II., the officer of Customs by a notice in writing given to the master or to the importer shall require that, until the meat has been examined by the medical officer of health, it shall not be removed from the ship, or from the place of delivery or of landing, or from any other place which the officer of Customs specifies in the notice.

The officer of Customs shall at the same time inform the medical officer of health to the effect of the notice.

(3) Where the officer of Customs finds that the cargo comprises foreign meat of Class III., or foreign meat unclassed, the officer of Customs, unless, by reason of facts brought to his knowledge, or of representations made to him, he is of opinion that the meat requires examination by the medical officer of health, may allow the meat to be removed from the ship, or from the place of delivery or of landing without any such examination.

Where the officer of Customs is of opinion that the meat requires examination by the medical officer of health, the officer of Customs by a notice in writing shall require that, until the meat has been examined by the medical officer of health, it shall not be removed from the ship, or from the place of delivery or of landing, or from any other place which the officer of Customs specifies in the notice.

The officer of Customs shall at the same time inform the medical officer of health to the effect of the notice.

(4) Where any notice has been given in relation to any foreign meat by the officer of Customs, in pursuance of sub-division (2) or of sub-division (3) of this article, a person shall not, without the express permission of the officer of Customs, remove the meat, at any time before its examination by the medical officer of health, from the ship, or from the place of delivery or of landing, or from any other place specified in the notice.

Examination of foreign meat by medical officer of health.

(5) On being informed by the officer of Customs to the effect of the notice given by him in pursuance of sub-division (2) or of sub-division (3) of this article, the medical officer of health shall forthwith proceed to examine the foreign meat to which the notice relates.

☞ If, upon his examination of the meat, the medical officer of health is of opinion that the meat may be removed to a place of destination in England or Wales for any purpose other than exportation, he shall give a certificate (f) in writing to that effect.

If, upon his examination of the meat, the medical officer of health is of opinion that the meat should not be removed to a place of destination in England or Wales for any purpose other than exportation, he shall by a notice (f) in writing forbid the removal of the meat for any purpose other than exportation.

(6) Every notice given by the officer of Customs, and every certificate and every notice given by the medical officer of health in pursuance of this article shall set forth the description of the foreign meat to which the notice or certificate relates, and such other details as will suffice to identify the particular consignment.

The medical officer of health shall give every such certificate in duplicate, and every such notice in triplicate.

The medical officer of health shall give one copy of the certificate to the officer of Customs, and one copy to the importer.

The medical officer of health shall give one copy of the notice to the officer of Customs, one copy to the importer, and one copy to the sanitary authority.

Exam nation of foreign meat by medical officer of health in special cases.

ARTICLE IV.—(1) Where the medical officer of health has ascertained that any foreign meat which the officer of Customs has allowed to be removed is still within the district, the medical officer of health may proceed forthwith to examine the meat.

If, upon his examination of the meat, the medical officer of health is of opinion that the meat should not be removed to a place of destination in England and Wales for any purpose other than exportation, he shall by a notice (g) in writing forbid the removal of the meat for any purpose other than exportation.

(f) See post, p. 2411, for forms of notice and certificate.

Appendix II.

(2) Every notice given by the medical officer of health in pursuance of this article shall set forth the description of the foreign meat to which the notice relates, and such other details as will suffice to identify the particular consignment.

The medical officer of health shall give every such notice in duplicate.

The medical officer of health shall give one copy of the notice to the importer, and one copy to the sanitary authority.

Rules for guidance of medical officer of health.

ARTICLE V.—The medical officer of health in determining whether, in the case of any foreign meat to which these regulations apply, he shall give a certificate or a notice in pursuance of these regulations, shall observe and comply with the following rules, that is to say :—

He shall not give a certificate and shall give a notice as regards foreign meat of Class I. and foreign meat of Class II. :

He shall not give a certificate and shall give a notice as regards foreign meat of Class III., or foreign meat unclassed, if, in his opinion, the meat, notwithstanding the official certificate, is diseased, unsound, unwholesome, or unfit for human consumption.

Notice by sanitary authority to importer.

ARTICLE VI.—The sanitary authority, within twelve hours after the receipt of a copy of a notice (g) by the medical officer of health, in pursuance of sub-division (5) of Article III., or of sub-division (1) of Article IV., with respect to any foreign meat, shall give to the importer notice in writing which, in addition to such other particulars (if any) as the sanitary authority deem necessary or expedient, shall state that, unless, within twelve hours after the receipt of the notice, the importer gives to the sanitary authority a written undertaking to the effect that, subject to compliance in all respects with the requirements of any regulations made under the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907, and in force for the time being, he will export the meat at his own expense, or, in proceedings before a justice in pursuance of those regulations, he will prove that the meat is not intended for sale for human consumption, the sanitary authority will cause the meat to be destroyed under the supervision of the medical officer of health.

Destruction of foreign meat.

ARTICLE VII.—(1) Where, in pursuance of Article VI., a notice has been given by the sanitary authority with respect to any foreign meat, and no such written undertaking as is described in the notice has been received by the sanitary authority within the time specified in the notice, the sanitary authority shall forthwith cause the meat to which the notice relates to be destroyed, under the supervision of the medical officer of health.

(2) Where, in pursuance of Article VI., a notice has been given by the sanitary authority with respect to any foreign meat, and within the time specified in the notice the sanitary authority have received such a written undertaking as is described in the notice to the effect that the importer will at his own expense export the meat, and within three days after the receipt by the sanitary authority of the undertaking the importer fails to export the meat, the sanitary authority shall cause the meat to be detroyed under the supervision of the medical officer of health.

Proceedings for proof that foreign meat is not intended for sale.

ARTICLE VIII.—(1) Where, in pursuance of Article VI., a notice has been given by the sanitary authority with respect to any foreign meat, and within the time specified in the notice, the sanitary authority have received such a written undertaking as is described in the notice to the effect that, subject to compliance in all respects with any regulations made under the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907, and in force for the time being, the importer, in proceedings before a justice, in pursuance of those regulations, will prove that the meat is not intended for sale for human consumption, the sanitary authority shall within twenty-four hours after the receipt of the written undertaking take such steps as are prescribed or authorised by this article to obtain the decision of a justice with respect to the subject-matter of the undertaking of the importer or to any subject-matter of this article.

(2) For the purposes of this article, an application may be made by the (g) See post, p. 2411, for forms of notice and certificate.

Appendix II.

sanitary authority to any justice having jurisdiction in the district, and thereupon sub-section (2) of section twenty-eight of the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890, whether that sub-section is or is not in force in the district, and any provision in any Act of Parliament which applies to a proceeding under or consequent upon that sub-section, shall have effect in relation to the proceedings, as if the application were a complaint within the meaning of the said sub-section, and otherwise subject to such modifications and adaptations as are necessary to give effect to the following provisions, that is to say :—

(i.) An order made by a justice under the said sub-section, as applied by this sub-division, shall direct any foreign meat to be destroyed by the sanitary authority under the supervision of the medical officer of health, if the justice is satisfied that, in pursuance of any regulations made under the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907, and in force for the time being, the removal of the meat to a place of destination in England or Wales for any purpose other than exportation has been forbidden, and that, on the evidence adduced before him, there is an absence of proof that the meat is not intended for sale for human consumption.

Where the justice is satisfied, on the evidence adduced before him, that it has been proved that the meat is not intended for sale for human consumption, he shall make an order of dismissal of the application. By that order the justice shall direct that the prohibition of the removal of the meat in pursuance of any such regulation as aforesaid shall cease to have effect.

(ii.) The justice shall further set forth in the order the description of and such other details as will suffice to identify the particluar consignment of meat ; together with the name, description, and abode of the importer, and the name, description and abode of the person to whom the consignment of meat is to be delivered ; and shall forthwith furnish the sanitary authority with a copy of the order.

Prohibition of removal or sale of foreign meat in certain cases.

ARTICLE IX.—Where a notice forbidding the removal of any foreign meat has been given by the medical officer of health in pursuance of sub-division (5) of Article III., or of sub-division (1) of Article IV., and a justice has not, in pursuance of sub-division (2) of Article VIII., directed that the prohibition of the removal of the meat shall cease to have effect, a person shall not at any time remove the meat to a place of destination in England or Wales for any purpose other than exportation.

Record of foreign meat destroyed.

ARTICLE X.—Where the sanitary authority in pursuance of these regulations cause any foreign meat to be destroyed, the sanitary authority, before the destruction of the meat, shall cause the description of, and such other details as will suffice to identify the particular consignment to be duly recorded, shall give to the importer a notice in writing of the destruction of the meat, including the contents of the record, and shall keep the record in their custody for a period of not less than twelve months.

Certificates and notices by post.

ARTICLE XI.—A certificate or notice which, in pursuance of these regulations, the medical officer of health is empowered or required, or the sanitary authority are required to give, may be given by properly addressing, prepaying and posting a letter containing the certificate or notice.

Samples.

ARTICLE XII.—The medical officer of health may, for any purpose of these regulations, take a sample of foreign meat on board a ship, or delivered overside or landed within the district, and shall dispose of the sample in such manner as the sanitary authority direct.

Improper landing and transhipment of foreign meat.

ARTICLE XIII.—A master of a ship or another person shall not knowingly land or put on shore, within the district of a sanitary authority, any foreign meat which, in compliance with a requisition of a sanitary authority in pursuance of these regulations, the importer has caused to be exported.

Answers to questions, &c.

ARTICLE XIV.—A person, in relation to anything within his knowledge, shall answer truly all such questions put by him to, and give all such information to the officer of customs or the medical officer of health as are necessary for any purpose of these regulations ; and a person in relation to anything within his knowledge, and material to any purpose of proceedings in pursuance of these regulations, shall make a true statement, and truly answer any question when required or put by a justice or other competent authority in the course and for any purpose of those proceedings.

Appendix II.

ARTICLE XV.—(1) The sanitary authority may, with our consent, appoint and pay a legally qualified medical practitioner to act in the execution of these regulations, either in the place of, or as an assistant to the medical officer of health.

Substitutes for, or assistants of, medical officers of health.

(2) The sanitary authority may also, with our consent, appoint or employ and pay a person to act, under the direction of the medical officer of health, in the exercise of any such powers or in the discharge of any such duties of the medical officer of health under these regulations as the sanitary authority assign to the person so appointed.

ARTICLE XVI.—A sanitary authority and a local authority, or two or more sanitary authorities or local authorities, shall act together for the purposes of these regulations in every case in which we, by Order, require any such joint action.

Combinations.

In every such case, these regulations shall, in relation to each sanitary authority, to each district or a sanitary authority, to each local authority, and to each area of a local authority to whom and to which the Order applies, have effect subject to such adaptations and modifications as are made by the Order.

ARTICLE XVII.—(1) If a difference arises in relation to any subject-matter of, or to anything done under these regulations, the difference may, on the application of all the parties affected, be referred to us for determination.

Determination of differences.

(2) It shall be at our option to determine any such difference as arbitrators or otherwise; and, if we elect to determine the difference as arbitrators, the provisions of the Regulation of Railways Act, 1868, respecting arbitrations by the Board of Trade, and the enactments amending those provisions, shall apply as if they were re-enacted in these regulations, and in terms made applicable to us, and to the determination of the difference.

(3) Where we elect to determine any such difference otherwise than as arbitrators, we may by our Order determine the difference, and our determination shall be final and conclusive.

(4) Every Order made by us in pursuance of this article shall have effect as if the Order were enacted in these regulations.

ARTICLE XVIII.—These regulations may be cited as "The Public Health (Foreign Meat) Regulations, 1908."

NOTICE.—The Public Health Act, 1896, provides by sub-section 3 of section 1 that if any person wilfully neglects or refuses to obey or carry out, or obstructs the execution of any regulation made under any of the enactments mentioned in that Act he shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds, and, in the case of a continuing offence to a further penalty not exceeding fifty pounds for every day during which the offence continues.

The power of making regulations under the Public Health Act, 1896, and the enactments mentioned in that Act is enlarged by the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907.

Date of publication in the London Gazette, 15th September, 1908.

FOREIGN MEAT REGULATIONS (AMENDMENT), 1909.

TO ALL PORT SANITARY AUTHORITIES; To all other Sanitary Authorities and Local Authorities as herein defined; To all Officers of Customs and Excise; To all Medical Officers of Health of the Sanitary Authorities and Local Authorities aforesaid; To all Masters of Ships; And to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS, in relation to articles of food, the Public Health (Foreign Meat) Regulations, 1908, provide for the use of an official certificate, for the classification of foreign meat, and for the combined action of authorities for the purposes of those regulations ;

And whereas it is expedient that, with respect to the aforesaid matters and to other purposes, the Public Health (Foreign Meat) Regulations, 1908, be altered, and that, accordingly, such regulations as are hereinafter set forth be made ;

And whereas the Commissioners of Customs and Excise have signified their consent to the said regulations, so far as they apply to the officers of Customs and Excise :

NOW THEREFORE, we, the Local Government Board, by this our Order, and in the exercise of the powers conferred upon us by the Public Health Act, 1875, the Public Health (London) Act, 1891, the Public Health Act, 1896, and the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907, and of every other power enabling us in that behalf, do make the following regulations, that is to say :

Revocation of Article I. of former regulations and substitution of altered regulation.

ARTICLE I.—Article I. of the Public Health (Foreign Meat) Regulations, 1908, shall be revoked : and those regulations shall be altered so that they shall have effect, with the substitution for the article so revoked of the following article, namely :—

Interpretation.

" ARTICLE I.—In these regulations, unless the contrary intention appears—

" (a) Words importing the masculine gender include females ;

" (b) Words in the singular include the plural, and words in the plural include the singular ;

" (c) Expressions referring to writing include references to printing and other modes of representing or reproducing words in a visible form ;

" (d) The expression ' cattle ' includes a bull, cow, ox, heifer, calf, ram, ewe, wether, goat, and kid ;

" (e) The expression ' pig ' includes a boar, sow, and hog ;

" (f) The expression ' meat ' means pork, the flesh of cattle, any other edible part of a pig or of cattle, or a substance, compound, material, or article of which pork, or the flesh of cattle, or any other edible part of a pig or of cattle is an ingredient ;

" (g) The expression ' foreign ' used in relation to meat means brought from a place situate elsewhere than in the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands, or the Isle of Man ;

" (h) The expression ' official certificate ' (h) used in relation to foreign meat or in relation to a box, case, receptacle, or package containing foreign meat, means a certificate, label, mark, stamp, or other voucher which, by a notice published in the London Gazette at any time during the period of twelve months beginning on the first day of October, one thousand nine hundred and eight, or which, by a notice published in the London Gazette after the expiration of that period, is declared to be admissible in the manner, to the extent, and subject to the rules and conditions, prescribed in that notice, as evidence that the cattle or pig from which the meat is derived has been certified by a competent authority in the place of origin to be free from disease at the time of slaughter, and that the meat has been certified by the like authority to have been dressed or prepared, and packed with the needful observance of all requirements for the prevention of danger arising to public health from the meat as an article of food ; and, for the purposes of this definition and of any regulations under the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907, every official certificate which, by a notice published in the London Gazette at any time during the period of twelve months beginning on the first day of October,

(h) Official vouchers recognised for Denmark, Netherlands, Canada and New Zealand were printed in the Gazette of January 22nd, 1909; for Netherlands (substituted form) in that of April 20th, 1909 ; for Belgium, New South Wales and Victoria in that of September 24th, 1909 ; for Queensland in that of October 18th, 1910; for Sweden in that of April 3rd, 1914 ; and for Russia in those of February 24th and May 12th, 1914.

one thousand nine hundred and eight, is declared to be admissible as aforesaid, shall, notwithstanding anything prescribed in the notice, continue to be so admissible until, by a further notice to be published in the London Gazette, the said official certificate is declared to be no longer so admissible ;

"(i) The expression 'foreign meat of Class I.' means foreign meat in the form

"(A) Of scrap meat, namely, meat which, whether it is fresh, or has, before importation, been subjected to a process of freezing or other refrigeration, or to chemical or other treatment, with or without the addition of any preservative or colouring substance—

"(i.) consists of scraps, trimmings or other pieces (whether with or without bone in its natural state of attachment) of such shape or in such condition as to afford insufficient means of identification with definite parts of a carcase ; and

"(ii.) has not, before importation, been made ready for human consumption in the form of a sausage, or of another prepared or manufactured article of food ;

or

"(B) Of tripe, namely, any edible part of the stomach, or

"Of a tongue, or kidney, to which formalin, or a solution, or other preparation of, or comprising formic aldehyde ; or a compound containing fluorine or boron ; or salicylic acid, formic acid, sulphurous acid, benzoic acid, or any compound of any such acid has been applied ;

or

"(C) Of severed parts of the carcase of a pig, or of other edible parts of a pig, which have not, before importation, been salted, cured, pickled, dried, or smoked, or otherwise prepared in the manner in which bacon or ham is ordinarily prepared, and which are not contained in a box, case, receptacle, or package with an official certificate impressed thereon, or affixed or attached thereto ;

or

"(D) Of severed parts of the carcase of a pig, or of other edible parts of a pig, which have, before importation, been salted, cured, pickled, dried, or smoked, or otherwise prepared in the manner in which bacon or ham is ordinarily prepared, and which are not contained in a box, case, receptacle, or package with an official certificate impressed thereon, or affixed or attached thereto, and which, in the case of the severed parts of the carcase, are without the lymphatic glands about those parts in their natural position ;

or

"(E) Of meat which, whether derived from cattle or a pig, is in the form of a carcase, or of a part of a carcase, and, in either case, comprises the ribs, and is without any such membrane as, in its natural position, forms the lining of the cavity enclosed by the ribs ;

"(j) The expression 'foreign meat of Class II.' means foreign meat which, being in the form of the entire carcase of a pig, is without the head in its natural state of attachment to the carcase, or is without the lymphatic glands about the throat, or about any other part of the carcase, in their natural position ;

"(k) The expression 'foreign meat of Class III.' means foreign meat which is in the form of severed parts of the carcase of a pig, or of other edible parts of a pig, which is not and does not comprise any foreign meat of Class I., or any foreign meat of Class II., and which is contained in a box, case, receptacle, or package with an official certificate impressed thereon, or affixed or attached thereto ;

"(l) The expression 'foreign meat unclassed' means foreign meat other than foreign meat of Class I., foreign meat of Class II., or foreign meat of Class III. ;

Appendix II.

"(m) The expression 'importer' means any person in the United Kingdom who, either as owner or consignee, agent or broker, is entitled to the possession, custody, or control of any foreign meat;

"(n) The expression 'ship' includes a vessel or boat;

"(o) The expression 'officer of Customs and Excise' includes any person acting under the authority of the Commissioners of Customs and Excise;

"(p) The expression 'master' used in relation to a ship includes the officer, or other person for the time being in charge or command of the ship;

"(q) The expression 'sanitary authority' means every port sanitary authority, and every council of a municipal borough or other urban district, and every rural district council whose borough or district includes or abuts on any part of a Customs port which part is not within the jurisdiction of a port sanitary authority;

"(r) The expression 'the district' means the district of a sanitary authority;

"(s) The expression 'medical officer of health' includes any duly qualified medical practitioner appointed or employed by a sanitary authority to act in the execution of these regulations; and any other person appointed or employed by the sanitary authority under these regulations to exercise any powers, or to discharge any duties assigned to the medical officer of health;

"(t) The expression 'local authority' means every council of a municipal borough or other urban district and every rural district council, not being a sanitary authority within the meaning of these regulations, and includes the common council of the city of London and every council of a metropolitan borough;

"(u) The expression 'area' used in relation to a local authority means the area subject to the jurisdiction of the local authority for the purposes of the Public Health Act, 1875, or of the Public Health (London) Act, 1891, as the case may be."

Commencement and extent of operation of amending regulations.

ARTICLE II.—These regulations shall come into operation on the thirtieth day of September, one thousand nine hundred and nine, and then and thereafter the Public Health (Foreign Meat) Regulations, 1908, and any Order theretofore made in pursuance of Article XVI. of those regulations shall apply and have effect and shall be enforced and executed in such form and in such manner as will give full effect to the alterations made by these regulations, and as if, throughout the Public Health (Foreign Meat) Regulations, 1908, references to an officer of Customs and Excise were substituted for references to an officer of Customs, and as if, throughout any such Order, references to the Public Health (Foreign Meat) Regulations, 1908, as altered by these regulations, were substituted for references to the Public Health (Foreign Meat) Regulations, 1908, and references to an officer of Customs and Excise were substituted for references to an officer of Customs.

Short title.

ARTICLE III.—These regulations may be cited as "The Public Health (Foreign Meat) Amending Regulations, 1909."

HOUSING AND TOWN PLANNING.

Reference may be made also to the following official publications:—Memoranda (December, 1909) as to the effect of the Housing, Town Planning, etc., Act, 1909; Memorandum (May, 1910) as to the Procedure Regulations (post, p. 2437); Memorandum (March 25th, 1913) as to the provision and arrangement of houses for the working classes.

INSTRUCTIONS AS TO APPLICATIONS TO THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD FOR THE CONFIRMATION OF IMPROVEMENT SCHEMES UNDER PART I. OF THE HOUSING OF THE WORKING CLASSES ACT, 1890, AS AMENDED BY SECTION 5 OF THE HOUSING OF THE WORKING CLASSES ACT, 1903, AND SECTIONS 22, 23, 24, AND 27 OF THE HOUSING, TOWN PLANNING, ETC., ACT, 1909.

1. The application must be made by a petition, under the seal of the local authority and containing the particulars required by section 8 of the Act of 1890.

2. The petition should be accompanied by the following documents and particulars:—

(a) A copy of the official representation.

(b) Two copies of the improvement scheme.

(c) Two copies of the estimate of the cost of carrying the scheme into effect.

(d) Particulars of the scheme, giving the acreage of the area affected by it, the number of persons of the working classes who will be displaced, the approximate rents paid by such persons, and the number of such persons for whom, and the place or places at which, dwelling accommodation is to be provided. Where this accommodation is not intended to be provided within the limits of the area included in the scheme, the reason for this course must be stated, and the distance by the nearest public thoroughfare from that area must be given. The particulars should also show, as far as practicable, in what way the area included in the scheme, and the place or places at which dwelling accommodation for the working classes is to be provided, may be dealt with so as to carry out the purposes of the Acts and the proposed scheme.

(e) Maps showing (1) the area included in the official representation, and (2) the area included in the improvement scheme (which maps are hereinafter referred to as the "deposited maps"), (3) any site where dwelling accommodation is to be provided which is not within the area included in the scheme, and (4) the position of each site in relation to the area included in the scheme; and a book of reference to the deposited maps in duplicate. The several properties should be numbered consecutively on the deposited maps. Each parcel of land, notwithstanding that several may belong to one owner, should be separately numbered, the outside boundaries of each parcel being defined by hard lines, and the buildings (if any) on each parcel being linked into it, so that it may be seen to what properties each number applies. The book of reference should be prepared on the ground at the same time as and in conjunction with the deposited maps, each parcel of land being numbered to correspond with the deposited maps, and being described so as to show clearly what properties are covered by each number.

Appendix II.

(f) Particulars showing, by reference where practicable to the numbers of the properties on the maps, (1) the area included in the official representation ; (2) any lands (a) excluded from such area by the local authority, or (b) included in it by the local authority, under section 6 (1) (a) of the Act of 1890, as amended by the Act of 1909, and the reasons for such exclusion or inclusion ; (3) any lands included for widening existing approaches to the unhealthy area or otherwise for opening out the same for purposes of ventilation or health, under section 6 (1) (b) ; (4) the proposals under section 23 of the Act of 1909 as to the closing or diversion of any highways or any other matter; and (5) the lands proposed to be taken compulsorily.

(g) A statutory declaration, specifying in which of the modes mentioned in section 7 of the Act of 1890 the notices have been served, and the names of the persons so served. This declaration should be made by the person who served the notices.

(h) A statutory declaration made by the clerk to the local authority, showing that all the other requirements of section 7 of the Act of 1890, as amended by section 5 (1) of the Act of 1903, have been complied with, and that the petition states the names of all the owners or reputed owners and lessees or reputed lessees who have dissented in respect of the taking of their lands. Copies of the newspapers containing the advertisements, and also of the form of notice served on the owners, lessees, and occupiers, should be annexed to the declaration as exhibits.

3. Every statutory declaration must be made or sworn before a justice of the peace or a commissioner for oaths, and must be stamped with a half-crown impressed stamp, and each exhibit to a statutory declaration must be marked by the declarant, and by the justice of the peace or commissioner for oaths, as the case may be, in the usual way.

N.B.—It is particularly requested that the petition, declaration, notices, and other documents may be on foolscap paper of the usual size.

Local Government Board, Whitehall,

INSTRUCTIONS AS TO APPLICATIONS TO THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD FOR ORDERS SANCTIONING RECONSTRUCTION SCHEMES UNDER PART II. OF THE HOUSING OF THE WORKING CLASSES ACT, 1890, AS AMENDED BY SECTION 7 OF THE HOUSING OF THE WORKING CLASSES ACT, 1903, AND SECTIONS 23, 24, AND 46 OF THE HOUSING, TOWN PLANNING, ETC., ACT, 1909.

The application must be made by a petition, under the seal of the local authority, and should be accompanied by the following documents and particulars :—

(1) A copy of each order for demolition, affecting the reconstruction scheme, which may have been made in pursuance of Part II. of the Act of 1890, as amended by the Act of 1909 [see section 39 (1) (a) of the Act of 1890].

(2) A copy of any report of a committee or of the medical officer of health of the local authority relating to the area and the proposed scheme.

(3) A copy of the resolution of the local authority under section 39 (1) of the Act of 1890.

(4) Two copies of the scheme.

(5) Two copies of the estimate of the cost of carrying the scheme into effect.

(6) Particulars of the scheme, giving the extent and total population of the area to which it relates, the number of persons of the working classes who will be displaced, the approximate rents paid by such persons, and the number of such persons for whom, and the place or places at which, dwelling accommodation is to be provided. Where this accommodation is not intended to be provided within the limits of the area included in the scheme, the reason for this course must be stated, and the distance by the nearest public thoroughfare from that area must be given. The particulars should also show, as far as practicable, in what way the area included in the scheme, and the place or places at which dwelling accommodation for the working classes is to be provided may be dealt with so as to carry out the purposes of the Acts and the proposed scheme.

(7) Maps showing (1) the area to which the scheme relates (hereinafter referred to as the "deposited map"), (2) any site where dwelling accommodation is to be provided which is not within the area included in the scheme, and (3) the position of the site in relation to the area included in the scheme; together with a book of reference to the deposited map in duplicate. The several properties should be numbered consecutively on the deposited map. Each parcel of land, notwithstanding that several may belong to one owner, should be separately numbered, the outside boundaries of each parcel being defined by hard lines and the buildings (if any) on each parcel being linked into it, so that it may be seen to what properties each number applies. The book of reference should be prepared on the ground at the same time as and in conjunction with the deposited map, each parcel of land being numbered to correspond with the deposited map, and being described so as to show clearly what properties are covered by each number.

(8) Particulars showing, by reference where practicable to the numbers of the properties on the deposited map, (A) any neighbouring lands included in the area comprised in the scheme under section 7 of the Act of 1903, and the reasons for such inclusion; (B) any lands included for widening existing approaches to the area or otherwise for opening out the same for purposes of ventilation or health, under section 6 (1) (b) of the Act of 1890, as applied by section 23 (2) of the Act of 1909; (C) the proposals under section 23 (1) of the Act of 1909 as to the closing or diversion of any highways or any other matter; and (D) the lands, if any, proposed to be taken compulsorily.

(9) A statutory declaration as to the service of the notices required to be given under sub-section (2) of section 39 of the Act of 1890, specifying as regards every owner or reputed owner, lessee or reputed lessee, and occupier, in which of the modes mentioned in section 7 (c) (d) of the Act the notices have been served. The statutory declaration must be made or sworn before a justice of the peace or a commissioner for oaths by the person who served the notices, and must be stamped with a half-crown impressed stamp, and each exhibit to a statutory declaration must be marked by the declarant, and by the justice of the peace or commissioner for oaths, as the case may be, in the usual way. Copies of the form of notice served on the owners, lessees, and occupiers, should be annexed to the declaration as exhibits.

(10) A statement of the names of all the owners or reputed owners and lessees or reputed lessees who have dissented in respect of the taking of their lands.

N.B.—It is particularly requested that the petition, declaration, notices, and other documents may be on foolscap paper of the usual size.

Local Government Board, Whitehall.

FORMS OF ADVERTISEMENT AND NOTICES: IMPROVEMENT SCHEME. Appendix II.

TO THE SEVERAL LOCAL AUTHORITIES IN ENGLAND AND WALES for the purposes of Part I. of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, as amended by the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1903, and the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909; And to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS by section 27 of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890 (herein-after referred to as "the Act of 1890"), which section is included in Part I. of the Act of 1890, it was enacted as follows:—

"The confirming authority may by order prescribe the forms of advertisements and notices under this part of this Act; it shall not be obligatory on any persons to adopt such forms, but the same, when adopted, shall be deemed sufficient for all the purposes of this part of this Act."

And whereas, in pursuance of the said enactment, the Secretary of State and the Local Government Board, as the confirming authorities within the meaning of Part I. of the Act of 1890, by the Orders described in the first schedule to this Order (which Orders are herein-after referred to as "the Orders"), prescribed certain forms of advertisement and notices under Part I. of the Act of 1890;

And whereas by an Order of the Privy Council issued in pursuance of section 2 of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1903, and dated the 27th day of February, 1905, all the powers and duties of the Secretary of State under the Housing Acts were transferred to the Local Government Board;

And whereas the said section 27 of the Act of 1890 was repealed by section 75 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909 (herein-after referred to as "the Act of 1909"), and by section 41 of the Act of 1909, which section is included in Part I. of the Act of 1909, it is enacted as follows:—

"The Local Government Board may by order prescribe the form of any notice, advertisement, or other document to be used in connection with the powers and duties of a local authority or of the Board under the Housing Acts, and the forms so prescribed, or forms as near thereto as circumstances admit, shall be used in all cases to which those forms are applicable."

And whereas by virtue of section 51 of the Act of 1909, in Part I. of that Act the expression "Housing Acts" means the Act of 1890, and any Act amending that Act, including the Act of 1909;

And whereas it is expedient that, in pursuance of the said section 41 of the Act of 1909, forms should be prescribed which shall be used in substitution for the forms prescribed by the Orders:

NOW THEREFORE, we, the Local Government Board, in pursuance of the powers given to us by the statutes in that behalf, by this Order do prescribe the several forms set forth in the second schedule to this Order to be used in connection with the powers and duties of a local authority under Part I. of the Act of 1890; and we hereby declare that the said forms shall be in substitution for the forms prescribed by the Orders described in the first schedule to this Order.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

Order of the Secretary of State dated the 5th day of November, 1890, and addressed to the London County Council and to the Commissioners of Sewers of the City of London.

Section 15 (3).

FORM No. 2.

Form of Notice requiring Landlord to execute works in the case of a house to which Section 15 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909, applies.

To [1] , the landlord of the house [2]

Take Notice—

That it appears to the [3] that the undertaking implied by virtue of section 15 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909, to the effect that the above-mentioned house to which that section applies shall be kept by you in all respects reasonably fit for human habitation, has not been complied with ;

And that, in pursuance of sub-section (3) of the said section, the said [3] do hereby require you within a period of † days, ending on the day of , one thousand nine hundred and , to execute the works herein specified as being necessary to make the said house in all respects reasonably fit for human habitation, that is to say, the several works hereinafter set forth, namely [4]—

Dated this day of , 19 .

† A reasonable time, not being less than twenty-one days, must be specified.

Directions for filling up this form.

Insert—
[1] Name, residence or place of business, and description, where known, of landlord.
[2] Such a description of the house as may be sufficient for its identification.
[3] Description of the local authority.
[4] Description of works to be executed.

NOTE.—By sub-section (4) of section 15 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909, it is provided that—

Within twenty-one days after the receipt of such notice [i.e., a written notice by the local authority to the landlord pursuant to section 15 (3)] the landlord may by written notice to the local authority declare his intention of closing the house for human habitation, and thereupon a closing order shall be deemed to have become operative in respect of such house.

Sub-section (5) of that section is in these terms—

If the notice given by the local authority is not complied with, and if the landlord has not given the notice mentioned in the immediately preceding sub-section, the authority may, at the expiration of the time specified in the notice given by them to the landlord, do the work required to be done and recover the expenses incurred by them in so doing from the landlord as a civil debt in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts, or, if they think fit, the authority may by order declare any such expenses to be payable by annual instalments within a period not exceeding that of the interest of the landlord in the house, nor in any case five years, with interest at a rate not exceeding five pounds per cent. per annum, until the whole amount is paid, and any such instalments or interest or any part thereof may be recovered from the landlord as a civil debt in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts.

With respect to appeals, sub-section (6) of the same section enacts as follows :—

A landlord may appeal to the Local Government Board against any notice requiring him to execute works under this section, and against any demand for the recovery of expenses from him under this section or order made with respect to those expenses under this section by the authority, by giving notice of appeal to the Board within twenty-one days after the notice is received, or the demand or order is made, as the case may be, and no proceedings shall be taken in respect of such notice requiring works, order, or demand, whilst the appeal is pending.

And section 39 contains the following provisions—

(1) The procedure on any appeal under this part [i.e., Part I.] of this Act, including costs, to the Local Government Board shall be such as the Board may by rules determine, and on any such appeal the Board may make such order in the matter as they think equitable, and any order so made shall be binding and conclusive on all parties, and, where the appeal is against any notice, order, or apportionment given or made by the local authority, the notice, order, or apportionment may be confirmed, varied, or quashed, as the Board think just.

Provided that—

(a) the Local Government Board may at any stage of the proceedings on appeal, and shall, if so directed by the High Court, state in the form of a special case for the opinion of the court any question of law arising in the course of the appeal; and

(b) the rules shall provide that the Local Government Board shall not dismiss any appeal without having first held a public local inquiry.

(2) Any notice, order, or apportionment as respects which an appeal to the Local Government Board is given under this part of this Act shall not become operative, until either the time within which an appeal can be made under this part of this Act has elapsed without an appeal being made, or, in case an appeal is made, the appeal is determined or abandoned, and no work shall be done or proceedings taken under any such notice, order, or apportionment, until it becomes operative.

(3) The Local Government Board may, before considering any appeal which may be made to them under this part of this Act, require the appellant to deposit such sum to cover the costs of the appeal as may be fixed by the rules made by them with reference to appeals.

Rules determining the procedure on any such appeal have been made by the Local Government Board, and have been placed on sale so that copies may be obtained, either directly or through any bookseller, from Messrs. Wyman and Sons, Limited, Fetter Lane, London, E.C.

NOTE.—By sub-section (5) of section 15 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909, it is provided that any instalments or interest or any part of any instalments or interest under an order of the local authority declaring their expenses to be payable by annual instalments may be recovered from the landlord as a civil debt provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts.

With respect to appeals, sub-section (6) of the same section enacts as follows:—

A landlord may appeal to the Local Government Board against any notice requiring him to execute works under this section, and against any demand for the recovery of expenses from him under this section or order made with respect to those expenses under this section by the authority, by giving notice of appeal to the Board within twenty-one days after the notice is received, or the demand or order is made, as the case may be, and no proceedings shall be taken in respect of such notice requiring works, order, or demand whilst the appeal is pending.

And section 39 contains the following provisions:—

(1) The procedure on any appeal under this part [i.e., Part I.] of this Act, including costs, to the Local Government Board shall be such as the Board may by rules determine, and on any such appeal the Board may make such order in the matter as they think equitable, and any order so made shall be binding and conclusive on all parties, and, where the appeal is against any notice, order, or apportionment given or made by the local authority, the notice, order, or apportionment may be confirmed, varied, or quashed, as the Board think just.

Provided that—

(a) the Local Government Board may at any stage of the proceedings on appeal, and shall, if so directed by the High Court, state in the form of a special case for the opinion of the court any question of law arising in the course of the appeal; and

(b) the rules shall provide that the Local Government Board shall not dismiss any appeal without having first held a public local inquiry.

(2) Any notice, order, or apportionment as respects which an appeal to the Local Government Board is given under this part of this Act shall not become operative, until either the time within which an appeal can be made under this part of this Act has elapsed without an appeal being made, or, in case an appeal is made, the appeal is determined or abandoned, and no work shall be done or proceedings taken under any such notice, order, or apportionment, until it becomes operative.

(3) The Local Government Board may, before considering any appeal which may be made to them under this part of this Act, require the appellant to deposit such sum to cover the costs of the appeal as may be fixed by the rules made by them with reference to appeals.

HOUSING, TOWN PLANNING, &c. ACT, 1909.

PART I.

Section 17 (2).

FORM No. 5.

Form of Closing Order.

To [1] , owner of the dwelling-house [2]

Whereas under sub-section (2) of section 17 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909, it is the duty of the local authority if, on the representation of the medical officer of health, or of any other officer of the local authority, or other information given, any dwelling-house appears to the local authority to be in a state so dangerous or injurious to health as to be unfit for human habitation, to make a closing order, that is to say, an order prohibiting the use of the dwelling-house for human habitation until in the judgment of the local authority the dwelling-house is rendered fit for that purpose;

And whereas it appears to the [3] on the [4] that the above-mentioned dwelling-house is in a state so dangerous or injurious to health as to be unfit for human habitation;

——

Now, therefore, we, the said [3] in pursuance of sub-section (2) of section 17 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909, do, by this our order, prohibit the use of the said dwelling-house for human habitation, until, in our judgment, it is rendered fit for that purpose.

Dated this day of , 19 .

NOTE.—By sub-section (3) of section 17 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909, it is provided that—

Notice of a closing order shall be forthwith served on every owner of the dwelling-house in respect of which it is made, and any owner aggrieved by the order may appeal to the Local Government Board by giving notice of appeal to the Board within fourteen days after the order is served upon him.

As regards the definition of " owner," the effect of section 49 (2) is to substitute for the definition of owner in section 29 in Part II. of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, as applied by section 47 of the Act of 1909, the following definition—

" The expression ' owner ' in addition to the definition given by the Lands Clauses Acts, includes all lessees or mortgagees of any premises required to be dealt with under this part of this Act, except persons holding or entitled to the rents and profits of such premises under a lease the original term whereof is less than twenty-one years."

With respect to appeals, section 39 contains the following provisions—

(1) The procedure on any appeal under this part [i.e., Part I.] of this Act, including costs, to the Local Government Board shall be such as the Board may by rules determine, and on any such appeal the Board may make such order in the matter as they think equitable, and any order so made shall be binding and conclusive on all parties, and, where the appeal is against any notice, order, or apportionment given or made by the local authority, the notice, order, or apportionment may be confirmed, varied, or quashed, as the Board think just.

Provided that—

(a) The Local Government Board may at any stage of the proceedings on appeal, and shall, if so directed by the High Court, state in the form of a special case for the opinion of the court any question of law arising in the course of the appeal; and

(b) The rules shall provide that the Local Government Board shall not dismiss any appeal without having first held a public local inquiry.

(2) Any notice, order, or apportionment as respects which an appeal to the Local Government Board is given under this part of this Act shall not become operative until either the time within which an appeal can be made under this part of this Act has elapsed without an appeal being made, or, in case an appeal is made, the appeal is determined or abandoned, and no work shall be done or proceedings taken under any such notice, order, or apportionment, until it becomes operative.

(3) The Local Government Board may, before considering any appeal which may be made to them under this part of this Act, require the appellant to deposit such sum to cover the costs of the appeal as may be fixed by the rules made by them with reference to appeals.

Rules determining the procedure on any such appeal have been made by the Local Government Board, and have been placed on sale so that copies may be obtained, either directly or through any bookseller, from Messrs. Wyman and Sons, Fetter Lane, London, E.C.

Appendix II.

HOUSING, TOWN PLANNING, &c. ACT, 1909: REGULATIONS UNDER SECTION 17 (1).

TO THE SEVERAL LOCAL AUTHORITIES IN ENGLAND AND WALES for the purposes of Part II. of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890; And to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS by sub-section (1) of section 17 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909, it is enacted that it shall be the duty of every local authority within the meaning of Part II. of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890 (herein-after referred to as "the local authority") to cause to be made from time to time inspection of their district, with a view to ascertain whether any dwelling-house therein is in a state so dangerous or injurious to health as to be unfit for human habitation, and that for that purpose it shall be the duty of the local authority, and of every officer of the local authority, to comply with such regulations and to keep such records as may be prescribed by the Local Government Board.

NOW THEREFORE, we, the Local Government Board, in pursuance of the powers given to us in that behalf, by this Order, prescribe the following regulations; that is to say:—

ARTICLE I.—(1) The local authority shall as early as practicable after the date of this Order take into consideration the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 17 of the Act of 1909, and shall determine the procedure to be adopted under these regulations, to give effect to the requirements of that sub-section in regard to the inspection of their district from time to time.

(2) The local authority shall as part of their procedure make provision for a thorough inspection to be carried out from time to time according to the varying needs or circumstances of the dwelling-houses or localities in the district of the local authority.

(3) The local authority shall cause to be prepared from time to time by the medical officer of health, or by an officer designated by them but acting under his direction and supervision, a list or lists of dwelling-houses the early inspection of which is, in the opinion of the medical officer of health, desirable. The list or lists may, if thought fit, relate to the dwelling-houses within a defined area of the district without specifying each house separately therein.

ARTICLE II.—The inspection under and for the purposes of sub-section (1) of section 17 of the Act of 1909 shall be made by the medical officer of health, or by an officer designated by the local authority but acting under his direction and supervision, and the officer making inspection of any dwelling-house shall examine the state of the dwelling-house in relation to the following matters, namely:—

(1) The arrangements for preventing the contamination of the water supply.
(2) Closet accommodation.
(3) Drainage.
(4) The condition of the dwelling-house in regard to light, the free circulation of air, dampness, and cleanliness.
(5) The paving, drainage, and sanitary condition of any yard or out-houses belonging to or occupied with the dwelling house.
(6) The arrangements for the deposit of refuse and ashes.
(7) The existence of any room which would in pursuance of sub-section (7) of section 17 of the Act of 1909 be a dwelling-house so dangerous or injurious to health as to be unfit for human habitation.
(8) Any defects in other matters which may tend to render the dwelling-house dangerous or injurious to the health of an inhabitant.

ARTICLE III.—Records of the inspection of dwelling-houses made under and for the purposes of sub-section (1) of section 17 of the Act of 1909 shall be prepared under the direction and supervision of the medical officer of health, and shall be kept by the officer of the local authority making the inspection or by some other officer appointed or employed for the purpose by the local authority.

The records may be kept in a book or books or on separate sheets or cards, and shall contain information, under appropriate headings, as to :—

1. The situation of the dwelling-house, and its name or number,
2. The name of the officer who made the inspection,
3. The date when the dwelling-house was inspected,
4. The date of the last previous inspection and a reference to the record thereof,
5. The state of the dwelling-house in regard to each of the matters referred to in Article II. of these regulations,
6. Any action taken by the medical officer of health, or other officer of the local authority, either independently or on the directions of the local authority,
7. The result of any action so taken,
8. Any further action which should be taken in respect of the dwelling-house.

ARTICLE IV.—The local authority shall, as far as may be necessary, take into consideration at each of their ordinary meetings the records kept in pursuance of Article III. of these regulations, and shall give all such directions and take all such action within their powers as may be necessary or desirable in regard to any dwelling-house to which the records relate, and a note of any directions so given and the result of any action taken shall be added to the records.

ARTICLE V.—The medical officer of health shall include in his annual report information and particulars in tabular form in regard to the number of dwelling-houses inspected under and for the purposes of section 17 of the Act of 1909, the number of dwelling-houses which on inspection were considered to be in a state so dangerous or injurious to health as to be unfit for human habitation, the number of representations made to the local authority with a view to the making of closing orders, the number of closing orders made, the number of dwelling-houses the defects in which were remedied without the making of closing orders, the number of dwelling-houses which after the making of closing orders were put into a fit state for human habitation, and the general character of the defects found to exist. He shall also include any other information and particulars which he may consider desirable in regard to the work of inspection under the said section.

ARTICLE VI.—The medical officer of health and any other officer of the local authority shall observe and execute all lawful orders and directions of the local authority in regard to or incidental to the inspection of the district of the local authority under and for the purposes of section 17 of the Act of 1909, and the execution of these regulations.

ARTICLE VII.—In these regulations " the Act of 1909 " means the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909.

ARTICTE VIII.—These regulations may be cited as the Housing (Inspection of District) Regulations, 1910.

WHEREAS by section 39 in Part I. of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909 [the section (see ante, p. 1176) is set out].

NOW THEREFORE, we, the Local Government Board, for the purpose of determining the procedure on any appeal under Part I. of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909, do hereby make the following rules, that is to say—

RULE 1.—Every appeal to the Local Government Board shall be made to and be brought before the Local Government Board by means of a letter, or other representation in writing (hereinafter referred to as a "statement of appeal") which shall be addressed and posted, or shall be otherwise given, sent, or delivered to the Local Government Board at their office, and of which a copy shall, at the same time, be addressed and posted, or shall be otherwise given, sent, or delivered to the local authority at their office.

RULE 2.—Every statement of appeal shall be signed by or on behalf of every person (hereinafter referred to as an "appellant") who makes or who joins in making the appeal, or, where an appellant is a corporation, or an association or body of persons unincorporate, shall be signed by an officer of or other person described as duly authorised by the corporation, association, or body, and shall bear a date corresponding to that of the day on which the requisite signature is affixed to the statement of appeal.

RULE 3.—Every statement of appeal shall set forth in detail the grounds of the appeal, all material facts in relation to the description or position of every appellant as a party to the appeal, and to his interest in any dwelling-house or premises to which the appeal has reference, or to his interest in or to such other concern or association as he may have with any subject-matter of the appeal, and also all material facts in relation to any such proceeding by a local authority or by an officer of or person authorised by a local authority as affects the grounds of appeal, the appellant, the interest of the appellant in any dwelling-house or premises to which the appeal has reference, or the interest of the appellant in or such other concern or association as he may have with the subject-matter of the appeal.

RULE 4.—Every statement of appeal shall be accompanied by every such document as an appellant has in his possession or at his disposal, and is able to furnish, and as consists of, or comprises, or gives particulars of, any notice, order, demand, or apportionment relating to the grounds or subject-matter of the appeal, or otherwise relating to any material facts set forth in the appeal; and shall show by appropriate particulars in the statement of appeal, or by an appropriate entry on any such document accompanying the statement of appeal, the date of service upon an appellant of the notice, order, demand, or apportionment.

RULE 5.—Where an appeal appears to the Local Government Board to require, for its due consideration, that information, other than such information as is set forth in the statement of appeal, or is supplied by means of any document accompanying the statement of appeal, or by means of any statement by or correspondence with an appellant or the local authority respecting the appeal, shall be furnished to the Local Government Board, the requisite information shall, on the written request of the Local Government Board, be furnished by an appellant or by the local authority, as the case may be, in such manner, in such form, and within such time as the Local Government Board in writing specify.

Rule 6.—Where the Local Government Board on an appeal are satisfied that there is reasonable cause for dispensing, either conditionally or unconditionally, with compliance with any requirement of the foregoing rules, or for varying any such requirement, the Local Government Board may by a notification in writing to an appellant or to the local authority, as the case may be, give the necessary dispensation to the appellant or to the local authority, as the case may be, or may make and give effect to the necessary variation and to any incidents or consequences of that variation ; and, in the case of any such dispensation when given subject to any condition, or in the case of any such variation, an appellant or the local authority, as the case may be, shall comply in all respects with the condition or variation, and with any requirement of the notification by the Local Government Board, as if the condition, variation, or requirement formed part of the foregoing rules.

Rule 7.—Where the Local Government Board, before considering an appeal, require an appellant to deposit a sum to cover the costs of the appeal, the sum shall be—

(a) In every case in which the office of the local authority is at a distance not exceeding fifty miles from the office of the Local Government Board—

Seven pounds ; and

(b) In every other case—

Ten pounds.

For the purposes of this rule, the distance shall be measured by a straight line drawn on the third edition of the map of the Ordnance Survey on the scale of $\frac{1}{63360}$, or one mile to one inch, from the nearest point in one office to the nearest point in the other office.

Rule 8.—Except so far as this rule otherwise provides and so far as regards any costs incurred by the Local Government Board in relation to a public local inquiry held in pursuance of these rules, all costs of and incidental to an appeal shall, when incurred by an appellant or by the local authority, be borne by the appellant or by the local authority as the case may be : Provided that the Local Government Board may, by any Order made under subsection (1) of section 39 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909, direct by whom any such costs, when incurred by an appellant or by the local authority, shall be borne ; and that nothing in this rule shall have effect in contravention or in derogation of any such direction.

Rule 9.—The Local Government Board shall not dismiss an appeal without having first held a public local inquiry.

Where the Local Government Board are required to hold a public local inquiry, and written notice of the time and place at which the inquiry will be held has been given by the Local Government Board to every appellant and to the local authority, a printed copy of the notice shall be posted by the local authority at every place specified in writing by the Local Government Board as necessary or suitable for the purpose.

Given under the Seal of Office of the Local Government Board, this eleventh day of January, in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

HOUSING, TOWN PLANNING, &c. ACT, 1909: REGULATIONS FOR COMPULSORY PURCHASE OF LAND.

To the several Local Authorities in England and Wales for the purposes of Part III. of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890; To the several Local Authorities in England and Wales for the purposes of Part II. of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909; And to all others whom it may concern.

Whereas [section 2 (1), (2), section 60 (1), (2) and Schedule I. (1), (2), (4), (5), (6), (12), (13), of the Act are recited].

Now therefore, in the exercise of the powers in that behalf, we do, by this our Order, direct and prescribe as follows; that is to say,—

Article I.—An order made by a local authority under the First Schedule to the Act (hereinafter referred to as "the compulsory order") shall be in the form set forth in the schedule hereto, or in a form to the like effect.

Article II.—(1) Before submitting the compulsory order to us for confirmation, the local authority shall cause the same to be published by advertisement in two successive weeks in one or more of the local newspapers circulating in the district of the local authority and in the parish or parishes in which the land to which the compulsory order relates is situated.

(2) The advertisements shall be headed respectively "First Advertisement" and "Second and Last Advertisement," and the first of the said advertisements shall be published not later than the tenth day after the making of the compulsory order.

(3) Each of the said advertisements shall contain in addition to a copy of the compulsory order a notice setting out the following particulars:—

(a) a statement that any objection to the compulsory order must be presented to us within the period of one calendar month from and after the date of the publication of the second and last advertisement; and

(b) a statement of the period, times, and place or places during and at which the deposited plan referred to in the schedule to the compulsory order may be inspected by or on behalf of any person interested in the land to which the compulsory order relates.

(4) The plan referred to in the schedule to the compulsory order shall be deposited by the local authority not later than the tenth day after the making of the compulsory order at a place convenient for the purposes of inspection, and shall be kept deposited thereat for a period not being less than one calendar month from the date of the publication of the second and last advertisement and the said plan shall be open for inspection by any person interested or affected, without payment of any fee, at all reasonable hours on any week-day during the said period. The local authority shall also make suitable provision for affording to any such person inspecting the said plan any necessary explanation or information in regard thereto.

Article III.—(1) The local authority shall, not later than the tenth day after the making of the compulsory order, cause notice thereof to be given to every owner, lessee, and occupier of the land to which the compulsory order relates, and every such notice shall include a printed copy of the compulsory order, to which shall be appended a notice containing the particulars mentioned in sub-division (3) of Article II. of this Order.

(2) The local authority shall furnish a printed copy of the compulsory order, free of charge, to any person interested in the land to which the compulsory order relates, upon his applying for the same.

Article IV.—The period within which an objection to a compulsory order may be presented to us by a person interested in the land to which the compulsory order relates shall be the period of one calendar month from and after the date of the publication of the second and last advertisement of the compulsory order.

ARTICLE V.—(1) The local authority shall as soon as practicable after the confirmation of the compulsory order cause a printed copy of the compulsory order as confirmed to be served on every owner, lessee, and occupier of the land to which the compulsory order relates.

(2) A printed copy of the compulsory order as confirmed shall be furnished free of charge by the local authority to any person interested in the land authorised to be purchased upon his applying for the same, and a copy of any plan to which reference is made in the compulsory order as confirmed shall also be furnished by the local authority to any such person upon his applying for such copy and paying the reasonable cost of preparing the same.

ARTICLE VI.—Every notice or other document which in pursuance of sub-division (1) of Article III. or of sub-division (1) of Article V. of this Order is required to be given or served by the local authority to or on an owner, lessee, or occupier, shall be served :—

(a) by delivery of the same personally to the person required to be served, or, if such person is absent abroad or cannot be found, to his agent ; or
(b) by leaving the same at the usual or last known place of abode of such person as aforesaid ; or
(c) by post as a registered letter addressed to the usual or last known place of abode of such person ; or
(d) in the case of a notice required to be served on a local authority or corporate body or company, by delivering the same to their clerk or secretary or leaving the same at his office with some person employed there, or by post as a registered letter addressed to such clerk or secretary at his office.

ARTICLE VII.—This Order may be cited as the Housing, &c. (Form of Compulsory Purchase Order, &c.) Order, 1911.

SCHEDULE.

The * hereby make the following order :—

1. The provisions of the Lands Clauses Acts with respect to the purchase and taking of land otherwise than by agreement are, subject to the terms of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909, and of this order, hereby put in force as respects the purchase by the * of the lands described in the schedule hereto for the † .

2. This Order shall have effect as if there were incorporated therewith, subject to the necessary adaptations, the Lands Clauses Acts (except section 127 of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845), and sections 77 to 85 of the Railways Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, but subject to this modification, that any question of disputed compensation shall be determined by a single arbitrator appointed by the Local Government Board, who shall be deemed to be an arbitrator within the meaning of the Lands Clauses Acts, and the provisions of those Acts with respect to arbitration shall, subject to the provisions of the First Schedule to the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909, apply accordingly.

3.‡ If any of the land described in the schedule to this Order is glebe land or other land belonging to an ecclesiastical benefice, any sums agreed upon or awarded for the purchase of any such land, or to be paid by way of compensation for the damage to be sustained by the owner by reason of severance or other injury affecting any such land, shall not be paid as directed by the Lands Clauses Acts, but shall be paid to the Ecclesiastical Commissioners to be applied by them as money paid to them upon a scale, under the provisions of the Ecclesiastical Leasing Acts, of land belonging to a benefice.

HOUSING, TOWN PLANNING, &c. ACT, 1909: RULES WITH REFERENCE TO COSTS OF ARBITRATIONS.

WHEREAS [paragraph (9) of the First Schedule to the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909, is recited].

NOW THEREFORE, we, with the concurrence of the Lord Chancellor, for the purpose of fixing the scale of costs to be applicable on an arbitration under the First Schedule to the Act, do hereby make the following rules, that is to say :—

RULE 1.—Where the compensation awarded by the arbitrator to the claimant does not exceed the sum specified in the first column of the Scale No. 1 set forth in the schedule hereto, the sum payable to the claimant for his costs of the arbitration shall be the sum specified in the second column of such scale, which sum shall include and cover all disbursements, except for the attendances of witnesses, for which attendances the sums specified in the third column of such scale shall be allowed. No charge for briefs to, or attendance of, counsel shall be allowed.

RULE 2.—Where the compensation awarded by the arbitrator exceeds the sum of three hundred pounds, but does not exceed the sum of five hundred pounds, the costs and charges of the claimant in the arbitration shall be allowed and (if necessary) taxed or determined, in accordance with the provisions of the Scale No. 2 set forth in the schedule hereto, and no costs or charges other than those specified in such scale, or in accordance therewith, shall be allowed.

RULE 3.—Where the compensation awarded by the arbitrator exceeds the sum of five hundred pounds, the costs and charges of the claimant in the arbitration shall be allowed, and (if necessary) taxed or determined, in accordance with the provisions of the Scale No. 3 set forth in the schedule hereto, and no costs or charges other than those specified in such scale, or in accordance therewith, shall be allowed.

RULE 4.—So much of the First Schedule to the Arbitration Act, 1889, as provides that the arbitrator may award costs to be paid as between solicitor and client, shall not apply to an arbitration to which these rules apply. In any case in which the arbitrator determines the amount of costs to be paid to the claimant in the arbitration these rules shall apply to and govern such determination of costs by the arbitrator.

RULE 5.—These rules shall not apply to an arbitration in which an arbitrator has been appointed before the rules come into operation.

RULE 6.—Nothing in these rules shall authorise an arbitrator to hear counsel or expert witnesses, except in such cases as the Local Government Board direct, and if counsel or expert witnesses are heard by an arbitrator without such direction, no costs shall be allowed in respect thereof.

RULE 7.—(1) If, having regard to the nature or importance of the case, the interests of the parties, the general conduct of the proceedings, and the skill, labour, and responsibility involved, the taxing officer shall on special grounds consider to be inadequate the cost or allowances provided by any of the scales set forth in the schedule hereto, he may make such further or increased allowances as he shall in his discretion consider reasonable.

(2) The taxing officer may in any case where the owner or claimant is not represented by a solicitor on the arbitration make such allowance as he may consider reasonable towards the charges or expenses incurred by the owner or claimant in connection with the arbitration, but not exceeding in the aggregate the maximum amount which could otherwise have been allowed under the scale set forth in the schedule hereto, which is applicable to the case.

RULE 8.—These rules and the scales of costs set forth in the schedule hereto shall not apply to the fees or remuneration properly payable to or charged by the arbitrator, which fees, if and when paid by the claimant, shall be recoverable by him from the party who is liable to pay the same.

RULE 9.—In these rules :—

(1) "The arbitrator" means an arbitrator appointed under the First Schedule to the Act.

(2) "Taxing officer" includes the arbitrator when costs are determined by him.

RULE 10.—These rules shall come into operation on the ninth day of September, 1912, and may be cited as the Housing, &c. (Costs of Arbitration) Rules, 1912.

HOUSING, TOWN PLANNING, &c. ACT, 1909: PROCEDURE REGULATIONS (i).

Appendix II.

TO THE SEVERAL LOCAL AUTHORITIES in England and Wales for the purposes of Part II. of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909; And to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS [sections 54, 55, 56, 65 (1), 66 (1), and Schedule V. are recited].

NOW THEREFORE, we, the Local Government Board, in pursuance of the powers given to us in that behalf, by this Order, make the following regulations; that is to say:—

PROCEDURE ANTERIOR TO AND FOR THE PURPOSE OF AN APPLICATION FOR AUTHORITY TO PREPARE OR ADOPT A SCHEME.

Notices of intention to apply for authority to prepare or adopt a scheme: Deposit of Map No. 1 showing land proposed to be included.

ARTICLE I.—(a) At least two months before making an application to the Local Government Board (hereinafter referred to as "the Board") for authority to prepare a town planning scheme, or for authority to adopt a town planning scheme proposed by all or any of the owners of any land with respect to which the local authority might themselves have been authorised to prepare a scheme, the local authority shall serve upon the owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees, and occupiers of the land proposed to be included in the scheme, and upon the council of any borough or of any urban or rural district within which any part of that land is comprised, and also, if any main road is or may be affected by the proposed scheme, upon the county council, a notice of their intention to make such application. The local authority shall also give notice of their intention to make such application by advertisement in some newspaper or newspapers circulating in the area of the local authority, and the advertisement shall be published at least two months before making the application.

(b) The local authority shall, not later than the date on which the first of the said notices is given, deposit at a place convenient for the purposes of inspection and shall keep deposited thereat, for a period not being less than one month from the date on which the latest of the said notices is given, a map of the land proposed to be included in the said scheme. The said map (to be marked and known as "Map No. 1") shall be on the scale of 25·344 inches to the mile, and shall be open for inspection by any person interested, without payment of any feee, at all reasonable hours on any week-day during the said period. The local authority shall also make suitable provision for affording to any person inspecting the map any necessary explanation in regard thereto.

(c) The said notices shall describe the land proposed to be included in the scheme and shall state the place at which a map of the land is deposited and the period and times during which the same will be open for inspection by any person interested.

(d) A certified copy of Map No. 1 shall be furnished by the local authority to the council of any borough or of any urban or rural district within which any part of the land proposed to be included in the scheme is comprised.

Special notice to councils interested [Section 56 (2) (b) of Act of 1909].

ARTICLE II.—With the view of securing that notice of the proposal to apply for authority to prepare or adopt a scheme in respect of any land shall be given at the earliest stage possible to any council interested in the land, the local authority, independently of the notices required to be given as aforesaid, shall, within seven days after they have decided to consider a proposal for authority to prepare or adopt a scheme in reference to any area of land, serve notice of their decision upon any council interested in the land.

Consideration by local authority of objections, &c. Conferences: Meeting of parties interested.

ARTICLE III.—The local authority before making an application to the Board for authority to prepare or adopt a scheme shall consider any objections or representations made to them in writing in reference to the proposed scheme whether by owners or other persons interested in the land proposed to be

(i) These regulations are in force only with respect to the adoption by local authorities of schemes proposed by owners. They have been replaced by the Regulations dated 11th February, 1914, so far as they applied to the preparation of schemes by local authorities. For these later Regulations, see post, p. 2449.

Appendix II. included in the scheme, or by owners or other persons interested in any lands in the neighbourhood of the land proposed to be included in the scheme which may be affected by the scheme, or by the council of any borough or of any urban or rural district within which any part of the land proposed to be included in the scheme is comprised, or by any other council who may be interested in or affected by the scheme; and shall endeavour, by conferences between the local authority or their officers and such owners, persons, or councils and by any other means available, to secure the co-operation of such owners, persons, or councils in promoting the scheme.

The local authority shall arrange for at least one meeting being held, at which all such owners, persons, or councils as aforesaid shall be entitled to attend or be represented, for the purpose of considering the proposed scheme. Notice of the time and place fixed for such meeting shall be served by the local authority upon all such owners, persons, or councils so far as they can ascertain the same, not less than fourteen days before the time fixed for the meeting.

The mayor (if the local authority are the town council of a borough) or the chairman of the council (if the local authority are the London County Council or an urban or rural district council) shall be the president of the said meeting, or, in the event of the mayor or chairman being unable or unwilling to act, any person appointed for the purpose by the local authority shall be the president, or, in default of such appointment, the meeting shall choose some person present at the meeting to be president thereof. On opening the meeting the president, or a member or officer of the local authority, shall give such explanation of the proposed scheme as he thinks expedient.

Application to the Board to be by resolution: Map No. 2 to be prepared in connection with resolution.

ARTICLE IV.—(a) An application to the Board by a local authority for authority to prepare or adopt a scheme shall be made by a resolution of the local authority.

(b) The resolution shall define, by reference to a map prepared on a scale of not less than 25·344 inches to the mile (to be marked and known as "Map No. 2"), the land in reference to which it is desired to prepare or adopt the scheme, and shall state whether the land is entirely within the area of the local authority or wholly or partly within a neighbouring area. In addition to any other particulars required by these regulations to be shown thereon the said map shall show clearly by means of boundary lines sharply defined in colour the area of the land included in the proposed scheme, distinguishing between the parts of the land included within the area of the local authority and within the area of any other local authority. If the area of the land includes any piece of land already built upon or any piece of land not likely to be used for building purposes, any such lands shall be indicated on the map by distinctive colours and any necessary reference notes, and there shall also be shown on the map in like manner the positions of any buildings which have been erected on the land or of any buildings which are in course of erection.

(c) A copy of the resolution certified by the clerk to the local authority shall be transmitted without delay to the Board by the clerk, with a covering letter, and accompanied by a statement as to the total number of members of the local authority, the number who voted for the resolution, the number who voted against the resolution, the number who were present at the meeting but did not vote, and the number absent from the meeting.

Documents, &c., to accompany application: Map No. 3 to be prepared.

ARTICLE V.—The application to the Board shall be accompanied by:—

(a) The statutory declaration and exhibits required by Article XXXI. of these regulations in proof of compliance with the requirements of Article I.

(b) Map No. 2 or a copy thereof duly certified by the clerk to the local authority.

(c) A map on the scale of 1 inch to the mile (to be marked and known as "Map No. 3"), showing, by distinguishing colours or boundary lines in colour, the district of the local authority, the land included in the proposed scheme, and the area within a distance of five miles from any part of the district of the local authority:

Provided that, if the scheme is proposed to be made or adopted by the council of a rural district, it shall not be obligatory that the map shall extend to the whole of the rural district, but it shall extend to the contributory place or places therein in which any part of the land included in the scheme is comprised, and to the area within a distance of five miles from such place or places:

Provided also that, if in any case the land included in a scheme is wholly outside the district of the local authority, the map shall show at least the area within a distance of five miles from any part of such land.

(d) A copy of all objections made in writing in reference to the proposed scheme so far as the objections have not been withdrawn or removed.

(e) If the application relates to the adoption of a scheme proposed by owners, a copy of the scheme so proposed and a statement of any modifications which the local authority are of opinion should be made in the scheme.

Additional particulars to be shown on Map No. 2 in a case of preparation of scheme by local authority.

ARTICLE VI.—If the application relates to the preparation of a scheme by the local authority there shall be shown on Map No. 2 the lines and widths of the principal roads which the local authority propose shall be made as part of the scheme, the connections of the proposed roads with existing roads, and the lines of any existing sewers or any existing pipes or mains for the supply of water, gas, or electricity. Any existing roads or ways which it would be necessary to stop up or divert shall also be indicated on the said map, and if the local authority contemplate that the scheme to be prepared shall provide for certain areas being used for the purpose of open spaces or for other special purposes those areas shall as far as possible be indicated on the said map.

Additional particulars to be shown on Map No. 2 in a case of adoption of scheme by local authority.

ARTICLE VII.—If the application relates to the adoption of a scheme proposed by owners of land there shall be shown on Map No. 2 the lines and widths of all roads proposed as part of the scheme, the connections of the proposed roads with existing roads, and the lines of any existing sewers or any existing pipes or mains for the supply of water, gas, or electricity. Any existing roads or ways which it is proposed to stop up or divert shall be indicated on the said map, which shall also indicate the areas proposed by the scheme to be allocated for the purpose of open spaces, private or public, or to be used for any other special purposes. The said map shall also show all such further particulars in relation to the scheme proposed to be adopted as are suitable for indication thereon, e.g., any proposals as to lines of sewers, or of pipes or mains for the supply of water, gas, or electricity.

Information to be furnished to the Board in connection with all applications.

ARTICLE VIII.—In connection with an application for authority to prepare or adopt a scheme, the local authority shall furnish the Board with a statement or statements giving the particulars and information hereinafter indicated:—

(a) A general description of the scheme including information as to the general character of the land proposed to be included in the scheme, the extent to which the scheme applies to land in course of development, the extent to which it applies to land likely to be used for building purposes, and, as regards the last-mentioned land, the grounds for considering that the land is likely to be so used.

(b) The reasons on which the local authority rely in support of their application.

(c) If the scheme includes land already built upon or land not likely to be used for building purposes, the reasons which, in the opinion of the local authority, render it necessary or desirable to include such lands in the scheme; particulars of the buildings on the lands; such information as the local authority may be in a position to give in regard to the extent to which it would be necessary to provide for the demolition or alteration of the buildings for the purpose of carrying the scheme into effect; and, as regards any land not likely to be used for building purposes, the grounds on which it is considered that such land would not be so used.

(d) Information as to the arrangements in operation in the area of the local authority in regard to sewerage, drainage and sewage disposal, water supply and lighting, and the like information in regard to the area of any other local authority in which any part of the land included in the scheme is comprised, and also information to show to what extent the arrangements as to sewerage, drainage, and sewage disposal would be available or would require alteration or modification for the purposes of the area included in the scheme. If any company, whether statutory or otherwise, is supplying or has power to supply water, gas, or electricity in the area included in the scheme, it should be so stated and particulars given in regard thereto.

(e) If the area of the land included in the scheme is not wholly within the area of the local authority making the application, information shall be supplied as to the proposals in regard to the authority who are to be responsible for enforcing the observance of the scheme and for the execution of any works which under such scheme, or under Part II. of the Act of 1909, may have to be executed by a local authority.

(f) Information as to any monuments or ancient monuments, within the meaning of the Ancient Monuments Protection Acts, 1882 to 1900, situate within the area included in the scheme, and as to the manner in which they would be affected.

(g) If any land or property of any Government department would be affected by the scheme, particulars in regard to any such property and as to the Government departments concerned.

Additional information to be furnished to the Board in a case of adoption of scheme by local authority.

ARTICLE IX.—In connection with an application for authority to adopt a scheme, the local authority shall furnish the Board with a statement or statements giving the additional particulars and information hereinafter indicated :—

(a) The names and addresses of the owners, lessees, and occupiers of each parcel of the land included in the scheme, and the approximate extent of each such parcel.

(b) Information showing in what respects the proposals in the scheme would involve the suspension of any statutory enactments, byelaws, regulations or other provisions which are in operation in the area included in the scheme.

(c) Information as to the extent to which it may be contemplated or necessary under the scheme that land included in the scheme shall be acquired (1) by the local authority making the application or (2) by any other local authority.

(d) Definite information as to whether any of the owners by whom the scheme is proposed will, in the event of the scheme being adopted by the local authority and approved by the Board, claim compensation on the ground that his property would be injuriously affected by the making of the scheme; and particulars of any information in the possession of the local authority in regard to the probability of any other person making a claim for compensation on that ground.

(e) If, in the opinion of the local authority, any property will be increased in value by the making of the proposed scheme, information as to such property and as to the estimated increase in value.

Estimate as to cost of scheme: Information as to area, population, rates, debt, &c.

ARTICLE X.—(a) In connection with an application for authority to prepare or adopt a scheme the local authority shall state as nearly as may be practicable the estimated cost of carrying out the scheme, so far as the cost is expected to be borne by (1) the local authority making the application, and (2) any other local authority. The local authority shall also furnish the Board with such information as they may require as to the manner in which the estimated cost is arrived at.

(b) Subject to the proviso hereinafter contained, the local authority shall also furnish a statement showing the following particulars with respect to the district of the local authority, that is to say :—

(i.) the acreage ;

(ii.) the population according to the last census ;

(iii.) the rateable value for the purposes of the poor rate ;

(iv.) the amount in the £. of every rate levied during the three last preceding financial years ;

(v.) the amount of the balances of the outstanding loans contracted by the local authority and the sum included in such amount in respect of loans for sanitary purposes ; and

(vi.) the amount of the loans sanctioned but not raised though proposed to be raised, and the sum included in such amount in respect of loans for sanitary purposes :

Provided that if it is proposed that the cost of the scheme to be borne by the local authority shall be charged upon any contributory place or places in their district the particulars required under heads i., ii., iii., and iv. hereof shall be given with respect to such place or places only.

(c) If any part of the cost of the scheme is expected to be borne by a local authority other than the local authority making the application, the first-mentioned local authority shall make a statement showing in regard to their district the several particulars indicated in paragraph (b) of this article, and shall supply the same to the last-mentioned local authority, who shall transmit it to the Board with the said application.

Notice by advertisement of application having been made to the Board.

ARTICLE XI.—When the local authority have transmitted to the Board an application for the approval of the Board to the preparation or adoption of a scheme, the local authority shall forthwith give notice of such application and of the date of the resolution making the application by advertisement in some newspaper or newspapers circulating in the area of the local authority.

ARTICLE XV.—When the local authority have fully considered the scheme proposed by owners in respect of an area of land in regard to which the local authority have been authorised to adopt a scheme with or without modifications and have decided to adopt the same with or without modifications, they shall cause to be printed a copy of the scheme proposed by owners, and shall prepare and cause to be printed a memorandum of all modifications which they propose should be made in such scheme and shall obtain from the owners or shall themselves provide a map or maps (to be marked and known as "Map No. 4" or "Map No. 4 (A)," "Map No. 4 (B)" etc.) on a scale of not less than 25·344 inches to the mile, showing thereon all such particulars and details as are required to be shown on the map or maps referred to in Article XIV. of these regulations.

Notices of scheme prepared or of scheme intended to be adopted by local authority: Deposit of draft scheme, &c., and of Map No. 4 for inspection.

ARTICLE XVI.—(a) At least one month before deciding upon the scheme to be submitted to the Board for approval, whether in regard to a scheme prepared by the local authority or a scheme proposed by owners and proposed to be adopted by the local authority, the local authority shall serve upon the owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees, and occupiers of the land included in the scheme, and upon the council of any borough or of any urban or rural district within which any part of the said land is comprised, and also, if any main road is or may be affected by the scheme, upon the county council, a notice that a draft scheme has been prepared by the local authority or (as the case may be) that the local authority intend to adopt a scheme proposed by owners, and that it is proposed to submit the same, with or without modification, to the Board for approval; and shall also give notice of such proposal by advertisement in some newspaper or newspapers circulating in the area of the local authority, and the advertisement shall be published at least one month before deciding upon the scheme to be submitted to the Board.

Appendix II.

(b) The local authority shall, not later than the date on which the first of the said notices is given, deposit at a place convenient for the purposes of inspection and shall keep deposited thereat, for a period not being less than twenty-one days from the date on which the latest of the said notices is given, the draft scheme and the map or maps referred to in Article XIV. of these regulations or (as the case may be) the scheme and memorandum and the map or maps referred to in Article XV. of these regulations, and the same shall be open for inspection by any persons interested or affected, without payment of any fee, at all reasonable hours on any week-day during the said period. The local authority shall also make suitable provision for affording to any such person inspecting the said documents and maps any necessary explanation or information in regard thereto.

(c) The said notices shall describe the land proposed to be included in the scheme, and shall state the place at which the documents and maps referred to in paragraph (b) of this article are deposited and the period and times during which the same will be open for inspection by any persons interested or affected. The notices shall state that the local authority will be prepared to consider any objections or representations which may be made to them in writing during the said period, and the notice to be given by advertisement shall also state that the local authority will be prepared to consider any objections or representations made in writing by any persons affected, including any persons representing any architectural or archæological society or otherwise interested in the amenity of the proposed scheme.

Application of Article III. of regulations.

ARTICLE XVII.—Article III. of these regulations shall apply also in regard to procedure before the local authorities decide upon the scheme to be submitted to the Board for approval, whether in regard to a scheme prepared by the local authority or a scheme proposed by owners and proposed to be adopted by the local authority.

Making or adoption of scheme to be by order of local authority and Map No. 5 to be sealed in connection with the order.

ARTICLE XVIII.—When the local authority have decided upon the scheme to be submitted to the Board for their approval, whether in regard to a scheme prepared by the local authority or a scheme proposed by owners and proposed to be adopted by the local authority, they shall make an order under their seal, authenticated by the signature of their clerk or deputy clerk, making the scheme, or (as the case may be) adopting the scheme proposed by owners with such modifications as may have been decided upon by the local authority.

A map or, if the case so require, maps prepared in the manner and containing the particulars and details required by Article XIV. of these regulations, but to be marked and known as "Map No. 5" or "Map No. 5 (A)," "Map No. 5 (B)," etc., shall be sealed with the seal of the local authority in connection with the order:

Provided that if the map or maps required by this article to be prepared and sealed in connection with the order would be identical in all respects with the map or maps prepared in accordance with Article XIV. or (as the case may be) Article XV. of these regulations, the last-mentioned map or maps may, if the local authority think fit, be used for the purposes of this article, but if so used they shall also be marked as indicated in this article as well as in the manner required by Article XIV. or Article XV.

Application to the Board to approve scheme to be by resolution.

ARTICLE XIX.—An application to the Board to approve the scheme as made or adopted by the local authority by an order in pursuance of Article XVIII. of these regulations shall be made by a resolution of the local authority; and a copy of the resolution, certified by the clerk to the local authority, shall be transmitted without delay to the Board by the clerk, with a covering letter, and accompanied by a statement as to the total number of members of the local authority, the number who voted for the resolution, the number who voted against the resolution, the number who were present at the meeting but did not vote, and the number absent from the meeting.

ARTICLE XX.—When the local authority transmit to the Board the resolution of the local authority requesting the approval of the Board to the scheme as made or adopted by the local authority, they shall transmit to the Board :—

(a) The statutory declarations and exhibits required by Article XXXI. of these regulations in proof of compliance with the requirements of Articles XII. and XVI.

Appendix II.
——

(b) A sealed copy and three other copies of the order of the local authority containing the scheme as made or adopted by them, and a certified copy of every map referred to in the order.

(c) A map on the scale of 6 inches to the mile to be marked and known as "Map No. 6," showing, by distinguishing colours or boundary lines in colour, the district of the local authority and the land included in the scheme:

Provided that, if the scheme is made or adopted by the council of a rural district, it shall not be obligatory that the map shall extend to the whole of the rural district but it shall extend to the contributory place or places therein in which any part of the land included in the scheme is comprised:

Provided also that, if in any case the land included in a scheme is wholly outside the district of the local authority, the map shall show all the area intervening between that land and the district of the local authority.

There shall also be shown on the map by some distinctive colours and any necessary reference notes all recreation grounds or public open spaces and public elementary schools in the area required to be shown on the map, and also the buildings which have been erected in that area up to the time when the map is sent to the Board, distinguishing so far as regards the land included in the scheme the buildings begun to be erected after the application was made to the Board for their approval to prepare or adopt the scheme.

(d) A map on a scale of not less than 25·344 inches to the mile, or a plan drawn to some larger scale (to be marked and known as "Map No. 7") showing the area of the land included in the scheme so divided as to indicate as nearly as may be the portions of such land belonging to different owners. The map or plan shall show as regards each portion of the land the name of the owner, or shall bear numbers having reference to a statement, to be annexed to the map or plan, showing the names of the owners.

(e) A copy of all objections made in writing in reference to the scheme so far as the objections have not been withdrawn or removed in the scheme as finally prepared or adopted by the local authority.

Information to be furnished to the Board in connection with an application for approval of a scheme.

ARTICLE XXI.—(a) The local authority shall furnish the Board with a statement or statements giving in regard to the scheme prepared or adopted by the local authority the particulars and information indicated in Articles VIII. and IX. of these regulations so far as such particulars and information are not contained in the scheme.

The said particulars and information shall be given in regard to every scheme whether prepared by the local authority or adopted by them:

Provided that where the particulars and information furnished to the Board in accordance with Article VIII. or Article IX. or any division of either of those articles represent fully and accurately the particulars and information required by this article in regard to the scheme as prepared or adopted by the local authority it shall be sufficient if a reference be made to the particulars and information previously furnished under Article VIII. or Article IX. or any division thereof.

(b) The local authority shall also furnish the Board with a statement or statements giving the particulars and information indicated below so far as they are not contained in the scheme:—

(i.) Information to show whether the scheme admits of satisfactory provision being made in regard to the supply of water, gas, or electricity within the area included in the scheme.

(ii.) Information in regard to any tramways or light railways constructed or authorised to be constructed in the area included in the scheme or in the immediate neighbourhood thereof.

(iii.) In regard to any lands proposed to be acquired by (a) the local authority submitting the scheme or (b) any other local authority, any information available as to the probability of the lands being acquired by agreement.

(iv.) Particulars in regard to any land included in the scheme which belongs to (a) the local authority submitting the scheme or (b) any other local authority; the purposes for which and the authority under which such land was acquired or is held; and also information as to any proposal in regard to its use for any other purposes under the scheme.

(v.) If the local authority are of opinion that any property will be injuriously affected by the making of the scheme, within the meaning of the Act of 1909, information, so far as it is practicable to give the same, in regard to such property and as to the extent to which the local authority consider that it may be injuriously affected.

(vi.) Detailed particulars of any works which are to be executed under the scheme by any person or local authority, so far as any such particulars are available.

(vii.) If the scheme contains provisions suspending any enactment contained in a public general Act, a full explanation of any such provisions and the reasons which are considered to justify their insertion.

(viii.) If the scheme contains provisions suspending any other statutory enactments, byelaws, regulations or other provisions which are in operation in the area included in the scheme, a full explanation of any such provisions and the reasons which are considered to justify their insertion.

(ix.) Particulars of any land forming part of any common, open space, or allotment, within the meaning of section 73 of the Act of 1909, which is within the area included in the scheme, and of any part of that land which under the scheme is authorised to be acquired or appropriated to any other purpose, and particulars in regard to any land proposed to be given in exchange for the land so to be acquired or appropriated ;

(x.) Particulars of any land included in the scheme which is situate within the distance prescribed by regulations made by the Board under section 74 of the Act of 1909 from any of the royal palaces or parks.

Estimate and particulars as to cost of scheme: Information as to area, population, rates, debt local Acts, orders, byelaws, &c.

ARTICLE XXII.—(a) In connection with an application to the Board for their approval of the scheme prepared or adopted by the local authority, information shall be furnished in regard to the estimated cost of carrying out the scheme, so far as the cost is to be borne by (1) the local authority making the application and (2) any other local authority. Separate particulars shall be given under the following heads :—

EXPENDITURE.
- Purchase of land for open spaces.
- Purchase of land for other purposes, specifying them.

RECEIPTS.
- In respect of property increased in value.
- From other sources, specifying them.

(b) If the statement or statements of particulars furnished under Article X. (b) or (c) of these regulations has or have owing to lapse of time or other circumstances become inaccurate in any material respect, an amended statement or amended statements of such particulars shall be supplied.

(c) There shall also be supplied a list and a copy of all local Acts, Provisional Orders, byelaws, or regulations in force in the area of any local authority any part of whose district is included in the scheme ; and in the case of any part of a district other than that of the local authority making the application to the Board being so included, such list and copy shall be supplied by the local authority of that district to the local authority making the application, who shall transmit them to the Board.

Notice by advertisement of submission of scheme to the Board: Objections, &c., may be made to the Board.

ARTICLE XXIII.—When the local authority have submitted to the Board for their approval the scheme prepared or adopted by the local authority they shall forthwith give notice of such submission by advertisement in some newspaper or newspapers circulating in the area of the local authority. The notice shall also state that a copy of the scheme submitted to the Board may be inspected by persons affected, including persons representing architectural or archæological societies or otherwise interested in the amenity of the scheme at a place to be specified in the notice, without payment of any fee, at all reasonable hours (specifying the same) on any week-day within a period of one month from the date of the notice, and that any objections and representations by any such persons should be made in writing and addressed to the Board, at their office, within the said period. A copy of the newspaper or newspapers containing such advertisement shall be forwarded to the Board by the clerk to the local authority.

Notices of modifications or conditions proposed by the Board: Objections, &c., may be made to the Board.

ARTICLE XXIV.—(a) If the Board propose to make any modifications in, or to attach any conditions to, the scheme submitted for their approval and transmit to the local authority a draft Order for approving the scheme with such modifications and conditions, the local authority shall within fourteen days after the receipt of the draft Order serve a copy of the draft Order upon the owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees, and occupiers of the land included in the scheme, and upon the council of any borough or of any urban or rural district within which any part of the said land is comprised, and also, if any main road is affected, upon the county council, together with a notice that any objections or representations in regard to such modifications and conditions should be made in writing and addressed to the Board at their office within a period of one month from the date of the serving of such draft Order and notice.

(b) The local authority shall also within fourteen days after the receipt of the draft Order give notice by advertisement in some newspaper or newspapers circulating in the area of the local authority that the Board have caused a draft Order to be prepared for approving the scheme subject to modifications or conditions, that a copy of the draft Order may be inspected and any information in regard thereto may be obtained, without payment of any fee, at a place which shall be specified in the notice, at all reasonable hours (specifying the same) on any week-day during the period of one month from the date of the notice, and that any objections or representations in regard to such modifications and conditions should be made in writing and addressed to the Board at their office within a period of one month from the date of the notice.

(c) The local authority shall furnish the Board within a period of one month from the receipt of the draft Order for approving the scheme with modifications or subject to conditions any objections or representations which they may desire to make in regard to the proposed modifications and conditions, and shall also within the same period transmit to the Board the statutory declaration and exhibits required by Article XXXI. of these regulations in proof of compliance with the requirements of this article.

Notice by advertisement of intention of the Board to approve scheme and to publish notice of such intention in London Gazette.

ARTICLE XXV.—(a) When the Board have decided to approve the scheme submitted for their approval, with or without modifications, and notify the local authority of the decision and transmit to the local authority a draft Order for approving the scheme, the local authority shall within fourteen days after the receipt of such notification give notice by advertisement in some newspaper or newspapers circulating in the area of the local authority that the Board intend to approve the scheme and propose, after the receipt by the Board of a copy of the newspaper or newspapers containing the advertisement, to publish forthwith in the London Gazette, in accordance with subsection (4) of section 54 of the Act of 1909, a notice of such their intention, and that any person or authority interested and deciding to object to the scheme being approved should make his or their objection in the manner prescribed by Article XXVI. of these regulations within twenty-one days from the date of such publication in the London Gazette.

(b) A copy of the newspaper or newspapers containing the advertisement shall be forwarded to the Board by the clerk to the local authority immediately on the publication thereof.

(c) The local authority shall deposit at a place convenient for the purposes of inspection and shall keep deposited thereat the draft Order forwarded to them under this article, for the full period of twenty-one days from the date of the said publication in the London Gazette, and the draft Order shall be open for inspection by any person interested, without payment of any fee, at all reasonable hours on any week-day during the said period.

scheme being approved shall make his or their objection in the following manner that is to say :—

The objection shall be made to and be brought before the Board by means of a letter, or other representation in writing, which shall be addressed and posted, or shall be otherwise given, sent, or delivered to the Board at their office. The letter or representation shall indicate clearly the scheme to which the objection is taken, and shall state fully in what respects the person or authority objecting claims or claim to be interested in the scheme and the grounds on which the objection is made.

scheme under and for the purposes of section 54 (4) of the Act of 1909.

PROCEDURE AFTER THE APPROVAL OF THE SCHEME.

Notices of approval of scheme by the Board.

ARTICLE XXVII.—(a) The local authority, on receipt of a copy of the Order of the Board approving a scheme, shall without delay first publish notice of the approval of the scheme by advertisement in some newspaper circulating in the area of the local authority. The notice shall state that the scheme has been approved, with or without modifications or conditions as the case may be, and that the Order of the Board giving the approval and a copy of any map or plan referred to in the Order or scheme may be inspected and any necessary explanation or information in regard thereto may be obtained without payment of any fee at a place which shall be specified in the notice at all reasonable hours (specifying the same) on any week-day during the period of three months after the date of the Order. They shall also, not earlier than the second day after the first publication in a newspaper as aforesaid, serve upon the owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees, and occupiers of the land included in the scheme, and upon the council of any borough or of any urban or rural district within which any part of the said land is comprised, and also, if any main road is or may be affected by the scheme, upon the county council, a copy of the Order approving the scheme and a notice that a copy of any map or plan referred to in the Order or scheme may be inspected, and any necessary explanation or information in regard thereto may be obtained as above mentioned.

(b) The local authority shall make suitable provision for affording any person inspecting the Order or scheme or any map or plan referred to therein within the said period any necessary explanation or information in regard thereto.

(c) The local authority shall within fourteen days after the receipt of the said Order transmit to the Board the statutory declaration and exhibits required by Article XXXI. of these regulations in proof of compliance with the requirements of paragraph (a) of this article.

GENERAL.

Notices, &c., to Board of Agriculture and Fisheries and to Commissioners of Works in certain cases.

ARTICLE XXVIII.—Wherever in these regulations any notice or Order or scheme or draft Order or scheme is required to be served by the local authority upon any owner of land, the local authority shall send a like notice or Order or scheme or draft Order or scheme to the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries at their office if in the scheme or proposed scheme there is any provision for the acquisition or appropriation to any other purpose of any land forming part of any common, open space, or allotment within the meaning of section 73 of the Act of 1909, and to the Commissioners of Works if any land included in the scheme or proposed scheme is situate within the distance prescribed by regulations made by the Board under section 74 of the Act of 1909 from any of the royal palaces or parks.

Notices, &c., to Board of Trade and to Light Railway Commissioners in certain cases.

ARTICLE XXIX.—Where in a scheme proposed to be prepared or adopted by a local authority any land is proposed to be included on which tramways or light railways are constructed or are authorised to be constructed, the local authority shall, when they give the notices required to be given under Article I. of these regulations, also give notice to the Board of Trade and, as regards light railways, to the Light Railway Commissioners, of the intention of the local authority to apply for authority to prepare or (as the case may be) to adopt a scheme in regard to the said land, and shall from time to time thereafter furnish all such information as the Board of Trade or the Light Railway

Appendix II. Commissioners may require in regard to the proposals so far as any tramways or light railways or an authorised route of any tramways or light railways may be affected.

Service of notices.

ARTICLE XXX.—A notice required to be served in pursuance of these regulations shall be served :—

(a) by delivery of the same personally to the person required to be served, or, if such person is absent abroad or cannot be found, to his agent ; or

(b) by leaving the same at the usual or last known place of abode of such person as aforesaid ; or

(c) by post addressed to the usual or last known place of abode of such person ; or

(d) in the case of a notice required to be served on a local authority or corporate body or company, by delivering the same to their clerk or secretary or leaving the same at his office with some person employed there, or by post addressed to such clerk or secretary at his office :

Provided that if the owner of any land is not known to and after diligent inquiry cannot be found by the local authority then the notice may be served by leaving it, addressed to the owner, with some occupier of the land, or, if there be not an occupier, then by causing it to be put up on some conspicuous part of the land :

Provided also that a notice required to be given to an occupier may be addressed by the description of the "occupier" of the land or premises (describing it or them) in respect of which the notice is given, without further name or description.

Proofs of compliance with certain regulations to be furnished by statutory declarations.

ARTICLE XXXI.—Proofs of compliance with the requirements of Articles I., XII., XVI., XXIV., and XXVII. of these regulations as extended by Articles XXVIII. and XXIX. shall to the extent herein mentioned be furnished to the Board by statutory declarations (k) made by the clerk to the local authority or other person competent to make the same. The declarations shall in each case specify the manner in which the notices required by those articles to be served upon owners, lessees, and occupiers, and upon any other local authority or council, were served, and the names of the persons so served, and shall also show that the other requirements of those articles as to notices required to be given and as to the deposit of maps or plans or any documents required to be deposited have been duly complied with. There shall also be annexed to the declarations as exhibits :—

In regard to Article I.,—

(1) a copy of the form of notice served, (2) a copy of the map deposited for inspection, and (3) a copy of each newspaper containing the advertisement.

In regard to Article XII.,—

(1) copies of the forms of notices served, and (2) a copy of each newspaper containing the advertisement.

In regard to Article XVI.,—

(1) a copy of the form of notice served, (2) a copy of each newspaper containing the advertisement, (3) a statement showing the several parcels of land in respect of which notice was served upon each owner, lessee and occupier, (4) a copy of the draft scheme prepared by the local authority and deposited for inspection, or (4A) a copy of the scheme proposed by owners and deposited for inspection, together with a copy of any memorandum prepared by the local authority of modifications in such scheme and deposited with the scheme for inspection, and (5) copies of the maps deposited for inspection.

(k) The Local Government Board have been in communication with the Board of Inland Revenue in regard to the question of the exemption from Stamp Duty of Statutory Declarations required to be made in pursuance of Article XXXI. of the Town Planning Procedure Regulations (England and Wales) 1910. The Board are informed that the Board of Inland Revenue would regard such regulations as "required by law" within the meaning of those words in exemption (2) sub-tit. Affidavit and Statutory Declaration in the First Schedule to the Stamp Act, 1891 (amended by s. 6 of the Finance Act, 1907), and as therefore not liable to Stamp Duty by virtue of that exemption (Circular of March 31st, 1913).

Appendix II.

In regard to Article XXIV.,—

(1) a copy of the form of notice served, and (2) a copy of each newspaper containing the advertisement.

In regard to Article XXVII.,—

(1) a copy of the Order, (2) a copy of the form of notice served, and (3) a copy of the newspaper containing the advertisement.

Provisions as to maps.

ARTICLE XXXII.—(a) The maps required in pursuance of these regulations shall be Ordnance maps wherever such maps are published in respect of the district or area in relation to which the maps are required, shall be on a scale not less than that specified in each case, shall be mounted on linen and folded in book form, and shall have a scale properly drawn thereon.

(b) Any person interested in or affected by any scheme or proposed scheme shall be entitled to a copy of or extract from any map or plan required in pursuance of these regulations, on payment of a reasonable fee to be determined by the local authority, and shall be entitled to inspect at all reasonable times any map or plan referred to in Article XXVII. of these regulations. Any fees received by the local authority shall be carried to the credit of the fund liable to be charged with the expenses of the local authority in connection with the scheme.

Local authority to furnish all information, &c., required by the Board.

ARTICLE XXXIII.—The local authority shall prepare and furnish to the Board all such maps, plans, sections, elevations and specifications, and all such particulars or information as the Board shall require to be prepared and furnished in connection with any scheme or proposed scheme at any stage of the proceedings in relation thereto.

Board may consent to departures from regulations.

ARTICLE XXXIV.—Where the Board are satisfied that there is reasonable cause for dispensing, either conditionally or unconditionally, with compliance with any requirement of these regulations, or for varying any such requirement, the Board may, by Order or otherwise as they think fit, give the necessary dispensation, or may make and give effect to the necessary variation and to any incidents or consequences of that variation; and, in the case of any such dispensation when given subject to any condition, or in the case of any such variation, the local authority or other authorities or persons, as the case may be, shall comply in all respects with the condition or variation and with any requirement of the Order or other writing or direction of the Board giving the dispensation or making the variation as if the condition, variation or requirement formed part of these regulations:

Provided that the Board shall not exercise their powers under this article in such a manner as to dispense with any provisions of these regulations which are necessary to give effect to the requirements of the Act of 1909 or as so to vary any such provisions that they would cease to give effect to those requirements.

Interpretation.

ARTICLE XXXV.—In these regulations "the Act of 1909" means the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909.

Short title.

ARTICLE XXXVI.—These regulations may be cited as the Town Planning Procedure Regulations (England and Wales), 1910.

Given under the Seal of Office of the Local Government Board, this third day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

(L.S.) JOHN BURNS, President.

H. C. MUNRO, Secretary.

TOWN PLANNING, ENGLAND.

THE TOWN PLANNING PROCEDURE REGULATIONS (PREPARATION OF SCHEMES BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES), 1914. DATED FEBRUARY 11, 1914.

TO THE SEVERAL LOCAL AUTHORITIES in England and Wales for the purposes of Part II. of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909; And to all others whom it may concern

WHEREAS [sections 56 (1), 65 (1), 66 (2) are recited].

And whereas by the Town Planning Regulations Procedure (England and Wales), 1910 (hereinafter referred to as "the Regulations of 1910"), we made regulations in pursuance of section 56 of the Act of 1909 for regulating generally

Appendix II. the procedure to be adopted with respect to the preparation and adoption of town planning schemes by local authorities ;

And whereas it is expedient that the Regulations of 1910 should be revoked in part, and that fresh regulations should be made, as hereinafter mentioned :

Now therefore, in pursuance of the powers given to us in that behalf, we do, by this Order, make the following regulations ; that is to say :—

PROCEDURE ANTERIOR TO AND FOR THE PURPOSE OF AN APPLICATION FOR AUTHORITY TO PREPARE A SCHEME.

Special notice to councils interested [Section 56 (2) (b) of Act of 1909.]

ARTICLE I.—The local authority shall, within seven days after they have decided to consider a proposal for authority to prepare a scheme in reference to any area of land, serve notice of their decision upon any council interested in the land.

Notices of intention to apply for authority to prepare a scheme: Deposit of Map No. 1 showing land proposed to be included in application.

ARTICLE II.—(a) At least four weeks before making an application to the Board for authority to prepare a town planning scheme, the local authority shall serve upon the prescribed persons a notice of their intention to make such application. The local authority shall also give notice of their intention to make such application by advertisement in some newspaper or newspapers circulating in the area of the local authority, and the advertisement shall be published at least four weeks before making the application.

(b) The local authority shall, not later than the date on which the first of the said notices is given, deposit at the place convenient for the purposes of inspection and shall keep deposited thereat, for a period not being less than three weeks from the date on which the latest of the said notices is given, a map of the land to which it is proposed that the application shall extend. The said map (to be marked and known as "Map No. 1") shall be on the scale of 25·344 inches to the mile, and shall be open for inspection by any person interested, without payment of any fee, at all reasonable hours on any week-day during the said period. The local authority shall also make suitable provision for affording to any person inspecting the map any necessary explanation in regard thereto.

(c) The said notices shall define, by a verbal description or by means of a plan annexed to the notices, the land to which it is proposed that the application shall extend and shall state the place at which a map of the land (that is, Map No. 1) is deposited and the period and times during which the same will be open for inspection by any person interested. The notices shall also include a statement that, if and when application is made to the Board for authority to prepare a scheme, notice of the application will be given by advertisement in some newspaper or newspapers circulating in the area of the local authority, and that, if such authority is given, notice of the fact will also be given in like manner. The notices to the prescribed persons may also extend to the matters of which notice is to be given under Article III.

(d) The local authority shall furnish to the council of any borough or of any urban or rural district within which any part of the said land is comprised a map on a scale of six inches to the mile, certified to show accurately the land to which the application for authority to prepare a scheme extends ; and if the council or any such borough or district so require, the local authority shall also furnish to such council a certified copy of so much of the Map No. 1 as extends to land in such borough or district.

(e) The local authority shall forthwith inform the Board of any notice issued under this article.

Consideration by local authority of objections, &c. Conferences.

ARTICLE III.—(a) The local authority before making an application to the Board for authority to prepare a scheme shall consider any objections or representations made to them in writing in reference to the proposed applications for such authority, whether by the prescribed persons or by any other persons or bodies interested in the land to which it is proposed that the application shall extend or in any neighbouring land which might be affected by the making of a scheme for the first-mentioned land ; and shall endeavour, by conferences between the local authority or their officers and such persons, to secure co-operation in regard to the proposed application.

(b) The local authority shall either :—

(1) Arrange for a meeting being held at which all such persons as aforesaid shall be entitled to attend or be represented, for the purpose of considering the proposed application. Notice of the time and place fixed for such meeting shall be served by the local authority upon the prescribed persons and such other persons as aforesaid, if any, as in the opinion of the local authority might reasonably be interested, not less than seven days before the time fixed for the meeting. The mayor (if the local authority are the town council of a borough) or the chairman of the council (if the local authority are the London County Council or an urban or rural district council) shall be the president of the said meeting, or, in the event of the mayor or chairman being unable or unwilling to act, any person appointed for the purpose by the local authority shall be the president, or, in default of such appointment, the meeting shall choose some person present at the meeting to be president thereof. On opening the meeting the president, or a member or officer of the local authority shall give such explanation of the proposed application as he thinks expedient;

Appendix II.

or

(2) Serve a notice upon all such persons as aforesaid stating that if the person on whom the notice is served desires to confer with the local authority or their officers in regard to the proposed application for authority to prepare a scheme, the local authority will on being so informed be prepared to arrange for such a conference at some time within a period to be specified in the notice.

Application to the Board to be by resolution: Map No. 2 to be prepared in connection with resolution.

ARTICLE IV.—(a) An application to the Board by a local authority for authority to prepare a scheme shall be made by a resolution of the local authority.

(b) The resolution shall define, by reference to a map prepared on a scale of not less than 25·344 inches to the mile (to be marked and known as "Map No. 2"), the land in reference to which it is desired to prepare the scheme, and shall state whether the land is entirely within the area of the local authority or wholly or partly within a neighbouring area. The said map shall show clearly by means of boundary lines defined in colour the area of the land to which the application extends, distinguishing between the parts of the land included within the area of the local authority and within the area of any other local authority. If the area of the land includes any piece of land already built upon or any piece of land not likely to be used for building purposes, any such lands shall be indicated on the map by distinctive colours and any necessary reference notes, and there shall also be shown on the map in like manner the positions of any buildings which have been erected on the land or of any buildings which are in course of erection.

(c) A copy of the resolution certified by the clerk of the local authority shall be transmitted without delay to the Board by the clerk, together with a statement as to the total number of members of the local authority, the number who voted for the resolution, the number who voted against the resolution, the number who were present at the meeting but did not vote, and the number absent from the meeting.

(d) The Map No. 1 prepared and deposited under Article II. may if the local authority think fit, be used for the purposes of Map No. 2: Provided that, if it is so used,—

(1) It shall be marked "Map No. 1 and Map No. 2";

(2) It shall not be altered in such a manner that it would cease to show the precise area originally shown thereon under Article II., and if the area to which the application for authority to prepare a scheme extends does not include the whole of the area so shown on Map No. 1 the part excluded from the application shall be indicated on the map;

(3) A statement shall be made and signed on the face of the map showing precisely what part or what features of it constitute the original Map No. 1;

(4) The sending to the Board of a copy of the combined Map No. 1 and Map No. 2 shall satisfy the requirements of these regulations as to sending a copy of Map No. 1 and a copy of Map No. 2.

Appendix II.

Documents, &c., to be furnished with application.

ARTICLE V.—In connection with the application for authority to prepare a scheme the local authority shall furnish the Board with the documents, statements, and other particulars and information hereinafter indicated :—

(a) The certificate and exhibits required by Article XXIII. in proof of compliance with the requirements of Articles II. and III.

(b) A copy of Map No. 2 duly certified by the clerk or some other officer of the local authority.

(c) A copy of all objections made in writing in reference to the proposals of the local authority so far as the objections have not been withdrawn or removed.

(d) Information as to the acreage and general character of the land to which the application extends, the extent to which the land is in course of development, the extent to which the land is likely to be used for building purposes, and, as regards the last-mentioned land, the grounds for considering that the land is likely to be so used.

(e) The reasons on which the local authority rely in support of their application.

(f) If the application extends to land already built upon or land not likely to be used for building purposes, the reasons which in the opinion of the local authority, render it necessary or desirable to include such lands in the proposed scheme ; particulars of the buildings on the lands ; such information as the local authority may be in a position to give in regard to the extent to which it would be necessary to provide for the demolition or alteration of the buildings for the purpose of carrying the proposed scheme into effect ; and, as regards any land not likely to be used for building purposes, the grounds on which it is considered that such land would not be so used.

(g) Information as to the need for improved means of communication by road in or through the area of the land to which the application extends whether by the widening or improvement of existing roads or the construction of new roads, and as to any proposals for the stopping up or diversion of existing roads or for the allocation of lands for open spaces or for other special purposes.

(h) Information as to the arrangements in operation in the area of the local authority in regard to sewerage, drainage and sewage disposal, water supply and lighting, and the like information in regard to the area of any other local authority in which any part of the land to which the application extends is comprised. If any company, whether statutory or otherwise, is supplying or has power to supply water, gas, or electricity in the area of that land, it should be so stated and particulars given in regard thereto.

(i) If the land to which the application extends is not wholly within the area of the local authority making the application, information shall be supplied as to the proposals in regard to the authority who are to be responsible for enforcing the observance of the scheme and for the execution of any works which under such scheme, or under Part II. of the Act of 1909, may have to be executed by a local authority.

(j) Information as to any monuments or ancient monuments, within the meaning of the Ancient Monuments Consolidation and Amendment Act, 1913, situate within the area included in the scheme, and as to the manner in which they would be affected.

(k) A statement that the land to which the application extends does not include any Crown lands.

Estimate as to cost of scheme: Information as to area, population, rates, debt, &c.

ARTICLE VI.—(a) In connection with an application for authority to prepare a scheme the local authority shall state as nearly as may be practicable the estimated cost of preparing the scheme and obtaining the approval of the Board thereto ; and if the local authority contemplate that the execution of the scheme when made and approved will involve capital expenditure chargeable on the rates they shall also state the amount of such expenditure so far as they may be in a position to form an estimate thereof. The amount of such cost and expenditure expected to be borne by (1) the local authority making the application, and (2) any other local authority shall be indicated.

Appendix II.

(b) Subject to the proviso hereinafter contained, the local authority shall also furnish a statement showing the following particulars with respect to the district of the local authority, that is to say:—

(i.) the acreage;
(ii.) the population according to the last census;
(iii.) the rateable value for the purposes of the poor rate;
(iv.) the amount in the pound of every rate levied during the three last preceding financial years;
(v.) the amount of the balances of the outstanding loans contracted by the local authority and the sum included in such amount in respect of loans for sanitary purposes; and
(vi.) the amount of the loans sanctioned but not raised though proposed to be raised, and the sum included in such amount in respect of loans for sanitary purposes:

Provided that if it is proposed that the cost of the scheme to be borne by the local authority shall be charged upon any contributory place or places in their district the particulars required under heads (i.), (ii.), (iii.), and (iv.) hereof shall be given with respect to such place or places only.

(c) If any part of the cost of the scheme is expected to be borne by a local authority other than the local authority making the application, the first-mentioned local authority shall make a statement showing in regard to their district the several particulars indicated in paragraph (b) of this article, and shall supply the same to the last-mentioned local authority, who shall transmit it to the Board in connection with the said application.

Notice by advertisement of application having been made to the Board.

ARTICLE VII.—When the local authority have transmitted to the Board the resolution applying for authority to prepare a scheme, the local authority shall forthwith give notice of the fact and of the date of the resolution making the application by advertisement in some newspaper or newspapers circulating in the area of the local authority. A copy of the newspaper containing the advertisement shall forthwith be forwarded to the Board.

PROCEDURE DURING, ON, AND AFTER THE PREPARATION AND BEFORE THE APPROVAL OF THE SCHEME.

Notice by advertisement of authority having been given to prepare a scheme, and of intention to prepare a scheme: Persons desiring to be heard to give notice to local authority.

ARTICLE VIII.—(a) When authority has been given by the Board to the preparation by a local authority of a scheme with reference to any land, the local authority shall forthwith give notice by advertisement in some newspaper or newspapers circulating in the area of the local authority that such authority has been given and that a copy of the Order or instrument giving such authority may be inspected, and any necessary explanation or information in regard thereto may be obtained, without payment of any fee, at a place which shall be specified in the notice, at all reasonable hours (specifying the same) on any week-day pending the preparation of the scheme.

(b) If the land in reference to which authority to prepare a scheme has been given as aforesaid excludes any land in regard to which an application under Article IV. was made to the Board, the local authority shall serve notice of the exclusion of such land upon such of the prescribed persons as are interested in the land so excluded.

(c) The notice to be given under paragraph (a) of this article shall also state that the local authority propose to prepare a scheme, and that any person interested or affected desiring to be heard in reference to such proposal, including any persons representing architectural or archæological societies or otherwise interested in the amenity of the proposed scheme, should give notice in writing to the clerk to the local authority within twenty-one days from the date of the notice.

(d) The local authority shall make suitable provision for affording to any person interested or affected inspecting the Order or instrument of the Board giving authority to prepare a scheme any necessary explanation or information in regard thereto.

Consideration by local authority of objections, &c.

ARTICLE IX.—In connection with the preparation of a scheme the local authority shall carefully consider all objections and representations made to them in writing by any persons interested or affected, including persons representing architectural or archæological societies or otherwise interested in the amenity of the proposed scheme.

Preparation of scheme by local authority: Draft scheme to be printed and Map No. 3 to be prepared showing details of proposals.

ARTICLE X.—When the local authority have fully considered and developed their proposals they shall cause to be printed a draft scheme embodying these proposals, and shall cause a map or, if the case so require, maps (to be marked and known as "Map No. 3" or "Map No. 3 (A)," "Map No. 3 (B)," &c.) to be prepared on a scale of not less than 25·344 inches to the mile, showing clearly by means of boundary lines defined in colour the area of the land included in the proposed scheme distinguishing between the parts of the land included within the area of the local authority and within the area of any other local authority, and also showing thereon all such particulars and details in relation to the proposed scheme as can conveniently be indicated thereon by the aid of reference letters or numbers, descriptive notes, distinguishing colours, or otherwise; and especially there shall be indicated and distinguished on the said map or maps:—

- Existing main roads;
- Roads repairable by the inhabitants at large;
- Roads or footways over which the public have a right of way;
- Roads on which tramways or light railways (a) have been constructed or (b) are authorised to be constructed;
- Roads which the local authority propose shall be made as part of the scheme, indicating the widths thereof and any proposals as to the parts thereof to be appropriated or set apart for special purposes, and the connections of such roads with existing roads;
- Roads or ways which it is proposed to stop up or divert;
- Land already built upon;
- Land not likely to be used for building purposes;
- Land proposed to be allocated for use as open spaces (a) private or (b) public;
- Land to be used for any other purposes, including, e.g., buildings for manufacturing purposes or buildings of a special character in reference either to the purposes to which they are to be applied or to their height or otherwise indicating any restrictions proposed as to the number of buildings which may be erected on any portion of land or each acre in any portion of land;

Land to be acquired by the local authority for any purpose.

Notices of scheme prepared by local authority: Deposit of draft scheme, &c., and of Map No. 3 for inspection.

ARTICLE XI.—(a) When the local authority have prepared the draft scheme they shall, at least one month before deciding upon the scheme to be submitted to the Board for approval, serve upon the prescribed persons a notice that a draft scheme has been prepared by the local authority and that it is proposed to submit the same, with any modifications that may be found desirable, to the Board for approval; and shall also give notice of such proposal by advertisement in some newspaper or newspapers circulating in the area of the local authority, and the advertisement shall be published at least one month before deciding upon the scheme to be submitted to the Board.

(b) The local authority shall, not later than the date on which the first of the said notices is given, deposit at a place convenient for the purposes of inspection and shall keep deposited thereat, for a period not being less than twenty-one days from the date on which the latest of the said notices is given, the draft scheme and the map or maps referred to in Article X., and the same shall be open for inspection by any persons interested or affected, without payment of any fee, at all reasonable hours on any week-day during the said period The local authority shall also make suitable provisions for affording to any such person inspecting the said draft scheme and map or maps any necessary explanation or information in regard thereto.

(c) The said notices shall define the land included in the proposed scheme, and shall state the place at which the draft scheme and map or maps referred to in paragraph (b) of this article are deposited and the period and times during which the same will be open for inspection by any person interested or affected. The notices shall state that the local authority will be prepared to consider any objections or representations which may be made to them in writing during the said period, and the notice to be given by advertisement shall also state that the local authority will be prepared to consider any objections or representations made in writing by any persons affected, including any persons representing any architectural or archæological society or otherwise interested in the amenity of the proposed scheme. The notices to the prescribed persons may also extend to the matters of which notice is to be given under Article XII.

Application of Article III.

ARTICLE XII.—Article III. shall, with the necessary modifications, apply also in regard to procedure before the local authority decide upon the scheme to be submitted to the Board for approval:

Provided that the procedure under paragraph (b) (1) of that article shall be adopted.

Making of scheme to be by order of local authority and Map No. 4 to be sealed in connection with the Order.

ARTICLE XIII.—When the local authority have decided upon the scheme to be submitted to the Board for their approval, they shall make an order under their seal, authenticated by the signature of their clerk or deputy clerk, making the scheme.

A map, or, if the case so require, maps, prepared in the manner and containing the particulars and details required by Article X. of these regulations, but to be marked and known as "Map No. 4" or "Map No. 4 (A)," "Map No. 4 (B)," &c., shall be sealed with the seal of the local authority in connection with the order:

Provided that if (a) the map or maps required by this article to be prepared and sealed in connection with the order would be identical in all respects with the map or maps prepared in accordance with Article X., or (b) the Board consent under Article XXVI. of these regulations, the last-mentioned map or maps may, if the local authority think fit, be used for the purposes of this article, but if so used, they shall also be marked as indicated in this article as well as in the manner required by Article X.

Application to the Board to approve scheme to be by resolution.

ARTICLE XIV.—An application to the Board to approve the scheme as made by the local authority by an order in pursuance of Article XIII, shall be made by a resolution of the local authority; and a copy of the resolution, certified by the clerk to the local authority, shall be transmitted without delay to the Board by the clerk, with a statement as to the total number of members of the local authority, the number who voted for the resolution, the number who voted against the resolution, the number who were present at the meeting but did not vote, and the number absent from the meeting.

Documents, &c., to accompany application for approval of a scheme: Map No. 5 to be prepared.

ARTICLE XV.—In connection with an application for the approval of the Board to the scheme as made by the local authority, the local authority shall furnish the Board with the documents, statements, and other particulars and information hereinafter indicated:—

(a) The certificate and exhibits required by Article XXIII., in proof of compliance with the requirements of Articles VIII., XI., and XII.

(b) A sealed copy and six other copies of the order of the local authority containing the scheme as made by them, and a certified copy of every map referred to in the order.

(c) A map on a scale of not less than 25·344 inches to the mile, or a plan drawn to some larger scale (to be marked and known as "Map No. 5") showing the area of the land included in the scheme so divided as to indicate as nearly as may be the portions of such land belonging to different owners. The map or plan shall show as regards each portion of the land the name of the owner or shall bear numbers having reference to a statement, to be annexed to the map or plan showing the names of the owners.

(d) A copy of all objections made in writing in reference to the scheme as originally prepared so far as the objections have not been withdrawn or removed in the scheme as finally made by the local authority.

(e) Any particulars and information in regard to the matters mentioned in paragraphs (d) to (k) of Article V., so far as it may be necessary to supplement or vary the particulars and information previously furnished under those paragraphs.

(f) The names and addresses of the owners of each parcel of the land included in the scheme, and the approximate extent of each such parcel.

(g) Information to show whether the scheme admits of satisfactory provision being made in regard to the supply of water, gas, or electricity within the area included in the scheme.

(h) Information in regard to any tramways or light railways constructed or authorised to be constructed in the area included in the scheme or in the immediate neighbourhood thereof.

(i) Information as to the extent to which it may be contemplated or necessary under the scheme that land should be acquired by (1) the local authority submitting the scheme or (2) any other local authority, and as to the probability of the lands being acquired by agreement.

(j) Particulars in regard to any land included in the scheme which belongs to (1) the local authority submitting the scheme or (2) any other local authority ; the purposes for which and the authority under which such land was acquired or is held ; and also information as to any proposal in regard to its use for any other purposes under the scheme.

(k) If the local authority are of opinion that any property will be injuriously affected by the making of the scheme, within the meaning of the Act of 1909, information, so far as it is practicable to give the same, in regard to such property and as to the extent to which the local authority consider that it may be injuriously affected.

(l) Detailed particulars of any works which are to be executed under the scheme by any person or local authority, so far as any such particulars are available.

(m) If the scheme contains provisions suspending any enactment contained in a public general Act, a full explanation of any such provisions and the reasons which are considered to justify their insertion.

(n) If the scheme contains provisions suspending any other statutory enactments, byelaws, regulations, or other provisions which are in operation in the area included in the scheme, a full explanation of any such provisions and the reasons which are considered to justify their insertion.

(o) Particulars of any land forming part of any common, open space, or allotment, within the meaning of section 73 of the Act of 1909, which is within the area included in the scheme, and of any part of that land which under the scheme is authorised to be acquired or appropriated to any other purpose, and particulars in regard to any land proposed to be given in exchange for the land so to be acquired or appropriated.

(p) Particulars of any land included in the scheme which is situate within the distance prescribed by regulations made by the Board under section 74 of the Act of 1909 from any of the royal palaces or parks.

Estimate and particulars as to cost of scheme: Information as to area, population, rates, debt, local Acts, orders, byelaws, &c.

ARTICLE XVI.—(a) In connection with an application to the Board for their approval of the scheme prepared by the local authority, information shall be furnished in regard to the estimated cost of carrying out the scheme, so far as the cost is to be borne by (1) the local authority making the application and (2) any other local authority. Separate particulars shall be given under the following heads :—

Expenditure.

Purchase of land for open spaces.
Purchase of land for other purposes, specifying them.
Purchase of buildings.
Demolition or alteration of buildings.
Compensation in respect of property injuriously affected by the scheme.
Making or alteration of roads or ways.
Sewerage or drainage.
Cost of preparing the scheme.
Other purposes, specifying them.

Receipts.

In respect of property increased in value.
From other sources, specifying them.

(b) If the statement or statements of particulars furnished under Article VI. (b) or (c) has or have owing to lapse of time or other circumstances become inaccurate in any material respect, an amended statement or amended statements of such particulars shall be supplied.

(c) There shall also be supplied a list and a copy of all local Acts, Provisional Orders, byelaws, or regulations in force in the area of any local authority any part of whose district is included in the scheme; and in the case of any part of a district other than that of the local authority making the application to the Board being so included, such list and copy shall be supplied by the local authority of that district to the local authority making the application, who shall transmit them to the Board.

Notice by advertisement of submission of scheme to the Board: Objections, &c., may be made to the Board.

ARTICLE XVII.—When the local authority have submitted to the Board for their approval the scheme prepared by the local authority they shall forthwith give notice of such submission by advertisement in some newspaper or newspapers circulating in the area of the local authority. The notice shall also state that a copy of the scheme submitted to the Board may be inspected by persons affected, including persons representing architectural or archæological societies or otherwise interested in the amenity of the scheme, at a place to be specified in the notice, without payment of any fee, at all reasonable hours (specifying the same) on any week-day within a period of one month from the date of the notice, and that any objections and representations by any such persons should be made in writing addressed to the Board, at their office, within the said period. A copy of the newspaper or newspapers containing such advertisement shall be forwarded to the Board by the clerk to the local authority.

Notices of modifications or conditions proposed by the Board: Objections, &c., may be made to the Board.

ARTICLE XVIII.—(a) If the Board propose to make any modifications in, or to attach any conditions to, the scheme submitted for their approval and transmit to the local authority a draft Order for approving the scheme with such modifications and conditions, the local authority shall within fourteen days after the receipt of the draft Order serve notice upon the prescribed persons and also give notice by advertisement in some newspaper or newspapers circulating in the area of the local authority that the Board have caused a draft Order to be prepared for approving the scheme subject to modifications or conditions, that a copy of the draft Order may be inspected and any information in regard thereto may be obtained, without payment of any fee, at a place which shall be specified in the notice, at all reasonable hours (specifying the same) on any week-day during the period of one month from the date of the notice, and that any objections or representations in regard to such modifications and conditions should be made in writing and addressed to the Board at their office within a period of one month from the date of the serving of the notice on the prescribed persons or the date of the notice by advertisement as the case may be.

(b) The local authority shall furnish the Board within a period of one month from the receipt of the draft Order with any objections or representations which they may desire to make in regard to the proposed modifications and conditions, and shall also within the same period transmit to the Board the certificate and exhibits required by Article XXIII. in proof of compliance with the requirements of this article.

Notice by advertisement of intention of the Board to approve scheme and to publish notice of such intention in London Gazette.

ARTICLE XIX.—(a) When the Board have decided to approve the scheme submitted for their approval, with or without modifications, and notify the local authority of the decision and transmit to the local authority a draft Order for approving the scheme, the local authority shall within fourteen days after the receipt of such notification give notice by advertisement in some newspaper or newspapers circulating in the area of the local authority that the Board intend to approve the scheme and propose, after the receipt by the Board of a copy of the newspaper or newspapers containing the advertisement, to publish forthwith in the London Gazette, in accordance with sub-section (4) of section 54 of the Act of 1909, a notice of such their intention, and that any person or authority interested and deciding to object to the scheme being approved should make his or their objection in the manner prescribed by Article XX. within twenty-one days from the date of such publication in the London Gazette.

(b) A copy of the newspaper or newspapers containing the advertisement shall be forwarded to the Board by the clerk to the local authority immediately on the publication thereof.

Appendix II.

(c) The local authority shall deposit at a place convenient for the purposes of inspection and shall keep deposited thereat the draft Order forwarded to them under this article, for the full period of twenty-one days from the date of the said publication in the London Gazette, and the draft Order shall be open for inspection by any person interested, without payment of any fee, at all reasonable hours on any week-day during the said period.

Prescribing manner of objection to approval of scheme under and for the purposes of section 54 (4) of the Act of 1909.

ARTICLE XX.—When the notice of the intention of the Board to approve a scheme has been published in pursuance of sub-section (4) of section 54 of the Act of 1909, any person or authority interested and deciding to object to the scheme being approved shall make his or their objection in the following manner, that is to say :—

The objection shall be made to and be brought before the Board by means of a letter, or other representation in writing, which shall be addressed and posted, or shall be otherwise given, sent, or delivered to the Board at their office. The letter or representation shall indicate clearly the scheme to which the objection is taken, and shall state fully in what respects the person or authority objecting claims or claim to be interested in the scheme and the grounds on which the objection is made.

PROCEDURE AFTER THE APPROVAL OF THE SCHEME.

Notices of approval of scheme by the Board.

ARTICLE XXI.—(a) The local authority, on receipt of a copy of the Order of the Board approving a scheme, shall without delay first publish notice of the scheme by advertisement in some newspaper circulating in the area of the local authority. The notice shall state that the scheme has been approved, with or without modifications or conditions as the case may be, and that the Order of the Board giving the approval and a copy of any map or plan referred to in the Order or scheme may be inspected and any necessary explanation or information in regard thereto may be obtained without payment of any fee at a place which shall be specified in the notice at all reasonable hours (specifying the same) on any week-day during the period of three months after the date of the Order. They shall also, not earlier than the second day after the first publication in a newspaper as aforesaid, serve upon the prescribed persons a copy of the Order approving the scheme and a notice that a copy of any map or plan referred to in the Order or scheme may be inspected, and any necessary explanation or information in regard thereto may be obtained as above mentioned.

(b) The local authority shall make suitable provision for affording any person inspecting the Order or scheme or any map or plan referred to therein within the said period any necessary explanation or information in regard thereto.

(c) The local authority shall within fourteen days after the receipt of the said Order transmit to the Board the certificate and exhibits required by Article XXIII. in proof of compliance with the requirements of paragraph (a) of this Article.

GENERAL.

Service of notices.

ARTICLE XXII.—A notice required to be served in pursuance of these regulations shall be served :—

(a) by delivery of the same personally to the person required to be served, or, if such person is absent abroad or cannot be found, to his agent ; or

(b) by leaving the same at the usual or last known place of abode of such person as aforesaid ; or

(c) by post addressed to the usual or last known place of abode of such person ; or

(d) in the case of a notice required to be served on a local authority or corporate body or company, by delivering the same to their clerk or secretary or leaving the same at his office with some person employed there, or by post addressed to such clerk or secretary at his office ;

Provided that if the owner of any land is not known to and after reasonable inquiry cannot be found by the local authority then the notice may be served by leaving it, addressed to the owner, with some occupier of the land, or, if there be not an occupier, then by causing it to be put up on some part of the land or in some conspicuous place or places in the immediate neighbourhood thereof: Appendix II.

Provided also that an accidental omission to serve a notice required under these regulations shall not render any proceedings thereunder invalid.

Proofs of compliance with certain regulations to be furnished.

ARTICLE XXIII.—Proofs of compliance with the requirements of Articles II., III., VIII., XI., XII., XVIII., and XXI. shall to the extent herein mentioned be furnished to the Board by certificates signed by the clerk to the local authority or other person competent to give such certificates. The certificates shall in each case specify the manner in which the notices required by those articles to be served upon any person or body were served, and the names of the persons or bodies so served, and shall also certify that the other requirements of those articles as to notices required to be given and as to the deposit of maps or plans or any documents required to be deposited have been duly complied with. There shall also be annexed to the certificates as exhibits:—

In regard to Articles II. and III.,—

(1) a copy of each form of notice served, (2) a copy of the Map No. 1 deposited for inspection, and (3) a copy of each newspaper containing the advertisement.

In regard to Article VIII.,—

(1) a copy of each newspaper containing the advertisement, and (2) a copy of the form of notice served under paragraph (b).

In regard to Articles XI. and XII.,—

(1) a copy of each form of notice served, (2) a copy of each newspaper containing the advertisement, (3) a statement showing the several parcels of land in respect of which notice was served upon each owner, lessee and occupier, (4) a copy of the draft scheme prepared by the local authority and deposited for inspection, and (5) a copy of each map deposited for inspection.

In regard to Article XVIII.,—

(1) a copy of the form of notice served, and (2) a copy of each newspaper containing the advertisement.

In regard to Article XXI.,—

(1) a copy of the Order, (2) a copy of the form of notice served, and (3) a copy of the newspaper containing the advertisement.

Provisions as to maps.

ARTICLE XXIV.—(a) The maps required in pursuance of these regulations shall be Ordnance maps wherever such maps are published in respect of the district or area in relation to which the maps are required, shall be on a scale not less than that specified in each case, shall, subject to the proviso hereto, be mounted on linen and folded in book form unless the Board approve of some other arrangement, and shall have a scale properly drawn thereon: Provided that as regards Maps Nos. 1 and 2 the copy to be sent to the Board may, if the local authority think fit, be in sections consisting of the sheets of Ordnance maps unmounted but bound together and prefaced by an index map on the scale of six inches to the mile showing in a connected form the area proposed for inclusion in a scheme.

(b) Any person interested in or affected by any scheme or proposed scheme shall be entitled to a copy of or extract from any map or plan required in pursuance of these regulations, on payment of a reasonable fee to be determined by the local authority, and shall be entitled to inspect at all reasonable times any map or plan referred to in Article XXI. Any fees received by the local authority shall be carried to the credit of the fund liable to be charged with the expenses of the local authority in connection with the scheme.

Local authority to furnish all information, &c., required by the Board.

ARTICLE XXV.—The local authority shall prepare and furnish to the Board all such maps, plans, sections, elevations and specifications, and all such particulars or information as the Board shall require to be prepared and furnished in connection with any scheme or proposed scheme at any stage of the proceedings in relation thereto.

Board may consent to departures from regulations.

ARTICLE XXVI.—Where the Board are satisfied that there is reasonable cause for dispensing, either conditionally or unconditionally, with compliance with any requirement of these regulations, or for varying any such requirement, the Board may, by Order or otherwise as they may think fit, give the necessary dispensation, or may make and give effect to the necessary variation

Appendix II. and to any incidents or consequences of that variation; and, in the case of any such dispensation when given subject to any condition, or in the case of any such variation, the local authority or other authorities or persons, as the case may be, shall comply in all respects with the condition or variation and with any requirement of the Order or other writing or direction of the Board giving the dispensation or making the variation as if the condition, variation or requirement formed part of these regulations:

Provided that the Board shall not exercise their powers under this article in such a manner as to dispense with any provisions of these regulations which are necessary to give effect to the requirements of the Act of 1909 or as so to vary any such provisions that they would cease to give effect to those requirements.

Interpretation.

ARTICLE XXVII.—In these regulations:

"The Act of 1909" means the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909;

"The Board" means the Local Government Board;

The word "owner" or "owners" has the same meaning as in the Lands Clauses Acts;

The expression "prescribed persons" means,—

(a) the owners of the land included or proposed to be included in the scheme or proposed scheme;

(b) the council of any borough or of any urban or rural district within which any part of that land is comprised, and also, if any main road is or may be affected, the county council;

(c) the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries if in the scheme or proposed scheme there is any provision for the acquisition or appropriation to any other purpose of any land forming part of any common, open space, or allotment within the meaning of section 73 of the Act of 1909;

(d) the Commissioners of Works if any land included in the scheme or proposed scheme is situate within the distance prescribed by regulations made by the Board under section 74 of the Act of 1909 from any of the royal palaces or parks;

(e) the Board of Trade and, in relation to light railways, the Light Railway Commissioners (so far as regards the notice to be given under Article II.), if any land is proposed to be included in the application on which tramways or light railways are constructed or are authorised to be constructed. The notice served in any such case should be endorsed with the name or other identification of the tramway or light railway in respect of which the notice is served.

Repeal of regulations of 1910 with savings.

ARTICLE XXVIII.—(1) Subject as hereinafter provided the regulations of 1910 are hereby revoked except so far as they apply to the adoption by a local authority of any scheme proposed by any owner or owners of land:

Provided that—

(a) Such revocation shall not affect or prejudice any proceedings that have been taken or are being taken under the Regulations of 1910;

(b) Any proceeding that has been commenced under any provisions of the Regulations of 1910 may be completed in accordance with those provisions, or may be continued in accordance with the provisions of the regulations by this Order prescribed as the local authority may think fit; and

(c) Any subsequent proceedings shall be taken in accordance with the provisions of the regulations by this Order prescribed.

(2) If any doubt arises as to whether any particular proceeding shall be commenced or completed in accordance with the Regulations of 1910 or in accordance with the regulations by this Order prescribed the matter may be determined by the Local Government Board whose decision shall be final and conclusive.

Short title.

ARTICLE XXIX.—These regulations may be cited as the Town Planning Procedure Regulations (Preparation of Schemes by Local Authorities), 1914.

Given under the Seal of Office of the Local Government Board, this eleventh day of February, in the year one thousand nine hundred and fourteen.

LOANS.

PAYMENT OUT OF BORROWED MONEY OF WAGES OF PERMANENT WORKMEN—CIRCULAR.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD, WHITEHALL, S.W.,
4th February, 1907.

SIR,—I am directed by the Local Government Board to state that on several occasions they have had before them the question whether, when a local authority themselves carry out works by means of borrowed money, the wages of workmen permanently employed by the local authority can properly be defrayed out of the loan, if the men are engaged on the work.

The Board have reason to believe that the view which they have taken with regard to this matter has not been clearly understood in some instances, and in order to remove any misapprehension with regard to it, they direct me to enclose a copy of questions put to the President on the subject in the House of Commons last session, together with a copy of his replies.

I am, &c.,
S. B. PROVIS, Secretary.

The Clerk to the County Council, or
The Town Clerk, or
The Clerk to the District Council.

WEDNESDAY, 2ND MAY, 1906.

Mr. Hudson: I beg to ask the President of the Local Government Board if he has seen the report of the inquiry held by Mr. H. Percy Boulnois, M.I.C.E., Inspector of the Department, into an application made by the city council of Newcastle-on-Tyne for leave to borrow £7,665 for works of street improvements, wherein the said inspector stated that the Board would not sanction the loan if the corporation regular staff were to be employed on the work, but if special men were employed for the purpose the loan might be granted; and can he state the reason of this order if such order has been given.

Mr. John Burns: The view taken by the Local Government Board is that the wages of workmen permanently employed by a local authority should not be paid out of borrowed money, and consequently it is their practice to exclude from the amount to be borrowed for works proposed to be executed by the authority any sums which would be paid in respect of such wages. In the present instance, I understand from the inspector's report that he thinks that each of the intended works will be carried out by gangs specially employed for the purpose. If this course is adopted, there will be no objection to including their remuneration in the loan.

Mr. Hudson: Will this rule in any way prevent municipal corporations from doing their own work?

Mr. John Burns: Certainly not. It is drawn up in the interest of sound, equitable finance.

THURSDAY, 20TH DECEMBER, 1906.

Mr. Snowden: I beg to ask the President of the Local Government Board if it is the practice of the Board to decline to sanction in a loan for a permanent improvement any sum paid as wages to corporation workmen engaged on the work, while no such deduction for wages is made if the work be done by private contractors; if he is aware that at a recent inquiry at Wrexham the inspector of the Board was unable to give any reason for such a practice, and that the borough accountant said he had never been able to understand on what principle the rule was based; and whether, in view of the discouragement to direct employment by this rule, he will withdraw it.

Mr. John Burns: The view taken by the Local Government Board is that the wages of workmen permanently employed by a local authority should not be paid out of borrowed money, and consequently it is their practice to exclude from the amount to be borrowed for works to be executed by the authority any sums which would be paid in respect of such wages. I have no informa-

Appendix II. tion as to what the inspector said on the subject at the inquiry at Wrexham, but I understand that in that case the sum proposed to be borrowed did not include any sum to be paid to the regular staff of the town council. There does not appear to me to be any sufficient reason for altering the rule in this matter. My hon. friend will observe that the rule only applies where the workmen are permanently employed by the local authority, and does not prevent the authority from carrying out works themselves by means of men engaged for the purpose.

MARKETS.

CIRCULAR AS TO THE PUBLIC HEALTH ACT, 1908.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD, WHITEHALL, S.W.,
7th September, 1908.

SIR,—I am directed by the Local Government Board to call the attention of the rural district council to the Public Health Act, 1908 (8 Edw. 7, c. 6), which has recently been passed and which has for its object to make certain sections of the Public Health Act, 1875, with respect to the provision and regulation of markets applicable in rural districts.

The Act is to be construed as one with the Act of 1875. Under section 166 of that Act urban district councils are empowered,

(1) to provide a market place and construct a market house and other conveniences for the purpose of holding markets,
(2) to provide houses and places for weighing carts,
(3) to make convenient approaches to the market,
(4) to provide all such matters and things as may be necessary for the convenient use of the market,
(5) to purchase and take on lease land, and public and private rights in markets and tolls for any of the above-mentioned purposes, and
(6) to take stallages, rents, and tolls in respect of the use by any person of the market.

No market may, however, be established in pursuance of the section so as to interfere with any rights, powers, or privileges enjoyed within the district by any person without his consent.

In the case of an urban district council other than a town council the powers above referred to can only be exercised with the consent of the owners and ratepayers of the district.

For the purpose of enabling any urban authority to establish or regulate markets, section 167 of the Act of 1875 incorporates certain provisions of the Markets and Fairs Clauses Act, 1847 (10 & 11 Vict. c. 14), in so far as they relate to markets, namely :—the provisions (1) with respect to the holding of the market, and the protection thereof (sections 12 to 16 inclusive); (2) with respect to weighing goods and carts (sections 21 to 30 inclusive); and (3) with respect to the stallages, rents, and tolls (sections 31 to 41 inclusive). The same section enables an urban authority with respect to any market belonging to them to make byelaws for any of the purposes mentioned in section 42 of the Markets and Fairs Clauses Act, 1847, so far as those purposes relate to markets, and requires that printed copies of any byelaws so made shall be conspicuously exhibited in the market. It is necessary that the byelaws should be confirmed by the Board, and, similarly, any tolls leviable by the local authority must receive the Board's approval.

The powers thus conferred upon urban authorities are supplemented by section 168 of the Act of 1875, which enables these authorities to purchase market rights, powers, and privileges from market companies.

The new Act will enable any rural district council, with the consent of the Board, to exercise with respect to the provision or regulation of markets any powers which an urban district council may exercise with the consent of owners and ratepayers under section 166 of the Public Health Act, 1875, as above-mentioned. In the case of a rural district council, the consent of the owners and ratepayers will not be required. And sections 167 and 168 of that Act are made applicable with respect to the exercise of those powers by a rural district council in the same manner as they apply with respect to the exercise of those powers by an urban district council.

Cases in which rural district councils require to exercise powers under the new Act may not be very numerous, but the need for such powers has occasionally been shown, and it has been thought desirable that they should be in existence. Where, for example, it is the custom to hold live stock markets on a portion of the public highway, the provision of a properly constructed and regulated market place is frequently expedient not merely on sanitary grounds, but for the well-being of the animals offered for sale, and for the convenience both of persons attending the market and of the users of the highway.

It will be observed that the powers given by the new Act can only be exercised with the consent of the Board. In any case where they may be thought to be needed the rural district council in applying for consent should furnish the Board with full particulars of the circumstances which in the opinion of the council render the application necessary and of the action which they would propose to take if consent were given.

The Board may mention that the provision of a market, with proper accessories, will be a purpose for which the council will be enabled to borrow money under the Public Health Act, 1875.

The expenses of the council in relation to the maintenance of any market which they may establish will be defrayable as general expenses unless they are determined by order of the Board to be special expenses under section 229 of the Act of 1875.

As already indicated, any byelaws made by the council with respect to any market provided by them under the provisions of section 167 of the Act of 1875, as applied by the new Act, must be submitted to, and confirmed by the Board before they can take effect, and the requirements in relation to byelaws contained in sections 182 to 185 of the Act of 1875 must be otherwise complied with as regards any byelaws so made.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

S. B. PROVIS, Secretary.

The Clerk to the Rural District Council.

MARKETS AND SALES ORDER, 1910.

The Board of Agriculture and Fisheries, by virtue and in exercise of the powers vested in them under the Diseases of Animals Acts, 1894 to 1909, and of every other power enabling them in this behalf, do order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows :—

REGULATION OF MARKETS AND SALES.

1.—(1) A market or sale of animals shall not be held in or upon any market-place, highway, saleyard, or other premises, until after the expiration of fifteen days from the date on which the premises were previously so used, unless the premises, or a part thereof sufficient to accommodate the number of animals usually exposed at such market or sale, are so paved with cement, concrete, asphalt, or other hard material impervious to water, as to permit of the same being effectually cleansed by washing.

(2) This article shall not be deemed to prohibit the holding of any lawful fair on two or more consecutive days.

CLEANSING AND DISINFECTION OF MARKETS AND SALES.

2.—(1) Any market-place, highway, saleyard, or other premises, in or upon which markets or sales of animals are habitually held, shall, as soon as practicable after being used for the purposes of a market or sale, and before being again so used, be cleansed and disinfected as follows:

(i.) The premises shall be thoroughly scraped or swept and such parts thereof as permit of the same being effectually cleansed by washing shall be so cleansed ; and after such cleansing the premises shall be disinfected in manner prescribed by this Article.

(ii.) All pens, hurdles, and fittings used in connection with the market or sale shall, as soon as practicable after being used for such purpose, and before being again so used, be cleansed by scraping and washing, and after such cleansing shall be disinfected in manner prescribed by this Article.

(iii.) Any premises or thing required to be disinfected shall be thoroughly coated or washed with—

(a) a one per cent. (minimum) solution of chloride of lime containing not less than thirty per cent. of available chlorine ; or

(b) a five per cent. (minimum) solution of carbolic acid (containing not less than ninety-five per cent. of actual carbolic acid), followed by a thorough sprinkling with limewash ; or

(c) a disinfectant equal in disinfective efficiency to the abovementioned solution of carbolic acid, followed by a thorough sprinkling with limewash.

(iv.) The scrapings and sweepings shall forthwith be well mixed with quicklime and be effectually removed from contact with animals.

(2) The cleansing and disinfection required by this Article shall, in the case of a market-place, saleyard, or other premises in the occupation of any person, or any pens, hurdles, or fittings used in connection with a market or sale held on such premises, be carried out by that person, and in any other case be carried out by the local authority of the district.

(3) The Board may by licence modify the requirements of this article in respect of the whole or any part of a market-place, highway, saleyard, or other premises, or in respect of any pens, hurdles, or fittings used in connection with a market or sale.

LOCAL AUTHORITY TO ENFORCE ORDER.

3. The provisions of this Order, except where it is otherwise provided, shall be executed and enforced by the local authority.

OFFENCES.

4. If a market or sale of animals is held in contravention of this Order, the person holding the same, and the owner or consignee of each animal exposed thereat, and the person exposing the same thereat, and the purchaser thereat of any animal, such last-mentioned person or such purchaser knowing the market or sale to be held in contravention as aforesaid, shall, each according to and in respect of his own acts and defaults, be deemed guilty of an offence against the Act of 1894.

INTERPRETATION.

5. In this Order, unless the context otherwise requires—

"Animals" means cattle, sheep, and goats, and all other ruminating animals, and swine :

"Local authority" means the local authority of the district for the purposes of the Act of 1894 :

"Person" includes any body of persons corporate or unincorporate :

"The Act of 1894" means the Diseases of Animals Act, 1894 :

Other terms have the same meaning as in the Act of 1894.

EXTENT.

6. This Order extends to England, Wales, and Scotland.

REVOCATION.

7.—(1) The Orders described in the schedule hereto are hereby revoked as from the commencement of this Order.

(2) Such revocation shall not affect the operation of any licence issued under, or referring to, an Order hereby revoked, and a reference in any such licence to a provision in an Order hereby revoked shall be construed as a reference to the corresponding provision in this Order.

COMMENCEMENT.

8. This Order shall come into operation on the first day of October, nineteen hundred and eleven.

SHORT TITLE.

9. This Order may be cited as the Markets and Sales Order of 1910.

In witness whereof the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries have hereunto set their official seal this twenty-ninth day of June, nineteen hundred and ten.

T. H. ELLIOTT, Secretary.

NATIONAL INSURANCE.

NATIONAL INSURANCE: EMPLOYEES OF LOCAL AUTHORITIES.

Under the National Insurance Act, 1911, a doubt existed as to the liability to compulsory insurance of certain classes of persons employed under a local or other public authority, a question having arisen as to whether such persons were employed under a contract of service. The doubt has now been removed by section 6 of the National Insurance Act, 1913, which came into operation on the 1st October. This section brings within the scope of the compulsory provisions of the Acts—

EMPLOYMENT UNDER ANY LOCAL OR OTHER PUBLIC AUTHORITY UNLESS EXCLUDED BY SPECIAL ORDER.

An Order has now been issued and is now in operation excluding the following classes of employment under local or other public authorities :—

Employment as chaplain or other minister of religion.
Employment as a duly qualified medical practitioner.
Employment as a coroner or deputy coroner.
Employment as a public analyst.
Employment as a public vaccinator.
Employment as superintendent registrar or deputy superintendent registrar, registrar of births and deaths or deputy registrar of births and deaths, and registrar of marriages or deputy registrar of marriages.
Employment under a contract of apprenticeship without money payment.
Employment as an unpaid officer of any local or other public authority.
Employment otherwise than as an officer or servant of a local or other public authority, not being an employment specified in Part I. (a), (b) (c), or (d) of the First Schedule to the National Insurance Act, 1911.

Persons employed under any local or public authority not coming under one of the above classes are therefore liable to be insured as from the 1st October subject to the ordinary conditions of exception, e.g., on account of the rate of remuneration in individual cases for an employment (otherwise than by way of manual labour) being over £160 a year, or on account of the grant of a certificate of exception to a particular authority under Part II. (b) of the First Schedule to the Act of 1911.

Appendix II.

In regard to part-time officers, e.g., some assistant overseers and sanitary inspectors, attention is drawn to the fact that a person who proves that he is ordinarily and mainly dependent for his livelihood on the earnings derived from an occupation which is not employment within the meaning of the Acts may now claim a certificate of exemption, relieving him but not the employing authority from the obligation to pay contributions. Any application for exemption should be made to the local officer of Customs and Excise.

Where there existed a doubt whether a particular person employed under a local authority was liable to be insured prior to the 1st October, and contributions were paid pending the decision of the question, such contributions will be placed to the member's credit as if he had been properly insured as an employed contributor from the time when the contributions commenced. On the other hand a person whose position was in doubt up to the 1st October and for whom no contributions were previously paid will be insurable from that date alone.

Steps should be taken to pay contributions in all cases where persons are now insurable as from the 1st October. A card for the fifth quarter should be stamped for the twelfth and thirteenth weeks whether or not contributions have been paid previously. By this means entry into insurance before the date (namely, October 13th) at which a person becoming an employed contributor would ordinarily cease to be entitled to full benefits for the normal contributions, will be established.

National Health Insurance Commission (England),
Buckingham Gate, London, S.W.
October, 1913.

THE NATIONAL HEALTH INSURANCE (EMPLOYMENT UNDER LOCAL AND PUBLIC AUTHORITIES) EXCLUSION ORDER, 1913, DATED OCTOBER 11, 1913, BEING PROVISIONAL SPECIAL ORDER, MADE BY THE NATIONAL HEALTH INSURANCE JOINT COMMITTEE, ACTING JOINTLY WITH THE INSURANCE COMMISSIONERS AND THE WELSH INSURANCE COMMISSIONERS, UNDER SECTION 6 OF THE NATIONAL INSURANCE ACT, 1913 (3 AND 4 GEO. 5, C. 37), EXCLUDING CERTAIN EMPLOYMENTS UNDER LOCAL AND PUBLIC AUTHORITIES FROM PART I. OF THE FIRST SCHEDULE TO THE NATIONAL INSURANCE ACT, 1911 (1 AND 2 GEO. 5, C. 55).

Whereas by section 6 of the National Insurance Act, 1913, it is provided that employment under any local or other public authority, except such as may be excluded by Special Order, shall be employment within Part I. of the National Insurance Act, 1911 (hereinafter called "the principal Act"):

And whereas by the National Insurance (Joint Committee) Regulations, 1911 and 1913, the National Health Insurance Joint Committee (hereinafter called "the Joint Committee") is to exercise jointly with the several bodies of Commissioners constituted under the principal Act the power of making the Special Orders aforesaid:

And whereas by virtue of section 82 of the principal Act the Welsh Insurance Commissioners for the purpose of carrying Part I. of the Act into effect in Wales have the like powers and duties as are by the principal Act conferred and imposed on the Insurance Commissioners:

And whereas by the National Health Insurance (Special Orders Acceleration) Order, 1912, it is provided that in any case in which the Joint Committee, acting either alone or jointly with the several bodies of Commissioners, or with any one or more of those bodies, have published notice of their proposal to make a Special Order under the Act, they may, if they certify that for the purpose of bringing into operation Part I. of the Act, it is expedient that the Special Order should come into operation forthwith, make the Order to come into operation forthwith as a Provisional Special Order, but that such a Provisional Special Order shall only continue in force until the Special Order has been made in accordance with the provisions of section 113 of, and the Ninth Schedule to the principal Act;

And whereas by sub-section (2) of section 43 of the National Insurance Act, 1913, it is provided that that Act shall be deemed to be part of Part I. of the principal Act:

And whereas the Joint Committee, acting jointly with the Insurance Commissioners and the Welsh Insurance Commissioners, have published notice of their proposal to make a Special Order in the form of this Order:

Now therefore the Joint Committee, acting jointly with the Insurance Commissioners and the Welsh Insurance Commissioners, hereby certify that, for the purpose of bringing into operation Part I. of the Act, it is expedient that the said Special Order should come into operation forthwith, and in pursuance of the powers conferred upon them by the principal Act, and the National Insurance Act, 1913, and by the National Insurance (Joint Committee) Regulations, 1912 and 1913, hereby make the said Special Order to come into operation forthwith as a Provisional Special Order, and accordingly order as follows:—

1. Employment of the class specified in the schedule to this Order under any local or other public authority respectively, shall be deemed not to be employment within the meaning of Part I. of the principal Act.

2.—(1) This Order may be cited as the National Health Insurance (Employment under Local and Public Authorities) Exclusion Order, 1913.

(2) The Interpretation Act, 1889, applies to the interpretation of this Order as it applies to the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

Given under the Seal of Office of the National Health Insurance Joint Committee this 11th day oı October, in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

OFFENSIVE TRADES.

CIRCULAR, 11TH OCTOBER, 1910.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD, WHITEHALL, S.W.

SIR,—I am directed by the Local Government Board to advert to the Order made by them putting in force in the district of the council section 51 of the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1907. In drawing the attention of the council to the terms of sub-section (1) of the section, I am to point out that an offensive trade which is not referred to by name in section 112 of the Public Health Act, 1875, and which would, under that Act, have required the consent of the council for its establishment may, now that section 51 of the Act of 1907 is in force, be established without such consent, unless it is specifically declared to be an offensive trade by an Order confirmed by the Board under sub-section (1) of the section.

The Board suggest that the council should consider whether in respect of their district there are any trades, other than those specifically named in section 112 of the Act of 1875, which it is desirable to deal with by a Declaratory Order issued under section 51 of the Act of 1907. The Board will be prepared to entertain an application for the confirmation of such an Order, but they would, of course, have to consider any representations which might be made to them on behalf of the trades affected. They suggest that the Order should take the form of a declaration under the seal of the council such as is printed overleaf, and the Board would be glad to see the Order in draft before it is formally made. At the same time they would wish to be furnished as regards any trade included in the Order but not dealt with in the model byelaws with respect to offensive trades,* with a copy of any representation by the medical officer of health as to the carrying on of the trade in the district, or with a report from that officer giving particulars of the trade and showing the need for greater control over it.

The Board are also of opinion that where byelaws are in force with respect to offensive trades there might be some advantage if, after the Declaratory Order has been made, the council were to re-enact the byelaws under the somewhat wider powers of section 51 (2) of the Act of 1907. Copies of the model byelaws can be obtained on application to the Board, together with a memorandum containing instructions for submitting byelaws to the Board. If the council decide to remake the byelaws the draft could be submitted for consideration without waiting for the Declaratory Order to take effect.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

H. C. MONRO, Secretary.

OFFICERS.

APPOINTMENT OF MEMBERS AND EX-MEMBERS TO PAID OFFICES—CIRCULAR.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD, WHITEHALL, S.W.,
5th May, 1911.

SIR,—I am directed by the Local Government Board to state that they have had under consideration the question of the appointment to paid offices under town councils, and urban and rural district councils, of persons who are or have been members of those councils.

Representations on this subject have been addressed to the Board from time to time, and they have been reminded of the rule made by the Registrar-General with regard to the office of registrar. The Royal Commission on the Poor Laws and Relief of Distress referred to that rule with approval, and have recommended that "a local authority should not be allowed to appoint an ex-member as a paid officer unless he or she has ceased to be a member of the local authority for a period of, say, twelve months before appointment."

The Board are in agreement with this view, and they feel assured that councils generally recognise the impropriety of appointing to paid offices persons who are or have been recently members of their own body.

The Board, therefore, think it necessary to intimate generally that in future, unless very special grounds are shown, they will not be prepared to sanction the appointment to any office, in respect of which their sanction may be requested, of any person who is or has been within twelve months a member of the council making the appointment.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
H. C. MONRO, Secretary.

The Town Clerk, or
The Clerk to the District Council.

MEMORANDUM OF THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD IN REGARD TO APPOINTMENTS OF MEDICAL OFFICERS OF HEALTH AND INSPECTORS OF NUISANCES.

1. Appointment of Medical Officers of Health.

The Board fully recognise the excellent work which has been done by many medical officers of health who have also been engaged in private practice. Their experience has shown them, however, that it is desirable, wherever practicable, that the person holding the office of medical officer of health should not be so engaged. The private interests of a general practitioner are apt to conflict with the public duties to be performed by a medical officer of health, and it is unnecessary to specify instances in which such conflict may arise. Moreover, an officer whose whole time is given to public appointments is more likely than a general practitioner to possess the special qualifications in public health which the duties increasingly thrown upon medical officers of health render desirable, and he has greater opportunities of making himself familiar with the law and practice of public health. Parliament has recognised the necessity of special qualification in public health by making it incumbent on county councils and on the councils of districts with a population of over 50,000 to appoint as medical officer of health a medical man who, in addition to the ordinary qualifications, possesses a diploma in public health or sanitary science. The medical officer of health to a county council is debarred by section 68 (7) of the Housing and Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909, from engaging in private practice, and may not hold other public appointments without the Board's consent.

The councils of nearly all the county boroughs and of many other large districts have, with great benefit to the population whose public health they protect, appointed as medical officers of health men with special qualification

Appendix II. and experience in public health matters, and have made it a condition that they shall not engage in private practice.

2. Combination of Districts for the Appointment of a Medical Officer of Health.

In the case of smaller districts the advantage of obtaining the services of a man who is not engaged in private practice may frequently be secured, either by combination with neighbouring districts for the appointment of a joint medical officer of health, or by the combination of other public appointments with that of medical officer of health. The Board trust that on the occurrence of a vacancy, councils who are not so served will consider whether they can by some such means secure the services of a medical officer of health who is not in private practice.

Under section 191 of the Public Health Act, 1875, two or more councils may agree to appoint the same medical officer of health, and under section 286 of the same Act it is open to any council to represent to the Board that the combination of two or more districts for the appointment of a medical officer of health would diminish expense or otherwise be to the advantage of the districts, and the Board may make an Order giving effect to such a representation. Under these provisions several combinations have been made with advantage to the districts concerned.

The Board's experience of these combinations is that they have secured for the districts included in them a more skilled and a more unfettered supervision in public health matters than can be obtained by the smaller districts who have not entered into such combinations, and generally at no increase of cost; in fact, the contribution to a joint salary may sometimes be less than the amount which should be paid to a separate medical officer of health. This experience has led the Board to urge such combinations in other cases. They have found, however, that local authorities frequently raise two objections to combinations: the first that they would thereby lose full control over their officer, and the second that they would not be able to command his services in case of emergency as he might live at some distance from their district, or might be engaged in urgent work in another district. The first objection is not one which can in the Board's opinion be supported. Although the same person acts for several districts, he is also medical officer of health for each and is subject to the provisions in the Board's General Order prescribing the duties of medical officers of health as applied by the special order relating to the joint district. The second objection may occasionally, though exceptionally, have some weight, but it should be remembered that a private practitioner is more likely to have other urgent calls on his time than a medical officer of health who gives his whole time to his work. And the disadvantages of non-residence are, in the Board's view, outweighed by the gain of impartiality and freedom from private ties and interests.

The Board recognise that some of the combined districts which have been formed in earlier years are somewhat too extensive for the increased duties now required of a medical officer of health, and, as opportunity has occurred, the Board have favoured the splitting up of such districts into more compact areas. This policy is assisted by the adoption of the second method referred to above for securing the services of whole time medical officers of health; that of allowing them to accept other public offices.

3. Offices which may be combined with that of Medical Officer of Health.

The office of assistant school medical officer in counties or school medical officer in small autonomous education areas under the education committee may with advantage be combined with the office of medical officer of health in a county district. Both the Board and the Board of Education have pointed out the desirability of co-ordinating these two services by the appointment of the same officer in both capacities. In the majority of cases where the education authority is the council appointing the medical officer of health this has been done and the Board trust that the authorities which have not yet adopted this course will, when opportunity presents itself, follow this example. In some other cases county councils have with advantage appointed as assistant school medical officers the medical officers of health appointed by district councils. Appendix II.

It is in the Board's opinion very desirable that the office of superintendent of the isolation hospital should, whenever practicable, be held by the medical officer of health. The medical officer of health receives notifications of all infectious diseases, and he should be in a position, on receipt of a notification, to decide whether the case should be removed to the hospital, and if in his opinion it should, to have it removed without the necessity of a consultation.

The Home Secretary appoints to the office of certifying factory surgeon, and both he and the Board favour its combination with the office of medical officer of health.

Other public offices which the medical officer of health may be allowed to hold are those of police surgeon, public vaccinator, district medical officer, and medical officer of the workhouse.

He may also be allowed, where qualified, to make analyses and bacteriological examination of water, and bacteriological examinations for the diagnosis of disease.

4. Salary of Medical Officer of Health.

The salary offered to a medical officer of health who devotes his whole time to public health work should, in the Board's view, be sufficient to attract men with good qualifications, and to retain their services. The medical officer of health should not be placed in a position of inferiority in this respect to other medical men in the district. Where the several offices to be held by the medical officer of health do not afford sufficient remuneration to justify an authority in requiring that the officer should give his whole time to his public work, it may still be possible to impose the condition that he shall not engage in general practice, if he be allowed to supplement his official income by acting as consultant in cases of infectious diseases, by instructing pupils in sanitary science, and by undertaking any other private work not involving the ordinary work of a general medical practitioner.

The salary to be paid to a medical officer of health who devotes only part of his time to the office and engages in private practice, will naturally depend upon the varying circumstances of each district. It is clearly desirable that the amount of salary should be fixed with a view to the increasingly onerous and important duties which a medical officer of health is called upon to perform. It is not sufficient merely that a medical man is found who is prepared to accept the salary offered, it is more important that the salary should be such that it will be worth the while of a capable man to accept it. and to give a sufficient amount of his time to the duties.

5. Duties of Medical Officer of Health.

The Board have not infrequently been asked to define the scope of the duties of medical officers of health in connection with the analysis of water, the visiting of cases of infectious diseases, and other matters.

With regard to the analysis of water, the Board consider that it is the duty of a medical officer of health to inform himself of the character of the water supply of his district and for this purpose to use, when necessary, such minor tests of the water as may suffice to indicate whether further and quantitative analysis or examination is required. It forms, however, no part of his duties, as prescribed by the Board's General Order, to make a quantitative analysis of water. When such an analysis is necessary, the Board are of opinion that the council should employ any competent analyst to make it and pay him a reasonable fee for doing so. If the medical officer of health possesses the necessary qualifications, and if the time required would not interfere with the efficient discharge of his duties, the Board see no reason why the council should not make a special arrangement with him to undertake this analytical work. But the officer's remuneration for such special services should not be included in his salary as medical officer of health as no part of such special remuneration would be repayable out of the county funds.

With regard to the visitation of cases of infectious diseases, the General

Appendix II. Order does not prescribe, and the Board do not consider it necessary, that a medical officer of health should visit every such case. Infectious diseases such as scarlet fever, enteric fever, and diphtheria, can be kept under control only by active supervision of all notified cases and by endeavours to discover all cases connected with them, whether carriers or sick persons, which may be able to spread infection. To this end a medical officer of health should make each notified case the starting point for systematic and thorough investigation into possible sources of infection. In conducting such investigations a medical officer of health will bear in mind that the examination of patients in their own homes can be made only with the consent of the patient or of those in charge of the patient. If a medical practitioner is in attendance, his cooperation should always be sought.

6. Qualifications of Inspector of Nuisances.

The Board have not prescribed any qualification for an inspector of nuisances, but they consider that local authorities should endeavour to obtain the services as inspector of nuisances of a man qualified by special training or by experience to discharge efficiently the duties of the office. The Board regard the possession of the certificate of the Royal Sanitary Institute or of some similar body as a qualification for an inspector of nuisances in the provinces.

7. Inspector of Nuisances and other offices.

In districts possessing a population of over 10,000, it is generally desirable that an inspector of nuisances should devote his whole time to the duties of that office.

Where the duties appertaining to the office of inspector of nuisances do not require the whole time of the officer, local authorities would be well advised to see if by the addition of other public offices to that of inspector of nuisances they can secure that the officer shall give his whole time to their service. The following offices are most conveniently combined with that of inspector of nuisances :—surveyor under the Public Health Act (except in districts where building operations are very active); inspector under the Infant Life Protection Act; inspector under the Shop Hours Acts; inspector for certain purposes of the Factory and Workshop Acts; assistant officer under the Unsound Food Regulations; superintendent of scavenging. It must be understood that the work of these offices does not form any part of the duties of an inspector of nuisances as such and must be remunerated by a special salary for which no repayment can be claimed.

It will be observed that the office of surveyor of highways is omitted from the above list of offices which may be combined with that of inspector of nuisances. The board have come to the conclusion, as a result of experience, that the combination of these offices, especially in rural districts, is often not desirable. In districts of small area, however, there is not so great objection to combination of these offices; but, before giving their sanction to such an arrangement, the Board would require to be satisfied that the officer would devote sufficient time to his work as inspector of nuisances to ensure the adequate discharge of the duties of this office.

The sanction of the Board is sometimes sought to an arrangement by which an inspector of nuisances, while acting in another capacity, e.g., as surveyor of highways, is to be helped in his work as inspector of nuisances by an assistant. In a district where the work of an inspector of nuisances who gives his whole time to that office is more than one man can properly perform the appointment of an assistant inspector is desirable. But the Board consider that the inspector of nuisances should, whenever practicable, personally perform all the duties of the office prescribed in the General Order, and they do not approve of an arrangement under which some of those duties are delegated to an assistant while the inspector of nuisances holds other offices.

In the opinion of the Board the inspector of nuisances should almost invariably be the officer to act under the direction and supervision of the medical officer of health for the purposes of the Housing (Inspection of Districts) Regulations, 1910, and for this purpose the Board will be prepared to sanction a reasonable increase of the salary of the inspector of nuisances,

8. Combination of Districts for the Appointment of an Inspector of Nuisances. Appendix II.

In the case of small districts, both urban and rural, there is, in the Board's opinion, considerable advantage to be gained by the combination of several districts for the appointment of the same inspector of nuisances. By this means it is possible for small districts, which by themselves cannot do so, to obtain the services of a fully qualified officer who will devote his whole time to his duties.

The Board prefer this arrangement to one by which a part only of the officer's time is given to the service of the local authority, while the remainder is devoted to private work, e.g., as practising architect or surveyor, or builder, or as estate and land agent. It is clearly of importance that an officer should not occupy a position in which his public duty and his private interest are likely to be brought into direct conflict.

9. Salary of Inspector of Nuisances.

The amount of the salary which should be paid to an inspector of nuisances will naturally vary with the circumstances of the district and of the appointment. It should be sufficient, having regard to the conditions of employment, not merely to attract a competent man but to induce him to remain in the service of the council. The frequent change of sanitary officers to which inadequacy of salary greatly conduces, is detrimental to administrative efficiency.

In large districts, particularly in rural districts, the efficient discharge of the duties of an inspector of nuisances depends to a great extent upon the facilities which the officer possesses for getting about his district, and in fixing the terms of an appointment the local authority should see that those terms do not afford any inducement to the officer to restrict the number of journeys which he undertakes in pursuance of his duties.

Local Government Board,
December, 1910.

APPOINTMENTS OF MEDICAL OFFICERS OF HEALTH, SCHOOL MEDICAL OFFICERS AND ASSISTANT MEDICAL INSPECTORS OF SCHOOL CHILDREN—CIRCULAR.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD, WHITEHALL, S.W.
7th June, 1911.

SIR,—I am directed by the Local Government Board to state that they have been in consultation with the Board of Education with regard to the appointment by county councils of medical officers of health and school medical officers and their assistants.

The Board stated in their Memorandum of December, 1910 (see ante, p. 2469), that both they and the Board of Education had pointed out the desirability of co-ordinating the two services by the appointment of the same officer in both capacities. The Board are glad to observe that in the great majority of counties the same officer acts as county medical officer of health and school medical officer.

The Board also stated in that Memorandum that in some cases county councils had with advantage appointed as assistant medical inspectors of school children the medical officers of health appointed by district councils, and they desire to point out more fully the benefits to be derived by both authorities from such a course. By combining the two offices referred to, the services of an officer who gives his whole time to work of a public health character may be secured for a compact area consisting of the districts of two or more local authorities and the travelling expenses incurred in the execution of the duties of the two offices may be reduced to a minimum. The Board's experience leads them to the conclusion that a saving may also be effected in salaries and establishment charges by such an appointment. The education committee may expect to attract a man of greater experience

Appendix II. for the medical inspection of school children, since the conjunction of the work of medical officer of health will open up to him a wider field for his ambition.

But the chief object that the Board have in view in advocating such combined appointments is the better co-ordination of the two services, which come into touch with one another at many points. The reports they receive show them that in some cases friction arises from the separation of the offices, and in others delays which may prove detrimental to the public health. Both the medical officer of health and the school medical officer have power in certain circumstances to advise the closure of schools, and instances in which the opinions of the two officers have been in conflict have come before the Board. A medical man holding both offices and discovering in the course of his medical inspection an undetected case of infectious disease can as medical officer of health follow up the case at once and may thus be able to prevent an outbreak. If communication with another officer is necessary, the delay involved, even if there is cordial co-operation between them, may have unfortunate results.

The chief argument which the Board have heard against this combination of offices is that difficulties may arise where the two different authorities can command the time of the same officer, since they might both require his services at the same time. The Board have not found that this difficulty occurs in practice to any appreciable extent, though in many counties the medical officer of health to the district council is already engaged as assistant medical inspector of school children in the work of school inspection. On the other hand it appears to them that the arrangement might form a useful link between the county and the local authority.

In order to facilitate this combination of offices the Board now make it a practice of requesting local authorities to make the appointment of their medical officer of health to 31st July, the date to which the Board of Education approve of arrangements made for the medical inspection of school children, and they trust that county education committees, when they find it necessary to make an alteration in their arrangements for the medical inspection of school children, will consider the practicability of appointing as assistant medical inspector of school children an officer who will also be appointed as medical officer of health for a combination of districts in the county, and will give his whole time to the work of the two offices.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

F. J. WILLIS, Assistant Secretary.

To the Clerk to the County Council.

GENERAL ORDER:—MEDICAL OFFICERS OF HEALTH AND INSPECTORS OF NUISANCES: REGULATIONS. URBAN DISTRICTS AND RURAL DISTRICTS. THE SANITARY OFFICERS (OUTSIDE LONDON) ORDER, 1910.

TO THE COUNCILS OF THE SEVERAL MUNICIPAL BOROUGHS AND OTHER URBAN DISTRICTS in ENGLAND and WALES; To the Councils of the several Rural Districts in England and Wales; And to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS by General Orders dated respectively the 11th day of November, 1872, and the 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th days of March, 1880, we, the Local Government Board, prescribed regulations with respect to medical officers of health and inspectors of nuisances appointed by urban and rural sanitary authorities;

And whereas by section 191 of the Public Health Act, 1875, it is enacted that we shall have the same powers as we have in the case of a district medical officer of a union, with regard to the qualification, appointment, duties, salary, and tenure of office of a medical officer of health or other officer of a local authority, any portion of whose salary is paid out of moneys voted by Parliament, and that we may by Order prescribe the qualification and duties of other medical officers of health appointed under the said Act;

Appendix II.

And whereas by two General Orders dated the 23rd day of March, 1891, we prescribed regulations with respect to every medical officer of health or inspector of nuisances appointed or re-appointed by an urban sanitary authority or by a rural sanitary authority, after the 25th day of March, 1891, one-half of whose salary was intended to be payable by a county council or by the council of a county borough under the Local Government Act, 1888, and with respect to every medical officer of health no part of whose salary was intended to be so payable; and we made provision with regard to the application of the above-cited General Orders to medical officers of health and inspectors of nuisances appointed before the said 25th day of March, 1891:

NOW THEREFORE, we, the Local Government Board, hereby order that the above-cited Orders shall be rescinded from and after the thirty-first day of December, one thousand nine hundred and ten, and that the provisions of this Order shall, unless we otherwise direct, thenceforward apply to every medical officer of health and inspector of nuisances appointed by the council (hereinafter referred to as "the council") of every county borough and county district (hereinafter referred to as "the district").

PART I.

WITH RESPECT TO the appointment, tenure of office, salary, and duties of EVERY MEDICAL OFFICER OF HEALTH OR INSPECTOR OF NUISANCES ONE HALF OF WHOSE SALARY IS INTENDED TO BE PAYABLE BY A COUNTY COUNCIL OR COUNTY COUNCILS in pursuance of section 24 of the Local Government Act, 1888, or by the council of a county borough in pursuance of the said section and sub-section (1) of section 34 of the said Act, we hereby order as follows:—

Appointment.

ARTICLE I.—Before any appointment is made under this Order a statement shall be submitted to us containing the particulars mentioned in the form set forth in the schedule to this Order, and such other particulars as may from time to time be required by us:

Provided that where any such statement has been submitted to us under any of the above-cited orders, or under this Order, no further statement under this article shall be necessary, unless the council, on any appointment, propose to alter the district or the salary, or the time which the officer is to give to his duties, or unless we require a fresh statement to be submitted.

ARTICLE II.—When our approval has been given to the proposals contained in the statement so submitted, the council shall proceed to the appointment of the officer accordingly: Provided that if the council make the appointment before submitting such a statement as herein-before mentioned, the appointment shall be valid if approved by us.

ARTICLE III.—Before any appointment is made under this Order an advertisement specifying the district for which the appointment is to be made, together with the amount of the salary proposed to be assigned, shall be inserted in some public newspaper or newspapers circulating in the district of the council at least seven days before the date on which it is proposed that the appointment shall be considered by the council: Provided that in any special case in which the council may be of opinion that such an advertisement is not necessary, the appointment may, with our consent, be made without such advertisement.

ARTICLE IV.—Every officer shall be appointed by a majority of the members present and voting on the question, at a meeting of the council consisting of more than three members, or by three members, if no more are present. The appointment shall be subject to our sanction. The appointment may be made without limit of time or for a specified term, and in cases in which the appointment is for a term the council shall specify in the resolution making the appointment, or in a subsequent resolution, the term for which the appointment is made.

ARTICLE V.—Every appointment shall, within seven days after it is made, be reported to us by the clerk to the council.

Appendix II.

ARTICLE VI.—Upon the occurrence of a vacancy, the council shall proceed to make a fresh appointment:

Provided that, if the council deem it advisable that the vacancy should not be filled up forthwith, they may appoint a person to act temporarily, subject to our approval.

ARTICLE VII.—Whenever notice has been given to terminate an appointment the council may proceed to make a fresh appointment to take effect from such termination.

ARTICLE VIII.—If any officer be temporarily prevented by sickness or accident, or other sufficient reason, from performing his duties, the council may appoint a qualified person to act as his temporary substitute, and may pay to such person a reasonable remuneration for his services; and it shall not be necessary in any such case that the foregoing articles of this Order should be complied with, nor shall our approval be required to any such appointment, but no remuneration shall be paid in any such case for a longer period than six weeks unless our consent be obtained.

Tenure of Office.

ARTICLE IX.—Every officer appointed to hold office without limit of time shall continue to hold office until he dies, or resigns, or is removed by the council with our assent, or is removed by us, or is proved to be insane by evidence which we shall deem sufficient.

ARTICLE X.—Subject to the provisions of this Order, every officer appointed for a specified term shall, on the expiration of that term, unless the council three months prior to the expiration of the term by resolution otherwise determine, continue to hold office from year to year until he dies, or resigns, or is removed by the council with our assent, or is removed by us, or is proved to be insane by evidence which we shall deem sufficient; and no further re-appointment of the officer by the council and no further approval of his appointment on our part shall be required unless the terms of the appointment are altered:

Provided always that the council, after the expiration of the specified term, may terminate the appointment by giving to the officer three months' written notice of their intention to do so and such notice shall take effect at the same period of the year as that at which the original term expired and not otherwise. A copy of such notice shall be sent to us at the same time as the notice is sent to the officer.

ARTICLE XI.—The council may at any time, by resolution, and with our consent, appoint an officer who holds an appointment for a specified term to hold office without limit of time.

ARTICLE XII.—The council may, at their discretion, suspend any officer from the discharge of his duties, and shall, in case of every such suspension, forthwith report the same, together with the cause thereof, to us; and if we remove the suspension of the officer by the council, he shall forthwith resume the performance of his duties.

ARTICLE XIII.—Where any change in the extent of the district of any officer, or in his duties or salary, is deemed necessary by the council or by us, and he declines to acquiesce therein, the council may, with our consent, but not otherwise, and after six months' notice in writing, signed by their clerk, given to the officer, determine his office.

ARTICLE XIV.—A person shall not be appointed who does not agree to give at least one month's notice previous to resigning the office, or to forfeit such sum as may be agreed upon as liquidated damages.

Salary.

ARTICLE XV.—The council shall pay to every officer such salary as may be approved by us:

Provided that the council may, with our approval, pay to any officer a reasonable remuneration on account of extraordinary services, or other unforeseen or special circumstances connected with his duties or the necessities of the district or districts for which he is appointed.

ARTICLE XVI.—The salary of every officer shall be payable up to the day on which he ceases to hold office and no longer, subject to any deduction which the council may be entitled to make in pursuance of Article XIV. of this Order; and in case he dies whilst holding such office, the proportion of salary (if any) remaining unpaid at his death shall be paid to his personal representatives:

Provided that an officer who is suspended, and who, without the previous removal of such suspension, resigns or is removed under Article IX. or Article X. of this Order, shall not be entitled to any salary from the date of such suspension.

ARTICLE XVII.—The salary assigned to every officer shall be an annual salary payable in four equal instalments, on the thirty-first day of March, the thirtieth day of June, the thirtieth day of September, and the thirty-first day of December in each year; but the Council may pay to him on account at the expiration of every calendar month such proportion of his annual salary as they think fit.

ARTICLE XVIII.—All salaries shall be considered as accruing from day to day, and be apportionable in respect of time accordingly, in pursuance of the provisions of the Apportionment Act, 1870.

Duties of Medical Officer of Health.

ARTICLE XIX.—The following shall be the duties of the medical officer of health in respect of the district for which he is appointed; or if he is appointed for more than one district, then in respect of each district:—

(1) He shall inform himself as far as practicable respecting all influences affecting or threatening to affect injuriously the public health within the district.

(2) He shall inquire into and ascertain by such means as are at his disposal the causes, origin, and distribution of diseases within the district and ascertain to what extent the same have depended on conditions capable of removal or mitigation.

(3) He shall by inspection of the district, both systematically at certain periods, and at intervals as occasion may require, keep himself informed of the conditions injurious to health existing therein.

(4) He shall be prepared to advise the council on all matters affecting the health of the district, and on all sanitary points involved in the action of the council; and in cases requiring it, he shall certify, for the guidance of the council or of the justices, as to any matter in respect of which the certificate of a medical officer of health or a medical practitioner is required as the basis or in aid of sanitary action.

(5) On receiving information of the outbreak of any infectious or epidemic disease of a dangerous character within the district, he shall visit without delay the spot where the outbreak has occurred, and inquire into the causes and circumstances of such outbreak, and in case he is not satisfied that all due precautions are being taken, he shall advise the persons competent to act as to the measures which appear to him to be required to prevent the extension of the disease and shall take such measures for the prevention of disease as he is legally authorised to take under any statute in force in the district or by any resolution of the council.

(6) Subject to the instructions of the council, he shall direct or superintend the work of the inspector of nuisances in the way and to the extent that the council shall approve, and on receiving information from the inspector of nuisances that his intervention is required in consequence of the existence of any nuisance injurious to health, or of any overcrowding in a house, he shall, as early as practicable, take such steps as he is legally authorised to take under any statute in force in the district, or by any resolution of the council, as the circumstances of the case may justify and require.

Appendix II.

(7) In any case in which it may appear to him to be necessary or advisable, or in which he shall be so directed by the council he shall himself inspect and examine any animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, fruit, vegetables, corn, bread, flour, or milk, and any other article to which the provisions of the Public Health Acts in this behalf apply, exposed for sale, or deposited for the purpose of sale or of preparation for sale, and intended for the food of man, which is deemed to be diseased, or unsound, or unwholesome, or unfit for the food of man; and if he finds that such animal or article is diseased, or unsound, or unwholesome, or unfit for the food of man, he shall give such directions as may be necessary for causing the same to be dealt with by a justice according to the provisions of the statutes applicable to the case. He shall also take such action as it may be necessary for him to take by virtue of the provisions of the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907, and any regulations made thereunder.

(8) He shall perform all the duties imposed upon him by any bye-laws and regulations of the council, duly confirmed where confirmation is legally required, in respect of any matter affecting the public health, and touching which they are authorised to frame byelaws and regulations.

(9) He shall inquire into any offensive process of trade carried on within the district, and report on the appropriate means for the prevention of any nuisance or injury to health therefrom.

(10) He shall attend at the office of the council or at some other appointed place, at such times as they may direct.

(11) He shall from time to time report in writing to the council his proceedings, and the measures which may require to be adopted for the improvement or protection of the public health in the district. He shall in like manner report with respect to the sickness and mortality within the district, so far as he has been able to ascertain the same.

(12) He shall keep a book or books, to be provided by the council, in which he shall make an entry of his visits, and notes of his observations and instructions thereon, and also the date and nature of applications made to him, the date and result of the action taken thereon and of any action taken on previous reports; and shall produce such book or books, whenever required, to the council.

(13) On Monday, the ninth day of January, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, and on every Monday thereafter, he shall forward to us by post, at such an hour as in the ordinary course of post will ensure its delivery to us on the following Tuesday morning a return, in such form as we from time to time require, as to the number of cases of infectious disease notified to him during the week ended on the preceding Saturday night. He shall also forward at the same time a duplicate of the return to the medical officer or officers of health of the county or counties in which the district is situated.

(14) He shall as soon as practicable after the thirty-first day of December in each year make an annual report (l) to the council, up to the end of December, on the sanitary circumstances, the sanitary administration, and the vital statistics of the district.

In addition to any other matters upon which he may consider it desirable to report, his annual report shall contain the information indicated in the following paragraphs; together with such further information as we may from time to time require:—

(a) An account of any influences threatening the health of the district, the prevalence of infectious or epidemic diseases therein, and the measures taken for their prevention.

(b) An account of all general and special inquiries made during the year.

(l) The Board suggest that these annual reports should be printed (Circular, January 15th, 1913).

Appendix II.

(c) An account of the work performed by the inspector of nuisances during the year, including the statement supplied in pursuance of Article XX. (16) of this Order.

(d) A statement as to the conditions affecting the wholesomeness of the milk produced or sold in the district.

(e) A statement as to the conditions affecting the wholesomeness of foods for human consumption, other than milk, produced or sold in the district.

(f) A statement as to the sufficiency and quality of the water supply of the district and of its several parts, and in areas where the supply is from waterworks, information as to whether the supply is constant or intermittent.

(g) A statement as to the pollution of rivers or streams in the district.

(h) A statement as to the character and sufficiency of the arrangements for the drainage, sewerage and sewage disposal in all parts of the district.

(i) A statement as to the privy, water-closet, and other closet accommodation in the district, including information as to the approximate number of each type of privy and closet.

(j) A statement as to the character and efficiency of the arrangements for the removal of house-refuse, and the cleansing of earth-closets, privies, ashpits, and cesspools in the district.

(k) A statement with regard to the housing accommodation of the district as required by Article V. of the Housing (Inspection of District) Regulations, 1910, and an account of any other action taken by the council under the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909, bearing on the public health.

(l) A statement as to the vital statistics of the district, including a tabular statement, in such form as we may from time to time direct, of the sickness and mortality within the district.

(m) Where the medical officer of health is appointed by the council of a county borough, or by a council having delegated powers under the Midwives Act, 1902, a statement as to the administration of that Act in the district:

Provided that, if the medical officer of health shall resign or be removed before the thirty-first day of December in any year, he shall as soon as practicable after going out of office make to the council the like report for so much of the year as shall have expired when he ceased to hold office.

(15) He shall forthwith report to us any case of plague, cholera, or small pox, or of any serious outbreak of epidemic disease in the district which may be notified to him, or which may otherwise come or be brought to his knowledge.

(16) He shall transmit to us three copies of each annual report and one copy of any special report. At the same time that he transmits to us the copies of his annual report or of any special report, or that he reports to us a case of plague, cholera, or small pox, he shall transmit a copy of the report or give the like information to the county council or county councils of the county or counties within which the district is situated. Where the medical officer of health is appointed by the council of a county borough, or by a council having delegated powers under the Midwives Act, 1902, he shall also transmit to the Privy Council and to the Central Midwives Board either a copy of his annual report or of that part of it which contains the statement relating to the administration of the Midwives Act, 1902.

(17) In matters not specifically provided for in this Order, he shall observe and execute any instructions issued by us, and the lawful orders and directions of the council applicable to his office.

(18) Whenever we shall make regulations and shall declare the regulations so made to be in force within any area comprising the whole or any part of the district, he shall observe such regulations, so far as the same relate to or concern his office.

Appendix II.

Duties of Inspector of Nuisances.

ARTICLE XX.—The following shall be the duties of an inspector of nuisances as regards the district or part of the district for which he is appointed (in this article referred to as " his district ") :—

(1) Subject to the directions of the council, he shall perform, under the general supervision of the medical officer of health, all the duties specially imposed upon an inspector of nuisances by the Public Health Act, 1875, or by any other statute or statutes, or by the Orders issued by us, so far as the same apply to his office.

(2) He shall attend all meetings of the council, or of committees of the council, when so required.

(3) He shall by inspection of his district, both systematically at certain periods, and at intervals as occasion may require, keep himself informed in respect of the nuisances existing therein that require abatement.

(4) On receiving notice of the existence of any nuisance within his district, or of the breach of any byelaws or regulations made by the council for the suppression of nuisances, he shall, as early as practicable, visit the spot, and inquire into such alleged nuisance or breach of byelaws or regulations.

(5) He shall report to the council any noxious or offensive businesses, trades, or manufactories established within his district, and the breach or non-observance of any byelaws or regulations made in respect thereof.

(6) He shall report to the council any damage done to any works of water supply, or other works belonging to them, and also any case of wilful or negligent waste of water supplied by them, or any fouling by gas, filth, or otherwise, of water used or intended to be used for domestic purposes.

(7) He shall from time to time, and forthwith upon complaint, visit and inspect the shops and places kept or used for the preparation or sale of butchers' meat, poultry, fish, fruit, vegetables, corn, bread, flour, milk, or any other article to which the provisions of the Public Health Acts in this behalf apply, and examine any animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, fruit, vegetables, corn, bread, flour, milk, or other article as aforesaid which may be therein ; and in case any such article appear to him to be intended for the food of man, and to be unfit for such food, he shall cause the same to be seized, and take such other proceedings as may be necessary in order to have the same dealt with by a justice. He shall also take such action as it may be necessary for him to take by virtue of the provisions of the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907, and any regulations made thereunder : Provided that in any case of doubt arising under this paragraph, he shall report the matter to the medical officer of health, with the view of obtaining his advice thereon.

(8) He shall, when and as directed by the council, procure and submit samples of food, drink, or drugs suspected to be adulterated, to be analysed by the analyst appointed under the Sale of Food and Drugs Act, 1875, and upon receiving a certificate stating that the articles of food, drink, or drugs are adulterated, cause a complaint to be made, and take the other proceedings prescribed by that Act.

(9) He shall give immediate notice to the medical officer of health of the occurrence within his district of any infectious or epidemic disease ; and whenever it appears to him that the intervention of such officer is necessary in consequence of the existence of any nuisance injurious to health, or of any overcrowding in a house, he shall forthwith inform the medical officer of health thereof.

(10) He shall, subject to the directions of the council, attend to the instructions of the medical officer of health with respect to any measures which can be lawfully taken by an inspector of nuisances under the Public Health Act, 1875, or under any other statute or statutes, or under any regulations issued by us, for preventing the spread of any infectious or epidemic disease.

(11) He shall enter from day to day, in a book to be provided by the council, particulars of his inspections and of the action taken by him in the execution of his duties. He shall also keep a book or books, to be provided by the council, so arranged as to form, as far as possible, a continuous record of the sanitary condition of each of the premises in respect of which any action has been taken under the Public Health Act, 1875, or under any other statute or statutes, or under any regulations issued by us, and shall keep any other systematic records that the council may require.

(12) He shall at all reasonable times, when applied to by the medical officer of health, produce to him his books, or any of them, and render to him such information as he may be able to furnish with respect to any matter to which the duties of inspector of nuisances relate.

(13) He shall, if directed by the council to do so, superintend and see to the due execution of all works which may be undertaken under their direction for the suppression or removal of nuisances within his district.

(14) He shall, if directed by the medical officer of health to do so, remove, or superintend the removal of, patients suffering from infectious disease to an infectious diseases hospital and shall perform, or superintend, the work of disinfection after the occurrence of cases of infectious disease.

(15) He shall, if directed by the council to do so, act as officer of the council as local authority under the Diseases of Animals Acts, 1894 to 1909, the Canal Boats Acts, 1877 and 1884, and under any Orders or regulations made thereunder.

(16) He shall, as soon as practicable after the thirty-first day of December in each year, furnish the medical officer of health with a tabular statement containing the following particulars :

(a) the number and nature of inspections made by him during the year ;

(b) the number of notices served during the year, distinguishing statutory from informal notices ;

(c) the result of the service of such notices.

(17) In matters not specifically provided for in this Order, he shall observe and execute any orders and directions which may be hereafter issued by us and the lawful orders and directions of the council, applicable to his office.

PART II.

WITH RESPECT TO EVERY MEDICAL OFFICER OF HEALTH NO PART OF WHOSE SALARY IS INTENDED TO BE PAYABLE BY A COUNTY COUNCIL OR BY THE COUNCIL OF A COUNTY BOROUGH in pursuance of the Local Government Act, 1888, we hereby Order as follows :—

ARTICLE XXI.—The following shall be the duties of the medical officer of health in respect of the district for which he is appointed :—

(1) He shall, within seven days after his appointment, report his appointment in writing to us.

(2) He shall perform all the duties prescribed by Article XIX. of this Order for a medical officer of health in respect of whose salary a payment is intended to be made by a county council or by the council of a county borough as aforesaid.

PART III.

COMMENCEMENT OF ORDER.

ARTICLE XXII.—This Order shall take effect on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and eleven, except Article X. thereof, which shall take effect on the first day of April, one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

GENERAL ORDER:—MEDICAL OFFICERS OF HEALTH AND INSPECTORS OF NUISANCES: REGULATIONS. PORTS. THE SANITARY OFFICERS (PORTS) ORDER, 1910.

To all Port Sanitary Authorities (except the Port Sanitary Authority of the Port of London); And to all others whom it may concern.

Whereas by Orders dated respectively the 25th day of September, 1878, and the 19th day of December, 1878, the 5th day of December, 1879, and the 2nd day of June, 1882, we, the Local Government Board, prescribed regulations with respect to medical officers of health and inspectors of nuisances appointed by port sanitary authorities;

And whereas by three General Orders dated the 19th day of July, 1883, we prescribed regulations with respect to every medical officer of health or inspector of nuisances appointed or re-appointed by a port sanitary authority on or after the 1st day of August, 1883, any portion of whose salary should be payable out of moneys voted by Parliament, and with respect to every medical officer of health, no portion of whose salary should be so payable:

Now therefore, in pursuance of the powers given to us by the statutes in that behalf, we hereby order that the above-cited Orders shall be rescinded from and after the thirty-first day of December, one thousand nine hundred and ten, and that the provisions of this Order shall, unless we otherwise direct, thenceforward apply to every medical officer of health and inspector of nuisances appointed by every port sanitary authority other than the port sanitary authority of the Port of London.

Part I.

With respect to the appointment, tenure of office, salary and duties of every Medical Officer of Health or Inspector of Nuisances, one-half of whose salary is intended to be payable by a County Council or County Councils in pursuance of the Local Government Act, 1888, we hereby order as follows:—

Qualification of Medical Officer.

Article I.—A person shall not be qualified to be appointed as medical officer of health unless he be duly registered under the Medical Acts, and be qualified by law to practise both medicine and surgery in England and Wales, that qualification being established in the case of persons registered before the thirtieth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven, by the production to the port sanitary authority of a diploma, certificate of a degree, or other instrument granted or issued by competent legal authority in Great Britain or Ireland, testifying to the medical and surgical qualifications of the candidate for the office:

Provided that this requirement shall not apply in the case of the re-appointment of any existing officer.

Appointment of Medical Officer or Inspector.

Article II.—Before any appointment is made under this Order an advertisement specifying the district for which the appointment is to be made, together with the amount of the salary proposed to be assigned, shall be inserted in some public newspaper or newspapers circulating in the district of the port sanitary authority at least seven days before the date on which it is proposed that the appointment shall be considered by the port sanitary authority: Provided that in any special case in which the port sanitary authority may be of opinion that such an advertisement is not necessary, the appointment may, with our consent, be made without such advertisement.

Article III.—Every officer shall be appointed by a majority of the members present and voting on the question, at a meeting of the port sanitary authority consisting of more than three members, or by three members, if no more are present. The appointment shall be subject to our sanction. The appointment may be made without limit of time or for a specified term, and in cases

Appendix II. in which the appointment is for a term the port sanitary authority shall specify in the resolution making the appointment, or in a subsequent resolution, the term for which the appointment is made.

ARTICLE IV.—Every appointment shall, within seven days after it is made, be reported to us by the clerk to the port sanitary authority.

ARTICLE V.—Upon the occurrence of a vacancy, the port sanitary authority shall proceed to make a fresh appointment:

Provided that if the port sanitary authority deem it advisable that the vacancy should not be filled up forthwith, they may appoint a person to act temporarily, subject to our approval.

ARTICLE VI.—Whenever notice has been given to terminate an appointment the port sanitary authority may proceed to make a fresh appointment to take effect from such termination.

ARTICLE VII.—If any officer be temporarily prevented by sickness or accident, or other sufficient reason, from performing his duties, the port sanitary authority may appoint a qualified person to act as his temporary substitute, and may pay to such person a reasonable remuneration for his services; and it shall not be necessary in any such case that the foregoing articles of this Order should be complied with, nor shall our approval be required to any such appointment, but no remuneration shall be paid in any case for a longer period than six weeks unless our consent be obtained.

ARTICLE VIII.—In the case of a port sanitary authority temporarily constituted being continued by the renewal of the Order constituting them, they may re-appoint an officer, or appoint his successor, at any time after the date of the Order of renewal.

Tenure of Office.

ARTICLE IX.—Every officer appointed to hold office without limit of time shall continue to hold office until he dies, or resigns, or is removed by the port sanitary authority with our assent, or is removed by us, or is proved to be insane by evidence which we shall deem sufficient.

ARTICLE X.—Subject to the provisions of this Order every officer appointed for a specified time shall, on the expiration of that term, unless the port sanitary authority three months prior to the expiration of the term by resolution otherwise determine, continue to hold office from year to year until he dies, or resigns, or is removed by the port sanitary authority with our assent, or is removed by us, or is proved to be insane by evidence which we shall deem sufficient: and no further re-appointment of the officer by the port sanitary authority and no further approval of his appointment on our part shall be required unless the terms of the appointment are altered:

Provided always that the port sanitary authority, after the expiration of the specified term, may terminate the appointment by giving to the officer three months' written notice of their intention to do so and such notice shall take effect at the same period of the year as that at which the original term expired and not otherwise. A copy of such notice shall be sent to us at the same time as the notice is sent to the officer:

Provided also that in the case of a port sanitary authority temporarily constituted, an officer shall not be appointed by them for a period extending beyond the date until which the port sanitary authority have been constituted.

ARTICLE XI.—The port sanitary authority may at any time, by resolution, and with our consent, appoint an officer who holds an appointment for a specified term to hold office without limit of time.

ARTICLE XII.—The port sanitary authority may, at their discretion, suspend any officer from the discharge of his duties, and shall, in case of every such suspension, forthwith report the same, together with the cause thereof, to us; and if we remove the suspension of the officer by the port sanitary authority, he shall forthwith resume the performance of his duties.

ARTICLE XIII.—Where any change in the extent of the district of any officer, or in his duties or salary, is deemed necessary by the port sanitary authority or by us, and he declines to acquiesce therein, the port sanitary authority may, with our consent, but not otherwise, and after six months' notice in writing, signed by their clerk given to the officer, determine his office. Appendix II.

ARTICLE XIV.—A person shall not be appointed who does not agree to give at least one month's notice previous to resigning the office, or to forfeit such sum as may be agreed upon as liquidated damages.

Salary.

ARTICLE XV.—The port sanitary authority shall pay to every officer such salary as may be approved by us:

Provided that the port sanitary authority may, with our approval, pay to any officer a reasonable remuneration on account of extraordinary services, or other unforeseen or special circumstances connected with his duties or the necessities of the district for which he is appointed.

ARTICLE XVI.—The salary of every officer shall be payable up to the day on which he ceases to hold office, and no longer, subject to any deduction which the port sanitary authority may be entitled to make in pursuance of Article XIV. of this Order; and in case he dies whilst holding such office, the proportion of salary (if any) remaining unpaid at his death shall be paid to his personal representatives:

Provided that an officer who is suspended, and who, without the previous removal of such suspension, resigns or is removed under Article IX. or Article X. of this Order, shall not be entitled to any salary from the date of such suspension.

ARTICLE XVII.—The salary assigned to every officer shall be an annual salary payable in four equal instalments, on the thirty-first day of March, the thirtieth day of June, the thirtieth day of September, and the thirty-first day of December in each year; but the port sanitary authority may pay to him on account at the expiration of every calendar month such proportion of his annual salary as they think fit.

ARTICLE XVIII.—All salaries shall be considered as accruing from day to day, and be apportionable in respect of time accordingly, in pursuance of the provisions of the Apportionment Act, 1870.

Duties of Medical Officer of Health.

ARTICLE XIX.—The following shall be the duties of the medical officer of health in respect of the port sanitary district for which he is appointed:—

(1) He shall inform himself as far as practicable respecting all influences affecting or threatening to affect injuriously the health of crews and other persons on ship-board within the district.

(2) He shall inquire into and ascertain by such means as are at his disposal the causes, origin, and distribution of diseases in the ships and other vessels within the district, and ascertain to what extent the same have depended on conditions capable of removal or mitigation.

(3) He shall by inspection of the shipping in the district, both systematically at certain periods, and at intervals as occasion may require, keep himself informed of the conditions injurious to health existing therein.

(4) He shall be prepared to advise the port sanitary authority on all matters affecting the health of the crews and other persons on ship-board in the district, and on all sanitary points involved in the action of the port sanitary authority; and in cases requiring it he shall certify, for the guidance of the port sanitary authority or of the justices, as to any matter in respect of which the certificate of a medical officer of health or a medical practitioner is required as the basis or in aid of sanitary action.

(5) On receiving information of the arrival within the district of any ship or other vessel having any infectious or epidemic disease of a dangerous character on board, or of the outbreak of any such disease on board any ship or other vessel within the district, he shall visit the vessel without delay and inquire into the causes and circumstances of such outbreak, and in case he is not satisfied that all due precautions are being taken, he shall advise the persons competent to act as to the measures which appear to him to be required to prevent the extension of the disease, and shall take such measures for the prevention of disease as he is legally authorised to take under any statute in force in the district, or by any resolution of the port sanitary authority.

(6) On receiving information from the inspector of nuisances that his intervention is required in consequence of the existence of any nuisance injurious to health, or of any overcrowding in a ship or other vessel, he shall, as early as practicable, take such steps as he is legally authorised to take under any statute in force in the district, or by any resolution of the port sanitary authority as the circumstances of the case may justify and require.

(7) In any case in which it may appear to him to be necessary or advisable, or in which he shall be so directed by the port sanitary authority, he shall himself inspect and examine any animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, fruit, vegetables, corn, bread, flour, or milk, and any other article to which the provisions of the Public Health Acts in this behalf apply, exposed for sale or deposited for the purpose of sale or of preparation for sale, within the district, and intended for the food of man, which is deemed to be diseased, or unsound, or unwholesome, or unfit for the food of man; and if he finds that such animal or article is diseased, or unsound, or unwholesome, or unfit for the food of man, he shall give such directions as may be necessary for causing the same to be dealt with by a justice according to the provisions of the statutes applicable to the case. He shall also take such action as it may be necessary for him to take by virtue of the provisions of the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907, and any regulations made thereunder.

(8) He shall perform all the duties imposed upon him by any byelaws and regulations of the port sanitary authority, duly confirmed where confirmation is legally required, in respect of any matter affecting the public health, and touching which they are authorised to frame byelaws and regulations.

(9) He shall attend at the office of the port sanitary authority, or at some other appointed place, at such stated times as they may direct.

(10) He shall from time to time report in writing to the port sanitary authority his proceedings, and the measures which may require to be adopted for the improvement or protection of the health of crews or other persons on ship-board in the district. He shall in like manner report with respect to the sickness and mortality of persons on ship-board within the district, so far as he has been able to ascertain the same.

(11) He shall keep a book or books, to be provided by the port sanitary authority, in which he shall make an entry of his visits, and notes of his observations and instructions thereon, and also the date and nature of applications made to him, the date and result of the action taken thereon, and of every action taken on previous reports; and shall produce such book or books, whenever required, to the port sanitary authority.

(12) On Monday, the ninth day of January, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, and on every Monday thereafter, he shall forward to us by post, at such an hour as in the ordinary course of post will ensure its delivery to us on the following Tuesday morning a return, in such form as we from time to time require, of the number of cases of infectious disease notified to him during the week ended on the preceding Saturday night. He shall also forward at the same time a duplicate of the return to the medical officer or officers of health of the county or counties in which the port sanitary district is situated.

(13) He shall as soon as practicable after the thirty-first day of December in each year make an annual report to the port sanitary authority, up to the end of December.

The report, in addition to any other information which he may consider it desirable, or be required by us to give, shall comprise :—

(a) Tabular statements (so far as he shall have been able to obtain the information) as to the sickness and mortality of persons on shipboard within the district, classified according to diseases, ages, and vessels.

(b) A summary of the action taken by him during the year for preventing the spread of disease.

(c) An account of the proceedings in which he has taken part or advised under the Acts, Orders and regulations relating to matters of public health and the examination of foods in force within the district.

(d) An account of the work performed by the inspector of nuisances during the year, including the statement supplied in pursuance of Article XX. (12) of this Order.

Provided that, if the medical officer of health shall resign or be removed before the thirty-first day of December in any year, he shall as soon as practicable after going out of office make to the port sanitary authority the like report for so much of the year as shall have expired when he ceased to hold office.

(14) He shall forthwith report to us any case of plague, cholera, or small-pox, or of any serious outbreak of epidemic disease on ship-board within the district which may be notified to him, or which may otherwise come or be brought to his knowledge.

(15) He shall transmit to us three copies of each annual report and one copy of any special report. At the same time that he transmits to us a copy of his annual report or of any special report, or that he reports to us a case of plague, cholera, or small-pox, he shall transmit a copy of the report or give the like information to the county council or county councils of the county or counties within which the district is situated.

(16) Where any vessel within his district has had dangerous infectious disease on board, he shall give notice thereof to the medical officer of health of any port within the United Kingdom whither such vessel is about to sail.

(17) In matters not specifically provided for in this Order, he shall observe and execute any instructions issued by us, and the lawful orders and directions of the port sanitary authority applicable to his office.

(18) Whenever we shall make regulations and shall declare the regulations so made to be in force within any area comprising the whole or any part of the district, he shall observe such regulations, so far as the same relate to or concern his office.

Duties of Inspector of Nuisances.

ARTICLE XX.—The following shall be the duties of the inspector of nuisances in respect of the port sanitary district or part of the district (in this article referred to as "his district") for which he is appointed :—

(1) Subject to the directions of the port sanitary authority, or, in cases where no such directions are required, without such directions, he shall perform, under the general supervision of the medical officer of health, all the duties specially imposed upon an inspector of nuisances by the sections of the Public Health Act, 1875, which shall apply to the port sanitary authority, or by the Orders issued by us, so far as the same apply to his office.

(2) He shall attend all meetings of the port sanitary authority when so required.

(3) He shall by inspection of the shipping in his district, both systematically at certain periods and at intervals as occasion may require, keep himself informed in respect of the nuisances existing therein that require abatement.

(4) On receiving notice of the existence of any nuisance on board of any ship or other vessel within his district, or of the breach of any byelaws or regulations made by the port sanitary authority for the suppression of nuisances, he shall, as early as practicable, visit the vessel, and inquire into such alleged nuisance or breach of byelaws or regulations.

(5) He shall give immediate notice to the medical officer of health of the occurrence within his district of any infectious or epidemic disease, or of the arrival within his district of any ship or other vessel having such disease on board; and whenever it appears to him that the intervention of such officer is necessary in consequence of the existence of any nuisance injurious to health, or of any overcrowding in a vessel, he shall forthwith inform the medical officer thereof.

(6) He shall, subject in all respects to the directions of the port sanitary authority, attend to the instructions of the medical officer of health with respect to any measures which can be lawfully taken by him under the Public Health Act, 1875, for preventing the spread of any infectious or epidemic disease.

(7) He shall enter from day to day, in a book to be provided by the port sanitary authority, particulars of his inspections and of the action taken by him in the execution of his duties. He shall also keep a book or books, to be provided by the port sanitary authority, so arranged as to form, as far as possible, a record of the sanitary condition of each of the ships or other vessels in respect of which any action has been taken under the Public Health Acts, and shall keep any other systematic records that the port sanitary authority may require.

(8) He shall at all reasonable times, when applied to by the medical officer of health, produce to him his books, or any of them, and render to him such information as he may be able to furnish with respect to any matter to which the duties of inspector of nuisances relate.

(9) He shall, if directed by the port sanitary authority to do so, superintend and see to the due execution of all works which may be undertaken under their direction for the suppression or removal of nuisances within his district.

(10) He shall, if directed by the port sanitary authority to do so, remove, or superintend the removal of, patients suffering from infectious disease to an infectious diseases hospital and shall perform, or superintend, the work of disinfection after the occurrence of cases of infectious disease.

(11) He shall, if directed by the port sanitary authority to do so, act as officer of the council as local authority under the Diseases of Animals Acts, 1894 to 1910, the Canal Boats Acts, 1877 and 1884, and under any Orders or regulations made thereunder.

(12) He shall, as soon as practicable after the thirty-first day of December in each year, furnish the medical officer of health with a tabular statement containing the following particulars :—

(a) The number of inspections made by him during the year, and the number of ships and vessels in respect of which such inspections were made.

(b) The number and nature of the sanitary defects found, as a result of inspection or otherwise, to exist upon ships and vessels or elsewhere within his district during the year.

(c) The number of notices served during the year, distinguishing statutory from informal notices.

(d) The result of the service of each notice.

And, if he has been appointed, with our consent, to act as an assistant officer under the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907, and the regulations made thereunder, he shall add to the tabular statement as required above :—

(e) An account of the action taken by him under the said Act and regulations

(13) In matters not specifically provided for in this Order, he shall observe and execute any orders and directions which may be hereafter issued by us, and the lawful orders and directions of the port sanitary authority applicable to his office.

PART II.

WITH RESPECT TO EVERY MEDICAL OFFICER OF HEALTH NO PART OF WHOSE SALARY IS INTENDED TO BE PAYABLE by a county council or by the council of a county borough in pursuance of the Local Government Act, 1888, we hereby order as follows :—

Qualification.

ARTICLE XXI.—A person shall not be qualified to be appointed as medical officer of health unless he be duly registered under the Medical Acts, and be qualified by law to practise both medicine and surgery in England and Wales, that qualification being established in the case of persons registered before the thirtieth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven, by the production to the port sanitary authority of a diploma, certificate of a degree, or other instrument granted or issued by competent legal authority in Great Britain or Ireland, testifying to the medical and surgical qualifications of the candidate for the office :

Provided that this requirement shall not apply in the case of the re-appointment of any existing officer.

ARTICLE XXII.—The following shall be the duties of the medical officer of health in respect of the port sanitary district for which he is appointed :—

(1) He shall, within seven days after his appointment, report the same in writing to us.

(2) He shall perform all the duties prescribed by Article XIX. of this Order for a medical officer of health in respect of whose salary a payment is intended to be made by a county council or the council of a county borough as aforesaid.

PART III.

COMMENCEMENT OF ORDER.

ARTICLE XXIII.—This Order shall take effect on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and eleven, except Article X. thereof, which shall take effect on the first day of April, one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

SHORT TITLE.

ARTICLE XXIV.—This Order may be cited as "The Sanitary Officers (Ports) Order, 1910."

Given under the Seal of Office of the Local Government Board, this twenty-first day of December, in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

GENERAL ORDER :—MEDICAL OFFICERS OF HEALTH : DUTIES. COUNTIES OTHER THAN LONDON.

TO THE COUNTY COUNCIL of every ADMINISTRATIVE COUNTY in England and Wales other than London; and to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS it is enacted by sub-section (2) of section 68 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act of 1909"), that the duties of a medical officer of health of a county shall be such duties as may be prescribed by General Order of the Local Government Board and such other duties as may be assigned to him by the county council ;

And whereas by virtue of section 70 of the Act of 1909 the above cited sub-section does not apply to the administrative county of London :

NOW THEREFORE, we, the Local Government Board, in pursuance of the powers given to us in that behalf, by this Order prescribe the following duties

Appendix II. as the duties of every medical officer of health of a county other than the administrative county of London; that is to say:—

(1) The medical officer of health of the county shall inform himself as far as practicable respecting all influences affecting or threatening to affect injuriously the public health in the county. For this purpose he shall visit the several county districts in the county as occasion may require, giving to the medical officer of health of each county district prior notice of his visit, so far as this may be practicable.

(2) The medical officer of health of the county shall from time to time inquire into and report upon the hospital accommodation available for the isolation of cases occurring in the county—

(a) of small-pox, and

(b) of other infectious diseases, and upon any need for the provision of further hospital accommodation.

(3) The medical officer of health of the county shall communicate to the medical officer of health of a county district within the county any information which he may possess as to any danger to health threatening that district.

(4) The medical officer of health of the county shall consult with the medical officers of health of county districts within the county whenever the circumstances may render this desirable.

(5) If the annual or special reports of the medical officer of health of a county district shall not contain adequate information in regard to

(a) the vital statistics of the district,

(b) the sanitary circumstances and administration of the district, and

(c) the action taken in the district for putting in force the provisions of the Housing of the Working Classes Acts, 1890 to 1909, the medical officer of health of the county shall obtain from the medical officer of health of the county district such further information on those matters as the circumstances may demand.

(6) The medical officer of health of the county shall, when directed by us, or by the county council, or as occasion may require, make a special report to the county council on any matter appertaining to his duties under this Order.

(7) The medical officer of health of the county shall as soon as practicable after the 31st day of December in each year make an annual report to the county council up to the end of December on the sanitary circumstances, the sanitary administration and the vital statistics of the county.

In addition to any other matters upon which the medical officer of health may consider it desirable to report, his annual report shall contain the following sections:—

(a) A digest of all annual and special reports made by the medical officers of health of all county districts within the county:

(b) a section as to the isolation hospital accommodation available for each county district and as to the steps which should be taken to remedy any deficiencies which may exist;

(c) a section on the administration of the Housing of the Working Classes Acts, 1890 to 1909, within the county;

(d) a section on the water supply of the several county districts within the county;

(e) a section on the pollution of streams within the county and as to the steps for the prevention of pollution taken:—

(i.) by the local authorities, and

(ii.) by the county council;

(f) a section on the administration within the county of the Midwives Act, 1902; and

(g) a section on the administration of the Sale of Food and Drugs Acts, 1875 to 1907, within that part of the county in which the county council have jurisdiction for the purposes of those Acts.

(8) The medical officer of health of the county shall send to us two copies of his annual report and two copies of any special report; he shall also send one copy of his annual report to the council of every county district in the county and shall send three copies of any special report to the council of every such county district affected by the special report. Appendix II.

This Order may be cited as the County Medical Officers of Health (Duties) Order, 1910.

Given under the Seal of Office of the Local Government Board, this twenty-ninth day of July, in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

PUBLIC ANALYSTS—GENERAL ORDER.

(March 7th, 1900.)

SALE OF FOOD AND DRUGS ACTS, 1875 TO 1899—APPOINTMENT OF PUBLIC ANALYST: REGULATION AS TO COMPETENCY.

TO THE SEVERAL LOCAL AUTHORITIES for the time being required by law to appoint a public analyst; And to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS by the Sale of Food and Drugs Acts provision is made for the appointment by certain local authorities of persons to act as analysts of all articles of food and drugs, and every such appointment is made subject to the approval of the Local Government Board;

And whereas by sub-sections (1) and (5) of section 3 of the Sale of Food and Drugs Act, 1899 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act"), it is enacted as follows:

"(1) It shall be the duty of every local authority entrusted with the execution of the laws relating to the sale of food and drugs to appoint a public analyst . . ."

"(2) Any public analyst appointed under the Sale of Food and Drugs Act shall furnish such proof of competency as may from time to time be required by regulation framed by the Local Government Board."

And whereas by section 25 of the Act it is enacted as follows:

"In this Act unless the context otherwise requires—

* * * * *

"The expression 'local authority' means any local authority authorised to appoint an analyst for the purposes of the Sale of Food and Drugs Act, and the expression 'public analyst' means an analyst so appointed."

Now, therefore, we, the Local Government Board, in pursuance of the powers given to us by sub-section (5) of section 3 of the Act do hereby order that the following regulation shall have effect; that is to say—

Every person appointed on or after the 1st of January, 1900, to the office of public analyst shall furnish such proof as we may deem sufficient of his competent skill in and knowledge of (a) analytical chemistry, (b) therapeutics, and (c) microscopy.

Such proof shall in every case comprise documentary evidence that such person holds the requisite certificate, diploma, licence, or document conferring the qualification or attesting his possession of the skill or knowledge to which the same applies, and granted or issued by any person or body of persons for the time being recognised by us as competent to confer such qualification or to test such skill or knowledge. Such proof also shall comprise such further evidence as we may in any particular case require.

All such documentary evidence as is hereinbefore mentioned shall be furnished by such person to the local authority by whom he is appointed and shall be transmitted to us by the local authority when applying for our approval of the appointment:

Provided that nothing in this regulation contained shall, in the case of any person who was appointed to the office of public analyst with our approval between the 1st of January, 1891, and the date hereof, or of any person who is so appointed for the first time after such last-mentioned date, apply upon any subsequent appointment of such person to the said office.

Given under the Seal of Office of the Local Government Board, this seventh day of March, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

OFFICES AND BUILDINGS.

USE OF BUILDINGS OF LOCAL AUTHORITIES FOR MEETINGS OF TRADE UNIONS AND OTHER BODIES—CIRCULAR.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD, WHITEHALL, S.W.,
23*rd March*, 1908.

SIR,—I am directed by the Local Government Board to state that representations have been made to them as to the difficulty experienced by trade unions, friendly societies and other similar bodies in finding accommodation for their meetings in existing buildings, except in public-houses or other licensed premises. Inquiries have been made of the Board as to the power of the local authorities to render assistance in order to meet this difficulty, and the President lately received a deputation on the subject.

The Board direct me to state that, whilst a local authority would not be empowered under the general law to provide buildings for meetings of the bodies referred to, yet where the authority are in possession of a town hall or offices provided for their own meetings or for the transaction of their business, it is competent for them to place the accommodation thus provided, when not required for their own purposes, at the service of any of these bodies on terms which may enable them to have a temporary use of the premises without expense to the local authority.

The Board are desirous of bringing this matter under the notice of the local authorities. They cannot but feel that it is very undesirable that the bodies in question should be compelled to hold their meetings on licensed premises, especially when it is remembered that the business transacted at these meetings often necessitates the presence of women and children for a considerable time. The temptations and the evil results arising from this state of things are well known to local authorities and particularly to boards of guardians, and the Board trust that the local authorities will be willing to allow the use of their buildings for the purposes of the meetings referred to where the circumstances admit of their so doing. It will be necessary that arrangements should be made to prevent any expense from falling on the local authority, but the Board do not apprehend that there will be any difficulty in this being done.

Usually no consent on the part of the Board will be requisite to the use of the buildings for the purposes mentioned. In the case of the letting of the room in a workhouse or in the office of a Poor Law union, such consent should be obtained, but the Board will be ready to give it, subject to the guardians reserving to themselves the power to determine the arrangement if at any time it is regarded as detrimental to the use of the buildings for Poor Law purposes.

Parish councils are authorised by section 8 (1) (a) of the Local Government Act, 1894, to provide or acquire buildings for public offices and for meetings and for any purposes connected with parish business or with the powers or duties of the parish council or parish meeting.

Section 33 of the Act empowers the Board, on the application of the council of a borough or urban district, to confer on them any of the powers of a parish council, and the Board have in exercise of this power, in many instances conferred on the councils of boroughs and urban districts the powers of a parish council under section 8 (1) (a) with regard to the provision or acquisition of buildings for public offices and for meetings.

They may also draw attention to the power given to the metropolitan borough councils under the London County Council (General Powers) Act, 1893, of providing halls and buildings partly for the purpose of transacting their own business and partly for the purpose of public meetings, and of adapting or altering their existing town halls and offices for these purposes.

I am directed to add that this circular will be placed on sale, so that copies may shortly be obtained from Messrs. Wyman and Sons, Limited, Fetter Lane, E.C., either directly or through any bookseller.

I am, etc.,
S. B. PROVIS, Secretary.

The Town Clerk, or
The Clerk to the Urban or Rural District Council, or
The Clerk to the Guardians, or
The Clerk to the Parish Council.

Appendix II.

USE OF BUILDINGS OF LOCAL AUTHORITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE ACCOUNTS OF APPROVED SOCIETIES AND PURPOSES CONNECTED THEREWITH—CIRCULAR.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD, WHITEHALL, S.W.,
5th December, 1912.

SIR,—I am directed by the Local Government Board to state that representations have been made to them by the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury as to a difficulty which it is anticipated will arise in some cases in finding suitable office accommodation for conducting the audit of the accounts of approved societies under the National Insurance Act, 1911. The Board are informed that many societies have no office of their own, and that where instructions are being given to the officials of such societies by the auditors of the National Health Insurance Commission it has been found necessary to make use of private premises. Their lordships consider that it is undesirable that the proceedings of a formal audit should take place in private houses or that recourse should be had to the use of rooms on licensed premises, and the Board concur in this view.

Apart from the provisions contained in section 27 (2) of the Act, it appears to the Board to be competent to a local authority to place accommodation provided for their own meetings or for the transaction of their business at the disposal, when not otherwise required, of approved societies for the purpose of the audits referred to on terms which may enable the societies to have a temporary use of the premises without expense to the local authority.

The Board are desirous of bringing this matter under the notice of local authorities and trust that they will be willing to allow the use of their buildings for the purposes in question where the circumstances admit of their doing so.

Usually no consent on the part of the Board will be requisite to the use of the buildings in the manner suggested. In the case of a room belonging to a board of guardians, however, such consent needs to be obtained, and the Board will be ready to give it subject to the guardians reserving to themselves the power to determine the arrangement if at any time it is regarded as inconvenient.

The Board hope that local authorities will give the suggested arrangement their favourable consideration.

I am directed to add that this circular will be placed on sale, so that copies may shortly be obtained from Messrs. Wyman and Sons, Limited, Fetter Lane, E.C., either directly or through any bookseller.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

H. C. MUNRO, Secretary.

The Clerk to the Urban or Rural District Council.

PETROLEUM AND CARBIDE OF CALCIUM.

ORDER IN COUNCIL UNDER THE PETROLEUM ACT, 1871.

WHEREAS it is provided by the Petroleum Act, 1871, that His Majesty may, from time to time, make, revoke, and vary Orders in Council directing that the said Act or any part thereof shall apply to any substance, and that the said Act or the part thereof specified in any such Order shall, during the continuance of the Order, apply to such substance, and shall be construed and have effect as if such substance had been included in the definition of petroleum to which that Act applies, subject to the following qualifications :—

1. The quantity of any substance to which this Act is directed by Order in Council to apply which may be kept without a licence, shall be such quantity only as is specified in that behalf in such Order, or if no such quantity is specified no quantity may be kept without a licence.

Appendix II.

2. The label on the vessel containing such substance shall be such as may be specified in that behalf in the Order.

And whereas the Petroleum Act, 1879, and the Petroleum (Hawkers) Act, 1881, are to be construed as one with the Petroleum Act of 1871, and may, together with such Act, be cited as the Petroleum Acts, 1871 to 1881.

And whereas carbide of calcium presents dangers similar to those presented by petroleum.

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the above-mentioned provisions of the Petroleum Act, 1871, His Majesty is pleased, by and with the advice of his Privy Council, to order and prescribe that the under-mentioned parts of the Petroleum Acts, 1871 to 1881, shall apply to the said substance, carbide of calcium, in the same manner as if the said substance were petroleum to which the Acts apply, viz. :—

The whole of the Petroleum Acts, 1871 to 1881, except :—

(a) So much of section 6 of the Petroleum Act, 1871, as specifies the nature of the label to be on the vessel, in lieu of which the label shall be as hereinafter provided.

(b) So much of section 7 of the Petroleum Act, 1871, as relates to the exemption from such section of small quantities under certain specified conditions, and the quantity of carbide of calcium that may be kept without a licence shall be as hereinafter provided.

(c) So much of section 11 of the Petroleum Act, 1871, as relates to the testing of samples taken by an officer of the local authority under the powers conferred by such section.

(d) So much of the Petroleum Act, 1879, as relates to the testing of petroleum.

(e) So much of the Petroleum Act, 1881, as relates to the hawking of petroleum.

The label on the vessel containing the said carbide of calcium shall bear in conspicuous characters the words "carbide of calcium," "dangerous if not kept dry," and with the following caution : "The contents of this package are liable if brought into contact with moisture to give off a highly inflammable gas," and with the addition :—

(a) In the case of a vessel kept, of the name and address of the consignee or owner.

(b) In the case of a vessel sent or conveyed, of the name and address of the sender.

(c) In the case of a vessel sold or exposed for sale, of the name and address of the vendor.

The quantity of carbide of calcium that may be kept without a licence shall be as follows :—

1. Where the carbide is kept in separate hermetically-closed metal vessels containing not more than 1 lb. each, 5 lb.

2. Where the following conditions are observed, 28 lb.

(a) The carbide shall be kept only in a metal vessel or vessels hermetically closed at all times when the carbide is not actually being placed in or withdrawn from such vessel or vessels.

(b) The vessels containing carbide shall be kept in a dry and well-ventilated place.

(c) Due precautions shall be taken to prevent unauthorised persons from having access to the carbide.

(d) Notice shall be given of such keeping to the local authority, and free access shall be afforded to their duly authorised inspector to inspect the portion of the premises where the carbide is kept and the generator is situated.

Where a fixed generator is used on the premises :—

(e) There shall be exhibited near the generator a certificate signed by the maker or supplier of the generator, that the generator complies with the regulations as to acetylene generators issued by the British Acetylene Association.

(f) Full and detailed instructions as to the care and use of the generator shall be kept constantly posted up in such place as to be conveniently referred to by the generator attendant.

3. Where the carbide is kept by a general lighthouse authority, as defined by the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, such quantity as may be required for the purposes of such authority, provided that :— Appendix II.

(a) The carbide is kept only in a metal vessel or vessels hermetically closed at all times when the carbide is not actually being withdrawn from such vessel or vessels.

(b) The vessels containing carbide are kept in a dry and well-ventilated building exclusively appropriated to the keeping of carbide, and detached from a dwelling-house or separated therefrom by a substantial partition with no opening in it.

(c) Due precautions are taken to prevent unauthorised persons from having access to the carbide.

(d) No artificial light capable of igniting inflammable vapour is allowed to be taken into the building in which the carbide is kept.

All previous Orders in Council relating to the keeping of carbide of calcium, viz., Orders dated 26th February, 1897, 7th July, 1897, and 24th October, 1904, are hereby repealed.

ALMERIC FITZROY.

August 8th, 1911.

LOCOMOTIVE.

PETROLEUM.

REGULATIONS DATED JULY 31ST, 1907, MADE BY THE SECRETARY OF STATE UNDER SECTION 5 OF THE LOCOMOTIVES ON HIGHWAYS ACT, 1896, AS TO THE KEEPING AND USE OF PETROLEUM FOR THE PURPOSES OF LIGHT LOCOMOTIVES.

Locomotives on Highways Act, 1896 (59 & 60 Vict. c. 36, s. 5).

In promulgating the following regulations relating to the keeping, conveyance and use of petroleum in connection with light locomotives, the Secretary of State for the Home Department desires to direct public attention to the dangers that may arise from the careless use of the more volatile descriptions of petroleum, commonly known as petroleum spirit. Not only is the vapour therefrom, which is given off at ordinary temperatures, capable of being easily ignited, but it is also capable, when mixed with air, of forming an explosive atmosphere. It is, therefore, necessary, in dealing with and handling the spirit, to take strict precautions by the employment of thoroughly sound and properly closed vessels to prevent leakage of the spirit, and by avoiding the use of naked lights in dangerous proximity to prevent the contact of any form of artificial light with the highly inflammable vapour which it is always evolving.

REGULATIONS.

By virtue of the powers conferred on me by the fifth section of the Locomotives on Highways Act, 1896, I hereby make the following regulations for the keeping and use of petroleum for the purposes of light locomotives (m).

In these regulations the expression "petroleum spirit" shall mean the petroleum to which the Petroleum Acts, 1871 and 1879, apply, provided that when any petroleum other than that to which the said Petroleum Acts apply, is on or in any light locomotive, or is being conveyed or kept in any place on or in which there is also present any petroleum spirit as above defined, the whole of such petroleum shall be deemed to be petroleum spirit.

In these regulations the expression "storehouse" shall mean any room, building, coachhouse, lean-to, or other place in which petroleum spirit for the purposes of light locomotives is kept (n) in pursuance of these regulations and shall include an open-air place of storage, when and so long as due precautions for the prevention of unauthorised persons having access to the petroleum spirit are taken in pursuance of No. 13 of these regulations.

(m) Under the seventh section of the Act, a breach of these regulations may, on summary conviction, be punished by a fine not exceeding ten pounds.

(n) Petrol in a car standing in a shed is "kept" in the shed, and therefore the shed is a "storehouse" (Appleyard v. Bangham (1913), 77 J. P. 448).

Appendix II.
——

1. The following shall be exempt from licence under the Petroleum Act, 1871, namely :—

(a) petroleum spirit which is kept for the purpose of, or is being used on, light locomotives when kept or used in conformity with these regulations.

(b) Petroleum spirit which is kept for the purpose of, or is being used on, light locomotives by, or by authority of, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, the Admiralty, or other department of the Government.

2. These regulations shall apply to petroleum spirit which is kept for the purpose of, or is being used on, light locomotives, and for which (save as hereinafter provided) no licence has been granted by the local authority under the Petroleum Act, 1871, and shall not apply to petroleum spirit which is kept for sale, or partly for use on light locomotives, and which must be kept in accordance with the provisions of the Petroleum Acts as heretofore, except that Regulations 13 and 14 shall apply to petroleum spirit which is kept partly for sale and partly for use in light locomotives.

These regulations shall not apply to the keeping or use of petroleum spirit by or under the control of any Government department. Such keeping or use may be the subject of regulations to be made by the department concerned.

3. Where for any special reason a person keeping petroleum spirit for the purpose of light locomotives applies for a licence under the Petroleum Act, 1871, and the local authority see fit to grant such licence, such petroleum spirit shall be subject only to regulations 8 to 15 and the conditions of such licence, in so far as the said conditions are not contrary to the said regulations 8 to 15.

4. Where a storehouse forms part of, or is attached to, another building, and where the intervening floor or partition is of an unsubstantial or highly inflammable character, or has an opening therein, the whole of such building shall be deemed to be the storehouse, and no portion of such storehouse shall be used as a dwelling or as a place where persons assemble. A storehouse shall have a separate entrance from the open air distinct from that of any dwelling or building in which persons assemble.

5. The amount of petroleum spirit to be kept in any one storehouse, whether or not upon light locomotives, shall not exceed 60 gallons at any one time.

6. Where two or more storehouses are in the same occupation and are situated within 20 feet of one another, they shall for the purposes of these regulations be deemed to be one and the same storehouse, and the maximum amount of petroleum spirit prescribed in the foregoing regulation shall be the maximum to be kept in all such storehouses taken together. Where two or more storehouses in the same occupation are distant more than 20 feet from one another, the maximum amount shall apply to each storehouse.

7. Any person who keeps petroleum spirit in a storehouse which is situated within 20 feet of any other building whether or not in his occupation, or of any timber stack or other inflammable goods not owned by him, shall give notice to the local authority under the Petroleum Acts for the district in which he is keeping such petroleum spirit, that he is so keeping petroleum spirit, and shall renew such notice in the month of January in each year during the continuance of such keeping, and shall permit any duly authorised officer of the local authority to inspect such petroleum spirit at any reasonable time. This regulation shall not apply to petroleum spirit kept in a tank forming part of a light locomotive.

8. Every storehouse shall be thoroughly ventilated.

9. Petroleum spirit shall not be kept, used, or conveyed except in metal vessels so substantially constructed as not to be liable, except under circumstances of gross negligence or extraordinary accident, to be broken or become defective or insecure. Every such vessel shall be so constructed and maintained that no leakage, whether of liquid or vapour, can take place therefrom.

10. Every such vessel, not forming part of a light locomotive, when used for conveying or keeping petroleum spirit shall bear the words "petroleum spirit highly inflammable" conspicuously and indelibly stamped and marked thereon, or on a metallic or enamelled label attached thereto, and shall be of a capacity not exceeding two gallons.

Provided that this limitation of capacity shall not apply in any place of storage which is licensed under the Petroleum Act, 1871, unless such limitation is required by the conditions of the licence.

11. Before repairs are done to any such vessel, that vessel shall, as far as practicable, be cleaned by the removal of all petroleum spirit and of all dangerous vapours derived from the same.

12. The filling or replenishing a vessel with petroleum spirit shall not be carried on, nor shall the contents of any such vessel be exposed in the presence of fire or artificial light, except a light of such construction, position, or character, as not to be liable to ignite any inflammable vapour arising from such spirit, and no fire or artificial light capable of igniting inflammable vapour shall be brought within dangerous proximity of the place where any vessel containing petroleum spirit is being kept.

13. In the case of all petroleum spirit kept or conveyed for the purpose of, or in connection with, any light locomotive, (a) all due precautions shall be taken for the prevention of accidents by fire or explosion, and for the prevention of unauthorised persons having access to any petroleum spirit kept or conveyed, and to the vessels containing or intended to contain, or having actually contained the same; and (b) every person managing, or employed on, or in connection with, any light locomotive shall abstain from every act whatever which tends to cause fire or explosion, and which is not reasonably necessary, and shall prevent any other person from committing such act.

14. In the storehouse or in any place where a light locomotive is kept or is present, petroleum spirit shall not be used for the purpose of cleaning or lighting, or as a solvent or for any purpose other than as fuel for the engine of a light locomotive.

Provided that where due precaution is taken to prevent petroleum spirit from escaping into a sewer or drain and provision made for disposing safely of any surplus petroleum spirit and where no fire or naked light is present, quantities not exceeding one gill may be used for the cleaning of a light locomotive at a safe distance from any building, place of storage of inflammable goods, or much-frequented highway, or for the repair of tyres, under suitable conditions.

This regulation shall apply to premises on which petroleum spirit is kept for the purpose of, or is being used on, light locomotives, whether such premises are licensed or not, unless the local authority see fit, in the case of licensed premises to grant an exemption by a special term of the licence.

15. Petroleum shall not be allowed to escape into any inlet or drain communicating with a sewer.

16. These regulations shall come into operation on the 15th August, 1907, from which date all previous regulations made under the fifth section of the said Act are hereby repealed.

H. J. Gladstone,

One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

Whitehall,
31*st July*, 1907.

Note.—From the above regulations it will be seen that there are two methods in which petroleum spirit required for use in motor cars may be kept. The first of these will be the usual method, namely, to keep in accordance with these regulations; but where a person finds that for some special reason he cannot observe one of the regulations 4, 5, or 6, he may resort to the second method, namely, to apply to the local authority for a licence. In such cases the place will be examined by the local authority officer, who will advise the local authority as to its suitability for licence. Where a licence has been granted regulations 4 to 7 no longer apply.

In no case is petroleum spirit kept wholly or partly for sale exempt from the necessity of a licence.

PROVISIONAL ORDERS.

PROVISIONAL ORDERS UNDER THE PUBLIC HEALTH ACT 1875, THE GAS AND WATER WORKS FACILITIES ACTS AND THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACT, 1888—CIRCULAR. (o).

LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD, WHITEHALL, S.W.
1*st September*, 1913.

SIR,—I am directed by the Local Government Board to state that they deem it desirable to follow the practice of previous years, and to fix dates before which all applications must be made for Provisional Orders under the Public Health Act, 1875, and section 54 (1) (a) of the Local Government Act, 1888, if it is wished that the Order should be confirmed during the session of 1914. The necessity for this course is the more apparent in view of Standing Order 193 (A) of the House of Commons which provides that no Bill originating in that House for confirming a Provisional Order shall be read the first time after Whitsuntide. Experience shows that unless this date is strictly adhered to, it will probably be impossible for Bills to confirm Provisional Orders to reach the House of Lords by the date necessary to ensure compliance with the Lords' Sessional Order relating to the second reading of such Bills.

The Board have accordingly determined that all such applications must be received by them not later than the dates mentioned in the Provisional Order Instructions enclosed herewith, and it must be clearly understood that those dates are fixed as the latest at which applications for Provisional Orders can be received. It is obviously desirable that, wherever practicable, the applications should be made earlier, and the Board therefore trust that every council who may propose to apply for a Provisional Order will make their application as soon as they are in a position to furnish the requisite particulars.

It is particularly desirable that applications for Provisional Orders to alter local Acts and for the alteration of the boundaries of boroughs should be made at the earliest possible date. These applications generally require much consideration, and the Board are able to give more attention to them in the autumn than is possible during the earlier part of the following year.

The Board have revised the instructions which they have been accustomed to issue relating to applications for Provisional Orders under the Public Health Act, 1875, and section 54 (1) (a) of the Local Government Act, 1888, and copies of the revised instructions are enclosed.

If the council propose to apply for a Provisional Order for gas purposes under the Gas and Water Works Facilities Acts, the special regulations which have been issued by the Board under those Acts, copies of which can be obtained on application, must be complied with.

I am to add that in dealing with applications for the sanction by the Board of the costs incurred by a council in promoting or opposing a Provisional Order under section 298 of the Public Health Act, 1875 (which section is made applicable to Provisional Orders under the Local Government Act, 1888, by section 87 (2) of that Act), it is the practice of the Board to require that such costs shall be taxed by the taxing officer of one of the Houses of Parliament. It will not, therefore, be necessary to submit such costs for taxation by the clerk of the peace.

In connection with the question of costs the Board think it necessary to draw attention to the fact that one of the advantages which should attach to procedure by Provisional Order as compared with procedure by private Bill is the opportunity of saving expense which the former affords. This advantage is largely discounted if, instead of conducting their case at a local inquiry with the assistance of their officers, who are usually perfectly capable of placing the facts before the Board's inspector, local authorities employ a number of counsel for the purpose. The Board recognise that there may be cases in which the employment of counsel by local authorities to appear at the inquiry is desirable, but such cases are exceptional, and where they arise, the Board consider that with a view to the saving of expense the number of counsel employed should be as small as possible. The very large expenditure which has, in some recent instances, been incurred in connection with local inquiries makes it necessary for the Board to emphasise this point.

(o) Circulars as to Provisional Orders were issued to town councils, to urban district councils and to rural district councils. The one printed is that addressed to town councils: words italicised do not appear in those addressed to district councils, and in the case of rural councils the paragraph as to gas orders is also omitted.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

H. C. MONRO, Secretary.

INSTRUCTIONS AS TO APPLICATIONS TO THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD FOR PROVISIONAL ORDERS UNDER SECTIONS 176 AND 279 OF THE PUBLIC HEALTH ACT, 1875 (38 & 39 VICT. c. 55).

APPLICATIONS FOR PROVISIONAL ORDERS TO PUT IN FORCE COMPULSORY POWERS OF THE LANDS CLAUSES ACTS, UNDER SECTION 176 OF THE PUBLIC HEALTH ACT.

1.—(a) The application must be made by a petition under the seal of the local authority, containing the particulars required by section 176 (3) of the Public Health Act, 1875. In case of a rural district council it is not necessary (unless special circumstances would lead to saving of expense) that a separate application be made or separate proceedings be taken as regards each contributory place affected by the proposals. The lands proposed to be purchased should be specified in the petition by inserting therein before the prayer of the petition an exact copy of the book of reference mentioned in instruction 4, amended, if necessary, so as to show by alterations in manuscript any changes or corrections ascertained between the preparation of the reference and the sealing of the petition.

(b) Where it is only intended to carry sewers into, through, or under lands, such lands should not be included in the petition, as the local authority are empowered by section 16 of the Public Health Act to carry sewers into, through, or under lands without purchasing the lands. See also section 54 as to water mains.

2. The petition must be presented not later that the 31st October if the advertisements of the proposal were published in September, not later than the 30th November if they were published in October, and not later than the 18th December if they were published in November.

3.—(a) Attention is drawn to the provision in section 176 of the Public Health Act, 1875, which empowers local authorities to give in the months of September and October, or of October and November, the advertisements and notices which are required before they can apply for a Provisional Order to enable them to obtain lands by compulsory purchase. The local authority should avail themselves of this power as far as practicable, so that the petition may be presented at an earlier date, and so as to prevent the possible loss of a parliamentary session in the event of errors being discovered too late to be remedied.

(b) The Board have found that in some instances a misapprehension has prevailed as to the period within which the advertisements and notices prescribed in section 176 of the Public Health Act must be given. The section provides that the advertisements shall be published during three consecutive weeks in the months of September, October, or November, and it is necessary that the three weeks in which the publication takes place should all be included in the same month, whichever of those above-mentioned is selected for the purpose. Moreover, the advertisements must be published in the same newspaper each week, and the notices to the owners, lessees, and occupiers of Appendix II. the lands which it is proposed to purchase must in all cases be served in the month immediately following that in which the advertisements are published.

(c) The Board also have found that in some cases the deposit of the plan of the proposed undertaking at the place to be named in the advertisement referred to in section 176 (2) (hereinafter referred to as the "deposited plan") has not been made until after the advertisement has been published; but the deposit should always be made at such time as to enable the deposited plan (and sections, if any) to be seen at all reasonable hours at the prescribed place so soon as the first advertisement appears. The plan should be marked "deposited plan" when deposited, and should (together with the sections if any) remain open to inspection at all reasonable hours from the date of the deposit until the time when it is sent to the Board with the petition in accordance with instruction 4 (b). When the deposited plan (and sections, if any) are returned by the Board, they should be re-deposited and remain at the prescribed place and be open to inspection at all reasonable hours until the Bill to confirm the Provisional Order, if an Order is issued, has received the royal assent.

4.—(a) As regards the deposited plan and the book of reference, the following directions must be strictly complied with:—

(i.) The deposited plan, which should be carefully corrected on the ground, should show not only the lands to be purchased, and the parish in which they are situated, but also the manner in which those lands will be utilized for the purposes in view, and the position, as nearly as practicable, of any buildings, tanks, reservoirs, or other works to be erected or constructed on the lands. The position in relation to the lands of any sewers, pipes, or other works, which may be contemplated as part of the undertaking for which the lands are required, should also be shown. In the case of land required for making a new street or for widening a street, the frontage line of the new street, or of the street when widened, should be shown by a hard line of colour; and the deposited plan should be accompanied by sections showing the proposed level of the new street in relation to the adjoining lands and to any existing streets which will communicate with the new street, and showing any alteration in the levels of the streets to be widened or altered, so far as it affects lands in that street or the communication with any existing streets. In the case of any street proposed to be widened, the deposited plan should be figured so as to show the widths at all material points of the existing street, and of the street as proposed to be widened. Any tramway in such street should be accurately indicated on the plan, and the space at material points between the outer lines of the tramway and the footpath on each side of the road, both before and after the contemplated improvements, should be given.

(ii.) The deposited plan should be coloured so as to distinguish the lands proposed to be actually purchased, and each parcel of land, notwithstanding that several may belong to one owner, should be separately numbered, the outside boundaries of each parcel being defined by hard lines, and the buildings (if any) on each parcel being linked into it, so that it may be seen to what properties each number applies.

(iii.) The book of reference should also be prepared, on the ground, at the same time as, and in conjunction with, the deposited plan; it should show the parish in which the lands are situate, each parcel of land being numbered to correspond with the deposited plan, and being described so as to show clearly what properties are covered by each number. (See instruction 1 (a)).

(iv.) A copy of the book of reference should be placed with the deposited plan at the time of deposit, for local inspection.

(b) The petition should be accompanied by a copy of the deposited plan (and sections, if any), or of so much thereof as relates to the petition, and by a book of reference (in duplicate), altered (if necessary) to correspond to the copy included in the petition in accordance with instruction 1 (a). The deposited plan (and sections, if any) should also accompany the petition for comparison with the copy and when returned by the Board should be re-deposited in accordance with instruction 3 (c).

Appendix II.

(c) The deposited plan (and sections, if any) and the copy thereof, if not in book form, should be mounted on linen.

5.—(a) A statutory declaration specifying the manner in which the notices under section 176 were served upon the owners, lessees, and occupiers, and the names of the persons so served, should be made by the person who served them, and the service must be effected strictly in accordance with one of the modes prescribed by section 267 of the Act. The service should be effected by a responsible person. In the event of difficulty arising in ascertaining the actual interests of several owners, lessees, or occupiers where the boundaries between lands are not well or clearly defined, and the interests may overlap, it would be well to describe the lands as belonging to all the parties who claim or who are believed to have an interest in the lands, and to serve the notices accordingly, so as to avoid possible objection to the lands being taken on the ground of want of due notice.

(b) A statutory declaration should also be made by the clerk to the local authority, showing that all the other requirements of section 176 and of these instructions have been duly complied with, and the following exhibits should be annexed, viz. :—(1) Copies of the newspapers containing the advertisements ; (2) a copy of the form of notice served upon owners, lessees, and occupiers ; and (3) a statement showing with reference to the numbers of the deposited plan, the several parcels of land in respect of which notice was served upon each owner, lessee, and occupier, and what reply, if any, has been received from the owner, lessee, and occupier in respect of each parcel of land.

6. In the case of land required for widening a street, the fact that the street is repairable by the inhabitants at large should be stated in the petition.

7. The declaration or declarations should be sent to the Board with the petition.

8. Standing Orders 38 and 39 of both Houses of Parliament, extracts from which are appended, must be complied with, and immediately after the last of the deposits required by the Standing Order has been made, the Board should be furnished with an affidavit for production to the examiners of Standing Orders, in proof that the requirements of the Standing Orders referred to have been complied with. This affidavit must state definitely that the plans, sections, books of reference or maps deposited at the Private Bill Office and at the office of the Clerk of the Parliaments respectively in compliance with Standing Orders 39 above referred to, are in accordance with those Orders duplicates of those deposited with the Board.

9. Where the taking of the land will not involve the acquisition of any house or houses occupied, either wholly or partially, by thirty or more persons of the working class, whether as tenants or lodgers, this fact should be stated in the affidavit, so as to show that the Standing Order does not apply.

10. Every statutory declaration and affidavit must be made or sworn before a justice of the peace or a commissioner for oaths, and must be stamped with a half-crown impressed stamp ; and each exhibit to a statutory declaration or affidavit must be marked by the declarant or deponent and by the justice of the peace or commissioner for oaths, as the case may be, in the usual way.

11. Two or more local authorities cannot jointly petition for a Provisional Order to enable them to put in force the compulsory powers of the Lands Clauses Acts. Either each local authority must present a separate petition in respect of the particular lands which they require, or else the several local authorities must combine under section 285 of the Public Health Act, 1875, for the purpose of carrying the proposed scheme into execution, and a petition must be presented by one of them with regard to all the land required. If the latter course is taken, an agreement under the section should be entered into before application is made for the Provisional Order, and a copy of the agreement should accompany the application.

Appendix II.

12. If the local authority intend to apply for a Provisional Order to enable them to purchase lands compulsorily in connection with proposed works of sewerage or water supply, some of which will lie outside their district, they will probably find it convenient to satisfy the requirements of section 32 or section 54 of the Public Health Act when they are taking the necessary proceedings for the Provisional Order; but the advertisements and notices under those sections and the proof of compliance with the statutory provisions should be distinct from the advertisements, notices and proofs under section 176 of the Act. If this course is adopted it may have the effect of preventing delay at a subsequent stage of the proceedings in cases where advertisements and notices under section 32 or section 54 have to be issued before the works for which the land is required can be commenced. Section 53 should also be complied with, where it is intended to construct a reservoir to hold more than 100,000 gallons of water.

APPLICATIONS FOR PROVISIONAL ORDERS FOR THE CONSTITUTION OF UNITED DISTRICTS UNDER SECTION 279 OF THE PUBLIC HEALTH ACT, 1875.

1. It is desirable that the local authority of each of the districts proposed to be formed into a united district should concur by resolution in the application. The resolution should specify the purposes for which the united district is to be constituted and the basis upon which the representation on the joint board and the contributions to the common fund by the constituent authorities are proposed to be settled. A copy of the resolution, certified by the clerk, should be forwarded to the Board, together with a copy of any agreement to combine which may have been executed.

2. The application should be made not later than the 18th December next, and it is desirable that it should be sent in before that date if possible.

EXTRACTS FROM STANDING ORDERS.

STANDING ORDER 38 (HOUSE OF COMMONS).

"Where any Bill contains or revives or extends power to take compulsorily or by agreement any land in any local area as defined for the purposes of this Order, and such taking involves or may involve the taking in that area of any house or houses occupied either wholly or partially by thirty or more persons of the working class, whether as tenants or lodgers, the promoters shall deposit in the Private Bill Office § and at the office of the central authority on or before the 21st day of December, a statement giving the description and postal address of each of such houses, its number on the deposited plans, the parish in which it is situate, and the number (so far as can be ascertained) of persons of the working class residing in it, and also a copy of so much of the deposited plans (if any) as relates thereto.

"This Order shall not apply where a statement in pursuance of this Order was deposited in respect of the Act, the powers of which are proposed to be revived or extended.

"For the purposes of this Order the expression 'local area' means—as respects London, the administrative county of London, as respects England and Wales (outside London) any borough, or other urban district, and elsewhere than in a borough or other urban district, any parish; . . .

"The expression 'house' means any house or part of a house occupied as a separate dwelling.

"The expression 'working class' means mechanics, artisans, labourers, and others working for wages, hawkers, costermongers, persons not working for wages but working at some trade or handicraft without employing others except members of their own family, and persons, other than domestic servants, whose income in any case does not exceed an average of thirty shillings a week, and the families of any of such persons who may be residing with them.

"The expression 'central authority' means, as regards England and Wales, the Local Government Board . .

"The expression 'Bill' includes a Bill confirming a Provisional Order."

§ In Standing Order 38 (House of Lords) the "Office of the Clerk of the Parliaments" is substituted.

STANDING ORDER 39 (HOUSE OF COMMONS).

"Whenever plans, sections, books of reference or maps are deposited in the case of a Provisional Order . . . proposed to be made by any public department or county council, duplicates of the said documents shall also be deposited in the Private Bill Office * : provided that with regard to such deposits as are so made at any public department or with any county council after the prorogation of Parliament, and before the 30th day of November in any year, such duplicates shall be so deposited on or before the 30th day of November."

* In Standing Order 39 (House of Lords) the "Office of the Clerk of the Parliaments" is substituted.

N.B.—It is particularly requested that the petition, declaration, affidavit, notices, and other documents may be on foolscap paper of the usual size, and that whenever more than two copies of any of these documents are required for use such documents may be printed so as to facilitate examination.

INSTRUCTIONS AS TO APPLICATIONS TO THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD FOR PROVISIONAL ORDERS UNDER SECTIONS 297 AND 303 OF THE PUBLIC HEALTH ACT, 1875 (38 & 39 VICT. C. 55).

REPEAL, ALTERATION, OR AMENDMENT OF LOCAL ACTS OR CONFIRMING ACTS.

1. The application should be made by a resolution of the local authority, asking the Board in general terms to repeal, alter, or amend the Act, wholly or partially, as the case may require, and setting out the objects desired to be attained, and a copy of the resolution, certified by the clerk, should be forwarded to the Board. The resolution should be sufficiently wide in its terms to cover any provisions incidental to or consequential upon the main objects of the application which may, in the course of the consideration of the case by the Board, prove to be required. It is suggested that the resolution might, as a general rule, be in a form to the following effect :—

Resolved that the make application to the Local Government Board for the issue of a Provisional Order under sections 297 and 303 of the Public Health Act, 1875, to partially repeal, alter or amend the Act so as :—

(1) To
(2) To
(3) For the several purposes of this application, or for purposes connected with, incidental to or consequent on those purposes to make any such alteration or amendment of the said local Act or of any other local Act, or of any Act confirming a Provisional Order made in pursuance of any of the Sanitary Acts or of the Public Health Act, 1875, and in force in the said [borough] [district] as may be necessary or desirable.

2. The application must be received by the Board not later than the 15th November next, and it is very desirable that it should be sent in before the 1st October next.

3. The application should be accompanied by a king's printer's copy of the Act, and by a statement showing the particular provisions which it is proposed should be repealed, altered or amended, the precise alterations desired, and any provisions which will require consequential alteration ; and in the event of the local Act having been previously altered by Provisional Order or local Act, a reference to such Order or Act should be given. The statement should also show clearly the grounds upon which each of the proposed amendments is desired.

4. In any case in which powers are sought which deviate from, are in extension of, or are repugnant to the general law, the statement should show the circumstances peculiar to the locality which are alleged to justify the grant

Appendix II. of the powers, and should contain a reference to any recent precedents for the grant of such powers.

5. If the powers sought can be obtained under a general Act, the reasons for not proceeding under the provisions of the general law should be fully set out in the statement.

6. If additional borrowing powers are sought, the purposes for which the powers are required should be stated, and in cases in which actual works have been decided on for which a loan will be required, estimates should be furnished showing as far as practicable the amounts required for each purpose, together with plans and sections of the works. References should also be given to the provisions of the Acts under which the local authority claim to have power to carry out the purposes for which the borrowing powers are sought.

Where the application relates to borrowing powers for the purposes of a gas undertaking and the limits of the local authority for the supply of gas extend beyond their district, a definite maximum amount of such borrowing powers, which should not exceed the sum estimated to be required for capital purposes of the undertaking within a period of twenty years, must be specified for insertion in the Provisional Order.

7. If power is sought for the acquisition or use of any land for the manufacture or storage of gas, a concise description of such land should be furnished, together with a map on a scale of not less than six inches to the mile showing clearly the position of the land, and a statement of the number of houses situate within 300 yards of the limits of such land.

8. If, in any other case, the application proposes to confer the power to acquire any land or relates to an area which is described by reference to a map or plan, the map or plan must be on a scale of not less than six inches to the mile and must accompany the application.

9. In all cases in which plans, etc., are deposited, Standing Order 39 of each House of Parliament must be complied with.

10. In the case of any proposal to acquire land, Standing Order 38 must also be complied with, and an affidavit must be supplied for production to the examiner of Standing Orders, in proof that the requirements of those Standing Orders have been complied with, or that Standing Order 38 does not apply, as the case may be. This affidavit must be sworn before a justice of the peace or a commissioner for oaths, and stamped with a half-crown impressed stamp, and must state definitely that the plans, sections, books of reference or maps deposited at the Private Bill Office and at the office of the Clerk of the Parliaments respectively, in compliance with Standing Orders 39 above referred to, are, in accordance with those Orders, duplicates of those deposited with the Board.

Appendix II.

INSTRUCTIONS AS TO REPRESENTATIONS BY TOWN COUNCILS TO THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD FOR PROVISIONAL ORDERS UNDER SECTION 54 OF THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACT, 1888, WITH RESPECT TO THE ALTERATION OF THE BOUNDARIES OF BOROUGHS.

1. The representation should be embodied in a memorial of the town council under their corporate seal, and should be printed on paper of foolscap size, and on one side only of the paper. The representation must be made to the Board at the earliest date practicable, and not later than the 1st December next.

2. The memorial (of which six copies should be sent to the Board) should specify, with reference to a map, the particular alterations desired, and should state in detail the reasons upon which the town council rely in support of their representation. The town council should also embody in their memorial, in every case in which it is sought to include in the borough a rural parish or a part of a rural parish, proposals in conformity with the provisions of section 54 of the Local Government Act, 1894.

The memorial should embody definite proposals as regards the following matters:—(a) The mode in which the areas sought to be included in the borough and the parts of parishes (if any) which will remain outside should be dealt with for parochial purposes; (b) the continuance, alteration, dissolution or constitution of parish councils in respect of the rural areas (if any) which will remain outside the borough; (c) the number of guardians or rural district councillors, as the case may be, at present elected for each parish or ward of a parish affected within and without the borough, and the number to be elected for each parish or ward of a parish as proposed to be altered; and (d) in the case of urban parishes affected, it should be stated by whom the appointment of overseers is made.

3. The map accompanying the memorial to the Board should be an ordnance map, mounted on linen and folded in book form, on the scale of not less than six inches to the mile, and should be coloured and annotated so as to show clearly (a) the existing boundary of the borough, (b) the alteration of boundary proposed by the representation, and (c) the entire boundaries of any urban districts, and of any contributory places in rural districts which will be affected by the proposal. The map should moreover indicate by some distinctive colouring the positions in the borough, and in any other area affected by the representation, of all churchyards and burial grounds (whether provided under the Burial Acts, the Public Health (Interments) Act, 1879, or under any local Act), of tramways, public elementary schools, police stations, and recreation grounds, and also of any buildings which have been erected since the date when the ordnance map was issued. The sites of sewage disposal works, refuse destructors or tips, gas works, electric generating stations, and waterworks should also be indicated by distinguishing letters or other characters; and a reference table showing what is indicated by the various colours and other signs used should be attached to the map.

4.—(a) Where a borough is divided into wards, and it is proposed, as consequential upon the alteration of the borough boundary, to increase or decrease the number of the wards or to alter the boundaries of any wards, an additional ordnance map (also mounted on linen and folded in book form, and on the scale of not less than six inches to the mile) should be coloured and annotated so as to show clearly the present boundaries of and the apportionment of councillors among the existing wards, and the proposed alterations as regards wards and their boundaries, and the proposed apportionment of councillors.

(b) A similar map should be supplied in every case in which a representation in favour of the alteration of the boundary of a borough not divided into wards comprises also a proposal for the division of the borough into wards.

(c) The maps referred to in the above instructions should accompany the memorial to the Board.

(d) Where a borough is not divided into wards, and it is not proposed, as consequential upon the alteration of the borough boundary, to divide it into wards, this should be stated in the memorial.

Appendix II.

5. A duplicate of each of the maps referred to in instructions 3 and 4 must, simultaneously with the transmission of the memorial to the Board, be deposited in the town clerk's office and be open to inspection without payment at all reasonable hours by any local authority or person affected by the proposal. Notice in writing of such deposit should, at the same time, be given to each local authority interested, and such deposit should also be advertised in some one and the same local newspaper circulating in the areas affected by the proposal in two successive weeks, and the first advertisement should appear within seven days after such deposit. A copy of the map referred to in instruction 3 should, at the time of transmitting the memorial to the Board, be sent to the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries, St. James's Square, London, S.W.

6. Copies of the memorial must be forwarded to the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries and to the several local authorities (including the county council) having jurisdiction within the areas affected by the scheme, and a copy of the map referred to in instruction 3 should accompany the copy of the memorial which is sent to the county council.

7. A statutory declaration should, as soon as practicable, be furnished by the town clerk, that the requirements of instructions 5 and 6 have been complied with. The town clerk must also certify that he has personally verified by every means in his power and, if necessary, by inquiries at the Ordnance Survey Office, Privy Council Office, and elsewhere, the accuracy of the existing boundaries of the borough as shown on the map. The town clerk will be examined with reference to this matter by the inspector at any local inquiry which may be held in reference to the application. The certificate should enumerate the several local authorities to whom the notices mentioned in instruction 5 have been given.

8. An application to the Board in accordance with these instructions being an application within the scope of Standing Order 39 of each House of Parliament, the requirements of that Order (see extract appended) must be satisfied.

9. The Board should, immediately after the deposit required by the Standing Order has been made, be furnished with an affidavit (stamped with a half-crown impressed stamp, and sworn before a justice of the peace or a commissioner for oaths) for production to the examiners of Standing Orders in proof that the requirements of the Standing Order have been complied with. This affidavit must state definitely that the maps deposited at the Private Bill Office and at the office of the Clerk of the Parliaments respectively, in compliance with Standing Orders 39 above referred to, are in accordance with those Orders duplicates of those deposited with the Board.

10. The Board will require to be furnished with additional information in connection with representations such as those to which the foregoing instructions relate. The matters to which this information should extend are detailed in a separate series of supplemental instructions (Provisional Order Instructions C (A)).

Appendix II.

SUPPLEMENTAL INSTRUCTIONS AS TO REPRESENTATIONS BY TOWN COUNCILS TO THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD UNDER SECTION 54 OF THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACT, 1888, FOR THE ALTERATION OF BOROUGH BOUNDARIES.

In connection with any representation which may be made to the Board under section 54 (1) (a) of the Local Government Act, 1888, in favour of an alteration of the boundary of a borough, it is necessary that they should be furnished with carefully compiled statements giving the information hereinafter indicated :—

I. Area and Population.

(a) Of the borough according to the census of 1901 and of 1911 ; and
(b) Of the borough at the date of the memorial.

II. Rateable Value and Rates Levied.

Particulars as to the rateable value and assessable value of the borough in 1901, and at the date of the memorial, and information as to the amount in the £, purpose, and nature of each rate levied in the borough during each of the three financial years immediately preceding the date of the memorial.

III. Property.

Particulars as to the property belonging at the date of the memorial to the corporation acting by the council—

(a) As the municipal authority, or as an authority under any general or local Act for purposes other than sanitary purposes ; and
(b) As the urban authority or district council, or as an authority under any general or local Act for sanitary purposes.

In these statements moneys arising direct y from the levy of rates or moneys invested for, or applicable to, the discharge of loans need not be specified ; but the statements should give, in as concise a form as possible, information as to the description, situation, extent, value, income, authority for acquisition, and nature of tenure of the property.

IV. Debts.

Particulars as to the amount, purpose, date of borrowing, authority for borrowing, method of repayment, &c., of the several loans, wholly or in part outstanding at the date of the memorial and contracted by the corporation acting by the council—

(a) As the municipal authority, or as an authority under any general or local Act for purposes other than sanitary purposes ; and
(b) As the urban authority or district council, or as an authority under any general or local Act for sanitary purposes.

It should be stated whether any of the loans have been advanced by the Public Works Loan Commissioners, and any loan so advanced should be distinguished in the statement.

V. Burial Boards.

The statement under this head should specify whether the town council are a burial board, and, if so, under what authority, and whether their area of jurisdiction as such burial board is co-extensive and conterminous with the entire area of the borough.

If their area of jurisdiction as the burial board is not co-extensive and conterminous with the entire area of the borough, the precise contents and boundaries of such area of jurisdiction should be stated.

As regards any part of the borough which is not within the area of jurisdiction of the town council as a burial board, information should be supplied

Appendix II. as to whether such part is within the area of jurisdiction of any other burial board or of a joint committee acting under section 53 (2) of the Local Government Act, 1894. If so, the precise contents and boundaries of the area of jurisdiction of such last-mentioned burial board or joint committee and the contents and boundaries of such part should be stated. Where such burial board is a joint burial board, the names of the contributory boards should be mentioned.

Where the town council are not a burial board, and a burial board have jurisdiction in the borough, a statement as to the loans contracted by such burial board and remaining wholly or in part outstanding at the date of the memorial should be given.

VI. Education.

The statement under this head should show :—

(1) The name of the local education authority,

(a) for purposes of Part II. of the Education Act, 1902,

(b) ,, Part III. ,, and the date or dates on which the Act came into operation in the borough for such purposes.

(2) Details as to debt and any agreements, financial or otherwise, which may have been entered into by the authority. Copies of any such agreements should be forwarded.

The Board should also be furnished with a copy of the scheme for establishing an education committee under section 17 (1) of the Act, unless, in the case of a council having powers under Part II. only of the Act, it has been determined that such committee is unnecessary.

VII. Combinations and Agreements.

Copies of all agreements which may have been entered into by the town council as the urban authority or district council with any adjoining authority under such enactments as sections 28, 61, 131, and 285 of the Public Health Act, 1875, should be furnished, together with information as to what combinations (if any) have been effected under such enactments as sections 191 and 286 of the Public Health Act, 1875, and if any agreements have been entered into in accordance with provisions contained in local Acts, copies thereof, together with the local Acts under which they were made, should be forwarded to the Board.

VIII. Joint Boards and Port Sanitary Authorities.

The statement should show whether the borough is included in a united district for any sanitary purpose, and should give a reference to the Order or Act forming the united district.

The statement should also specify, in cases where the borough, or any part thereof, forms part of or abuts on any part of a port or the waters of such port, whether a port sanitary authority has been constituted for such port or any part thereof or for two or more ports including such port, and should give a reference to the Order constituting the port sanitary authority.

IX. Adoptive Acts.

The statement under this head should show whether the under-mentioned Acts (or any parts thereof) have been adopted in the borough :—

The Infectious Disease (Prevention) Act, 1890,
The Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890,
The Museums and Gymnasiums Act, 1891,
The Public Libraries Acts,
The Baths and Washhouses Acts,
The Private Street Works Act, 1892,
The Notification of Births Act, 1907.

X. Added Areas.

As regards each of the urban districts and contributory places or parts of such districts and places proposed to be included in the borough, the Board should be furnished with similar information to that indicated under the foregoing heads I. to IX.

The further information indicated below should also be furnished in every case in which it is proposed to include a rural parish or part of a rural parish in a borough :—

(a) What are the present arrangements as regards highways, and what arrangements are proposed ;

(b) Whether, in addition to the Acts cited under head IX., any of the following Acts have been adopted :—

The Lighting and Watching Act, 1833.
The Burial Acts, 1852 to 1885.
The Public Improvements Act, 1860.

In every case in which an Act has been adopted for part only of a parish the precise area and date of adoption, and the name of the authority for the execution of the Act should be specified.

XI. Previous Proposals for Extension.

The Board should be informed whether any unsuccessful applications have been previously made to Parliament or to the Board for the inclusion in the borough of the areas now sought to be annexed or any part of them, and, if so, they should be furnished with full particulars as to any such application, and, as regards any application made to Parliament, with a copy of the Bill embodying the proposal, together with a print of the minutes of evidence given before the committee to which the Bill was referred.

XII. Appendix.

An appendix of documents and miscellaneous information should also be forwarded with the memorial.

As examples of documents which should invariably be found in the appendix may be mentioned :—

A copy of each charter in force in the borough ;

A copy of each agreement between the local authorities to which reference is made in the statements under heads VI. and VII. ;

A copy of every local Act and of every Act confirming a Provisional Order in force in the borough and in any areas proposed to be added ;

A copy of the list of electoral divisions of the county, with the area and population of each division correctly inserted ;

A copy of each Order made by the county council or by a joint committee under the Local Government Act, 1894, affecting the areas proposed to be included in the borough ;

A list of the petty sessional divisions of the county, with a statement of the contents and boundaries of each such division which may comprise any area affected by the proposal ; .. ..

A similar list and statement of the coroner's districts ;

A copy of the last printed abstract of the borough treasurer's accounts ;

A statement showing, as regards all works in any area proposed to be added to the borough, the actual cost of, and the outstanding liability in respect of, each of such works ;

A statement showing the powers which have been conferred by Orders of the Board upon the town council, or upon the council of any urban district proposed to be affected, under section 33 of the Local Government Act, 1894, and a reference to such Orders ; and

A statement showing the powers which have been conferred by Orders of the Board or of the Secretary of State upon the town council, or upon the council of any district proposed to be affected, under section 2 (2) of the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1907, and a reference to such Orders.

Appendix II.

In any case in which the town council may consider it expedient to submit proposals for the alteration of any local Act in force in any area affected by the representation, a detailed statement of the amendments desired should be forwarded, together with a print of the local Act in question ; and in any case where, if the boundary of a borough be altered, it may be necessary or expedient to repeal or extend the provisions of any local Act which relate to rates, assessments or other pecuniary liabilities, or to exemptions from rates, assessments or other pecuniary liabilities, or to clauses for the protection of parties other than the town council, special attention should be directed to such provisions . . . and the mode in which it is proposed that they should be dealt with should be specified.

GAS AND WATER WORKS FACILITIES ACT, 1870, AND GAS AND WATER WORKS FACILITIES ACT, 1870, AMENDMENT ACT, 1873—GENERAL ORDER.

(September 7th, 1891.)

TO THE URBAN SANITARY AUTHORITIES for the Urban Sanitary Districts in England and Wales and to all others whom it may concern :

WHEREAS [here are recited in part sections 5, 6, and Schedule B., Part II., of the Act of 1870, section 14 of the Act of 1873, section 161 of the P. H. A., 1875, and previous Orders of October 26*th*, 1877, and November 1*st*, 1877].

And whereas it is expedient that further provision in the matter should be made as hereinafter mentioned :

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the above-cited provisions, and by virtue of the several other authorities enabling us in this behalf, we hereby rescind the said Orders dated respectively the twenty-sixth day of October, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven, and the first day of November, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven, and in lieu thereof we do hereby make the following regulations and rules :

1. The notice in writing and the notice by advertisement required to be given by sub-sections (1) and (2) of section 5 of the Gas and Water Works Facilities Act, 1870, must state that every company, corporation, or person referred to therein, or any other person desirous of bringing before the Local Government Board any objection respecting the application of the urban sanitary authority for a Provisional Order, may do so by letter addressed to the secretary of the said Board, to be lodged with the said Board on or before the fifteenth day of January next ensuing the making of such application, and that a copy of such objection must, at the same time, be sent to the clerk to such urban sanitary authority.

2. The map required to be deposited on or before the thirtieth day of November, by Schedule B., Part II., of the said Act, must be on a scale not less than six inches to the mile, and must show distinctly the situation of the land proposed to be used for the manufacture of gas, or of residual products arising in the manufacture of gas, in relation to the adjoining lands and premises and to the urban sanitary district generally. The plan and section of any proposed new works required to be deposited on or before the day aforesaid by the said part of the said schedule must be on a scale of not less than one inch to fifty feet, and must, as far as practicable, show the general arrangement, elevation, and character of the proposed works.

In any case where any part of the works would be situate on lands where the ordinary spring tide flows, the site of such lands must be coloured blue on the map and plan. A copy of such map and plan, coloured in like manner, and marked "tidal waters," shall be deposited at the Board of Trade on or before the date last aforesaid.

3. Where the application is for an extension of gas works, a map or plan of the existing gas works on a scale of not less than six inches to the mile must accompany the memorial to be deposited with the Local Government Board.

4.—(i.) The draft of the Provisional Order required to be deposited with the Local Government Board on or before the twenty-third day of December must be on foolscap paper, and printed or lithographed on one side only.

(ii.) The name of the urban sanitary authority, together with the name and address of the clerk to such authority, must be shown on the back of the last page of every such draft Provisional Order, which must contain a notice at the end of it, stating that any objections are to be sent to the Local Government Board in the manner aforesaid.

(iii.) Three copies of the draft Order must be deposited with the Local Government Board.

5. The urban sanitary authority must prove compliance with the provisions of—

(i.) The Gas and Water Works Facilities Act, 1870, section 5, sub-section (1);
(ii.) The Gas and Water Works Facilities Act, 1870, Schedule B., Part I., paragraphs (3) and (4);
(iii.) The Gas and Water Works Facilities Act, 1870, Schedule B., Part II., paragraph (2);
(iv.) The Gas and Water Works Facilities Act, 1870, Schedule B., Part III., paragraph (2);
(v.) This Order;

by an affidavit or statutory declaration to be made by the clerk or some other officer of the urban sanitary authority, and to be deposited with the Local Government Board on or before the first day of January next ensuing the making of the application.

Copies of the notices, together with copies of the newspapers and London Gazette containing the notice by advertisement, and the receipt of the clerk of the peace (if any) for the documents deposited with him, must be annexed to the affidavit or declaration as exhibits.

Such affidavit or declaration must also state that there is not any company or person authorised by or in pursuance of any Act of Parliament, or any Order confirmed by Parliament, to supply gas for public and private purposes, supplying gas within any part of the district of such urban sanitary authority, or within the part of the district which the urban sanitary authority propose to supply, as the case may be.

6. On or before the first day of January there must be deposited with the Local Government Board an affidavit, showing that the requirements of the Standing Orders of both Houses of Parliament have been complied with, as regards the deposit with the Clerk of the Parliaments and at the Private Bill Office of duplicates of every map, plan, section, and book of reference deposited with the Local Government Board, and as regards the deposit with the Board of Trade of the copy of the map and plan before referred to. The affidavit must be sworn by the clerk or some other officer of the urban sanitary authority and by the person by whom the deposits were made.

7. Any objection to an application by an urban sanitary authority for a Provisional Order as aforesaid must be lodged with the Local Government Board on or before the fifteenth day of January next ensuing the making of the application by the urban sanitary authority.

8. Every memorial, objection, and other such document deposited or lodged with the Local Government Board must be on foolscap paper.

9. When an objection is lodged with the Local Government Board, the objector or his agent must state that he has at the same time forwarded a copy of such objection to the urban sanitary authority.

10. When a Provisional Order has been issued by the Local Government Board the urban sanitary authority must, within fourteen days after the day on which the same shall have been sent to them by the Local Government Board, transmit to the said Board an affidavit or statutory declaration, made by the clerk or some other officer of the urban sanitary authority, proving that the Provisional Order was published on or before the twenty-fifth day of April, in conformity with paragraph 3 of Schedule D., Part IV., of the Gas and Water Works Facilities Act, 1870, and that paragraphs 1 and 2 of the said part of that schedule have been complied with.

The receipt of the clerk of the peace (if any) for the copies of the Provisional Appendix II. Order deposited with him, and copies of the Provisional Order and of the newspaper containing the advertisement of such Order, must be annexed to the affidavit or declaration as exhibits.

11. Every statutory declaration and affidavit under these regulations and rules must be made out or sworn before a justice of the peace or a commissioner for oaths, and must be duly stamped.

Given under the Seal of Office of the Local Government Board, this seventh day of September, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one.

REGULATIONS UNDER THE SHOPS ACTS.

(April 1st, 1912.)

In pursuance of the powers conferred on me by the Shops Act, 1912, I hereby make the following regulations :—

I.

Notice to be given by Occupier as to Assistants' Weekly Half-holiday (section 1 (2)).

1. The notice required to be affixed in a shop specifying the day or days on which the shop assistants employed therein are not employed after half-past one o'clock shall be in the form marked I. in the schedule to these regulations.

2. The notice shall be kept constantly affixed in a position where it may be readily seen and read by any person whom it affects, and shall be renewed whenever it becomes defaced or otherwise ceases to be clearly legible.

If the half-holiday is given on different days to the assistants employed in different rooms or departments of a shop, a separate notice shall be affixed in each such room or department.

3. The notice shall be affixed before the assistants to whom it relates cease work on the Saturday preceding the week during which it is to have effect.

Inquiries by Local Authorities as to Orders fixing the Day on which Shops are to be closed for the Weekly Half-holiday (section 4 (2)).

4. Before the local authority make an order fixing the day of the weekly half-holiday for any class of shops, they shall take the following steps for ascertaining whether the occupiers of a majority of that class of shops approve the order :—

(1) They shall cause a register of the shops of that class to be prepared in the manner hereinafter provided.

(2) They shall give notice of their intention to make the order and of the times and place at which the register may be inspected by any shopkeeper affected, in the form marked II. in the schedule to these regulations. The notice shall either be advertised in at least two newspapers circulating in the area to which the order is to apply, or be posted up in streets and public places in the area to which the order is to apply, in such positions and in such manner that it is likely to be seen and can easily be read by persons interested.

(3) They shall take a vote of the occupiers of the shops of that class in the manner hereinafter provided or, if the local authority have received an application in writing purporting to be signed by the occupiers of a majority of the shops of that class, they may in lieu of taking a vote take such steps as they think fit to verify the signatures to the application, and signatures so verified shall, unless reason appear to the contrary, be taken to mean that the occupiers whose signatures they purport to be approve the order.

Provided that if shops of any class are required under a closing order in force before the 1st May, 1912, to close on a certain day of the week (other than Saturday) at one o'clock in the afternoon, it shall not be necessary to take a vote of the occupiers of those shops in respect of a proposal to make an order fixing that day as the day of the weekly half-holiday, unless representations are made to the local authority by a substantial proportion of the occupiers in favour of another day being fixed.

Conditions for Mixed Shops remaining open on Weekly Half-holiday (section 10 (1)).

5. Where any trade or business exempted from the provisions of the Act as to closing on the weekly half-holiday is carried on in the same shop with any trade or business not so exempted, the shop shall only be kept open for the purpose of the exempted trade or business on the day fixed for the weekly half-holiday in respect of the trade or business not exempted, on the following conditions :—(a) after the hour of closing on the day of the weekly half-holiday, whether fixed by the occupier or by an order made by the local authority under the Act, there shall be exhibited in some conspicuous places on the exterior and in the interior of the shop notices in letters of the size of not less than two inches in accordance with the form marked IV. in the schedule to these regulations ; (b) so far as reasonably practicable no goods in connection with the trade or business not exempted shall be exhibited either inside or outside the shop.

II.

Notice of Intention to make Closing Order.

6. As soon as may be after the local authority are satisfied that a primâ facie case is made out for making a closing order they shall cause a register to be prepared in the manner hereinafter provided.

Appendix II.

7.—(1) Notice of the intention of the local authority to make a closing order shall be given in the form marked A in the schedule to these regulations, and unless a copy of the proposed order be annexed to it, it shall specify the area within which and the class or classes of shops to which the order will apply and the proposed days and hours of closing. The notice shall

(i.) be advertised at least twice in a newspaper or newspapers circulating in the area to which the order is to apply ;

(ii.) be posted up in streets and public places in the area to which the order is to apply, in such positions and in such manner that it is likely to be seen and can easily be read by persons interested ; and

(iii.) be given to any ratepayer in the area making reasonable application for it.

If the order applies to an area with a population of not more than 5,000, the local authority may, in lieu of advertising the notice in a newspaper or newspapers, cause a copy to be sent to the occupier of every shop known to be affected by the order.

(2) If anything in the order affects Post Office business, a copy of the notice shall be sent to the Postmaster-General.

8. The prescribed period within which objections may be made to the proposed order shall be four weeks.

Ascertaining Opinion of Occupiers of Shops.

9. If the local authority, after considering any objections or suggestions received by them in pursuance of the notice of their intention to make an order, desire to proceed with the order, they shall, for the purpose of ascertaining whether the occupiers of at least two-thirds in number of the shops to be affected by the order approve the order, either take a vote in the manner hereinafter provided or, if they have received an application in writing for the making of the order, purporting to be signed by the occupiers of at least two-thirds in number of the shops to be affected by the order, they may in lieu of taking a vote take such steps as they think fit to verify the signatures to the application, and signatures so verified shall, unless reason appear to the contrary, be taken to mean that the occupiers whose signatures they purport to be approve the order.

Notice, &c., when Order submitted to Secretary of State.

10. When the local authority have made a closing order, a notice, in the form marked C in the schedule to these regulations, shall be given in the manner above prescribed for the notice of intention to make an order.

11. In submitting the order to the Secretary of State, the local authority shall inform him as to the method adopted by them for ascertaining the opinion of the occupiers of shops, and as to any matters which they think it desirable to bring to his notice, and shall forward to him copies of any notices given by them under these regulations and other evidence that the regulations have been duly complied with, verified by a certificate signed by their clerk.

Local Enquiries.

12. When the Secretary of State directs a local enquiry to be held with regard to a closing order it shall be held at such place as the local authority, with the approval of the Secretary of State, may appoint, and at such time as may be fixed by the person appointed by the Secretary of State to hold the enquiry (hereinafter called "the commissioner").

13. Not less than three weeks before the time of holding the enquiry notice thereof and of the place where the enquiry will be held shall be given in the manner above prescribed for the notice of intention to make an order.

14. The enquiry shall be held in public, and any person who, in the opinion of the commissioner, is affected by the closing order, may appear and be heard either in person, or by counsel, solicitor, or agent.

15. The commissioner may give such directions as he thinks fit as to the order in which the objections to the order shall be considered; and, if any person who has not sent objections in writing to the Secretary of State claims to be heard at the enquiry, may require him to state his objections in writing.

16. The commissioner may adjourn the enquiry from time to time as he thinks desirable.

17. If the objections to the order made by more than one person appearing at the enquiry seem to the commissioner to be the same in substance, he may select any person whom he considers representative of the largest number of the persons affected by the order, to state such objections, and to call evidence (if required); provided that any other person making the same objections may be heard subsequently with the consent of the commissioner.

18. Subject to the foregoing rules, all the proceedings shall be conducted in such manner as the commissioner may direct.

III.—GENERAL.

Preparation of Register.

19.—(1) A register to be prepared in pursuance of these regulations shall show the addresses, trades, and names of the occupiers of all the shops to be affected by the order.

In the case of a shop in which several trades or businesses are carried on, the local authority may require the occupier to specify, in pursuance of subsection (3) of section 10 of the Act, which trade or business he considers to be his principal trade or business, and the local authority shall not insert the name of the occupier in the register in respect of any other trade or business carried on in the shop unless the occupier satisfies them that it forms a substantial part of the business carried on in the shop.

(2) Every occupier of a shop to be affected shall be entitled to attend within the times and at the place specified in the notices required to be given by these regulations for the purpose of securing that the entries in the register with regard to his shop are duly made.

(3) Any occupier of a shop to be affected may represent to the local authority any matter, in regard to the register, which seems to him to require to be rectified; and the local authority shall consider all such representations.

The Taking of a Vote.

20. If a local authority decide, or are required, to take a vote for the purpose of ascertaining the opinion of the occupiers of shops to be affected by an order fixing the day of the weekly half-holiday or by a closing order, they shall proceed as follows:—

(1)—(a) A notice, together with a voting paper, in the form marked III. or in the form marked B in the schedule to these regulations, as the case may be, shall be sent by post or otherwise delivered to every occupier appearing in the register, at his registered address.

(b) Voting papers shall be returned to the local authority either through the post or by a collector appointed in writing by them for the purpose, and carrying with him at the time of collection his written appointment, which he shall show to any occupier who shall require it to be shown.

(c) A voting paper shall be deemed to be duly signed if signed by the occupier with his full name or with the ordinary signature used for the purpose of his business: provided that, if any occupier is unable to write, he may, in the presence of some other person, who shall explain the effect of the voting paper, attach his mark thereto, and such mark shall be attested by such other person, who shall append his signature and address.

(d) The local authority shall cause the voting papers, as soon as may be after the last day fixed for their return, to be scrutinised and compared with the register, and the numbers respectively of the votes for and against the order to be ascertained.

Appendix II.

Other Provisions as to making of Orders.

21. The making of an order shall not be frustrated nor the order invalidated by reason merely of any failure in the delivery of a notice or a voting paper to any person or to the local authority or of any other informality in complying with these regulations.

22. When an order fixing the day of the weekly half-holiday is made by the local authority, or a closing order is confirmed by the Secretary of State, the local authority shall forthwith either cause to be advertised once in a newspaper, and to be posted up in streets and public places, in the area to which the order applies a notice giving the terms of the order as made or confirmed, or shall send such notice to the occupier of every shop affected by the order.

Revocation of Orders.

23. Before revoking an order fixing the day of the weekly half-holiday or applying to the Secretary of State to revoke a closing order, the local authority shall, for the purpose of ascertaining whether the occupiers of a majority of each of the several classes of shops affected by the revocation approve the revocation, follow, with the necessary modifications, the same procedure as is prescribed in the foregoing regulations in regard to the making of such orders.

24. When an order is revoked in whole or in part by a local authority or by the Secretary of State, as the case may be, the local authority shall forthwith either cause to be advertised once in a newspaper, and to be posted up in streets and public places, in the area to which the order applied a notice announcing such revocation or shall send such a notice to the occupier of every shop known to be affected by the revocation.

Certificate of Appointment of Inspector.

25. The certificate of appointment with which an inspector is required to be furnished shall be in the form marked V. in the schedule to these regulations.

ORDER.

In pursuance of the powers conferred on me by the Shops Acts, 1912 and 1913, I hereby make the following regulation :—

The notice required by section 1 (1) (d) of the Shops Act, 1913, to be affixed in premises for the sale of refreshments where the occupier elects that the provisions of the Act shall apply, shall be in the form in the schedule to this regulation.

R. MCKENNA,
One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

Home Office,
8th March, 1913.

SCHEDULE.

This notice must be affixed and constantly maintained in a conspicuous position in the premises.

SHOPS ACT, 1913.

I HEREBY GIVE NOTICE that I elect that instead of the provisions of section 1 of the Shops Act, 1912, in regard to the weekly half-holiday and meal times for shop assistants, the provisions of the Shops Act, 1913 (as set out below), shall apply to all assistants employed wholly or mainly in connection with the business of these premises of the sale of* and that I propose to carry out those provisions in the manner indicated below.

This notice can only be withdrawn at the end of a year from this date or at the end of any succeeding year.

Dated the day of , 19 .

Signature of occupier or manager ________

* Insert "intoxicating liquor" or "refreshments" or both as the case may be.

1. The following provisions apply to all persons wholly or mainly employed in any capacity on these premises in connection with the business here carried on of the sale of*

2. TOTAL HOURS OF WORK.—An assistant must not be employed for more than 65 hours in any week EXCLUSIVE of meal times.

3. MEAL TIMES.—Two hours must be allowed to each assistant for meals on ordinary days and three-quarters of an hour on half-holidays. No assistant may be employed on any day for more than six hours without being allowed an interval of at least half an hour.

4. WEEK-DAY HOLIDAYS.—Every assistant must be given 32 whole holidays on a week day in the year. Of these six are to be given consecutively on full pay as an annual holiday, and the remaining 26 must be so distributed that there shall be at least two holidays in each month. Except as regards the consecutive holiday, two half-holidays on week days may be allowed instead of any whole holiday. On any such half-holiday the assistant may not be employed for more than six hours including meal time, and he must cease work not later than 3 p.m.

5. SUNDAY HOLIDAYS.—Every assistant must be given 26 whole holidays on Sunday in the year, and at least one in every three consecutive Sundays must be a whole holiday.

FORM C.

ORDER UNDER SECTION 4 (2) FIXING THE DAY OF THE WEEKLY HALF-HOLIDAY FOR NON-EXEMPTED SHOPS.

The Council of in pursuance of the powers conferred upon them by the Shops Act, 1912, and after due compliance with its provisions, do hereby order as follows:—

1. This order, which may be cited as applies to all shops in the borough of [or the area of] in which the sale by retail of [or the retail trade or business of] is carried on.

Or, if the order is to apply to all non-exempted shops—

This order, which may be cited as applies to all shops in the borough of [or the area of] except shops which are exempted by the Act or by any order made in pursuance of the Act from the obligation to close for the weekly half-holiday.

2. All shops to which this order applies shall be closed for the weekly half-holiday on at 1 p.m. [throughout the year] (x).

Provided that any shopkeeper may substitute for on affixing a notice to that effect in his shop (y).

NOTE.—It is provided by section 4 (5) of the Act that if a shop is closed throughout the whole of a Bank Holiday and the Bank Holiday does not fall on the day fixed for the weekly half-holiday, the shopkeeper may keep his shop open either on the half-holiday before, or on the half-holiday after the Bank Holiday.

FORM D.

ORDER UNDER SECTION 4 (4) EXEMPTING (z) SHOPS OF A PARTICULAR CLASS FROM THE OBLIGATION TO CLOSE FOR THE WEEKLY HALF-HOLIDAY OF FIXING AN HOUR LATER THAN 1 P.M. FOR THE COMMENCEMENT OF THE HALF-HOLIDAY.

The Council of in pursuance of the powers conferred upon them by the Shops Act, 1912, and after due compliance with its provisions, do hereby order as follows:—

1. This order, which may be cited as applies to all shops in the borough of [or the area of] in which the sale by retail of [or the retail trade or business of] is carried on.

2. All shops to which this order applies are hereby exempted from the provisions of section 4 of the Act in regard to closing for the weekly half-holiday (a).

FORM E.

ORDER UNDER SECTION 4 (6) AND (2) (b) EXTENDING THE PROVISIONS OF SECTION 4 TO EXEMPTED SHOPS AND FIXING THE DAY OF THE WEEKLY HALF-HOLIDAY.

The Council of in pursuance of the powers conferred upon them by the Shops Act, 1912, and after due compliance with its provisions, do hereby order as follows:—

1. This order may be cited as

2. The provisions of section 4 of the Act are hereby extended to the sale by retail of (c) [or to such parts of the retail trade or business of as are exempted by section 4 (6) and the Second Schedule to the Act (d)].

(x) The Secretary of State is advised that a local authority have no power to insert in the order provisions exempting shopkeepers during any period of the year from the obligation to close for the half-holiday, but it is open to them to fix different days for the half-holiday for different periods of the year.

(y) A provision to this effect must be inserted in the order, but the Secretary of State is advised that the local authority may add conditions as to the manner in which the power of changing the day may be exercised, e.g., a condition may be inserted as to the time during which the notice shall be affixed in the shop before the change is to take effect.

(z) The Secretary of State is advised that the local authority have no power to make an order under this sub-section for part of the year only.

(a) If the exemption is to be limited to fixing a later hour than 1 p.m. for the commencement of the half-holiday, insert here "to the following extent, namely: the closing hour on the weekly half-holiday shall be ." The hour so fixed must not be later than 2 p.m.

(b) If it is proposed by the order to fix a later hour than 1 p.m. for the commencement of the half-holiday, sub-s. (4) should also be mentioned here.

(c) If this form of drafting the clause is adopted, the name of the exempted article should be here specified in accordance with terms of the Second Schedule.

(d) This form of drafting will be found convenient where it is desired to fix the day of the weekly half-holiday for the whole of a business, part only of which is exempted by the Act, e.g., the business of a chemist.

3. All shops in which the sale by retail of [or the retail trade or business of] is carried on shall be closed for the weekly half-holiday at 1 p.m. on [throughout the year] (e). Appendix II.

Provided that any shopkeeper may substitute for on affixing a notice to that effect in his shop (f).

NOTE.—It is provided by section 4 (5) of the Act that if a shop is closed throughout the whole of a Bank Holiday and the Bank Holiday does not fall on the day fixed for the weekly half-holiday, the shopkeeper may keep his shop open either on the half-holiday before, or on the half-holiday after the Bank Holiday.

FORM F.

ORDER UNDER SECTION 11 (1) SUSPENDING IN A HOLIDAY RESORT THE OBLIGATION TO CLOSE FOR THE WEEKLY HALF-HOLIDAY DURING A PERIOD OF THE YEAR.

The Council of in pursuance of the powers conferred upon them by the Shops Act, 1912, do hereby order as follows :—

The obligation to close for a half-holiday on one week day in each week is hereby suspended in respect of all shops (g) in the during the period[s] (h) from to .

NOTICE UNDER SECTION 2 (3) IN REGARD TO THE EMPLOYMENT OF YOUNG PERSONS UNDER 18 IN SHOPS.

SHOPS ACT, 1912—SECTION 2.

NOTICE AS TO EMPLOYMENT OF YOUNG PERSONS UNDER 18.

A YOUNG PERSON UNDER 18 MUST NOT BE EMPLOYED IN OR ABOUT * THIS SHOP FOR MORE THAN 74 HOURS, INCLUDING MEAL TIMES, IN ANY WEEK.

A young person under 18 must not be employed in this shop at all on any day on which he has already worked in a factory or workshop for the whole number of hours permitted by the Factory and Workshop Act.

On any day on which a young person under 18 is employed partly in this shop and partly in a factory or workshop the number of hours of work in the shop and in the factory or workshop together must not exceed the total number permitted by the Factory and Workshop Act.

The total number of hours permitted by the Factory and Workshop Act for a young person is 12 hours, including 1½ hours for meals, on an ordinary day, and 8 hours, including half an hour for a meal, on the weekly short day.

Meaning of "shop."—The above provisions apply to all shops in which any retail trade or business is carried on, including the business of a barber or hairdresser, the sale of refreshments or intoxicating liquors and retail sales by auction. † FORM OF AGREEMENT IN CASES WHERE A COUNTY COUNCIL DELEGATE THEIR POWERS TO MAKE ORDERS UNDER SECTIONS 4, 5 AND 11 OF THE ACT TO THE COUNCIL OF AN URBAN OR RURAL DISTRICT.

In pursuance of the powers conferred on them by section 13, sub-section 2, of the Shops Act, 1912, the County Council of and the District Council of hereby agree that the powers of making orders conferred by sections 4, 5 and 11 of the said Act,‡ hereinafter called the delegated powers, shall be exercised in the district by the district council as agents for the county council, on the following terms and subject to the following conditions :—

‡ Insert "and the power of giving certificates under the Second Schedule in respect of retail trade carried on at an exhibition or show" if it is desired to delegate this power as well.

1. The district council shall pay the whole of the expenses incurred in connection with the exercise by them of the delegated powers.

† Under the First Schedule to the Stamp Act, 1891, every agreement requires a stamp of the value of 10*s.*, and every counterpart a stamp of the value of 5*s.*

(e) See note (x) ante, p. 2522.

(f) See note (y) ante, p. 2522.

(g) The Secretary of State is advised that an order under s. 11 (1) must be a general order applying to all classes of shops, and cannot be made for particular classes of shops only. The order should accordingly be in all cases a separate order, and should not be combined with orders under s. 4.

(h) The period or periods must not exceed in the aggregate four months in any year.

Appendix II.

2. The district council shall make such reports to the county council as to the exercise by them of the delegated powers as the county council may from time to time require.

3. The district council shall on making any order in pursuance of any of the delegated powers forthwith send a copy of the order, certified to be a true copy by the clerk to the district council, to the county council, and shall on the revocation of any order forthwith inform the county council of such revocation.

4. The district council and its officers shall give the county council and its officers any assistance that may be necessary for the purpose of the enforcement by the county council and its officers of the provisions of the Act and of any orders made thereunder, and shall produce for inspection by the officers of the county council at all reasonable times the registers of shops prepared by the district council in pursuance of the regulations of the Secretary of State.

5. This agreement may be determined by either council on (three months) notice being given.

* † FORM OF AGREEMENT IN CASES WHERE A COUNTY COUNCIL DELEGATE ALL THEIR POWERS UNDER THE ACT TO THE COUNCIL OF AN URBAN OR RURAL DISTRICT.

In pursuance of the powers conferred on them by section 13, sub-section 2, of the Shops Act, 1912, the County Council of and the District Council of hereby agree that the powers of the county council under the said Act, hereinafter called the delegated powers, shall be exercised in the district by the district council as agents of the county council on the following terms and subject to the following conditions :—

1. The district council shall pay the whole of the expenses incurred in connection with the exercise by them of the delegated powers, but shall be entitled to receive from the county council a sum equal to the amount raised by the county council by rate within the area of the district council for the purposes of the Shops Act.

2. The district council shall appoint such number of inspectors to enforce the provisions of the Shops Act and of any orders in force in the district as the county council may think necessary, and the remuneration of the inspectors and the conditions of their appointment shall be subject to the approval of the county council.

3. The inspectors appointed as aforesaid shall also act as inspectors of the county council to enforce within the district the provisions of the Employment of Children Act, 1903, and of any bye-laws in force in the district under the Act, so far as they apply to children employed in or in connection with shops.

4. The district council shall make an annual report to the county council as to the exercise by them of the delegated powers and the enforcement of the said Acts, and of any orders or byelaws as aforesaid in force in the district, and shall also make such further reports as the county council may from time to time require.

5. This agreement may be determined by either council on (three months) notice being given.

SLAUGHTER-HOUSES.

THE HUMANE SLAUGHTERING OF ANIMALS—CIRCULAR.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD, WHITEHALL, S.W.,
20th March, 1908.

SIR,—I am directed by the Local Government Board to state that they have recently had under consideration the question of the slaughtering of animals in slaughter-houses in connection with the report (i) of the committee appointed by the Admiralty upon the subject of the humane slaughtering of animals, and they think it may be desirable to draw the attention of the council to the subject and especially to certain recommendations made by that committee as to methods of slaughter. Under the terms of the reference the investigations by the committee related to the following animals, viz., cattle, calves, sheep, lambs, and pigs.

The committee suggested the universal enforcement of the following regulations :—

"(a) All animals, without exception, must be stunned, or otherwise rendered unconscious, before blood is drawn :

(i) Parliamentary Paper [Cd. 2150], 1904.

(b) Animals awaiting slaughter must be so placed that they cannot see into the slaughter-house, and the doors of the latter must be kept closed whilst slaughtering is going on ;

(c) The drainage of the slaughter-house must be so arranged that no blood or other refuse can flow out within sight or smell of animals awaiting slaughter, and no such refuse shall be deposited in proximity to the waiting-pens ;

(d) If more animals than one are being slaughtered in one slaughter-house at the same time, they must not be within view of each other ;

(e) None but licensed men shall be employed in or about slaughter-houses."

Many urban district councils, and some rural district councils possessing the necessary powers have, under the provisions of the Public Health Act, 1875, made a byelaw for preventing cruelty in slaughter-houses. This byelaw is usually based on one of the Board's model byelaws, which provides :—

"Every occupier of a slaughter-house and every servant of such occupier and every other person employed upon the premises in the slaughtering of cattle shall, before proceeding to slaughter any bull, ox, cow, heifer, or steer, cause the head of such animal to be securely fastened so as to enable such animal to be felled with as little pain or suffering as practicable, and shall in the process of slaughtering any animal use such instruments and appliances and adopt such method of slaughtering and otherwise take such precautions as may be requisite to secure the infliction of as little pain or suffering as practicable."

Whilst this byelaw is intended to secure the humane slaughtering of animals it does not require "stunning in all cases" as recommended by the committee. The Board think that byelaws requiring animals to be stunned before slaughter may be made both under the first paragraph of section 169 of the Public Health Act, 1875, as regards slaughter-houses provided by a local authority, and under section 128 of the Towns Improvement Clauses Act, 1847, as incorporated by the second paragraph of that section, for the regulation of private slaughter-houses, and they are prepared to consider applications for the confirmation of such byelaws.

It must, however, be remembered that attempts at stunning, carelessly or unskilfully made, may be the means of inflicting, instead of avoiding, unnecessary pain, and hence the Board suggest that, before making a byelaw requiring the stunning of any animals other than horned cattle, the local authority should ascertain how far the butchers of the district are prepared to carry out the practice. In relation to this question the Board have been advised by the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries that they would see no objection to a byelaw requiring the stunning of pigs or calves, but that the stunning of sheep is a difficult operation, in the carrying out of which cruelty might easily occur. On the other hand the Admiralty Committee satisfied themselves that sheep can be stunned expeditiously and without difficulty, by striking them on the top of the head between the ears—not on the forehead—with a small club having a heavy head ; and they state that in Denmark, many parts of Germany, and Switzerland, the law requires that sheep shall always be stunned previous to being stuck. But while the practice of stunning sheep may be a proper one to adopt in public abattoirs, where it will be carried out by skilled slaughtermen, the Board doubt whether it is advisable to require its adoption in private establishments unless there is reasonable ground for believing that it will be properly performed.

In some cases it may be necessary to include in such a series of byelaws a provision allowing the Jewish method of slaughter. The Board have recently confirmed the following byelaw for the corporation of Liverpool :—

"No person shall proceed to slaughter any bull, ox, cow, heifer, calf, or pig, until the same shall have been effectually stunned.

"Provided that this requirement shall not be deemed to apply to any member of the Jewish faith, duly licensed by the chief Rabbi as a slaughterer, when engaged in the slaughtering of cattle intended for the food of Jews according to the Jewish method of slaughtering, if no unnecessary suffering is inflicted."

Appendix II.

In connection with the recommendations (b), (c) and (d), the committee observe :—

"The animals awaiting slaughter should be spared as far as possible from any contact with the sights or smells of the slaughter-house itself.

"There is no point which the committee have more carefully investigated than the question as to whether animals do or do not suffer fear from this contact, and the evidence of those best qualified to judge is so conflicting that no absolute verdict can be given. As an animal cannot speak it is impossible to accurately determine to what extent it does or does not suffer from fear, but there is no doubt that cattle, especially, frequently show great reluctance to enter the slaughter-chamber, and can only be dragged in by the employment of considerable force. The presumption is that what they chiefly object to is the smell of blood, but whether this can be proved or not, it is obviously undesirable from a purely business standpoint to run any risk, as it appears to be an established fact that the flesh of an animal, killed whilst in a state of fear or excitement, loses some of its palatable and marketable qualities.

"Apart from this, the question is of such vital importance from the standpoint of humanity that it seems clear that the animal should be given the full benefit of the doubt.

"With this object in view, the waiting-pens should be separated from the slaughter-chamber, and the latter should be shut off by sliding doors.

"It is also of great importance that the pitch of the floor, and the drainage of the slaughter-chamber, should be away from, and not run into, the waiting-pens, as is often the case at present. The common practice of depositing blood barrels, freshly removed hides, or refuse from the slaughter-house in close proximity to the waiting-pens should also be prohibited. . . . Cattle should, when possible, be slaughtered screened off from their fellows."

When public slaughter-houses have been provided by a local authority under the powers contained in section 169 of the Public Health Act, 1875, or similar powers in local Acts, the authority could probably in most cases give effect to the recommendations of the committee just referred to. The local authority have direct control over the structure and arrangement of the slaughter-house, and they have power to make byelaws with respect to the management of the slaughter-house.

In the case of private slaughter-houses there is more difficulty in providing for these matters under the limited powers of control which may be derived from section 128 of the Towns Improvement Clauses Act, 1847, as the Board do not think that it would be permissible to include in a byelaw framed for preventing cruelty, requirements directly affecting the structure of the premises. But if the local authority are of opinion that a clause or clauses on the subjects dealt with in paragraphs (b), (c) and (d), can be enforced without infringing this principle, the Board would be willing to consider any proposal laid before them. They may say that they have in some recent cases allowed a byelaw prohibiting an occupier of a slaughter-house from causing or allowing any animal to be slaughtered, or its carcase to be dressed after slaughter, within the view of any other animal.

With respect to the recommendation (e), the Board may state that there is no power in the general law enabling a local authority to license slaughterers and to prohibit any person who has not a licence from slaughtering. The object of recommendation (e) cannot therefore be directly attained at the present time, but local authorities may be able to some extent to secure employment of properly qualified slaughterers, especially where they have the management of public slaughter-houses.

In a rural district, sections 169 and 170 of the Public Health Act, 1875, and the amending provisions of the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890, are not in operation unless they have been put in force by an Order of the Board.

The Board do not regard the first paragraph of section 169 of the Public Health Act, 1875, which enables an authority to provide slaughter-houses, as generally suitable to a rural district. They are, however, willing to confer on a rural district council the powers contained in the rest of the section in respect of any parishes in which slaughter-houses have been or are likely to be established.

The Board would recommend the council to obtain a copy of the report of the committee if they have not already done so. The council may have the opportunity, through their officers or otherwise, of bringing the recommendations of the committee under the notice of persons engaged in the slaughtering of animals, with the result probably of improved methods of slaughter being adopted in premises where, at present, objectionable practices are in operation.

S. B. PROVIS, Secretary.

SMALL HOLDINGS AND ALLOTMENTS.

ALLOTMENTS ACTS, 1887 TO 1907.—BOARD OF AGRICULTURE AND FISHERIES.

MODEL REGULATIONS FOR THE COUNCILS OF BOROUGHS AND URBAN DISTRICTS (m) AS TO ALLOTMENTS.

REGULATIONS made by the (n) with respect to allotments for the (o) .

Interpretation of Terms.

1. Throughout these regulations the expression "the council" means the (n) and includes any allotment managers appointed by the council under the Allotment Acts, 1887 to 1907.

Definition of the persons eligible to be tenants of the Allotments.

2. Any man or woman who at the time of application to the council for an allotment has been resident in the (p) for not less than months, and belongs to the labouring population, shall be eligible to become a tenant of an allotment, subject to the statutory provision that one person shall not hold allotments acquired under the above mentioned Acts exceeding five acres.

Division of the land into Allotments.

3. The council, before giving notice of their intention to let any land for allotments shall divide the land, and shall cause a plan to be prepared showing each allotment, and distinguishing it by a separate number. They shall enter each allotment under its number in the register required to be kept under section 15 of the Allotments Act, 1877.

(m) A practically similar form has been prepared for use by parish councils.
(n) Insert "mayor, aldermen and burgesses of the borough of acting by the council," or "urban district council of ."
(o) Insert "said borough," or "said urban district."
(p) Insert "borough," or "district."

Appendix II.

Notices to be given for the letting of the Allotments.

4. The council shall give public notice of bills or placards, posted in some conspicuous places in the (q) or otherwise exhibited therein, setting forth the particulars as to any allotments which they propose to let.

Such notice shall specify the allotment to be let and the size thereof, the rent to be paid for the same, the name and address of the clerk to the council to whom applications for hiring of an allotment or for forms of application are to be sent, and the last day for receiving an application for an allotment.

If any special condition is to apply to the allotments, or any of them, the notice shall specify such condition, or state where copies of the Form of Agreement for letting for such allotments may be seen.

If the tenant is to pay for tenant right or compensation for improvements this fact and the amount if then ascertained shall be stated in the notice.

Regulations as to the letting of the Allotments, and for preventing any undue preference in the letting thereof.

5. The council shall not let any allotment unless and until notice that they propose to let the same has been duly given in pursuance of the regulation in that behalf at least (two) weeks before the last day for receiving an application for such allotment.

Every application for an allotment shall be in the form appended to these regulations, and shall be sent or delivered to the clerk to the council.

In letting an allotment for which there are two or more applicants eligible to become tenants and likely to keep the allotment in a proper state of cultivation, preference shall be given to an applicant who does not hold an allotment or agricultural land (other than a garden of 20 poles or less attached to his residence) either from the council or otherwise over an applicant who does hold such land, but subject to such preference the tenant shall be determined by the drawing of lots by the council. A quitting tenant of land shall for the purposes of this regulation be treated as not holding that land.

Agreements for letting Allotments.

6. When the council have decided to let an allotment to an applicant, an agreement shall be signed by the clerk to the council on behalf of the council, and by the applicant. The agreement shall be in the form appended to these regulations, or to the like effect, unless the council and the applicant agree to vary the form.

General Conditions under which the Allotments are to be cultivated.

7. The tenant of an allotment shall comply with the following conditions :—

(1) He shall keep the allotment free from weeds, and well manured, and otherwise maintain it in a proper state of cultivation.

(2) He shall not cause any nuisance or annoyance to the occupier of any other allotment, or obstruct any path set out by the council for the use of the occupiers of the allotments.

(3) He shall not underlet, assign, or part with the possession of the allotment or any part of it.

(4) He shall not, without the written consent of the council, cut or prune any timber or other trees, or take, sell, or carry away any mineral, gravel, sand, or clay.

Special Conditions applicable only when notice of their application to particular Allotments has been given in accordance with these Regulations.

8. The tenant of an allotment shall comply with any of the following conditions, of which notice of their application to the allotment has been given, in accordance with these regulations :—

(1) He shall keep every hedge that forms part of the allotment properly cut and trimmed, keep all ditches properly cleansed, and shall maintain and keep in repair any other fences and any gates on the allotment.

(q) See note (p), ante, p. 2529.

Appendix II.

(2) He shall not, without the written consent of the council, erect on the allotment any building except [Here insert, toolhouse, greenhouse, fowlhouse, pigsty, or such other building as, in the opinion of the council, should be permitted to be erected by the tenant].

(3) He shall not, without the written consent of the council, plant in the allotment any fruit trees or bushes, strawberry plants, asparagus, rhubarb or other market garden crops which continue productive for two or more years. [This Regulation shall only be applied where the land has been hired by the council.]

(4) He shall not, without the written consent of the council, break up any pasture.

(5) He shall not use barbed wire for a fence adjoining any path set out by the council for the use of occupiers of the allotments.

(6) He shall, as regards the allotment, observe and perform all conditions and covenants contained in the lease under which the council hold the land.

(7) He shall observe and perform any other special condition which the council consider necessary to preserve the allotment from deterioration, and of which notice to applicants for the allotment is given in accordance with these regulations.

Notice of determination of a tenancy to be given to Tenants of Allotments.

9. The council shall give to the tenant of any allotment not less than months' notice of the determination of his tenancy, such notice to take effect on (the 25th day of March or the 29th day of September) ; provided always that this regulation shall not apply in the case of the determination of a tenancy in pursuance of section 8 of the Allotments Act, 1887.

Examination of the Register of Allotments by Ratepayers.

10. The register required to be kept under section 15 of the Allotments Act, 1887, showing the particulars of the tenancy, acreage, and rent of every allotment let, and of the unlet allotments, shall be deposited at the office of the clerk to the council, and shall be open at all reasonable hours to the examination of any ratepayer in the (r) .

Exemption of certain lettings from these Regulations.

11. These regulations shall not apply to any land let to an association, or to any allotment let before the date of the confirmation of these regulations, or to any allotment which the council, under special circumstances to be recorded in their minutes, may exempt from these regulations.

FORM OF APPLICATION FOR ALLOTMENTS.

To the Clerk to the (s)

SMALL HOLDINGS AND ALLOTMENTS (COMPULSORY HIRING) REGULATIONS, 1908.

(Dated 24th March, 1908.)

The Board of Agriculture and Fisheries, in pursuance of the provisions of the Small Holdings and Allotments Act, 1907, do hereby make the following regulations :—

PART I.

PROCEDURE FOR OBTAINING ORDER FOR COMPULSORY HIRING.

1.—(1) A compulsory order submitted by a council to the Board shall be in the form set forth in the appendix to these regulations or to the like effect ; provided that any order so submitted may be modified by the Board after notice of the intended modification to the council and to those persons interested in the land who, in the opinion of the Board, would be affected thereby, and after consideration of any objection thereto presented to the Board within the time prescribed by such notice. Appendix II.

(t) See note (s), ante, p. 2531.

2.—(1) When a council proposes to hire land compulsorily under the Act of 1907 the council, not less than one calendar month before they submit the compulsory order to the Board, shall publish the order by means of a notice containing such particulars as are prescribed by this regulation, inserted as an advertisement in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality, and by furnishing a copy of the order (except any plan annexed to or referred to in the order) free of charge to any person interested in the land who shall apply for the same. The council shall also give notice of the order, containing such particulars as are required by this regulation, to the Board and to each owner, lessee, and occupier of the land proposed to be hired, or to such of them as shall be known to the council.

(2) Every notice under this regulation shall contain the following particulars :—

(a) The purpose for which the land is proposed to be hired ;

(b) the quantity, description, and situation of the land and the names of the reputed owners, lessees, and occupiers thereof ;

(c) the number of years for which the land is proposed to be hired ;

(d) the place where copies of the order (except any plan annexed to or referred to in the order) may be obtained free of charge by any person interested in the land ;

(e) the place where the plan (if any) annexed to or referred to in the order may at all reasonable times until the order is submitted to the Board be inspected by or on behalf of any person interested in the land.

(3) Every notice shall also state that any objection must be presented to the Board, and every notice sent to an owner, lessee, or occupier shall state the period within which an objection may be so presented in accordance with these regulations. A notice may also state that a copy of every objection should be sent to the clerk to the council.

(4) If the council is a county council acting on behalf of a parish council or parish meeting the notice shall so state and give the name of the parish.

3. The period within which an objection to a compulsory order may be presented to the Board by a person interested in the land to which the order relates shall be the period of one calendar month from and after the date on which notice of the order is sent to him, or if no notice is sent to him, in that case from and after the date of the latest advertisement of a notice of the order.

4.—(1) Notice of the confirmation of the order shall be given by the council as soon as practicable to each owner, lessee, and occupier of the land authorised to be hired, and a copy of the order, and of any plan annexed to or referred to in the order shall be furnished by the council to any person interested in the land on application by such person and payment by him of the reasonable cost of preparing such copy.

(2) Upon the application of any person interested in the land authorised to be hired, or in the interest of an existing tenant which will or may be extinguished by the compulsory hiring, the order shall be so framed as to make such provision as is necessary for securing the interest of any party other than the owner or existing tenant in any compensation payable in respect of the compulsory hiring, and for that purpose there may be incorporated in the order, with such adaptations as are required, any of the provisions of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, which relate to compensation coming to parties having limited interests.

PART II.

PROCEDURE FOR ENFORCING COMPULSORY HIRING ORDER.

5.—(1) When the council require to hire compulsorily any land authorised to be hired by a compulsory order, they shall give notice to that effect to the owner of such land, and to any existing tenant thereof, or to such of the said parties as shall, after diligent inquiry, be known to the council, and by such notice shall demand from such parties the particulars of their estate and

Appendix II. interest in such land, in so far as such particulars are required in order to ascertain the owner thereof and the interest of the existing tenants (if any); and every such notice shall state the particulars of the land required to be hired, and the term for which the council are authorised to hire the same, and that the council are willing to treat for the hiring thereof. The council shall in every such notice state a date consistent with the terms of the order on which they require that the tenancy of the council shall commence; and such date shall not be earlier than six calendar months after the date on which the notice is given.

(2) Where the owner is a tenant the council shall also give notice to the person in receipt of the rent reserved under the lease under which the owner holds as tenant that they require to hire compulsorily the lands specified in such notice.

6. On receipt of the particulars of the interest of an existing tenant, the council shall within twenty-one days give notice to the tenant, stating whether the council desire to extinguish the interest of such tenant or to hire the land subject to such interest. Any interest of an existing tenant which is extinguished under the powers conferred by a compulsory order shall be extinguished upon, and by reason of, the commencement of the tenancy of the council.

7.—(1) An existing tenant whose interest in the land is extinguished upon, and by reason of, the commencement of the tenancy of the council shall be entitled to recover from the council compensation for the value of his interest in the land and for any just allowance which ought to be made to him by an incoming tenant for any loss or injury which the existing tenant may sustain.

(2) If any person claim compensation in respect of any unexpired term or interest under any lease of lands by the order authorised to be hired, the council may require such person to produce the lease in respect of which such claim is made, or sufficient evidence thereof, and if, after demand made in writing by the council, such lease, or such evidence thereof, be not produced within twenty-one days, the party so claiming compensation shall be considered as a tenant holding only from year to year, and be entitled to compensation accordingly.

8. If the owner of land authorised by a compulsory order to be hired is unable, except under powers conferred by these regulations, to lease the land for the term and on the conditions for and on which the council are so authorised to hire the land, the rent to be paid by the council shall be determined by a valuer appointed by the Board.

9. If an existing tenant is unable, except under powers conferred by these regulations, to dispose of the interest created by the lease under which he holds and to give an absolute discharge for the compensation for such interest, the amount payable by the council to the existing tenant or any person claiming through him in respect of such interest or in respect of improvements executed on the land or otherwise, and, where part only of the holding is hired, the rent to be paid for the residue of the holding during the remainder of the term for which the holding is held, shall be determined, as in default of agreement, in manner provided by paragraph 3 of Part II. of the First Schedule to the Act of 1907.

10. If the council cannot after diligent inquiry ascertain the owner or existing tenant, or if for twenty-one days after the giving of such notice to treat to the owner or existing tenant as is required by these regulations he fail to state the particulars demanded by the notice, or fail to treat with the council in respect of his interest, or if the owner or the existing tenant do not agree with the council as to any matter which under paragraph 3 of Part II. of the First Schedule to the Act of 1907 is in default of such agreement to be determined by a valuer appointed by the Board, the council may apply to the Board for the appointment of a valuer, who shall determine the matters referred to in the said paragraph, or such of them as shall not have been determined by agreement.

11. If the land authorised to be compulsorily hired is held by the owner subject to any reservation or exception or easement from which the council require that the land when leased to the council shall be exonerated during the existence of the lease, any person injuriously affected by the exoneration of the land from such reservation or exception or by the extinguishment of the easement effected by the lease to the council shall be entitled to recover compensation for the injury from the council, and the amount of the compensation shall in default of agreement between such person and the council be determined by a valuer appointed by the Board.

12. In determining the rent to be paid by the council for land authorised to be compulsorily hired, the interest of any existing tenant and the existence of any reservation or exception or easement affecting the land shall be taken into consideration, and the land shall be valued as subject to such interest, reservation, exception, or easement.

13.—(1) In determining the rent to be paid for land authorised to be compulsorily hired, regard shall be had by the valuer not only to the value of the land to be hired, but also to the damage (if any) to be sustained by the owner of the land by reason of its severance from other land of such owner, or by reason of such other land being otherwise injuriously affected by the exercise of the powers conferred on the council by the compulsory order, or by the Small Holdings Acts, 1892 and 1907, or the Allotments Acts, 1887 to 1907, as the case may be.

(2) Every existing tenant shall be entitled to receive from the council compensation for the damage done to him in his tenancy by reason of the severance of the land to be hired from land which is held by such tenant and is not required to be hired.

14.—(1) If the land authorised to be compulsorily hired is land of copyhold or customary tenure which cannot be leased by the owner for such a lease as is authorised by the compulsory order except with a licence of the lord of the manor of which the land is held, and the owner shall not obtain such licence before the execution of the lease, this shall be taken into consideration in determining the rent payable by the council, and the lord of the manor shall be entitled to recover compensation from the council for any loss sustained by reason of the lease being under these regulations made valid and effectual without a licence, and the amount of the compensation shall in default of agreement between the lord and the council be determined by a valuer appointed by the Board.

(2) Every such lease shall be entered on the rolls of the manor in every case in which by the custom of the manor such a lease granted with the licence of the lord is required to be so entered; and the steward of the manor shall cause such lease to be so entered, and shall give to the council a certificate of such entry on payment to such steward of the accustomed fees, or, if there be no accustomed fees, on payment of such sum as may in default of agreement be adjudged by a court of summary jurisdiction, on the application of such steward or the council, to be payable in respect of such entry.

15.—(1) As soon as the amount of the rent to be paid by the council for the land proposed to be compulsorily hired, and the amount of any other compensation to be paid by the council to any person entitled thereto in respect of the land or any interest therein, or in respect of improvements executed on the land or otherwise, have been determined, so far as the same can be determined before the tenancy of the council commences, the owner shall on the application of the council execute a lease of the land in accordance with the order, subject only to the interest of any existing tenant which the council have given notice that they do not desire to extinguish, and to any reservation, exception, or easement subject to which the land is to be hired, and if the owner refuses or after notice in writing by the council fails within one month to execute the lease, or if the owner of the land cannot after diligent inquiry be ascertained by the council, the council shall execute the lease in duplicate, and shall forward one copy to the owner, if he can be found, and a lease so executed shall take effect as if it had been duly executed by the owner.

(2) A lease executed by the owner, or by the council under this regulation, shall be binding on and enure for the benefit of all persons interested in the land hired, and shall not cause any forfeiture of the land, or of any land held therewith, or create any right of entry on any such land, or any right of action for breach of a covenant not to assign, or like covenant.

16. The lease to the council shall, when executed in accordance with these regulations, and subject as hereinafter provided, take effect as from the date specified by the council in the notice to treat given by the council to the owner

Appendix II. of the land, and in such case the council shall on the date so specified be entitled to enter on the land, subject to the interest of any existing tenant which is not to be extinguished by the hiring;

Provided that this regulation is subject to the power of the council under sub-section (8) of section 26 of the Act of 1907 to withdraw such notice to treat.

17.—(1) Costs reasonably incurred by the owner in connection with the preparation and execution of the lease and any counterpart and costs reasonably incurred by the owner or an existing tenant in furnishing any particulars of his estate and interest required by notice under these regulations, or otherwise required by the council, shall be paid by the council to the owner or tenant as the case may be.

(2) If the council and the party entitled to any such costs do not agree as to the amount thereof, such costs shall be taxed by one of the Taxing Masters of the High Court, upon an order of the court to be obtained upon petition in a summary way by either of the parties; and the council shall pay what the said Master shall certify to be due in respect of such costs to the party entitled thereto, or in default thereof the same may be recovered in the same way as any other costs payable under an order of the Court, and the expense of taxing such costs shall be borne by the council unless upon such taxation one-sixth part of the amount of such costs be disallowed, in which case the costs of such taxation shall be borne by the party whose costs shall be so taxed, and the amount thereof shall be ascertained by the said Master, and deducted by him accordingly in his certificate of such taxation.

18. If in any case the council are authorised by a compulsory order and these regulations to enter upon and hold any land authorised to be compulsorily hired, and the owner or occupier of any such lands or any other person refuses to give up the possession thereof, or hinders the council from entering upon the same, a court of summary jurisdiction, on complaint made by the council, may require the owner or occupier of such land or other person to deliver possession of the same to the council or permit them to enter thereon; and any order made under these provisions may be enforced as provided by section 34 of the Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1879.

19. A valuer may be appointed by the Board for the purpose of determining all matters required by the Act of 1907 to be determined by a valuer on the application of the council or the owner, or any existing tenant whose interest is to be extinguished by the hiring.

20. The valuer shall within one month after his appointment, or within such extended time as the Board shall allow, make and sign a valuation of all matters referred to him for valuation which are in his opinion capable of being ascertained at the date of the valuation, and shall within one month after the commencement of the tenancy of the council, or within such extended time as the Board shall allow, make and sign a valuation of all matters referred to him for valuation which are not determined by the previous valuation.

21. If a valuer refuses to act or becomes incapable of acting or dies before completing the valuation of all matters referred to him for valuation, the Board may appoint another valuer to determine all matters which have not been duly determined by a valuation made and signed by the previous valuer.

22. Every valuation made by a valuer shall be duly stamped by him and sent as soon as possible to the council, and a copy shall at the same time be sent to the owner and any existing tenant affected by the valuation.

23.—(1) Before a valuer enters on his valuation he shall in the presence of a justice of the peace make and subscribe the declaration following (that is to say):—

"In the matter of the compulsory hiring by the Council of of land at .

"I, A. B., do solemnly and sincerely declare that I will faithfully, impartially, and honestly, according to the best of my skill and ability, execute the duty of making the valuation referred to me.

"Made and subscribed in the presence of ."

(2) If any valuer shall corruptly make such declaration, or having made such declaration shall wilfully act contrary thereto, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanour.

Appendix II.

(3) The declaration shall be annexed to the valuation, and be preserved with the valuation by the council, who shall at all times produce the valuation and declaration on demand to the owner of the lands comprised in the valuation or to any other party interested therein.

24.—(1) Any compensation, other than rent, payable by the council in respect of the compulsory hiring, including any compensation payable in respect of the interest of an existing tenant which is extinguished by such hiring, shall be payable by the council in manner provided by these regulations on the execution of the lease, or if payable in respect of any matter not then determined, on the date when it is duly determined.

(2) Subject to any provision in the compulsory order and these regulations, compensation so payable by the council shall be paid on demand to the owner, or the existing tenant, as the case may be.

25. Subject to any provision in the compulsory order relating to mines and minerals, there shall, unless the owner and the council otherwise agree, be excepted and reserved out of the lease all the mines and minerals, metals, ores, and other substrata, whether of coal, stone, clay, sand, or any other metalliferous or mineral substance or produce whatsoever, whether opened or unopened, worked or unworked, within or under the hired land (all which are hereinafter collectively referred to as "the said mines and minerals"); with full liberty and power for the persons entitled to the said mines and minerals at all times during the lease by underground workings only to win, work, and carry away the whole of the said mines and minerals, and also to carry away the produce of any other mines; nevertheless making reasonable compensation for any damage or subsidence which may be occasioned to any building on the land hired by reason of such working and carrying away of the said mines and minerals as aforesaid or the exercise of the powers to be reserved as aforesaid, such compensation to be settled in case of dispute by a single arbitrator in accordance with the Agricultural Holdings (England) Acts, 1883 to 1906.

26. Except as in these regulations expressly provided, a valuer shall not require any person interested in a valuation to produce to him, or give him access to, any document of title.

PART III.

GENERAL.

27.—(1) Every notice required to be given by the council to an owner, existing tenant, or other person interested in land proposed or authorised to be hired, shall either be served personally on such person or sent by post to or left at his usual place of abode in the United Kingdom, if any such can after diligent inquiry be found, and in case any such person shall be absent from the United Kingdom, or cannot be found after diligent inquiry, shall be sent by post to or left with any agent ordinarily receiving the rents of the land on behalf of such person, and a copy thereof shall also be sent by post to or left with the occupier of the land to which such notice relates, or, if there be no such occupier, shall be affixed upon some conspicuous part of such land.

(2) If an owner, existing tenant, or other person interested be a corporation aggregate such notice shall be sent by post to or left at the principal office of business of such corporation, or, if no such office can after diligent inquiry be found shall be sent by post to or served on some principal officer, if any, of such corporation, and such notice shall also be sent by post to or left with the occupier of the land to which it relates, or if there be no such occupier, shall be affixed upon some conspicuous part of such land.

28. In these regulations, unless the context otherwise requires—

"Act of 1907" means the Small Holdings and Allotments Act, 1907;

"Board" means the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries;

"Owner" in relation to any land proposed or authorised to be hired means the person who by himself or his agent is in actual possession, or receipt of the rents and profits of the land (except a tenant thereof under a lease for a term no greater than the term for which the land is proposed or authorised to be hired), and that without regard to the real amount of interest of such person;

Appendix II.

"Existing tenant" in relation to any land proposed or authorised to be hired means a tenant thereof under a lease for a term no greater than the term for which the land is proposed or authorised to be hired;

"Lease" includes an agreement for a lease;

"Compulsory order" means an order under the Act of 1907 which authorises land to be compulsorily hired;

"Land" includes stints and other alienable common rights of grazing.

29. A compulsory order shall incorporate these regulations, but shall not, unless therein otherwise expressly stated, incorporate any of the provisions of the Lands Clauses Acts or of sections 77 to 85 of the Railways Clauses Act, 1845, except so far as such provisions have been incorporated with adaptations in these Regulations.

30. These regulations shall apply to a compulsory hiring by the Small Holdings Commissioners acting in default of a county council, with the substitution of those Commissioners for the council, and with the substitution of the Lord Chief Justice of England for the Board as regards any appointment of an arbitrator or valuer.

31. The compulsory order and these regulations shall not extend and apply to Any land belonging to His Majesty the King, his heirs and successors in the right of Crown, or in right of the Duchy of Lancaster; nor to Any land belonging to the Duchy of Cornwall; nor to Any land subject to rights of common.

In witness whereof the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries have hereunto affixed their official seal this twenty-fourth day of March, nineteen hundred and eight.

APPENDIX.

FORM OF ORDER FOR COMPULSORY HIRING.

1. The (x) are hereby empowered to put in force as respects the land described in the draft lease set forth in the schedule hereto the powers of compulsory hiring conferred by the (y) , subject to the provisions of those Acts, and to the Regulations, 1907, and to the terms of this order.

2. The tenancy of the council shall commence either on the [twenty-fifth day of March] or the [twenty-ninth day of September] (z).

3. [Where the land is glebe land or other land belonging to an ecclesiastical benefice insert the following paragraph.] Any sum payable by way of compensation for the damage to be sustained by the owner by reason of severance or other injury affecting the land shall not be paid as directed by the Lands Clauses Acts, but shall be paid to the Ecclesiastical Commissioners to be applied by them as money paid to them upon a sale under the Ecclesiastical Leasing Acts of land belonging to a benefice.

4. The powers conferred by this order shall cease after the expiration of one year from the date of the confirmation of this order by the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries, unless such period is extended by that Board.

SCHEDULE TO FORM OF ORDER FOR COMPULSORY HIRING.

This schedule shall contain a draft of the lease under which it is proposed that the land shall be authorised to be acquired by the council, setting out all the proposed terms and conditions except the date of the commencement of the tenancy and the rent.

The lease shall contain covenants by the council to cultivate the land in a proper manner and to pay to the landlord at the determination of the tenancy, on the council quitting the land, compensation for any depreciation of the land by reason of any failure by the council, or any person deriving title under them, to observe such covenants, or by reason of any user of the land by the council or such person as aforesaid, and, unless otherwise agreed, a covenant by the council to keep the buildings and premises demised in repair.

(x) Insert "County Council of ," or "County Council of acting on behalf of the Parish Council" [or "Meeting"] or "Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Borough of ," or " District Council."

(y) Insert "Small Holdings Acts, 1892 and 1907," or "Allotments Acts, 1887 to 1907."

(z) The dates shall be those usually adopted in the locality for the commencement of agricultural tenancies.

The lease shall not authorise the breaking up of pasture unless the council are prepared to prove to the satisfaction of the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries that it can be so broken up without depreciating the value of the land, or that the circumstances are such that small holdings cannot otherwise be successfully cultivated. Appendix II.

The lease shall also provide that, except with the consent of the landlord, the council shall not fell or cut timber or trees, or take, sell, or carry away any minerals, gravel, sand, or clay, except so far as may be necessary or convenient for the purpose of erecting buildings on the land or otherwise adapting the land for small holdings [allotments], and except upon payment of compensation for minerals, gravel, sand, or clay so used.

The lease shall also provide that any question as to the amount of compensation payable by the council under the lease shall be determined by a single arbitrator in accordance with the Agricultural Holdings (England) Acts, 1883 to 1906.

SMALL HOLDINGS AND ALLOTMENTS (COMPULSORY PURCHASE) REGULATIONS, 1908.

(Dated 24th March, 1908.)

The Board of Agriculture and Fisheries in pursuance of the provisions of the Small Holdings and Allotments Act, 1907, do hereby make the following regulations :—

PROCEDURE FOR OBTAINING ORDER FOR COMPULSORY PURCHASE.

1.—(1) A compulsory order submitted by a council to the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries (in these regulations referred to as "the Board") shall be in the form set forth in the appendix to these regulations or to the like effect; provided that any order so submitted may be modified by the Board after notice of the intended modification to the council and to those persons interested in the land who, in the opinion of the Board, would be affected thereby, and after consideration of any objection thereto presented to the Board within the time prescribed by such notice.

2.—(1) When a council propose to purchase land compulsorily under the Small Holdings and Allotments Act, 1907, the council, not less than one calendar month before they submit the compulsory order to the Board, shall publish the order by means of a notice, containing such particulars as are prescribed by this regulation, inserted as an advertisement in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality, and by furnishing a copy of the order (except any plan annexed to or referred to in the order) free of charge to any person interested in the land who shall apply for the same. The council shall also give notice of the order, containing such particulars as are required by this regulation, to the Board and to each owner, lessee, and occupier of the land proposed to be purchased, or to such of them as shall be known to the council.

(2) Every notice under this regulation shall contain the following particulars :—

(a) the purpose for which the land is proposed to be purchased;
(b) the quantity, description, and situation of the land and the names of the reputed owners, lessees, and occupiers thereof;
(c) the place where copies of the order (except any plan annexed to or referred to in the order) may be obtained free of charge by any person interested in the land;
(d) the place where the plan (if any) annexed to or referred to in the order may at all reasonable times, until the order is submitted to the Board, be inspected by or on behalf of any person interested in the land.

(3) Every notice shall also state that any objection must be presented to the Board, and every notice sent to an owner, lessee, or occupier shall state the period within which an objection by him may be presented in accordance with these regulations. A notice may also state that a copy of every objection should be sent to the clerk to the council.

(4) If the council is a county council acting on behalf of a parish council or parish meeting the notice shall so state and give the name of the parish.

3. The period within which an objection to a compulsory order may be presented to the Board by a person interested in the land to which the order relates shall be the period of one calendar month from and after the date on which notice of the order is sent to him, or if no notice is sent to him, in that case from and after the date of the latest advertisement of a notice of the order.

4. Notice of the confirmation of the order shall be given by the council as soon as practicable to each owner, lessee, and occupier of the land authorised to be purchased, and a copy of the order and of any plan annexed to or referred to in the order shall be furnished by the council to any person interested in the land on application by such person and payment by him of the reasonable cost of preparing such copy.

5.—(1) Every notice required to be given by the council to an owner or other person interested in land proposed or authorised to be purchased, shall either be served personally on such person or sent by post to or left at his usual place of abode in the United Kingdom, if any such can after diligent inquiry be found, and in case any such person shall be absent from the United Kingdom or cannot be found after diligent inquiry, shall be sent by post to or left with any agent ordinarily receiving the rents of the land on behalf of such person, and a copy thereof shall also be sent by post to or left with the occupier of the land to which such notice relates, or, if there be no such occupier, shall be affixed upon some conspicuous part of such land.

(2) If an owner or other person interested be a corporation aggregate, such notice shall be sent by post to or left at the principal office of business of such corporation, or if no such office can after diligent inquiry be found, shall be sent by post to or served on some principal officer, if any, of such corporation, and such notice shall also be sent by post to or left with the occupier of the land to which it relates, or, if there be no such occupier, shall be affixed upon some conspicuous part of such land.

6. Where a council propose to purchase compulsorily the estate and interest of a lessee only, the order shall so state, and these regulations shall apply with the necessary modifications.

7. In these regulations, unless the context otherwise requires—

"Owner" in relation to any land proposed or authorised to be purchased means the person who by himself or his agent is in actual possession, or receipt of the rents or profits, of the land (except a lessee) and that without regard to the real amount of interest of such person;

"Lessee" includes a tenant holding under an agreement for a lease;

"Compulsory order" means an order under the Small Holdings and Allotments Act, 1907, which authorises land to be compulsorily purchased;

"Land" includes stints and other alienable common rights of grazing.

8. These regulations shall apply to a compulsory purchase by the Small Holdings Commissioners acting in default of a county council with the substitution of those Commissioners for the council.

In witness whereof the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries have hereunto affixed their Official Seal this twenty-fourth day of March, nineteen hundred and eight.

SMALL HOLDINGS AND ALLOTMENTS (COMPULSORY PURCHASE) REGULATION, 1908 (No. 2).

(Dated 7th December, 1908.)

The Board of Agriculture and Fisheries in pursuance of the provisions of the Small Holdings and Allotments Act, 1908, do hereby make the following regulations:—

FORM OF ORDER FOR COMPULSORY PURCHASE.

For the purposes of an order for compulsory purchase made or confirmed on or after the first day of January, nineteen hundred and nine, the appendix to these regulations shall be substituted for the appendix to the Small Holdings and Allotments (Compulsory Purchase) Regulations, 1908. Appendix II.

In witness whereof the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries have hereunto affixed their official seal this seventh day of December, nineteen hundred and eight.

(L.S.) T. H. ELLIOTT, Secretary.

APPENDIX.

1. The (a) are hereby empowered for the purpose of providing (b) to put in force as respects the [several] land[s] described in the schedule hereto the provisions of the Lands Clauses Acts with respect to the purchase and taking of land otherwise than by agreement, but subject to the terms of the Small Holdings and Allotments Act, 1908, and this Order.

2. This order shall take effect as if it incorporated, subject to the necessary adaptations, the Lands Clauses Acts and sections seventy-seven to eighty-five of the Railways Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, but subject to this modification, that any question of disputed compensation shall be determined by a single arbitrator appointed by the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries (c), who shall be deemed to be an arbitrator within the meaning of the Lands Clauses Acts, and the provisions of these Acts with respect to arbitration shall, subject to the provisions of the First Schedule to the Small Holdings and Allotments Act, 1908, apply accordingly.

[Here insert any provision for the continuance of an existing easement or the creation of a new easement over the land[s].]

3. Nothing in this order as made or confirmed shall entitle the council, except with the further consent of the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries, to require any party to sell or convey part only of [any of] the [several] land[s] described in the schedule hereto if such party is willing and able to sell and convey the whole thereof.

4. [Where the order applies to glebe land or other land belonging to an ecclesiastical benefice insert the following paragraph.] Any sum agreed upon or awarded for the purchase of the land[s], or payable by way of compensation for the damage to be sustained by the owner by reason of severance or other injury affecting the land[s] shall not be paid as directed by the Lands Clauses Acts, but shall be paid to the Ecclesiastical Commissioners to be applied by them as money paid to them upon a sale under the Ecclesiastical Leasing Acts of land belonging to a benefice.

5. The powers conferred by this order shall cease after the expiration of one year from the date of the confirmation of this order by the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries, unless such period is extended by that Board.

Made by the (a) the day of 190 . [Seal of the council.]

or

Made on behalf of the (a) the day of 190 , by their Small Holdings and Allotments Committee.

SCHEDULE TO FORM OF ORDER FOR COMPULSORY PURCHASE.

[Description of land[s] proposed or authorised to be purchased.]

If severally described, number consecutively.

(a) Insert "County Council of ," or "County Council of , acting on behalf of the Parish Council" [or "Meeting"] or "Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Borough of ," or " District Council."

(b) Insert "small holdings," or "allotments," as the case may be.

(c) Substitute "Lord Chief Justice of England" for "Board of Agriculture and Fisheries" if the order empowers the Small Holdings Commissioners to purchase.

Appendix II.

THE SMALL HOLDINGS AND ALLOTMENTS (COSTS) RULES, 1910. DATED MARCH 5, 1910, MADE BY THE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE AND FISHERIES, WITH THE CONCURRENCE OF THE LORD CHANCELLOR, PURSUANT TO PARAGRAPH (6) OF PART I. OF THE FIRST SCHEDULE TO THE SMALL HOLDINGS AND ALLOTMENTS ACT, 1908 (8 EDW. 7, C. 36).

The following rules, and the scales of costs contained therein, shall apply to the allowance and taxation or determination as against a council of all costs and charges of a claimant in an arbitration under the First Schedule to the Act.

1. Where the compensation awarded by the arbitrator to the claimant does not exceed the sum specified in the first column of the Scale No. 1 herein contained, the sum payable to the claimant for his costs of the arbitration shall be the sum specified in the second column of such scale, which sum shall include and cover all disbursements, except for the attendances of witnesses, for which attendances the sums specified in the third column of such scale shall be allowed. No charge for briefs to, or attendance of, counsel shall be allowed.

2. Where the compensation awarded by the arbitrator exceeds the sum of three hundred pounds, but does not exceed the sum of five hundred pounds, the costs and charges of the claimant in the arbitration shall be allowed, and (if necessary) taxed or determined, in accordance with the provisions of the Scale No. 2 herein contained, and no costs or charges other than those specified in such scale, or in accordance therewith, shall be allowed.

3. Where the compensation awarded by the arbitrator exceeds the sum of five hundred pounds, the costs and charges of the claimant in the arbitration shall be allowed, and (if necessary) taxed or determined, in accordance with the provisions of the Scale No. 3 herein contained, and no costs or charges other than those specified in such scale, or in accordance therewith, shall be allowed.

4. So much of the First Schedule to the Arbitration Act, 1889, as provides that the arbitrator may award costs to be paid as between solicitor and client, shall not apply to an arbitration to which these rules apply. In any case in which the arbitrator determines the amount of costs to be paid to the claimant in the arbitration, these rules and the scales herein contained, shall apply to and govern such determination of costs by the arbitrator.

5. These rules shall not apply to an arbitration in which an arbitrator has been appointed before the rules come into operation.

6. Nothing in these rules shall authorise an arbitrator to hear counsel or expert witnesses, except in such cases as the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries direct, and if counsel or expert witnesses are heard by an arbitrator without such direction, no costs shall be allowed in respect thereof.

7.—(1) If, having regard to the nature or importance of the case, the interests of the parties, the general conduct of the proceedings, and the skill, labour, and responsibility involved, the taxing officer shall on special grounds consider the costs or allowances provided by any of the scales inadequate, he may make such further or increased allowances as he shall in his discretion consider reasonable.

(2) The taxing officer may in any case where the owner or claimant is not represented by a solicitor on the arbitration make such allowance as he may consider reasonable towards the charges or expenses incurred by the owner or claimant in connection with the arbitration, but not exceeding in the aggregate the maximum amount which could otherwise have been allowed under the relevant scale.

8. These rules and the scales of costs contained herein shall not apply to the fees or remuneration properly payable to or charged by the arbitrator, which fees, if and when paid by the claimant, shall be recoverable by him from the party who is liable to pay the same.

9. In these rules and the scales of costs contained herein:

(1) "The Act" means the Small Holdings and Allotments Act, 1908.

(2) "The arbitrator" means an arbitrator appointed under the Act.

Appendix II.

(3) "Taxing officer" includes the arbitrator when costs are determined by him.

(4) "Council" includes any Commissioner acting in default of a council.

10. These rules shall come into operation on the tenth day of March, 1910, and may be cited as the Small Holdings and Allotments (Costs) Rules, 1910.

SCALE No. 1.

STOCK (ISSUE OF).

ORDER IN COUNCIL OF THE 26TH SEPTEMBER, 1891.

At the Court at Balmoral, the 26th day of September, 1891.

PRESENT :

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Local Government Board have, in virtue of the powers conferred upon them by the "Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890," made regulations applying to the creation, issue, transfer, and redemption of, and other dealings with, any stock which any urban sanitary authority under the Public Health Acts (having adopted Part V. of the said Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890), either in that or in any other capacity, create, with the consent of the said Local Government Board, under the said regulations, in exercise of any statutory borrowing power as defined in those regulations :

And whereas the said regulations have, as required by the said Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890, been laid before both Houses of Parliament for the period of thirty days, and no resolution has been passed by either House that such regulations ought not to be proceeded with :

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, having taken the said regulations (copy whereof is hereunto annexed) into consideration, is pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to confirm, and doth hereby confirm the said regulations.

C. L. PEEL.

Appendix II.

PUBLIC HEALTH ACTS AMENDMENT ACT, 1890
(53 & 54 VICT. c. 59, s. 52).

REGULATIONS AS TO ISSUE OF STOCK.

WHEREAS by section 52 of the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890 (which section forms Part V. of the said Act) [the section (see ante, p. 867), is recited].

And whereas it is provided by the said Act that Part V. thereof may be adopted by any urban sanitary authority under the Public Health Acts:

Now therefore, we, the Local Government Board, in pursuance of the powers given to us by the above-cited section, do hereby order and prescribe as follows:—

The regulations hereinafter contained shall, from and after the confirmation thereof as aforesaid, apply to the creation, issue, transfer, and redemption of, and other dealings with, any stock which any urban sanitary authority (having adopted the said part of the said Act), either in that or in any other capacity, create with our consent under these regulations, in exercise of any statutory borrowing power as defined in Article 1.

PRELIMINARY.

ART. 1.—In these regulations— Interpretation.

The local authority means the mayor, aldermen, and burgesses of the borough, acting by the council of the borough, or the local board for the Local Government district, or the improvement commissioners for the Improvement Act district, as the case may be, exercising under these regulations, with the consent of the Local Government Board, the power of borrowing by the creation of stock; "The local authority."

The district means the borough, or Local Government district, or Improvement Act district, according as the local authority is the mayor, aldermen, and burgesses, or the local board, or the improvement commissioners; "The district."

Stock, unless the context otherwise requires, means stock created by the local authority under these regulations; "Stock."

Rate includes water rents, gas rents, and charges for supply of water or gas, or the hire of meters or fittings connected therewith; "Rate."

The Board means the Local Government Board; "The Board."

The Bank of England means the governor and company of the Bank of England; "The Bank of England."

Revenues of the local authority includes the revenues of the local authority from time to time arising from any land, undertakings, or other property for the time being of the local authority, and rates leviable by or on the precept of the local authority. "Revenues of the local authority."

Statutory borrowing power means any power, whether or not coupled with a duty, of borrowing, or continuing on loan, or re-borrowing money, or of redeeming or paying off, or creating or continuing payment of or in respect of any annuity, rent-charge, rent, or other security representing or granted in lieu of consideration money, for the time being existing under any Act of Parliament, public or local, passed or to be passed, or under any Provisional Order confirmed by Act of Parliament passed or to be passed, or under these regulations, or under any Order or sanction of any Government department made or given, or to be made or given, by authority of any Act of Parliament passed or to be passed; "Statutory borrowing power."

Statutory security means any security in which trustees are for the time being by or under any Act of Parliament passed or to be passed authorised to invest trust money, except any security of the local authority, and any other mortgage, bond, debenture, stock, annuity, rent-charge, rent, or other security authorised by or under any Act of Parliament passed or to be passed, or under these regulations, of any local authority as defined by section 34 of the Local Loans Act, 1875, except as before excepted, and except securities payable to bearer; "Statutory security."

Interest includes instalments of an annuity and half-yearly or other payments of or in respect of a rent-charge, rent, or other security. "Interest."

CREATION AND CHARGE OF STOCK.

Creation of stock.

ART. 2.—(1) Where the local authority have for the time being any statutory borrowing power, and the Board have by order (hereinafter called the Consent Order) consented to the exercise of such power by the creation of stock, then, subject and according to the provisions of these regulations and of the Consent Order, the local authority may from time to time by resolution exercise the power by creation of redeemable stock, to be from time to time issued for such amount within the limit of the power, at such price, being not lower than ninety-five per centum, to bear such half-yearly or other dividends, and to be so transferable, that is to say, in books or by deed as the local authority by the resolution direct: Provided that, subject to any regulations which the Board may make amending these regulations, all stock at any time and from time to time so created shall be created on and subject to such terms and conditions as that the same shall form one and the same class of stock, bearing one and the same rate of dividend, and shall become redeemable as hereinafter provided after the expiration of the same period from the first creation of the stock.

(2) All stock at any time and from time to time so created shall rank equally without any priority or preference by reason of any precedence in the date of any statutory borrowing power, or in the date of creation of any portion of stock, or in the date of issue of any portion of stock, or on any other ground whatsoever, and shall (unless otherwise expressed in the resolution for creation of the stock) also rank equally with all other securities of the local authority created or granted in pursuance of any statutory borrowing power at any time after the date of the first creation of any stock.

(3) After the expiration of such a period from the creation of the stock as the Board shall fix by the Consent Order, the stock shall be redeemable at par, at the option of the local authority, and within such a period (not exceeding sixty years) from the first creation of the stock as the Board shall fix by the Consent Order, the whole of the stock shall be redeemed or purchased and extinguished.

(4) Each resolution for creation of stock shall specify after what period the stock thereby created is redeemable at par, and within what period the stock is to be redeemed or purchased and extinguished.

(5) The stock shall be designated by such name as the local authority in the resolution for creation of the stock shall, with the approval of the Board determine.

Borrowing power to be exerciseable for actual sum raiseable.

ART. 3. The Consent Order of the Board to the exercise of any statutory borrowing power of the local authority by the creation of stock shall be construed to authorise the local authority to create such an amount of stock and from time to time to issue such nominal amounts thereof as will, in the aggregate, according to the price of issue, produce the actual amount of money for the time being lawfully raiseable by the local authority under that power, or some portion, mentioned in the Consent Order, of that actual amount, or (as the case may be) the actual amount of money properly payable by the local authority as consideration on payment of or redemption by the local authority of any mortgage, bond, debenture, stock, annuity, rent-charge, rent, or other security granted or created by the local authority in respect of the payment off or redemption of which consent was given by the Consent Order.

Charge of stock.

ART. 4.—(1) All stock for the time being issued and the dividends thereon shall be the same and are by virtue of these regulations charged indifferently on all the revenues of the local authority.

(2) The dividends for the time being payable on all stock shall rank equally with interest on all other securities of the local authority created or granted in pursuance of any statutory borrowing power at any time after the date of the first creation of any stock, and the same dividends and interest shall, subject to all charges existing at that date, be the first charge on all the revenues of the local authority.

CONSOLIDATION OF LOANS.

Consolidation of loans.

ART. 5. The Board may, in the Consent Order, approve a scheme for the consolidation for the purpose of the repayment of all or any of the loans raised by the local authority under all or any of the statutory borrowing powers of the local authority, whether existing at the date of these regulations or not, and any such scheme shall fix the period or periods within which the loans so consolidated shall be discharged, and for that purpose may extend or vary any period allowed for the payment off of such loans by the statutory borrowing powers: Provided that the Board, in approving the period or periods as aforesaid, shall have due regard to the amounts of the several loans and the periods allowed for the payment off of such loans respectively by the statutory borrowing powers.

Appendix II.

DIVIDENDS FUND.

Establishment of dividends fund.

ART. 6. For payment of dividends on the stock there shall be established and formed a fund called the stock (dividends) fund; and in these regulations the stock (dividends) fund is referred to as the dividends fund.

Contributions to dividends fund.

ART. 7.—(1) In each year the local authority shall pay into the dividends fund a sum or sums equal to the aggregate amount of all dividends payable in that year on the stock.

(2) They shall provide the sum or sums aforesaid by contributions from the several revenues of the local authority, if any, specifically made liable to provide the same by or under any Act of Parliament, or any Provisional Order confirmed by Act of Parliament, or any Order or sanction of any Government department, or by any resolution of the local authority having reference to those respective statutory borrowing powers; and if, as regards any statutory borrowing power, there is no such specific liability, then from the several revenues out of which interest would have been payable on money borrowed by the local authority under that power if that money had been raised and remained secured otherwise than by stock, and in default thereof, or subject thereto, they shall provide the same, if the district is a borough, out of the borough fund and borough rate, or out of the district fund and general district rate, or if there is no district fund or general district rate, out of such other rate as the local authority, having regard to the provisions of these regulations and of the Consent Order and to the objects for which the statutory borrowing power was exercised, may consider equitable; and if the district is not a borough they shall provide the same out of the district fund and general district rate, or, if there is no such fund and rate, out of such other rate as the local authority, having regard as aforesaid, may consider equitable.

(3) The amounts of those several contributions (subject to any payment in reduction thereof authorised by these regulations) shall be the sums ascertained to be required in that behalf by apportionment of that aggregate amount of dividends among the several revenues of the local authority according to the amount of stock, the dividends whereon are properly payable out of such revenues respectively.

Raising of contributions to dividends fund.

ART. 8.—(1) The local authority shall from time to time, in order to raise the amounts of the several contributions to the dividends fund as aforesaid out of the several revenues of the local authority, do all such acts, exercise all such powers, collect all such money, and make and levy all such rates as they lawfully can or ought to do, exercise, collect, make, and levy for the purposes of or in relation to the respective statutory borrowing powers in exercise whereof the several portions of stock are issued.

(2) If by reason of any limit of rate, or for any other reason, there is a deficiency on any revenue in respect of any required contribution, the local authority shall advance the amount of the deficiency, if the district is a borough out of the borough fund and borough rate, or out of the district fund and general district rate, or, if there is no district fund or general district rate, out of such other rate as the local authority, having regard to the provisions of these regulations, and of the Consent Order and to the objects for which the statutory borrowing power was exercised, may consider equitable; and if the district is not a borough they shall advance the same out of the district fund and general district rate, or, if there is no such fund and rate, out of such other rate as the local authority, having regard as aforesaid, may consider equitable.

(3) The amount so advanced shall be a debt due from the revenue on which the deficiency existed to the fund or rate out of which the advance is made, and interest shall be payable thereon until repayment at the rate to be deter-

Appendix II. mined by the Board, and the same debt and interest shall, as soon as in the judgment of the local authority reasonably may be, be raised and paid out of the revenue on which the deficiency existed.

Payment of rents, etc., to dividends fund.

ART. 9. (1) Unless the Board otherwise direct, the local authority shall pay into the dividends fund and shall carry to the proper separate account forming part of the general account of the dividends fund, the rents and profits of any land and other property of the local authority acquired by them for the purposes of any undertaking or purpose for or in respect of which any statutory borrowing power is exercised by them by the issue of the stock, and not being wholly or in part otherwise appropriated or required to be otherwise applied.

(2) The local authority before making any payment into the dividends fund under this article, may deduct from the rents and profits to which this article applies any costs and expenses properly incurred by the local authority in or about the collection and receipt of such rents and profits.

Application of dividends fund.

ART. 10. The local authority shall, from time to time, apply the dividends fund in paying the dividends on the stock.

Account of dividends fund.

ART. 11. As parts of the general account of the dividends fund the local authority shall keep separate accounts, distinguishing and showing, in relation to each undertaking or purpose for or in respect of which any statutory borrowing power is exercised by them by the issue of the stock,—

(1) All money from time to time paid into the dividends fund as receipts from rents and profits of any land and other property of the local authority so as aforesaid acquired in respect of that undertaking or purpose and not otherwise appropriated or required to be applied; and

(2) All money paid into the dividends fund as contributions from the revenues of the local authority in respect of dividends on the several amounts of stock chargeable to that undertaking or purpose; and

(3) All money being unclaimed dividends paid into the dividends fund as hereinafter provided and allocated to that undertaking or purpose.

Application of income in reduction of contributions to dividends fund.

ART. 12. Where any money is standing on a separate account in the dividends fund, being money paid into that fund as rents and profits of the land and other property of the local authority, or being other money properly paid into that fund otherwise than as contributions under Article 7 required for the payment of dividends, the local authority may, if they think fit, from time to time apply the same in reduction of such contributions out of the revenues of the local authority as are payable into the dividends fund in respect of the portions of stock comprised in the separate account on which the money is standing.

REDEMPTION FUND.

Establishment of redemption fund.

ART. 13. For redemption and extinction, or purchase and extinction, of the stock there shall be established and formed a fund called the stock (redemption) fund; and in these regulations the stock (redemption) fund is referred to as the redemption fund.

Contributions to redemption fund for extinction of stock.

ART. 14.—(1) In each year the local authority shall pay into the redemption fund a sum or sums equal to the aggregate amount of all sums payable in that year for redemption and extinction, or purchase and extinction of the stock.

(2) They shall provide the sum or sums last aforesaid by contributions from the several revenues of the local authority, if any, specifically made liable to provide the same by or under any Act of Parliament, or any Provisional Order confirmed by Act of Parliament or any order or sanction of any Government department, or by any resolution of the local authority having reference to those respective statutory borrowing powers, and if as regards any statutory borrowing power there is no such specific liability, then from the several revenues out of which any yearly or other sums would have been payable towards a sinking fund for discharge, or towards payment off by instalments, appropriations, annual repayments, or otherwise of money borrowed by the local authority under that power if that money had been raised and remained secured otherwise than by stock; and in default thereof, or subject thereto,

they shall provide the same, if the district is a borough, out of the borough fund and borough rate, or out of the district fund and general district rate, or if there is no district fund or general district rate, out of such other rate as the local authority, having regard to the provisions of these regulations and of the Consent Order and to the objects for which the statutory borrowing power was exercised, may consider equitable; and if the district is not a borough, they shall provide the same out of the district fund and general district rate, or, if there is no such fund and rate, out of such other rate as the local authority, having regard as aforesaid, may consider equitable.

(3) The amounts of those several contributions (subject to any payment in reduction thereof authorised by these regulations) shall be determined by the provisions either of paragraph (a), paragraph (b), or paragraph (c) of this clause, according as the Board shall prescribe in the Consent Order, or shall thereafter determine :—

(a) The said amounts shall be the same as would under the statutory borrowing powers have been payable towards paying off the money represented by the stock, or to a sinking fund for the repayment of the same, if the same had been raised otherwise than by the issue of stock; provided that if the moneys payable as aforesaid were not required to be accumulated, the Board may determine what the amounts of the contributions shall be, having regard to the rate at which the redemption fund will be accumulated.

(b) The said amounts shall be such amounts as will, with accumulations at compound interest at a rate per centum per annum to be determined by the Board, be sufficient, after payment of all expenses, to purchase the amount of stock at par within the time within which, under the statutory borrowing power, the money represented by the stock is to be repaid: Provided that the Board may from time to time, if they think fit, alter such rate of interest.

(c) If the statutory borrowing power in exercise of which the stock is issued does not determine the amounts to be paid towards paying off or to a sinking fund in respect of the money to be borrowed thereunder, or the period within which the same is to be repaid, or if the Board approve a scheme for the consolidation of all or any of the loans to be raised by the issue of stock, the amounts of the several contributions shall be such amounts as will, with accumulations at compound interest at a rate per centum per annum to be determined by the Board, be sufficient, after payment of all expenses, to purchase the amount of stock at par within such time, not exceeding sixty years from the first creation of the stock, as the Board shall prescribe in the Consent Order, or shall thereafter determine: Provided that the Board may from time to time, if they think fit, alter such rate of interest.

(4) The provisions of Article 8 of these regulations in regard to the raising of contributions to the dividends fund shall apply to the raising of contributions to the redemption fund as if such provisions were repeated in this article with the substitution of "redemption fund" for "dividends fund."

(5) If it appears to the Board at any time that any contributions to the redemption fund will not be sufficient to redeem the amount of stock in respect of which such contributions are made within the time allowed for the continuance of the loan represented by the stock, the amount of such contributions shall be increased to such extent as the Board may direct; and the Board shall at any time have power to consent to the reduction of the contributions to be made to the redemption fund as aforesaid, either temporarily or permanently, in any case in which it appears to the Board that such contributions would, if maintained, be more than sufficient to redeem the amount of stock in respect of which such contributions are made within the time allowed for the continuance of the loan represented by the stock; and if the amount in the redemption fund at any time is, in the opinion of the Board, sufficient, with the accumulations to arise thereon, to redeem the stock within the time or times allowed for the continuance of the loan or loans represented by the stock, the Board may consent to the discontinuance of contributions to the redemption fund in respect of the stock.

(6) If the local authority create and issue stock for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the creation and issue of any stock, the amount of stock created and issued for that purpose shall be redeemable and extinguished after and within the same periods after and within which the stock is to be redeemed and extinguished for the purpose of defraying the expenses of which it was so created and issued; and, for the purpose of determining the amount of the contributions aforesaid, the amount of the said expenses shall be deemed to be the amount of a loan authorised by a statutory borrowing power, and required to be paid off within the period within which the stock is to be extinguished.

(7) If, before the expiration of the period allowed for the continuance of any loan represented by the amount of stock, the local authority apply in the redemption of purchase and extinction of stock to that or any less amount, any part of the redemption fund, then a sum equal to the interest which the part of the redemption fund so applied would have produced at the rate per centum on which the payments to the redemption fund are calculated shall, in each year, until the expiration of the said period allowed for the continuance of the loan, be paid into the redemption fund out of the revenues of the local authority chargeable with payment of the contributions to the redemption fund in respect of the amount of stock aforesaid.

Provided that if any amount of stock extinguished by application of part of the redemption fund as aforesaid is purchased by the local authority at a rate exceeding one hundred pounds sterling for one hundred pounds stock, the interest payable into the redemption fund under this part of this article shall be calculated as if only one hundred pounds sterling had been applied out of the redemption fund for each one hundred pounds stock purchased, and the local authority shall either pay into the redemption fund, during the year in which such purchase is made, an additional sum or sums equal in amount to the sum or sums paid in excess of the said rate for the purchase of stock in such year, or shall, during such year and each succeeding year until the expiration of the period allowed for the continuance of the loan represented by the stock extinguished, pay into the redemption fund such additional sum as the Board shall approve; and such additional sum or sums shall be paid out of the revenues of the local authority chargeable with payment of the contributions to the redemption fund in respect of that amount of stock.

For the purpose of ascertaining what contributions, to be paid out of what revenues, are required to be paid in respect of any amount of stock extinguished as aforesaid, the several amounts of stock issued under different statutory borrowing powers shall be deemed to be extinguished in succession, beginning with the amount created in exercise of the borrowing power under which (at the date of the extinction of such stock) the remaining period allowed either expressly or by implication for the continuance of the loan is the shortest, and proceeding, in order, to that created in exercise of the borrowing power under which the longest remaining period is allowed as aforesaid.

Payment of sale money, etc., to redemption fund.

ART. 15.—(1) Unless the Board otherwise direct, the local authority shall pay into the redemption fund, and shall carry to the proper separate account forming part of the general account of the redemption fund, all such money being capital, or in the nature of capital, and not being wholly or in part otherwise appropriated or required to be otherwise applied, as shall from time to time arise from any sale, lease, or other disposition of land or other property of the local authority on the revenues whereof any stock is charged, and as shall from time to time arise from any other source.

(2) The local authority, before making any payment into the redemption fund under this article, may deduct from the money to which this article applies any costs and expenses properly incurred by the local authority in or about any sale, lease, or other disposition of land or property as aforesaid.

Investment and application of redemption fund.

ART. 16. The local authority shall from time to time apply the redemption fund in redeeming stock according to the terms of issue and purchasing stock for extinction, and, pending such application of the redemption fund or any part thereof, all sums paid into the redemption fund shall be invested on statutory securities, and the interest and annual proceeds arising from those securities shall be paid into the redemption fund, and be invested and accumulated in like manner.

Appendix II.

ART. 17. The local authority on redeeming and purchasing any stock shall forthwith pass a resolution directing the stock so redeemed or purchased to be cancelled by the registrar, and on such cancellation the same and all dividends thereon which have not already become payable shall be and the same are by virtue of these regulations extinguished.

Extinction of stock redeemed or purchased.

ART. 18.—(1) As parts of the general account of the redemption fund, the local authority shall keep—

Account of redemption fund.

(a) An account showing the securities on which all sums paid into the redemption fund are from time to time invested; and

(b) Separate accounts relative to each undertaking or purpose for or in respect of which any statutory borrowing power is exercised by them by the issue of the stock; and

(c) Separate accounts relative to each statutory borrowing power so exercised.

(2) Those separate accounts shall distinguish and show—

(d) The amounts of stock for the time being chargeable to each undertaking or purpose and respectively attributable to the exercise of the several statutory borrowing powers if more than one relating to that undertaking or purpose; and

(e) The several amounts of stock redeemed or purchased by means of the redemption fund and cancelled and extinguished.

(3) Those separate accounts shall further distinguish and show in relation to each undertaking or purpose—

(f) All money being capital, or in the nature of capital, paid into the redemption fund, and in the judgment of the local authority properly attributable to that undertaking or purpose; and

(g) All money from time to time received as interest of the last-mentioned moneys; and

(h) All money and securities transferred to the redemption fund as having formed part of a sinking fund, and all money from time to time received as interest of the last-mentioned money or securities; and

(i) All money paid into the redemption fund as contributions from the revenues of the local authority in respect of redemption and extinction, or purchase and extinction, of those several amounts of stock; and

(j) All money from time to time received as interest of the last-mentioned money.

ART. 19. For the purposes of any contribution or account under these regulations, the local authority, if they think fit, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, and subject to the terms on which any loan of the local authority was contracted, or any stock was issued, may from time to time by resolution, with the approval of the Board, determine and declare on which of the revenues of the local authority any loan of the local authority or any portion of stock is or shall be deemed to be primarily or collaterally charged, or determine and declare that any loan of the local authority or any portion of stock shall be apportioned as regards the charge thereof between or among any of the revenues of the local authority, and every such determination and declaration shall be effectual to all intents.

Determination as to charge of stock.

CONVERSION OF OTHER SECURITIES INTO STOCK.

ART. 20.—(1) Where the consent of the Board is given to the exercise by the local authority of any statutory borrowing power by the creation and issue of stock for the purpose of purchasing, paying off, or redeeming any mortgage, bond, debenture, stock, annuity, rent-charge, or other security granted or created by the local authority under any statutory borrowing power and which the local authority have power, with the consent of the holder of that security, or otherwise, to pay off or to redeem, they may pay off or redeem the security accordingly with money raised by stock, or they may, with the consent of the holder thereof, issue stock in substitution for the security.

Payment off or substitution for existing securities.

Provided that as regards any loans specified for the purposes of this provision in the Consent Order, the Board may, in such Order, require the foregoing powers of this article to be exercised as far as practicable pari passu with respect to all such loans and in such manner as not to extend the period

Appendix II. approved under these regulations for the payment off of such loans on consolidation.

(2) The local authority may in every such case make such reasonable payment as they may think fit to the holder of any security for his consent, or for otherwise compensating him for the payment off or redemption of or substitution for his security, and any such payment may be either in money or stock, or partly in one and partly in the other.

(3) In every such case of payment off redemption or substitution the local authority shall forthwith pay and transfer into the redemption fund the whole or a proportionate part (as the case may require) of any money and securities forming part of any sinking fund applicable to the discharge of the security, and also such further sum, if any, as may be necessary to make the money and securities so paid and transferred equivalent to the amount which should have been in such sinking fund, or should have been paid off, in respect of the security for the payment off or redemption of which or in substitution for which the stock is created.

(4) Where the holder of the security is one of the persons described in section 7 of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, and by that Act enabled to sell land thereunder, that person may consent to payment or redemption of, or substitution for, the money secured or represented by that security and may accept money for giving that consent as if the person so consenting were the absolute owner of that security, and that person is hereby indemnified for so doing, and his receipt shall be a good discharge for the same.

(5) Money received by the holder of any security as authorised by this article, and stock issued to him in substitution for any security, shall be subject to the same trusts, powers, testamentary, and other dispositions, provisions, and incumbrances, as the money secured or represented by the security was subject to, immediately before the payment off redemption or substitution, and every deed, or other instrument, or any testamentary, or other disposition, shall take effect with reference to the whole, or a proportionate part of the money or stock received, or substituted, as the case may be.

EFFECT ON BORROWING POWERS.

Extinction or suspension of power.

ART. 21. On the issue of any portion of stock the statutory borrowing power, in exercise whereof that stock is issued, shall be affected as follows; namely—

(a) If the stock is issued for the whole term limited for the continuance of any loan, or for the continuance of payment of or in respect of any mortgage, bond, debenture, stock, annuity, rent-charge, rent, or other security granted or created by the local authority under that statutory borrowing power, then that power, to the extent of the money raised by that stock (except in the case hereinafter provided for), shall be and the same is by virtue of these regulations extinguished; but

(b) If the stock is issued for part only of that term, then so much of the money raised by that stock as represents the balance which should be outstanding may be re-borrowed by the local authority for the residue of that term, or any part thereof, and so from time to time.

APPLICATION OF MONEY RAISED.

General application of money from stock.

ART. 22. Money raised by stock shall be applied for purposes for which money raiseable under the statutory borrowing power, in exercise whereof the stock is issued, ought by law to be applied, and not otherwise.

Provided that if, after the raising of any money by stock under these regulations, it shall be found that any part of such money is not required for the purposes to which it is applicable as aforesaid, the local authority shall pay such money into the redemption fund, or apply such money for such other purposes for which the local authority shall have a statutory borrowing power as the Board may, by Order, approve; and if any such money is so paid into the redemption fund the statutory borrowing power in exercise whereof the stock represented by the money so paid was issued shall, to the amount of the money so paid, be deemed not to have been extinguished; and if any such money is applied for some other purpose as aforesaid the stock represented by the money so applied shall be deemed to have been created and issued under these regulations in exercise or part exercise of such last-mentioned statutory borrowing power.

Temporary investment of money raised by stock.

ART. 23. The local authority shall from time to time invest temporarily on statutory securities any sum exceeding such sum as may be fixed by the Consent Order, and may so invest any sum raised by stock and not for the time being applied to or required for the undertaking or purpose for which it is raised, and shall from time to time pay the interest of those securities into the dividends fund.

REGISTRATION AND CERTIFICATES.

Appointment of registrar.

ART. 24.—(1) The local authority shall, on and subject to such terms and instructions not inconsistent with any provision of these regulations as they think expedient, appoint and keep appointed an officer of the local authority, or any other person, or the Bank of England, or any other bank, or any banking or other company, as registrar for all or any of the purposes of these regulations (in these regulations referred to as the registrar).

(2) The local authority in relation to these regulations and the registrar shall respectively be deemed a banker within the Bankers Books Evidence Act, 1879.

Stock register.

ART. 25.—(1) The registrar shall keep books, in which shall be entered the names and addresses of holders from time to time of stock, and the amounts held by them (in these regulations referred to as the stock register).

(2) The stock register shall be primâ facie evidence of any matter entered therein in accordance with these regulations, and of the title of the persons entered therein as holders of stock.

Certificates of proprietorship of stock.

ART. 26.—(1) On demand of a holder of stock the local authority may, if they think fit, give to him a certificate of the proprietorship thereof, under their common seal, specifying the amount of stock to which he is entitled (in these regulations referred to as a stock certificate).

(2) A stock certificate shall be primâ facie evidence of the title of the person therein named, his executors, administrators, successors, or assigns, to the stock therein specified; but the want of a stock certificate, if such want be accounted for to the satisfaction of the local authority, shall not prevent the holder of stock from disposing of and transferring the same.

(3) If a stock certificate is worn out or damaged the local authority, on production thereof, may cancel it and give a similar stock certificate to the party in whom the property in the stock certificate and in the stock therein specified is then vested.

(4) If a stock certificate is lost or destroyed the local authority, on proof thereof to their satisfaction, may give a similar stock certificate to the party entitled to the certificate lost or destroyed.

(5) An entry of the issue of a stock certificate or a substituted certificate, as the case may be, shall be made in the stock register.

TRANSFER.

Power for stockholder to transfer.

ART. 27. Subject to the provisions of these regulations, every stockholder may transfer all or any part of his stock in books or by deed.

Transfer in books.

ART. 28.—(1) If and where the resolution for creation of any portion of stock makes the same transferable in books and not by deed, the provisions of this article shall apply and have effect, but not otherwise.

(2) The registrar shall keep books wherein transfer of stock so transferable shall be entered (in these regulations referred to as the stock transfer books).

(3) Every such entry shall be conceived in proper words for the purpose of transfer, and shall be signed by the party making the transfer, or, if he is absent, by his agent thereunto lawfully authorised in writing under his hand attested by a witness.

(4) Where the Bank of England are the registrar they may, if they think fit, require that the agent be so authorised by power of attorney under the hand and seal of the party making the transfer, attested by two or more credible witnesses.

Appendix II.

(5) The person to whom a transfer is made may, if he thinks fit, underwrite his acceptance thereof.

(6) Except as otherwise provided by Act of Parliament, and subject to the provisions of these regulations respecting any portion of stock which the resolution for creation thereof makes transferable by deed and not in books, no mode of transferring stock other than that prescribed in this article shall be good in law.

Transfer by deed.

ART. 29.—(1) If and where the resolution for creation of any portion of stock makes the same transferable by deed and not in books, the provisions of this article shall apply and have effect, but not otherwise.

(2) Every transfer of stock so transferable shall be by deed.

(3) The deed of transfer shall relate only to the transfer, and shall not contain any recital, trust, or proviso whatsoever.

(4) The deed of transfer, when duly executed, shall be delivered to and kept by the registrar, and the registrar shall enter a memorial thereof in a book to be called the register of transfers of stock, and shall endorse on the deed of transfer a notice of that entry.

(5) The registrar shall on demand, and on delivery up of the old stock certificate, or on such proof that it cannot be produced as the registrar, with the approval of the local authority, may require, deliver a new stock certificate to the purchaser, or shall, at the option of the purchaser, make an endorsement of the transfer on the existing stock certificate, which endorsement, being signed by the registrar, shall be equivalent to a new stock certificate.

(6) Until the deed of transfer has been so delivered to the registrar, the local authority or the registrar shall not be affected thereby, and the purchaser of the stock shall not be entitled to receive any dividend thereon.

Evidence on transfer.

ART. 30.—(1) The registrar, before allowing any transfer of stock, may, if the circumstances of the case appear to him to make it expedient, require evidence of the title of any person claiming a right to make the transfer.

(2) That evidence shall be a statutory declaration of one or more competent persons, or of such other nature as the registrar, with the approval of the local authority, may require.

Closing of transfer books.

ART. 31.—(1) The registrar, with the approval of the local authority, may, as regards any portion of stock, close the stock transfer books or the register of transfers of stock (as the case may be) on any day in the month next before that in which dividends on that portion of stock are payable, but so that the books be not at any time kept closed for more than fifteen days.

(2) The persons who on the day of such closing are inscribed as stockholders shall, as between them and their transferees of stock, be entitled to the dividend next payable thereon.

Stamp duty on transfers.

ART. 32. Unless the local authority have compounded for stamp duty, all stock shall, notwithstanding anything in any resolution of the local authority, be transferable by deed, and not in books, and every deed of transfer of stock transferable by deed shall be duly stamped, and the consideration shall be truly stated therein.

TRANSMISSION.

Transmission on death.

ART. 33.—(1) The interest of a deceased stockholder in stock shall be transferable by his executors or administrators, notwithstanding any specific bequest thereof.

(2) Where two or more persons are registered as owners of any stock, such persons shall be deemed to be joint owners with right of survivorship between them.

(3) The local authority or the registrar shall not be required to allow any executors or administrators to transfer any stock until the probate of the will or the letters of administration to the estate of the deceased has or have been left with the registrar for registration, and may require all the executors who have proved the will to join in the transfer.

Transmission otherwise than by death of holder or transfer in books or by deed.

ART. 34.—(1) If the interest in any stock has become transmitted by any lawful means other than a transfer in books or by deed, or than the death of a stockholder, satisfactory evidence of the transmission shall be furnished to the registrar by a statutory declaration of one or more competent persons, or in such other manner as the registrar may, with the approval of the local authority, require. Appendix II.

(2) The name of the person entitled under the transmission shall be entered in the stock register.

(3) Until such evidence has been furnished, the local authority or the registrar shall not be affected by the transmission, and no person claiming by virtue thereof shall be entitled to receive any dividend on the stock.

(4) In this article the term transmission includes any case of apparent transmission in consequence of the change of name of the stockholder, although the actual ownership of the stock may remain unaltered.

DIVIDENDS.

ART. 35. The local authority shall pay by the registrar the dividends on stock. Payment of dividends.

ART. 36. The local authority or the registrar shall not be required to pay any executors or administrators any dividend on stock held by their testator or intestate until the probate of the will or the letters of administration has or have been left with the registrar for registration. Dividends to executors, etc.

ART. 37. The registrar before paying any dividend on any stock may, if the circumstances of the case appear to him to make it expedient, require evidence of the title of any person claiming a right to receive the dividend, and that evidence shall be a statutory declaration of competent persons, or of such other nature as the registrar, with the approval of the local authority, may require. Evidence of title.

ART. 38.—(1) Where more persons than one are registered as joint holders of any stock, any one of them may give an effectual receipt for any dividend thereon, unless notice to the contrary has been given to the registrar by any other of them. Dividends to joint holders.

(2) Where stock is standing in the name of an infant or person of unsound mind jointly with any person not under legal disability, a letter of attorney for receipt of the dividends on the stock shall be sufficient authority in that behalf if given under the hand and seal of the person not under disability attested by two or more credible witnesses, but the registrar before acting on the letter of attorney may, if he think fit, require proof to his satisfaction of the alleged infancy or unsoundness of mind by a statutory declaration of one or more competent persons.

ART. 39.—(1) Where a stockholder desires to have his dividends sent to him by post, he may make a request for that purpose to the registrar in writing, signed by him in a form approved by the local authority, and shall give to the registrar an address in the United Kingdom, or in the Channel Islands, or the Isle of Man, to which the letters containing the warrants are from time to time to be sent. Dividend warrants by post.

(2) The posting by the registrar of a letter containing a dividend warrant addressed to a stockholder at his request at the address so given by him shall, as respects the liability of the local authority and of the registrar, be equivalent to the delivery of the warrant to the stockholder himself.

(3) Every warrant so sent by post shall be deemed a cheque, and the local authority and the registrar shall, in relation thereto, be deemed a banker within the Bills of Exchange Act, 1882.

(4) Provided that this article shall not apply to cases to which the provisions of section 4 of the National Debt Act, 1889, apply.

STOCK CERTIFICATES WITH COUPONS TO BEARER.

ART. 40.—(1) On demand of a stockholder, the registrar may issue to the stockholder a stock certificate to bearer, that is to say, a certificate of title to his stock or any part thereof, entitling the bearer to the stock therein specified, and transferable by delivery with coupons entitling the bearer of the coupons to the dividends on the stock, but so that no such certificate or coupons shall give a title to dividends beyond the time limited for redemption of the stock. Provisions respecting stock certificates with coupons to bearer.

(2) A stock certificate to bearer shall not be issued in respect of any sum of stock other than ten pounds or a multiple of ten pounds.

Appendix II.

(3) No trustee shall apply for, purchase, take, or hold a stock certificate to bearer unless he is in express words authorised to do so by the instrument creating his trust, and any contravention of this provision by a trustee shall be deemed a breach of trust; but this provision shall not impose on the local authority or the registrar an obligation to inquire or to take notice whether a person applying for or holding a stock certificate to bearer is or is not a trustee, or subject the local authority or the registrar to any liability in case of his, with or without notice, issuing to a trustee a stock certificate to bearer, or invalidate any stock certificate to bearer issued.

(4) Where a stock certificate to bearer is outstanding the stock represented thereby shall cease to be transferable in books or by deed.

(5) The bearer of a stock certificate to bearer may, on delivery up to the registrar of the certificate, and of all unpaid coupons belonging thereto, require to be entered in the stock register as the holder of the stock described in the certificate under which he derives title, and thereupon such stock certificate and coupons shall be cancelled and the stock shall be re-entered in the register as transferable, and shall become and again be transferable in the stock transfer books or by deed, as the case may require, and shall, as regards the mode of payment of the dividends thereon, be in the like condition as if no stock certificate to bearer had been issued in respect thereof.

(6) The coupons issued with a stock certificate to bearer shall comprise the dividends to be paid in respect of the stock therein specified for such period as the local authority approve.

(7) At the end of that period fresh coupons may be issued for such further period as the local authority approve, and so for successive periods during the continuance in force of the stock certificate, but the local authority may direct the registrar, in lieu of issuing fresh coupons in respect of any stock certificate, to give in exchange a fresh stock certificate with coupons.

(8) Payment to the bearer of a coupon of the amount expressed therein shall be a full discharge to the local authority and to the registrar from all liability in respect of that coupon and the dividend represented thereby.

(9) Where the Bank of England are the registrar coupons shall be payable at the chief establishment of the bank at the expiration of three clear days from the day of presentation, and at any branch establishment of the bank situate more than ten miles from the chief establishment at the expiration of five clear days from the day of presentation.

(10) If a stock certificate to bearer or coupon is worn out or damaged the registrar, on production and delivery up thereof, may cancel it and issue a new certificate or coupon.

(11) If a stock certificate to bearer or coupon is lost or destroyed, the registrar may issue a new certificate or coupon on receiving indemnity to the satisfaction of the local authority against the claims of all persons deriving title under the certificate or coupon lost or destroyed.

(12) All coupons issued under these regulations in respect of any stock certificate to bearer shall, for the purposes of the Acts relating to stamp duties, be deemed to have been attached to and issued with such stock certificate.

(13) Stock specified in a stock certificate to bearer shall be charged on the same securities, and be subject to the same powers of redemption and other powers, and save as regards the mode of transfer and of payment of dividends thereon, and save so far as a stock certificate to bearer is a negotiable instrument, shall be subject to the same incidents in all respects as if that stock had continued to be registered in the stock register as transferable in books or by deed.

GENERAL.

Nature of stock: notice of trusts.

ART. 41.—(1) Stock is personal property.

(2) Stock is not liable to foreign attachment by the custom of London or otherwise.

(3) No notice of any trust, express, implied, or constructive, in respect of any stock, or of any stock, certificate to bearer or coupon, shall be entered in the stock register, or in any other book kept by the local authority or the registrar, or be receivable by the local authority or the registrar, or affect the registrar or the local authority through the registrar or otherwise.

ART. 42.—(1) If at any time any dividend due on any stock remain unpaid for two months after demand in writing the person entitled thereto may apply to the High Court for a receiver, and the Court may, if it thinks fit, appoint a receiver on such terms as it thinks fit. Receiver.

(2) The receiver shall have the like power of collecting, receiving, recovering, and applying all money which ought to be paid under these regulations into the redemption fund or the dividends fund, and of assessing, making, and recovering all rates for the purpose of obtaining the same, as the local authority or any officer thereof would or might have, and such other powers and such duties as the Court thinks fit, and shall apply all money so collected, after payment of expenses and costs as the Court directs, for purposes of these regulations.

(3) The Court may at any time discharge the receiver, and shall have full jurisdiction over him and all persons interested in his acts.

ART. 43. A person taking or holding stock shall not be concerned to inquire or to take notice whether the creation or issue thereof was or was not within any statutory borrowing power of the local authority, or otherwise in accordance with these regulations, or whether or not the local authority or any meeting thereof was properly constituted or convened, or whether or not the proceedings at any meeting of the local authority were legal or regular, or to see to the application of any money raised by stock, or be answerable for any loss or misapplication thereof. Protection of holders of stock.

ART. 44.—(1) Once in every year, at a time appointed by the Board, the clerk to the local authority shall send to the Board an abstract of the accounts of the local authority relating to stock and the redemption fund in a form prescribed by the Board; and such abstract shall be verified by a statutory declaration of an officer of the local authority, if and as may be required by the Board, and such abstract shall be made up to such date in each year as the Board may determine. Annual return to Local Government Board.

(2) Unless and until the Board in any case by Order otherwise direct, the said abstract shall—

(a) Be made up to the twenty-fifth (d) day of March in each year;

(b) Be forwarded to the said Board within forty-two days after that day;

(c) Be in the form set forth in the Schedule B. to these regulations; and

(d) Be verified by a statutory declaration of the clerk to the local authority, or of such other officer of the local authority as the Board may, on the application of the authority, approve.

(3) In case of wilful default therein by the clerk to or other officer of the local authority, the said clerk or other officer shall on each occasion be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds, and every fine under this article shall be recoverable summarily on the prosecution of the Board, and not otherwise.

(4) If by any such abstract or otherwise it appears to the Board that the local authority have failed to comply with any requisition of these regulations, or of any Order of the Board thereunder, in relation to any payment, application, or investment, or otherwise in relation to stock or the redemption fund, the Board may by Order require the local authority to make good the default within a time therein limited; and if the default be in respect of any sum payable into the redemption fund, or the misapplication of any part of such fund, the Board may by Order direct that the sum in such Order mentioned, not exceeding double the amount in respect of which default has been made, shall be paid into the redemption fund and be invested and applied as part of that fund.

ART. 45.—(1) If at any time any dividend on any stock is unclaimed at the time for payment thereof the same shall, nevertheless, on demand at any subsequent time whatsoever, be paid to the person showing his right thereto, but without interest in the meantime. Unclaimed dividends.

(2) Where any dividend remains unclaimed for five years from the time for payment thereof the local authority shall cause notice thereof to be sent by post in a registered letter addressed to the stockholder named in their books by the description and at the address therein appearing, and so at the expiration of three other successive periods of five years.

(d) Now the thirty-first; see the Order of the L. G. B., 5th April, 1902, post, p. 2567.

Appendix II.

(3) At the end of every successive period of five years from the day when the first dividend becomes payable on stock first issued, the local authority shall publish an advertisement in a newspaper circulating in their district, stating what, if any, dividends on stock have then been unclaimed for more than four years, and the names and addresses appearing in the stock register of the persons entitled to such dividends when the same became due.

(4) At the end of every successive period of ten years from the day when the first dividend becomes payable on stock first issued the local authority, unless it has been otherwise agreed between them and the registrar, may require the registrar to repay to them all dividends unclaimed during that period and then in his hands, and the local authority shall cause the same or any other dividends unclaimed during that period to be paid into the dividends fund, and may deal therewith as they are by these regulations empowered to deal with money paid into the dividends fund, without prejudice, nevertheless to the rights of any person to those dividends.

Unclaimed stock.

ART. 46.—(1) If at the end of the period within which any stock is required to be extinguished the local authority, by reason of the holder of any such stock not being forthcoming, or by reason of any doubt as to the ownership of any such stock, shall not be able to redeem, extinguish, and cancel such stock as required by the regulations hereinbefore contained, the local authority shall invest on statutory securities a sum equal to the nominal value of all such stock as cannot be redeemed by reason as aforesaid, such sum to be dealt with as hereinafter prescribed, and thereupon such stock shall be deemed to have been extinguished.

(2) If before the end of the period within which any stock is required to be extinguished the local authority shall have extinguished all the stock, except such as cannot be redeemed by reason as aforesaid, the local authority may invest on statutory securities a sum equal to the nominal value of all such stock as cannot be redeemed as aforesaid, such sum to be dealt with as hereinafter prescribed, and thereupon such stock shall be deemed to have been extinguished.

(3) Any sums invested by the local authority as aforesaid shall, unless sold for the purpose of satisfying any claim in respect of the stock represented by the same, be kept invested on statutory securities for a period of ten years, after which time the local authority may appropriate the said sums and any accumulations thereon for such purposes as the Board may approve, without prejudice, nevertheless, to the rights of any person to the said sums or any part thereof.

Saving for power to borrow otherwise.

ART. 47. Nothing in these regulations shall affect any power of the local authority to raise otherwise than by stock any money which they do not think fit to raise by stock, but whenever, from time to time after the date of the first creation of stock, the local authority raise money othe wise than by stock, they shall cause to be given to each lender of money so raised notice in writing, signed by the clerk or other authorised officer of the local authority, of the equality of charge which stock has or may have by virtue of these regulations.

Saving for power of revocation.

ART. 48. The local authority may by resolution revoke at any time, in whole or in part, any resolution for creation of stock theretofore passed by the local authority if and as far as the same has not been acted on by the issue of stock thereunder, and notice of such revocation shall forthwith be given to the Board; and in so far as the local authority revoke any such resolution, the Board may, if they think fit, by Order, revoke their consent to the exercise of the statutory borrowing power by the creation and issue of stock.

Saving for other obligations.

ART. 49. Except as in these regulations expressly provided, nothing in these regulations shall relieve the local authority from any obligation imposed on them in relation to any statutory borrowing power by any Act of Parliament under or by which that power for the time being exists or is regulated.

Saving for power to sell lands, etc.

ART. 50.—(1) Nothing in these regulations shall affect any power or duty of the local authority to sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of any land or property of the local authority, or to apply any purchase money or other money arising thereby in discharge of any charge on that land or property, or the revenues thereof, other than the charge of stock, or affect any claim of any person under such first-mentioned charge. Appendix II.

(2) That land or property shall, in the hands of the purchaser or other person taking the same under the sale, lease, or other disposition, be by virtue of these regulations absolutely freed from the charge of stock, and he shall not be concerned to see to the application of that purchase money or other money, or be answerable for any loss or misapplication thereof.

Saving for existing securities.

ART. 51. Nothing in or done under these regulations shall affect any security or charge created or granted or payable by the local authority before and subsisting at the date of the first creation of any stock, and the local authority shall, whenever required by the holder of any security or charge aforesaid, apply all such money, do all such acts, exercise all such powers, collect all such money, and make and levy all such rates as they would or ought to have applied, done, exercised, collected, made, and levied for his benefit and security if these regulations had not been prescribed and made applicable to the local authority.

Forgery.

ART. 52.—(1) Stock shall be deemed capital stock of a body corporate within the Act of the Session of the twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth years of the reign of Her present Majesty (chapter ninety-eight) "to consolidate and amend the statute law of England and Ireland relating to indictable offences by forgery."

(2) A stock certificate to bearer and a coupon connected therewith shall be deemed a stock certificate and coupon within the Forgery Act, 1870.

Orders of the Local Government Board.

ART. 53. Any determination or directions of the Board under these regulations may be signified by Order under their seal, and any Order of the Board may contain such provisions as the Board think necessary or proper for giving effect thereto, and shall be enforceable by writ of mandamus to be obtained by the Board out of the High Court, and may from time to time be cancelled or varied by the Board, as the circumstances of the case may require, but the Board shall not make any such Order without first hearing the local authority, if desirous of being heard, which hearing may be in the form of a public inquiry, with or without a published report, or in such other form as the Board, having regard to the circumstances, think just and expedient, and sections 294 and 296 of the Public Health Act, 1875, shall apply to hearings, inquiries, and other proceedings to which this article relates: Provided that the costs of inquiries as to which the Board may make Orders under the said section 294 may include such reasonable sum, not exceeding three guineas a day, as the Board may determine, for the services of any inspector holding an inquiry.

Regulations by Bank of England.

ART. 54. Where the Bank of England are the registrar, they may, with the sanction of the local authority, from time to time issue any forms that may be required for carrying into effect the provisions of these regulations, and may also from time to time make any regulations that are not inconsistent with these regulations relative to the following things, and, when made, may alter, vary, or repeal any such regulations, and make other regulations instead thereof, or in addition thereto, and any such regulations for the time being in force shall be duly observed:

(a) The period for which coupons are to be given:
(b) The mode in which the bank are to act in issuing stock certificates to bearer, or entering in the transfer books the bearers of stock certificates to bearer:
(c) The mode of proving the title of or identifying any person applying for a stock receipt or stock certificate, or stock certificate to bearer:
(d) With respect to anything necessary for carrying into effect the provisions of these regulations which relate to or affect the bank.

Forms.

ART. 55. The forms given in the Schedule A. to these regulations may be used for the purposes therein indicated, and the same, or forms to the like effect, with such variations or additions as circumstances require, shall be effectual for those purposes.

Appendix II.

Fees.

ART. 56.—(1) Fees not exceeding those specified in the said Schedule A. may be taken by or on behalf of the local authority in the cases therein mentioned.

(2) The proceeds of fees shall be paid by the local authority into the dividends fund, and shall be applied in reduction of contributions out of the revenues of the local authority payable into that fund in respect of dividends on such portions of stock as the local authority, having regard to the cases in which the fees are paid, determine.

Expenses.

ART. 57.—(1) The expenses incurred by the local authority in or about the creation and issue of any amount of stock, including any sum paid by them for composition for stamp duty thereon and any other expenses properly chargeable to capital, shall be deemed money raiseable under a statutory borrowing power.

(2) Expenses of book-keeping and management and other current expenses from time to time incurred by the local authority in the execution of these regulations shall be defrayed as the ordinary expenses of the local authority are or may be defrayed, and shall be divided amongst the different funds and undertakings of the local authority in such proportions as the local authority, having regard to all the circumstances, may from time to time determine.

stockholder in sole accounts, and to any one of the stockholders in joint accounts, at their risk upon a form of request being duly filled up and forwarded to [ ]. (Forms are obtainable at [ ].)

N.B.—This arrangement does not apply to stockholders whose addresses are beyond the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands, and the Isle of Man.

Persons receiving dividends under letters of attorney cannot have the warrants for such dividends sent to them by post.

A separate form must be used for each separate holding of stock.

When forwarding a form of request, care should be taken to state the number of overdue dividends, if any.

Dividends are payable on [1*st January*, 1*st April*, 1*st July*, and 1*st October*].

When the [1*st*] happens on a Sunday, the dividends are not payable until the [2*nd*].

Forms of request may be delivered at any date, either by hand or through the post; but when received between the day on which the balance for a dividend is struck and the day on which the dividend is payable, the warrants for such next dividend will be forwarded as soon as possible, but the will not guarantee their being posted on the day before the dividend is payable.

For the dividend payable [1*st January*] the balance is struck on or about the [1*st December*].

For the dividend payable [1*st April*] the balance is struck on or about the [1*st March*].

For the dividend payable [1*st July*] the balance is struck on or about the [1*st June*].

For the dividend payable [1*st October*] the balance is struck on or about the [1*st September*].

Warrants for overdue dividends will be forwarded as promptly as possible, but not necessarily by return of post.

Any change of address of the stockholder in sole accounts, or of the nominee in joint accounts, should be notified at once to the [ ]. When any such notification reaches less than a fortnight before the next dividend is due, there may be a delay of a few days in the delivery of the warrant for such next dividend.

In the absence of any notification to the contrary, it will be taken for granted that dividend warrants have duly reached their destinations. When they are not received on the correct day, notice should be given to the [ ] without delay.

As postal dividend warrants are made payable to order, they must be indorsed; they are crossed in blank, and consequently are only payable on presentation by a banker. (will not undertake to cross postal dividend warrants with the names of particular bankers.)

Instructions to transmit warrants by post remain in force, although the stock may have been added to or a part sold.

Stockholders selling stock by attorney, if they wish to continue to receive their dividends through the post, should instruct their bankers or brokers to obtain letters of attorney for sale only.

All communications with reference to postal dividend warrants should be addressed to [ ], and the postage should be prepaid.

Appendix II.

ORDER OF THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD, DATED APRIL 5, 1902, PRESCRIBING THE FORM OF ABSTRACT OF THE STOCK AND REDEMPTION FUND ACCOUNTS.

TO THE SEVERAL LOCAL AUTHORITIES who have created or who may hereafter create Stock under the Stock Regulations, 1891, 1897, and 1901; To the Clerks to the said Local Authorities; And to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS by Article 44 of the Stock Regulations, 1891, duly made and confirmed in pursuance of the provisions of section 52 of the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890, we, the Local Government Board, ordered and prescribed as follows (e) :—

* * * * *

And whereas . . . (f).

* * * * *

And whereas the Stock Regulations, 1891, were amended by the Stock Regulations (Amendment), 1897, and the Stock Regulations (Amendment), 1901, also duly made and confirmed in pursuance of the provisions of section 52 of the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890, and it is expedient that another form should be prescribed for the said abstract of accounts and that the St. Helens and Stockport Orders should be rescinded;

Now therefore, in pursuance of the powers given to us in that behalf, we hereby direct that, unless and until we in any case by Order otherwise direct, the abstract of the accounts which the clerk to the local authority is, by Article 44 of the Stock Regulations, 1891, required to send to us shall be in the form set forth in the schedule to this Order in lieu of any other form heretofore prescribed by us, and shall be made up to the thirty-first day of March in each year, and shall be forwarded to us within forty-two days after that day.

And we do hereby rescind the St. Helens and Stockport Orders.

(e) The article here recited appears on p. 2557, ante.

(f) This clause recites the St. Helens and Stockport Orders dated 2nd October, 1900, which are now repealed.

ORDER IN COUNCIL OF THE 3RD AUGUST, 1897.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 3rd day of August, 1897.

PRESENT,

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Local Government Board did, in pursuance of the powers conferred upon them by the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890, on the third day of June, 1897, make certain regulations amending the regulations confirmed by Order in Council of 26th September, 1891, applicable to the creation, issue, transfer, and redemption of and other dealings with any stock which any urban sanitary authority create in exercise of any statutory borrowing power :

And whereas the said amending regulations have, as required by the said Act, been laid before both Houses of Parliament for a period of thirty days, and no resolution has been passed by either House that such amending regulations ought not to be proceeded with.

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, having taken the said amending regulations (copy whereof is hereunto annexed) into consideration, is pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to confirm and doth hereby confirm the same.

C. L. PEEL.

AMENDING REGULATIONS REFERRED TO IN THE FOREGOING ORDER.

PUBLIC HEALTH ACTS AMENDMENT ACT, 1890 (53 & 54 VICT. C. 59, S. 52).

REGULATIONS AS TO ISSUE OF STOCK. AMENDING ORDER.

WHEREAS by section 52 of the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890 (which section forms Part V. of the said Act) [the section (ante, p. 867) is recited].

And whereas the Local Government Board by Order dated the 3rd day of July, 1891, made regulations under the said section (hereinafter called "the regulations"), and the same were confirmed by Order in Council dated the 26th day of September, 1891 ;

And whereas it is desirable that the regulations should be amended as hereinafter provided :

Now, therefore, we, the Local Government Board, in pursuance of the powers given to us by the above-cited section, do hereby order and prescribe as follows :—

From and after the confirmation of these regulations by Order in Council the regulations shall be amended by the additions and alterations hereinafter contained, and as so amended shall apply to the creation, issue, transfer, and redemption of, and other dealings with, any stock which any council of a county borough or district council or other authority having adopted Part V. of the said Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890, or otherwise entitled to issue stock thereunder, create with our consent under the regulations in exercise of any statutory borrowing power as defined in Article 1 thereof :

Provided that the said additions and alterations shall not apply to any stock issued before the confirmation of these regulations, except as hereinafter expressly mentioned, or as we may hereafter direct.

ART. 1.—(1) An authority who shall have issued stock under the regulations, whether of one or more classes, and whether before or after the date of this Order, may, if the Board by a Consent Order so provide, from time to time create and issue stock, under and subject to the regulations as hereby amended, of another class, than any stock previously created by the authority, and so that some or all of the terms and conditions on which the same is issued, including the rate of dividend payable thereon and the period after which the same shall become redeemable, may not be the same as those of any stock previously created, but any stock shall rank equally with the stock previously issued, and (unless otherwise expressed in the resolution for the creation of the stock) with all other securities of the authority created or granted in pursuance of any statutory borrowing power at any time after the date of the first creation of any stock.

(2) There shall be a separate stock (dividends) fund and a separate stock (redemption) fund for every class of stock; the funds for each class of stock being distinguished by number or otherwise.

(3) So long as any money is payable under Article 15 of the regulations into the stock (redemption) fund for one class of stock, no moneys shall be payable under that article into the stock (redemption) fund for any other class of stock except that any money to which that article applies and which shall have arisen from any sale, lease, or other disposition of land or other property purchased or otherwise acquired by means of money raised by stock, or by means of any loan which shall have been converted into stock, shall be paid into the stock (redemption) fund for the stock by which the money was raised or into which the loan has been converted.

(4) In this Order the term "dividends fund" and "redemption fund" shall mean as well the stock (dividends) fund, and stock (redemption) fund under the regulations, as the stock (dividends) fund and the stock (redemption) fund for any class of stock created and issued by an authority under the provisions of this article.

ART. 2. In any consolidation scheme, under Article 5 of the regulations, loans raised or authorised to be raised by stock under a previous Consent Order, may be included, whether such Consent Order has been made before or after this Order.

ART. 3.—(1) If money to be raised by the issue of stock is to be lent by the authority, and to be repaid by instalments, or if in any other case the Board think fit, the Board may by the Consent Order prescribe, or may thereafter determine, that the amounts of the several contributions to the redemption fund in respect of such stock (subject to any reduction thereof authorised under the regulations) shall be determined by the provisions either of paragraph (a), paragraph (b), or paragraph (c) of this clause:—

(a) The said amounts shall be the same as would under the statutory borrowing power have been payable towards paying off the money represented by the stock, or to a non-accumulating sinking fund for the repayment of the same, if the same had been raised otherwise than by the issue of stock.

(b) The said amounts shall be such equal annual amounts as will be sufficient after payment of all expenses, to purchase the amount of stock at par within the time within which, under the statutory borrowing power or the Consent Order, the money represented by the stock is to be repaid.

(c) If the statutory borrowing power in exercise of which the stock is issued does not determine the amounts to be paid towards paying off or to a non-accumulating sinking fund in respect of the money to be borrowed thereunder, or the period within which the same is to be repaid, or if the Board approve a scheme for the consolidation of all or any of the loans raised or to be raised by the issue of stock, the amounts of the several contributions shall be such equal annual amounts as will be sufficient, after payment of all expenses, to purchase the amount of stock at par within such time, not exceeding sixty years from the first creation of the stock, as the Board shall prescribe in the Consent Order, or shall thereafter determine.

Appendix II

(2) Except as hereinafter provided, the provisions of clause (3) of Article 14 of the regulations, and so much of clause (7) of that article as requires interest to be paid into the redemption fund or any part of that fund applied in the redemption or purchase and extinction of such stock, and so much of Article 16 of the regulations as requires the interest and annual proceeds arising from the investment of the redemption fund to be invested and accumulated shall not apply to such part of the redemption fund as represents contributions made thereto under this article; provided that (without prejudice to the power reserved to the Board under clause (5) of Article 14 of the regulations), if the Board shall at any time be of opinion that such part of the redemption fund as represents contributions made under this article will not in consequence of the depreciation of the securities in which the fund is invested, be sufficient to redeem or purchase the amount of stock in respect of which such contributions are made as required by the regulations as hereby amended, they may direct that the above-mentioned provisions of clause (7) of Article 14 and of Article 16 shall apply with such modifications as they may prescribe. Provided also, that so long as the above-mentioned provisions of Article 16 shall not apply, the interest and annual proceeds arising from the investment of such part of the redemption fund as represents contributions made under this article may be paid into the dividends fund, in reduction of the amount to be provided by contributions as required by Article 7 of the regulations.

ART. 4.—(1) If the local authority create and issue stock for the purpose of raising any money to be paid under clause (2) of Article 20 of the regulations, to the holder of any security for his consent to or for otherwise compensating him for the payment off or redemption of his security, or to the substitution of stock for his security, the period within which provision shall be made for the redemption of the amount of stock created and issued for that purpose shall be such period, not exceeding the period within which the money representing the security paid off or redeemed or for which the stock is substituted is required to be paid off under the statutory borrowing power or the Consent Order, as the Board may by the Consent Order prescribe, or may thereafter determine.

(2) The amount of any payment under clause (2) of Article 20 of the regulations which may be raised by the issue of stock shall not exceed the amount which the Board may by the Consent Order authorise to be so raised.

ART. 5. The following provisions shall be substituted for the last paragraph of Article 14 of the regulations, and shall apply to stock issued before or after this Order:—

"When the local authority redeem or purchase and extinguish stock by the application of any part of the redemption fund, the stock so redeemed or purchased and extinguished shall be deemed to be stock issued in respect of such one or more of the statutory borrowing powers exercised by the issue of stock and, if in respect of more than one, in such proportions as the local authority shall before or within three months after the redemption or purchase direct, or, in default of such direction, as the Local Government Board shall determine: Provided that no larger amount of stock shall be deemed to be redeemed or purchased and extinguished in respect of any statutory borrowing power than the amount which, according to the actual price of redemption or purchase, could be redeemed or purchased with the contributions paid into the redemption fund in respect of that borrowing power and the accumulations (if any) thereon."

ART. 6. The words "the statutory borrowing power which the authority could exercise for such other purpose" shall be substituted in Article 22 of the regulations for the words "such last-mentioned statutory borrowing power." This amendment shall apply to stock issued before or after this Order.

ART. 7. The following provisions shall be substituted for Article 23 of the regulations, and shall apply to money raised by stock issued before or after this Order:—

"The local authority may, and if required by the Local Government Board shall, from time to time invest temporarily on statutory securities any sum raised by stock and not for the time being required for the purpose for which it was raised."

ART. 8. The following shall be substituted for clause (5) of Article 29 of the regulations:—

"The registrar shall, after reasonable notice, and on delivery up of the old stock certificate, or on such proof that it cannot be produced, as the registrar, with the approval of the local authority, may require, deliver to the purchaser a new stock certificate under the seal of the local authority."

ART. 9. Clause (1) of Article 57 of the regulations shall be amended by the substitution for the words "including any sum paid by them for composition for stamp duty thereon and any other expenses" of the words "so far as they are."

ART. 10. These regulations shall be read as one with the regulations, and may be cited as "The Stock Regulations (Amendment), 1897," and with the regulations as "The Stock Regulations, 1891 and 1897," and the regulations may be cited as "The Stock Regulations, 1891."

Given under the Seal of Office of the Local Government Board, this third day of June, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven.

HUGH OWEN, Secretary.

ORDER IN COUNCIL OF THE 8TH AUGUST, 1901.

At the Court at St. James's, the 8th day of August, 1901.

PRESENT,

The King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Local Government Board did, in pursuance of the powers conferred upon them by the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890, on the second day of July, 1901, make certain regulations amending the regulations, confirmed by Orders in Council of 26th September, 1891, and 3rd August, 1897, applicable to the creation, issue, transfer, and redemption of and other dealings with any stock which any urban sanitary authority create in exercise of any statutory borrowing power.

And whereas the said amending regulations have, as required by the said Act, been laid before both Houses of Parliament for a period of thirty days, and no resolution has been passed by either House that such amending regulations ought not to be proceeded with.

Now, therefore, His Majesty, having taken the said amending regulations (copy whereof is hereunto annexed) into consideration, is pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to confirm and doth hereby confirm the same.

A. W. FITZROY.

AMENDING REGULATIONS REFERRED TO IN THE FOREGOING ORDER. PUBLIC HEALTH ACTS AMENDMENT ACT, 1890 (53 & 54 VICT. c. 59, s. 52).

REGULATIONS AS TO ISSUE OF STOCK. AMENDING ORDER.

WHEREAS by section 52 of the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890 (which section forms Part V. of the said Act) [the section (ante, p. 867) is recited].

And whereas it is provided by the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890, that Part V. of that Act may be adopted by any urban sanitary authority, and by virtue of the Local Government Act, 1894, urban sanitary authorities other than the councils of county boroughs are to be called urban district councils;

And whereas we, the Local Government Board, made the Stock Regulations, 1891, and the Stock Regulations (Amendment), 1897, and the same were confirmed by Orders in Council dated respectively the 26th day of September, 1891, and the 3rd day of August, 1897;

Appendix II.

And whereas it is desirable that the Stock Regulations, 1891, and the Stock Regulations (Amendment), 1897, should be amended as hereinafter provided:

Now, therefore, in the exercise of our powers in that behalf, we do hereby order and prescribe as follows:—

ART. 1. Article 2 of the Stock Regulations, 1891, shall have effect as if in paragraph (1) thereof for the words "at such price, being not lower than ninety-five per centum," there were substituted the words "at such price being not lower, except where the Board otherwise consent, than ninety-five per centum."

ART. 2. Article 16 of the Stock Regulations, 1891, shall have effect as if there were added to the said Article the following proviso; that is to say,—

"Provided as follows:—

"(1) Where the local authority have any statutory borrowing power and are authorised to exercise the statutory borrowing power by the creation and issue of stock, the local authority, instead of raising moneys in the exercise of the statutory borrowing power by the creation and issue of additional stock, may, subject to this proviso, exercise the statutory borrowing power, either wholly or partially, by using for the purpose any moneys for the time being forming part of the redemption fund and standing to the credit of any separate account or separate accounts forming part of the general account of that fund.

"(2) Where the local authority determine to proceed in the manner authorised by paragraph (1) of this proviso the local authority shall pass a resolution to that effect; and shall, by the resolution, prescribe all such matters or things as in or in pursuance of this proviso are referred to as prescribed or are required to be prescribed; and, after passing the resolution, the local authority shall—

"(a) withdraw from the redemption fund the prescribed sum which shall be equal to the amount of the statutory borrowing power proposed to be exercised, and such sum shall be deemed to be withdrawn from such separate account or separate accounts in the general account of the redemption fund as shall be prescribed; and

"(b) deduct, from the amount of stock for the time being chargeable to the undertaking or purpose or attributable to the exercise of the borrowing power to which a separate account prescribed as aforesaid has reference, a portion of stock at par value equal to the sum withdrawn from that separate account, and transfer that portion of stock, as from the prescribed date, to the separate account in respect of which the statutory borrowing power is exercised under this proviso.

"(3) These regulations, and any regulations amending these regulations, shall apply—

"(a) to the moneys withdrawn from the redemption fund and used as aforesaid as though the moneys so withdrawn had been applied in the redemption of stock at par on the separate account or separate accounts from which the moneys were withdrawn, and as though the moneys so used had been raised by the issue of additional stock for the purposes of the separate account in respect of which the statutory borrowing power is exercised under this proviso: and

"(b) to the stock deducted and transferred as aforesaid as though the stock so deducted had, in pursuance of the regulations, been redeemed by the application of the redemption fund on the separate account or separate accounts from which the stock was deducted but subject to the condition that such stock shall not be cancelled, and as though the stock so transferred were additional stock expressly issued for the purposes of the separate account in respect of which the statutory borrowing power is exercised under this proviso."

ART. 3. Article 6 of the Stock Regulations (Amendment), 1897, and the proviso to Article 22 of the Stock Regulations, 1891, shall be rescinded ; and the last-mentioned article shall have effect as if there were added to the said article the following proviso ; that is to say,—

"Provided that if, after the raising of any money by stock under these regulations, it shall be found that any part of such money is not required for the purposes to which it is applicable as aforesaid, the local authority shall pay such money into the redemption fund, and shall carry the same to the proper separate account forming part of the general account of the redemption fund."

ART. 4. For the purposes of this Order, the expression "local authority" includes any authority who, by the adoption of Part V. of the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890, or otherwise, may be entitled to issue stock in the manner provided by and subject to the provisions of the said Part.

ART. 5. The regulations in this Order shall be read as one with the Stock Regulations, 1891 and 1897, and may be cited as "The Stock Regulations (Amendment), 1901," and with the Stock Regulations, 1891 and 1897, may be cited as "The Stock Regulations, 1891, 1897, and 1901."

Given under the Seal of Office of the Local Government Board, this second day of July, in the year one thousand nine hundred and one.

PART III.

"The approval of any intended application for a Provisional Order by a local authority shall be in manner following; that is to say,— Evidence of approval and consent.

"A resolution approving of the intention to make such application shall be passed at a special meeting of the members constituting such local authority.

"Such special meeting shall not be held unless a month's previous notice of the same and of the purpose thereof, has been given in manner in which notices of meetings of such local authority are usually given.

Appendix II.

"Such resolution shall not be passed unless two-thirds of the members constituting such local authority are present and vote at such special meeting, and a majority of those present and voting concur in the resolution; provided that if in Scotland the local authority be the road trustees, it shall not be necessary that two-thirds of such trustees shall be present at the meeting, but the resolution shall not be valid unless two-thirds of the members present vote in favour of such resolution, and unless the said resolution is confirmed in like manner at another meeting called as aforesaid, and held not less than three weeks and not more than six weeks thereafter. Where any such resolution relating to the metropolis as the same is defined in Part I. of this Schedule, or to any district in Scotland of which road trustees are the local authority, has been passed in manner aforesaid, the intended application to which such resolution relates shall be deemed to be approved."

RULES OF THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Approval of application made by local authorities.

RULE I. When the application is made by any local authority, the evidence of approval required as above by Schedule A. (Part III.) of the Act must be given at the time fixed for proving compliance with the Act and these Rules, by (a) a certified copy of the resolution approving of the intention to make the application, (b) a certified copy of the notice convening the special meeting to consider the application, and (c) a certified statement of the number of members constituting the local authority, and of the number present and voting at such special meeting.

Consent to applications not made by local authorities.

RULE II. Where an application is made by promoters, not being the local authority of the district in which the tramway is proposed to be laid, evidence of the consent required by Part I., section 4 of the Act, must be given at the time fixed for proving compliance with the Act and these Rules, by (a) a certified copy of the resolution passed at a meeting of the local or road authority, as the case may be, at which the application was approved, (b) a copy of the notice convening the meeting, which notice must contain a statement that the subject of the proposed tramway will be brought before the meeting.

Similar evidence of the consent of the local and road authorities must be produced in cases in which the promoters seek to use steam or other mechanical power on any tramway or tramways already authorised.

ADVERTISEMENT AND NOTICES IN OCTOBER OR NOVEMBER AND DECEMBER.

Advertisement and notices of intended application and deposits.

Section 6. "The promoters intending to make an application for a Provisional Order shall proceed as follows:—

"(1) In the months of October and November next before their application, or in one of those months, they shall publish notice of their intention to make such application by advertisement; and they shall, on or before the fifteenth day of the following month of December, serve notice of such intention, in accordance with the Standing Orders (if any) of both Houses of Parliament for the time being in force with respect to Bills for the construction of tramways (see Schedule B., Part I.).

"(2) On or before the thirtieth day of the same month of November they shall deposit the documents described in part two of the same (h) schedule, according to the regulations therein contained:

"(3) On or before the twenty-third day of December in the same year they shall deposit the documents described in part three of the same (i) schedule, according to the regulations therein contained."

* * * * * *

SCHEDULE B.

PART I.

Contents of advertisement of intended application

"(1) Every advertisement is to contain the following particulars:—

"1. The objects of the intended application.

"2. A general description of the nature of the proposed works, if any.

"3. The names of the townlands, parishes, townships, and extra-parochial places in which the proposed works, if any, will be made.

"4. The times and places at which the deposit under Part II. of this schedule will be made.

(h) Schedule B. (i) Schedule B (on p. 2581).

"5. An office, either in London or at the place to which the intended application relates, at which printed copies of the draft Provisional Order, when deposited, and of the Provisional Order, when made, will be obtainable as hereinafter provided.

"(2) The whole notice is to be included in one advertisement, which is to be headed with a short title descriptive of the undertaking.

"(3) The advertisement is to be inserted once at least in each of two successive weeks in some one and the same newspaper published in the district affected by the proposed undertaking, where the proposed works, if any, will be made; or if there be no such newspaper, then in some one and the same newspaper published in the county in which every such district, or some part thereof, is situate; or if there be none, then in some one and the same newspaper published in some adjoining or neighbouring county.

"(4) The advertisement is also, in every case, to be inserted once at least in the London or Edinburgh Gazette, accordingly as the district is situate in England or Scotland."

Description of tramways in advertisement.

RULE III. The tramways mentioned in the advertisement of the intended application should be described in the manner prescribed in Rule XVI., but the length need not be inserted.

Advertisement as to narrow places.

RULE IV. The advertisement must specify at what point or points, and on which side of the street or road, it is proposed to lay such tramway, so that for a distance of thirty feet or upwards a less space than nine feet six inches, or if it is intended to run thereon carriages or trucks adapted for use upon railways, a less space than ten feet six inches shall intervene between the outside of the footpath on the side of the street or road and the nearest rail of the tramway. The notice shall also specify the gauge to be adopted, and what power it is intended to employ for moving carriages or trucks upon the tramway.

Street notice.

RULE V. In the months of October and November, or one of them, immediately preceding the application for any Provisional Order, a notice thereof shall be posted for fourteen consecutive days in every street or road, along which it is proposed to lay the tramway in such manner as the authority having the control of such street or road shall direct; and if after application to such authority no such direction shall be given, then in some conspicuous position in such street or road; and such notice shall also state the place or places at which the plans of such tramway will be deposited.

Notice to owners and lessees of railways, tramways and canals.

RULE VI. On or before the 15th day of December immediately preceding the application for any Provisional Order for laying down a tramway crossing any railway or tramway on the level, or crossing any railway, tramway, or canal by means of a bridge, or otherwise affecting or interfering with such railway, tramway, or canal, notice in writing of such application shall be served upon the owner or reputed owner and upon the lessee or reputed lessee of such railway, tramway or canal, and such notice shall state the place or places at which the plans of the tramway to be authorised by such Provisional Order have been or will be deposited.

Similar notice must also be given to county councils and to proprietors of navigable rivers in respect of their bridges or other works which are proposed to be crossed or otherwise interfered with.

Every notice under this Rule must be accompanied by a copy of Rule XVII., omitting the first paragraph, and must state where copies of the draft Provisional Order, when deposited at the Board of Trade, can be obtained.

Notice to local and road authorities.

RULE VII. When the promoters make application for an extension of time for the construction of, or for authority to abandon, any tramway, they must on or before the 15th day of December, serve notice of such application upon all the local and road authorities affected.

Intimation to intending objectors.

RULE VIII. The preceding advertisement and notices, other than the street notice, must state that every company, corporation, or person desirous of making any representation to the Board of Trade, or of bringing before them any objection respecting the application, may do so by letter, addressed to the assistant secretary of the Railway Department of the Board of Trade, on or before the 15th January next ensuing; that copies of their objections must at the same time be sent to the promoters; and that in forwarding to the Board of Trade such objections the objectors or their agents should state that a copy of the same has been sent to the promoters or their agents.

Appendix II.

Notice to frontagers.

RULE IX. On or before the 15th day of December immediately preceding the application for a Provisional Order, notice in writing must be given to the owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees, and occupiers of all houses, shops, or warehouses abutting upon any part of any street or road where, for a distance of thirty feet or upwards, it is proposed that a less space than nine feet six inches shall intervene between the outside of the footpath on either side of the road and the nearest rail of the tramway.

This notice should be given in respect of such premises on both sides of the road, and must contain a notification that if such owner, lessee, or occupier dissents from the tramway being so laid, he may express his dissent by a statement in writing, addressed to the assistant secretary of the Railway Department of the Board of Trade, on or before the 1st January next ensuing, and that he must at the same time send a copy of his dissent to the promoters.

DEPOSITS ON OR BEFORE 30TH NOVEMBER.

SCHEDULE B.

PART II.

Deposits on 30th November.

"(1) The promoters are to deposit—

"1. A copy of the advertisement published by them.

"2. A proper plan and section of the proposed works, if any, such plan and section to be prepared according to such regulations as may from time to time be made by the Board of Trade in that behalf.

"(2) The documents aforesaid are to be deposited for public inspection—

"In England, in the office of the clerk of the peace for every county, riding, or division, and of the parish clerk of every parish, and the office of the local authority of every district in or through which any such undertaking is proposed to be made; in Scotland, in the office of the principal sheriff clerk for every county, district, or division which will be affected by the proposed undertaking, or in which any proposed new work will be made.

"(3) The documents aforesaid are also to be deposited at the office of the Board of Trade."

Map and diagram.

RULE X. A published map of the district on a scale of not less than six inches to a mile (or, if no map on such a scale be published, then the best map obtainable), with the line of the proposed tramway marked thereon, and a diagram on a scale of not less than two inches to the mile prepared in accordance with the specimen appended to these rules, must also be deposited on or before the 30th of November.

Requirements as to plans.

RULE XI. The plans to be deposited must also comply with the following requirements :—

The plans shall indicate whether it is proposed to lay the tramway along the centre of any street or road, and if not along the centre, then on which side of, and at what distance from, an imaginary line drawn along the centre of such street or road, and whether or not, and if so, at what point or points, it is proposed to lay such tramway, or that for a distance of thirty feet or upwards a less space than nine feet six inches, or if it is intended to run thereon carriages or trucks adapted for use upon railways, a less space than ten feet six inches, shall intervene between the outside of the footpath on either side of the street or road and the nearest rail of the tramway.

All lengths shall be stated on the plan and section in miles, furlongs, chains, and decimals of a chain.

The distances in miles and furlongs from one of the termini of each tramway shall be marked on the plan and section.

Each double portion of tramway, whether a passing-place or otherwise, shall be indicated by a double line.

The total length of the street or road upon which each tramway is to be laid shall be stated (i.e., the length of route of each tramway).

The length of each double and single portion of such tramway, and the total length of such double and single portions respectively, shall also be stated.

In the case of double lines (including passing-places), the distance between the centre lines of each line of tramway shall be marked on the plans. This distance must in all cases be sufficient to leave at least 15 inches between the sides of the widest carriage and engines to be used on the tramways when passing one another. Appendix II.

The gradients of the street or road on which each tramway is to be laid shall be marked on the section.

Every crossing of a railway, tramway, river, or canal shall be shown, specifying in the case of railways and tramways whether they are crossed over, under, or on the level.

All tidal waters shall be coloured blue.

All places, where for a distance of 30 feet and upwards there will be a less space than nine feet six inches between the outside of the footpath on either side of the street or road and the nearest rail of the tramway, shall be indicated by a thick dotted line on the plans on the side or sides of the line of tramway where such narrow places occur, as well as noted on the plans, and the width of the street or road at these places shall also be marked on the plans.

Note.—The section of each tramway should, where practicable, be shown on the same page as the plan.

RULE XII. The plans to be deposited with the clerk of the peace or sheriff clerk (as the case may be) must be in duplicate. (See Standing Order of the House of Lords and of the House of Commons.) Plans in certain cases to be in duplicate.

RULE XIII. In cases where the proposed works are intended to be made in or through one or more parishes or districts, the deposit with the parish clerks or local authorities need consist only of a copy of so much of the plans and sections as relates to their respective parishes or districts. Portions only of plans required in certain cases.

RULE XIV. The following Standing Orders must also be complied with (k) : Plans, &c., to be deposited in Parliament.

STANDING ORDER OF THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

"Whenever plans, sections, books of reference, or maps are deposited in the case of an application to any public department or county council for a Provisional Order or certificate, duplicates of the said documents shall at the same time be deposited in the office of the clerk of the parliaments, provided that with regard to such deposits as are so made at any public department or with any county council after the prorogation of Parliament and before the thirtieth day of November in any year, such duplicates shall be so deposited on or before the thirtieth day of November."

STANDING ORDER OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

"Whenever plans, sections, books of reference, or maps are deposited in the case of an application to any public department or county council for a Provisional Order or Provisional Certificate, duplicates of the said documents shall at the same time be deposited in the Private Bill Office, provided that with regard to such deposits as are so made at any public department or with any county council after the prorogation of Parliament, and before the thirtieth day of November in any year, such duplicates shall be so deposited on the thirtieth day of November."

DEPOSITS ON OR BEFORE 23RD DECEMBER.

SCHEDULE B.

PART III.

"(1) The promoters are to deposit at the office of the Board of Trade—

"1. A memorial signed by the promoters, headed with a short title descriptive of the undertaking (corresponding with that at the head of the advertisement), addressed to the Board of Trade, and praying for a Provisional Order. Deposits on 23rd December.

"2. A printed draft of the Provisional Order as proposed by the promoters, with any schedule referred to therein.

"3. An estimate of the expense of the proposed works, if any, signed by the persons making the same.

"(2) They are also to deposit a sufficient number of such printed copies at the office named in that behalf in the advertisement; such copies to be there furnished to all persons applying for them at the price of not more than one shilling each.

"(3) The memorial of the promoters (to be written on foolscap paper, bookwise, with quarter margin) is to be in the following form, with such variations as circumstances require.

(k) These standing orders refer to amended as well as to original plans.

Appendix II.

RULE XV. The following documents, etc., must also be deposited at the Board of Trade on or before the 23rd December, viz. :—

List of railways, tramways, and canals, and copy of the notice.

(1) A complete list of every railway, tramway and canal proposed to be crossed or otherwise affected or interfered with, together with the names and addresses of the owners or reputed owners, and of the lessees or reputed lessees thereof, and a certified copy of the notice served upon them.

Lists of local and road authorities and copy of notice.

(2) A complete list of the local and of the road authorities through whose districts the proposed tramway is to pass (including in such list the clerk to the county council in cases where it is proposed to cross county bridges), and if any such district is or forms part of a highway district, under the provisions of the Highway Acts, a statement to that effect must accompany the deposit. Also a separate list of the local and road authorities affected by any application relating to the use of steam or other mechanical power on authorised tramways, or to an extension of time or abandonment ; together with a copy of any notice served under Rule VII.

Copy of street notice.

(3) A certified copy of the notice which is required by Rule V. to be posted in the streets in October or November next before the application.

List of frontagers and copy of notice.

(4) In all cases where for a distance of 30 feet or upwards it is proposed that a less space than nine feet six inches shall intervene between the outside of the footpath on either side of the road and the nearest rail of the tramway, or a less space than ten feet six inches if it is intended to run on the tramway carriages or trucks adapted for use upon railways, a complete list of the owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees, and occupiers of all houses, shops, or warehouses abutting upon any part of the highway, where such less space is proposed, together with a certified copy of the notice which was served on them on or before the 15th December, as required by Rule IX. (The list should be so prepared as to show distinctly and separately every length of street or road where for a distance of 30 feet or upwards such less space is proposed, and in respect of every such length of street or road it should indicate in parallel columns the name of the street, the name or number of the house, shop, or warehouse, and the names of the owner or reputed owner, the lessee or reputed lessee, and of the occupier.)

Description of land.

(5) A description of the land (if any) which the promoters propose to purchase for the construction of the tramway. (The contracts for the purchase of all the lands required must be produced at the time of proving compliance with the Act and these Rules.)

Memorandum of association, etc.

(6) A list of every Provisional Order or Act of Parliament (if any) of the promoters ; and where the promoters are a company incorporated under the Companies Act, 1862, a printed copy of the memorandum of association, articles of association, and any registered special resolution of the company, and in the case of a company incorporated in any other manner, a copy of every deed or instrument of settlement or incorporation.

Fee.

(7) A fee of £35, by cheque payable to "An Assistant Secretary of the Board of Trade." (This fee will not necessarily be taken to cover the cost of inquiries or other matters arising out of the application. With respect to costs in such matters, security must be given from time to time by the promoters as the Board of Trade may require.)

(l) This advertisement may be in print and affixed to the body of the memorial.

Appendix II.

DRAFT PROVISIONAL ORDER.

RULE XVI. The following rules must be observed in regard to the draft Provisional Order:— Form of draft Provisional Order.

(1) The draft Provisional Order must be deposited in triplicate and be printed on one side only of the page, so as to leave the back of the page blank, and any schedule annexed must begin a new page.

(2) The draft Provisional Order must describe where each tramway is to commence and terminate, and must state the streets and roads along which it is to pass, and the total length of the double and single portions respectively of such tramway in miles, furlongs, chains, and decimals of a chain.

(3) Each double and single portion of such tramway, with its commencement and termination, must also be described. (This can be done by stating that each line or branch line will be double or single throughout, except at certain specified places where it will be single or double.)

(4) Every passing-place must be described as a double line in accordance with the Standing Order of the House of Lords, which provides that "two lines of tramway running side by side shall be described as a double line."

(5) In cases where the promoters are individuals their addresses as well as names should be inserted in the draft Order.

(6) The names and addresses of the agents for the Provisional Order must be printed on the outside of the draft Order, and there must be a notice at the end of it stating that objections are to be addressed to the Assistant Secretary of the Railway Department of the Board of Trade on or before the 15th January next ensuing, that copies of objections must at the same time be sent to the promoters, and that in forwarding to the Board of Trade such objections, the objectors or their agents should state that a copy of the same has been sent to the promoters or their agents.

PROOFS OF COMPLIANCE WITH THE ACT AND RULES.

RULE XVII. The agents should be prepared to prove compliance with the provisions of the Act and these rules by the 15*th January, and all such proofs must be completed on or before the* 22*nd February.* Six days' notice will be given of the day and hour at which the agents are to attend for the purpose at the Board of Trade, and printed forms of proof will accompany the notice. These forms should be filled up by the agents, and brought with the requisite documents to the department at the time fixed for proving compliance. Proofs of compliance with Act and Rules.

If any local or road authority, or any railway, tramway, or canal company, or any other company, body, or person desire to have any clauses or other amendments inserted in the Order, they must deliver the same to the agents for the Order, and also to the Board of Trade, not later than the 8*th February.*

On or before the 22*nd February* the agents must deposit at the Board of Trade a filled up draft printed Order (in duplicate) containing in manuscript all such clauses or other amendments as have been agreed upon.

If any of the clauses or other amendments which have been delivered to the agents are not settled with the consent of both parties the agents must, so far as they can, on or before the 22nd February, show what are the amendments, if any, which each party would be willing to accept.

After the 22nd February no further proposals for clauses will be entertained by the Board of Trade.

DEPOSIT AND ADVERTISEMENT OF ORDER AS MADE.

"Section 13.—When a Provisional Order has been made as aforesaid and delivered to the promoters, the promoters shall forthwith publish the same by deposit and advertisement according to the regulations contained in Part IV. of the Schedule (B) to this Act." Deposit and advertisement of Order as made.

SCHEDULE B.

PART IV.

"(1) The promoters are to deposit printed copies of the Provisional Order, when settled and made, for public inspection in the offices of clerks of the peace and sheriff clerks, where the documents required to be deposited by them under Part II. of this schedule were deposited.

Appendix II.

"(2) They are also to deposit a sufficient number of such printed copies at the office named in that behalf in the advertisement, such copies to be there furnished to all persons applying for them at the price of not more than (m) each.

"(3) They are also to publish the Provisional Order as an advertisement once in the local newspaper in which the original advertisement of the intended application was published, or, in case the same shall no longer be published, in some other newspaper published in the district."

(Note.—Section 14 of that Act requires that the Order as made shall be deposited and advertised not later than the 25th April.)

Deposit of amended plan and section.

RULE XVIII. Should any alteration of the plan and section originally deposited for the purposes of the Order be made, with the approval of the Board of Trade, before the Order is granted, a copy of such plan and section (or of so much thereof as may be necessary), showing such alteration, must, before the Order is introduced into a Confirmation Bill, be deposited by the promoters for public inspection :—

In England, in the office of the clerk of the peace for every county, riding, or division, and of the parish clerk of every parish, and the office of the local authority of every district, affected by such alteration ; and

In Scotland, in the office of the principal sheriff clerk, for every county district, or division affected by such alteration.

Copies of such documents are at the same time to be deposited at the office of the Board of Trade in the office of the clerk of the Parliaments and at the Private Bill Office.

Proofs of deposit and advertisement of Order as made.

RULE XIX. When a Provisional Order has been made, and before it is introduced into the Confirmation Bill, the promoters will be required to submit to the Board of Trade the following proofs, viz. :—

(1) The receipt of the clerk of the peace or sheriff clerk, or proof by affidavit of the deposit of the Order with such officer as required by Part IV. of Schedule B to the Act.

(2) A copy of the local newspaper containing the advertisement of the Order. This advertisement must have a short heading stating that the Order has been made by the Board of Trade under the Tramways Act, 1870, previous to its being introduced into a Confirmation Bill, and must also state the name of the office where printed copies of the Order can be obtained.

(3) Proof must also be given that the advertised Order is a correct copy of the Order delivered by the Board of Trade to be advertised, that it was inserted in the newspaper in which the original advertisment of the application for the Order was published, and that a sufficient number of printed copies of the Order were deposited for sale at the office named in the original advertisement, with a statement of the price for which they may be obtained.

(4) Receipts or proofs by affidavit of the deposit of amended plans as required by Rule XVIII.

Printed forms for these proofs will be furnished by the Board of Trade when the Order is sent to the promoters to be advertised, and one of these forms must be filled up by the promoters, and brought or forwarded to the department as soon as possible after the advertisement and deposit have been made.

DEPOSIT OF MONEY, PENALTY FOR NON-COMPLETION OF TRAMWAYS, AND RELEASE OF DEPOSIT.

Deposit of money in the Chancery Division under section 12 of Act.

RULE XX. After the Provisional Order is ready, and before the same is introduced by the Board of Trade into a Confirming Bill, the promoters (unless they are a local authority) shall, if they are not possessed of a tramway already open for public traffic, which has during the year last past paid dividends on their ordinary share capital, pay as a deposit a sum of money not less than five per centum on the amount of the estimate of the expense of the construction of the tramway, as follows ; namely,

Where the tramway or any part thereof will be situate in England,—to the account of the Paymaster General for and on behalf of the Supreme Court of Judicature in England to the credit of the particular tramway :

(m) The Board of Trade consider that the price to be here inserted should not be more than one shilling.

Where the tramway will be situate wholly in Scotland,—either to the account of the Paymaster General for and on behalf of the Supreme Court of Judicature in England in manner aforesaid, or (at the option of the promoters) into a bank in Scotland established by Act of Parliament or Royal Charter, in the name and with the privity of the Queen's Remembrancer of the Court of Exchequer in Scotland ex parte the particular tramway.

The Board of Trade may issue their warrant to the promoters for such payment into court, which warrant shall be a sufficient authority for the persons therein named, not exceeding five in number, or the majority or survivors of them, to pay the money therein mentioned to the account of the Paymaster General for and on behalf of the Supreme Court of Judicature in England or into the bank therein mentioned, in the name and with the privity of the officer therein mentioned, if any, and for that officer to issue directions to such bank to receive the same, to be placed to his account there according to the method (prescribed by statute, or general rules or orders of court or otherwise), for the time being in force respecting the payment of money into the said courts respectively, and without fee or reward.

Provided, that in lieu, wholly or in part, of the payment of money, the promoters may bring into court as a deposit an equivalent sum of bank annuities, or of any stocks, funds, or securities on which cash under the control of the respective courts is for the time being permitted to be invested, or of exchequer bills (the value thereof being taken at the price at which the promoters originally purchased the same, as appearing by the broker's certificate of the purchase); and in that case the Board of Trade shall vary their warrant accordingly by directing the transfer or deposit of such amount of stocks, funds, securities, or exchequer bills by the persons therein named.

Where money is so paid into the Supreme Court of Judicature, the Court may, on the application of the persons named in the warrant of the Board of Trade, or of the majority or survivors of them, order that the same be invested in such stocks, funds, or securities as the applicants desire and the Court thinks fit.

In the subsequent provisions of these rules, the term "the deposit fund" means the money deposited, or the stocks, funds, or securities in which the same is invested, or the bank annuities, stocks, funds, securities, or exchequer bills transferred or deposited, as the case may be; and the term "the depositors" means the persons named in the warrant of the Board of Trade authorising the deposit, or the majority or survivors of those persons, their executors, administrators, or assigns.

Penalty for non-completion of tramways.

RULE XXI. If the promoters empowered by the Order to make the tramway are possessed of a tramway already opened for public traffic, and which has during the year last past paid dividends on their ordinary share capital, no deposit will be required; but if such promoters (unless they are a local authority) do not, within the time in the Order prescribed, or within the time as prolonged by the special direction of the Board of Trade under section 18 of the Tramways Act, 1870, and if none is prescribed, or if the time has not been prolonged as aforesaid, then within two years from the passing of the Act confirming the Order, complete the tramway authorised by the Order, they will be liable to a penalty of £50 a day for every day after the expiration of the period so limited, until the said tramway is completed and opened for public traffic, or until the sum received in respect of such penalty shall amount to five per cent. on the estimated cost of the works; and the said penalty may be applied for by any road authority claiming to be compensated in accordance with the provisions of Rule XXII., and in the same manner as the penalty provided in the third section of the Act 17 and 18 Vict. c. 31, known as the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1854, and every sum of money recovered by way of such penalty as aforesaid shall be paid under the warrant or order of such court or judge as is specified in the said third section of the Act 17 & 18 Vict. c. 31, to an account opened or to be opened in the name and with the privity of the Paymaster General for and on behalf of the Supreme Court of Judicature in England [the Queen's Remembrancer of the Court of Exchequer in Scotland (according as the tramway is situate in England or Scotland)], in the bank named in such Order, and shall not be paid thereout, except as provided by Rule XXII., but no penalty will accrue in respect of any time during which it shall appear, by a certificate to be obtained from the Board of Trade, that the promoters were prevented from completing or opening such tramway by unforeseen accident or circumstances beyond their control; Provided, that the want of sufficient funds will not be held to be a circumstance beyond their control.

Appendix II.

Application of deposit.

RULE XXII. If the promoters empowered by the Order to make the tramway do not within the time within the Order prescribed, or within the time as prolonged by the special direction of the Board of Trade under section 18 of the Tramways Act, 1870, and if none is prescribed, or if the time has not been prolonged as aforesaid, then within two years from the passing of the Act confirming the Order, complete the tramway, and open it for public traffic, then and in every such case the deposit fund, or so much thereof as shall not have been repaid to the depositors (or any sum of money recovered by way of such penalty as aforesaid), shall be applicable, and after due notice in the London or Edinburgh Gazette, as the case may require, shall be applied towards compensating all road authorities for the expense incurred by them in taking up any tramway or materials connected therewith placed by the promoters in or on any road vested in or maintainable by such road authorities respectively, and in making good all damage caused to such roads by the construction or abandonment of such tramway, and for which expense or damage no compensation or inadequate compensation shall have been paid, and shall be distributed in satisfaction of such compensation in such manner and in such proportions as to the Supreme Court of Judicature in England or Court of Exchequer in Scotland, as the case may be, may seem fit; and if no such compensation shall be payable, or if a portion of the said deposit fund (or of the sum or sums of money recovered by way of penalty aforesaid) shall have been found sufficient to satisfy all just claims in respect of such compensation, then the said deposit fund (or the sum or sums of money recovered by way of penalty aforesaid), or such portion of it as may not be required as aforesaid shall in the discretion of the Court if the promoters are a company and a receiver has been appointed, or if such company is insolvent and has been ordered to be wound up be paid or transferred to such receiver, or to the liquidator or liquidators of the company, or be applied in the discretion of the Court as part of the assets of the company, for the benefit of the creditors thereof. Subject to such application as aforesaid, the deposit fund may be repaid or retransferred to the depositors or as they shall direct.

Release of deposit

RULE XXIII. The Court in which the deposit is made shall, on the application of the depositors, order the deposit fund to be paid or transferred to the applicants, or as they shall direct, if, within the time by the Order prescribed, or within the time prolonged by the special direction of the Board of Trade under section 18 of the Tramways Act, 1870, and if none is prescribed, or if the time has not been prolonged as aforesaid, then within two years from the passing of the Act confirming the Order, the promoters thereby empowered to make the tramway, complete it, and open it for public traffic after inspection by an inspector appointed by the Board of Trade, and upon a certificate of the Board of Trade that the tramway is fit for public traffic as provided by Rule XXV.; Provided, that if within such time as aforesaid any portion of a line of tramway authorised by an Order is opened for public traffic, after such inspection as aforesaid, and on such certificate under Rule XXV. as aforesaid, then on the production of a certificate of the Board of Trade, specifying the length of the portion of the tramway opened as aforesaid, and the portion of the deposit fund which bears to the whole of the deposit fund proportion as the length of the tramway so opened bears to the entire length of the tramway authorised by the Order the court in which the deposit is made shall, on the application of the depositors, order the said portion of the deposit fund so specified in such certificate as aforesaid to be paid or transferred to them, or as they shall direct.

Miscellaneous as to deposits.

RULE XXIV. The depositors shall be entitled to receive payment of any interest or dividends from time to time accruing on the deposit fund while in court; and the court in which the deposit is made may from time to time, on the application of the depositors, make such Order as seems fit respecting the payment of the interests or dividends accordingly.

If either House of Parliament refuse to confirm any Provisional Order in respect whereof a deposit has been made under these rules, or authorise a portion only of any tramway comprised in such Order, or if any such Provisional Order be withdrawn before the same is confirmed by Parliament, the Court shall, upon production of a certificate of the Board of Trade, order the deposit fund or a proportionate part thereof, as the case may be, to be paid to the depositors, or as they shall direct.

The issuing in any case of any warrant or certificate relating to deposit or to the deposit fund, or any error in any such warrant or certificate or in relation thereto, shall not make the Board of Trade, or the person signing the warrant or certificate on their behalf, in any manner liable for or in respect of the deposit fund, or the interest of or dividends on the same, or any part thereof respectively.

Any application under these rules to the Supreme Court of Judicature shall be made in a summary manner by summons at chambers.

OPENING OF TRAMWAYS.

Opening of tramways.

RULE XXV. The promoters shall give to the Board of Trade at least 14 days' notice in writing of their intention to open any tramway, or portion of a tramway, and such tramway or portion of tramway shall not be opened for public traffic until an inspector appointed by the Board of Trade has inspected the same, and the Board of Trade has certified that it is fit for such traffic. The above-mentioned notice should be accompanied by the following documents, viz. :—

(1) A copy of the Act or Provisional Order authorising the construction of the tramways.

(2) A copy or tracing of so much of the deposited plans and sections as relates to the portion of tramway proposed to be opened, distinguishing between double and single line, and showing in red ink any variations therefrom in the tramways as constructed.

(3) A list of the local and road authorities concerned.

(4) A diagram of the lines submitted for inspection, on a scale of about two inches to a mile.

PROLONGATION OF TIME FOR THE COMMENCEMENT OR COMPLETION OF WORKS.

Prolongation of time for commencement or completion of works.

The Board of Trade, under the powers conferred upon them by section 18 of the Tramways Act, 1870, have made the following rules with respect to applications for a prolongation of time for the commencement or the completion of the works authorised by any Order made under the above-named Act :—

1. The application should be in the form of a memorial setting forth the grounds on which the application is made, and must be made at least one month before the expiration of the time prescribed for the commencement or the completion of the works, as the case may be.

2. The promoters of any tramway undertaking authorised by any Order, who intend to apply to the Board of Trade for a prolongation of the time limited for the commencement or the completion of the works authorised by such Order, shall publish by advertisement, once at least in each of two successive weeks, in some one and the same newspaper published in the district affected by such Order, a notice of their intention to apply to the Board of Trade for a prolongation of time.

3. The notice must state the period to which it is proposed to prolong the time limited for the commencement or the completion of the works, as the case may be, and must contain a notification that all persons desirous of making any representation to the Board of Trade, or of bringing before them any objection respecting the application, may do so by letter addressed to the Assistant Secretary (Railway Department), Board of Trade, on or before a day to be named in the advertisement, being not less than 21 days from the date of the first publication of the advertisement, and that copies of their representations or objections should at the same time be sent to the promoters.

4. A similar notice must be delivered to every local and road authority before the second publication of the notice. Copies of newspapers containing the notice, and a statement that a copy of it has been duly served on the local

Appendix II. and road authorities as required by these rules, must be sent to the Board of Trade with the application.

5. Before the Board of Trade comply with the application, they will impose such conditions (if any) as they think fit.

NOTIFICATION AND TREATMENT OF TUBERCULOSIS—GENERAL ORDER.

(19th December, 1912.)

TO THE COUNCILS of the several Administrative Counties in England and Wales; To the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled; To the Councils of the several Metropolitan Boroughs, Municipal Boroughs, and other Urban Districts in England and Wales; To the Councils of the several Rural Districts in England and Wales; To the Board of Guardians of every Poor Law Union in England and Wales; To the Board of Management of each Asylum District formed under the Metropolitan Poor Act, 1867, and of every District School in England and Wales; To all Medical Practitioners; And to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS [recites section 130 of the P. H. A., 1875, as amended by the P. H. A., 1896].

And whereas tuberculosis is an endemic and an infectious disease;

And whereas by the Public Health (Tuberculosis) Regulations, 1908, by the Public Health (Tuberculosis in Hospitals) Regulations, 1911, and by the Public Health (Tuberculosis) Regulations, 1911, we made certain regulations for preventing the spread of pulmonary tuberculosis;

And whereas it appears to us to be expedient that the said regulations should be revoked, and that the regulations which are hereinafter set forth should be made in relation to tuberculosis:

NOW THEREFORE, we, by this our Order and in the exercise of the powers conferred upon us by the Public Health Act, 1875, the Public Health (London) Act, 1891, and the Public Health Act, 1896, and of every other power enabling us in that behalf, do hereby make the following regulations, that is to say:—

Definitions. ARTICLE I.—In these regulations, unless the contrary intention appears:—

(a) Words importing the masculine gender include females;

(b) Words in the singular include the plural, and words in the plural include the singular;

(c) Expressions referring to writing include references to printing, and to other modes of representing or reproducing words in a visible form, and references to printing include references to other mechanical modes of so representing or reproducing words;

Appendix II.

(r) The expressions "Form A.," "Form B.," "Form C.," and "Form D." mean respectively the Form A., Form B., Form C., and Form D. set out in the Schedule A. to these regulations;

(s) The expression "week" means a week ending at midnight on Saturday.

Revocation of previous regulations.

ARTICLE II.—On and after the date of the operation of these regulations the previous regulations and all Orders made by the Local Government Board thereunder shall be revoked.

Commencement of regulations.

ARTICLE III.—These regulations shall come into operation on the first day of February, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, and, subject to the provisions of Article XVII. of these regulations, shall then and thereafter

Appendix II. apply and have effect throughout England and Wales, and shall be enforced and executed by every local authority.

Supply of forms of notification.

ARTICLE IV.—For the purposes of these regulations—

Every local authority shall provide and maintain a sufficient supply of printed copies of the forms set out in the Schedule A. to these regulations, and shall as soon as practicable after these regulations come into operation, and afterwards from time to time when application is made to them, furnish—

(a) printed copies of Form A. to every medical practitioner resident or practising within the district of the local authority;

(b) printed copies of Form B. to the school medical inspector or inspectors of every public elementary school situate within the district of the local authority; and

(c) printed copies of Form C. and Form D. to the medical officers of every Poor Law institution and sanatorium situate within the district of the local authority.

Notification by medical practitioners.

ARTICLE V.—Subject to the provisions of these regulations every medical practitioner (unless acting as a school medical inspector) attending on or called in to visit any person (whether at an institution or otherwise), shall, within forty-eight hours after first becoming aware that such person is suffering from tuberculosis, make and sign a notification of the case in Form A., and shall transmit the notification to the medical officer of health for the district within which the place of residence of the person is situate at the date of the notification:

Provided that a medical practitioner shall not notify a case of tuberculosis under this article if he has reasonable grounds for believing that the case has already been notified, either under this Order or under the previous regulations or otherwise, to the medical officer of health for the district within which the place of residence of the person is situate:

Provided further that if a notification is required in pursuance of this article in respect of an in-patient at an institution, the notification shall be sent to the medical officer of health for the district in which the usual place of residence of the patient is situate.

Weekly notification by school medical inspectors.

ARTICLE VI.—Every school medical inspector shall, as soon as practicable after the end of each week, make and sign a notification in Form B. of all cases of tuberculosis of which he has first become aware in the course of inspections made by him during the week of children attending public elementary schools, and shall transmit the notification to the medical officer of health for the district within which the places of residence of the children are situate. When the places of residence are situate in more than one district, a separate notification shall be transmitted to the medical officer of health of each district.

Weekly notification by medical officers of Poor Law institutions and sanatoria.

ARTICLE VII.—The medical officer of a Poor Law institution or of a sanatorium shall, as soon as practicable after the end of each week—

(a) make and sign a notification in Form C. of all cases of tuberculosis admitted during the week and not being cases which are required to be notified under Article V. of these regulations, and transmit the notification to the medical officer of health for the district within which the places of residence of the persons notified are situate; and

(b) make and sign a notification in Form D. of all cases of tuberculosis discharged during the week, other than cases transferred to a Poor Law institution or a sanatorium, and transmit the notification to the medical officer of health for the district within which the places of destination of the persons notified are situate.

When the places of residence, or the places of destination, as the case may be, of the persons to be notified are situate in more than one district a separate notification shall be transmitted to the medical officer of health of each district.

Diagnosis of tuberculosis.

ARTICLE VIII.—For the purposes of these regulations a medical practitioner shall be deemed to have become aware that a person is suffering from tuberculosis when he has arrived at this conclusion from evidence other than that derived solely from tuberculin tests applied to that person.

Transmission of notifications.

ARTICLE IX.—A notification to be transmitted to a medical officer of health in pursuance of these regulations may be transmitted by being delivered to that officer or by being delivered at his office or residence, or may be sent by prepaid letter post addressed to him at his office or at his residence. Every notification shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the medical officer of health.

Appendix II.

Remuneration of medical practitioners.

ARTICLE X.—(1) Every medical practitioner described in column 1 of the Schedule B. to these regulations shall be entitled to receive for each notification duly made, signed and transmitted by him under Article V. of these regulations the fee specified in column 2 of the said schedule opposite to the description of the medical practitioner in column 1, and for every notification duly made, signed and transmitted by him under Article VII. of these regulations, the fee specified in column 3 of the said schedule opposite to the description of the medical practitioner in column 1.

(2) As soon as practicable after the end of the quarter during which the notification was sent to the local authority for the district within which the place of residence or place of destination of the person notified is situate that local authority shall pay the fee for the same, and a medical practitioner shall not be required for that purpose to submit an account of fees claimed by him under these regulations.

(3) The said fees shall in each case be deemed to cover all expenses, including the cost of transmission.

Duties of medical officers of health.

ARTICLE XI.—(1) A medical officer of health, on receipt of a notification which has been erroneously addressed to him by a medical practitioner, shall forthwith transmit the notification to the medical officer of health to whom the notification ought, in pursuance of these regulations, to have been addressed, and shall at the same time inform the medical practitioner that he has done so, and shall give to him the name and address of the medical officer of health to whom the notification has been sent.

(2) Every medical officer of health shall cause to be entered in a register to be kept by him for that purpose the full particulars contained in every notification received by him under these regulations and relating to a person whose place of residence or place of destination is situate within the district for which he is medical officer of health. The said register shall be kept in the custody of the medical officer of health and shall not be open to inspection by any person other than a person specially authorised by resolution of the local authority, the medical officer of health for the administrative county within which the district is situate, a school medical inspector for any area within which the district is situate, or an officer of any government department authorized in that respect by that department.

Every notification and every document relating to a person notified under these regulations shall be regarded by the medical officer of health, and by every person who has access thereto, as confidential.

(3) The medical officer of health shall, as soon as practicable after the end of each week, send to the medical officer of health for the administrative county within which the district is situate a statement of every notification received by him during the week in pursuance of these regulations and relating to a person whose place of residence is situate within the district for which he is medical officer of health. The statement shall show on which form the notification was made and shall contain the information in regard to each person which was given in the notification.

(4) Any expenses incurred by a medical officer of health in carrying out the duties imposed upon him by this article shall be defrayed by the local authority of the district for which he is medical officer of health.

ARTICLE XII.—Upon the receipt of a notification under these regulations the medical officer of health, or an officer of the local authority acting under the instructions of the medical officer of health, shall make such inquiries and take such steps as are necessary or desirable for investigating the source of infection, for preventing the spread of infection, and for removing conditions favourable to infection;

Provided that nothing in this article shall be deemed to authorise a medical officer of health or other officer to take any of the steps herein mentioned at any institution other than one belonging to the local authority, except with the consent of the managers of that institution.

Appendix II.

Special powers and duties of local authorities.

ARTICLE XIII.—For the purposes of these regulations—

(1) A local authority on the advice of their medical officer of health may supply all such medical or other assistance, and all such facilities and articles as may reasonably be required for the detection of tuberculosis, for preventing the spread of infection and for removing conditions favourable to infection, and for that purpose may appoint such officers, do such acts and make such arrangements as may be necessary:

Provided that nothing in this subdivision of this article shall be deemed to authorise a local authority to take any of the measures herein mentioned at any institution other than one belonging to the local authority.

(2) A local authority on the advice of their medical officer of health, may provide and publish or distribute suitable summaries of information and instruction respecting tuberculosis, and the precautions to be taken against the spread of infection from that disease.

Notification not required in certain cases.

ARTICLE XIV.—Nothing in these regulations shall apply to or impose any duty or obligation upon any medical practitioner acting in his capacity as—

(a) Medical officer of one of His Majesty's prisons or of a Borstal institution, a certified reformatory school, a certified industrial school, a State or certified inebriate reformatory, or a criminal lunatic asylum;
(b) Medical examiner of candidates for some office or appointment;
(c) Medical examiner on behalf of an insurance company of a person proposing to insure his life at the risk of that company;
(d) Medical examiner of the passengers and crew of an emigrant ship; or
(e) Certifying or appointed surgeon under the Factory and Workshop Acts.

ARTICLE XV.—Nothing in these regulations shall have effect so as to require a notification to be transmitted to a medical officer of health, in respect of any inmate of any building, ship, vessel, boat, tent, van, shed or similar structure belonging to His Majesty the King.

Exception and application of enactments.

ARTICLE XVI.—Nothing in these regulations shall have effect so as to apply, or so as to authorise or require a medical officer of health or a local authority, or any other person or authority, directly or indirectly, to put in force with respect to any person in relation to whom a notification in pursuance of these regulations has been transmitted to a medical officer of health any enactment which renders the person, or any one in charge of the person, or any other person, liable to a penalty, or subjects the person to any restriction, prohibition, or disability affecting himself, or his employment, occupation or means of livelihood, on the ground of his suffering from tuberculosis.

Modifications consequent upon local Acts.

ARTICLE XVII.—Nothing in these regulations shall have effect in derogation of any power conferred, or of any duty or obligation imposed with respect to tuberculosis by a local Act, and these regulations shall not apply to a district in which any such local Act as aforesaid is in force except so far as they impose duties and obligations or confer powers which are not imposed or conferred by the local Act and which are not inconsistent with any duties, obligations, or powers which are imposed or conferred by the local Act. Such modification as may be necessary to give effect to the intention of this article shall be deemed to have been made in these regulations in relation to any such district as aforesaid.

Short title.

ARTICLE XVIII.—These regulations may be cited as "the Public Health (Tuberculosis) Regulations, 1912."

DOMICILIARY TREATMENT OF TUBERCULOSIS—GENERAL ORDER.

Appendix II.

(July 26th, 1912.)

TO THE COUNCIL of every COUNTY and of every SANITARY DISTRICT in ENGLAND AND WALES; To all Insurance Committees in England and Wales appointed in pursuance of the National Insurance Act, 1911; And to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS [recites section 16 of the National Insurance Act, 1911].

NOW THEREFORE, in the exercise of the powers given to us by the statutes in that behalf, and subject to the provisions of any Order which we may hereafter issue, we hereby approve of treatment otherwise than in sanatoria or other institutions of insured persons suffering from tuberculosis when undertaken in such manner as to comply with the following regulations, that is to say:—

ARTICLE I.—In these regulations, unless the contrary intention appears:—

The expression "sanitary district" means the city of London, any metropolitan borough, municipal borough or other urban district, or any rural district;

The expression "sanitary authority" means any local authority entrusted with the execution of the Public Health Act, 1875, or in the case of London the Public Health (London) Act, 1891;

The expression "medical practitioner" means a registered medical practitioner;

The expression "consulting officer" means the consulting officer of a dispensary approved by us under the National Insurance Act, 1911, for the treatment of tuberculosis in the city of London, any county borough, or metropolitan borough, or any administrative county (other than the administrative county of London) or until such officer has been appointed, the medical officer of health of the city of London, county borough, or metropolitan borough, or administrative county, or such other medical practitioner as we may, on the application of an Insurance Committee, from time to time approve for the purposes of these regulations.

ARTICLE II.—The treatment shall be carried out under the care and direction of a medical practitioner, subject to the following conditions, and to such other conditions as we may in any case from time to time approve; that is to say:—

(1) That the medical practitioner attend each patient at such intervals as may be necessary in the interest of the patient.

(2) That the medical practitioner give the patient such instructions as are required as to his mode of living, diet, rest and work, and as to precautions necessary to protect the patient against re-infection.

(3) That the medical practitioner keep on a card or sheet in the form set out in the schedule (n) hereto, a continuous record of the clinical history of the illness of each patient and particulars of the treatment given to the patient under his direction.

(4) That the medical practitioner submit the said card or sheet to the consulting officer at such times as may be arranged between them.

(5) That the medical practitioner prepare and transmit to the consulting officer at such times as may be arranged between them, not being less often than once in three months, a report in regard to each patient giving particulars as to:—

(a) the progress of the patient;

(b) whether the conditions under which the patient is living and receiving the treatment are satisfactory;

(c) the behaviour of the patient in carrying out instructions given to him; and

(d) whether in the opinion of the medical practitioner any form of institutional treatment has become desirable.

(6) That the medical practitioner confer with the consulting officer at such times and in such circumstances as may be arranged between them in regard to patients under the care of the medical practitioner.

(7) That the medical practitioner from time to time inform the medical officer of health of the sanitary district in which the patient resides of any circumstances known to the medical practitioner which may affect adversely the sanitary conditions under which the patient is living, and in respect to which action by the medical officer of health or of the sanitary authority would, in the opinion of the medical practitioner, be necessary or desirable.

ARTICLE III.—These regulations shall come into operation on the date hereof and shall apply and have effect throughout England and Wales.

Given under the Seal of Office of the Local Government Board, this twenty-sixth day of July, in the year one thousand nine hundred and twelve.

HOUSING, TOWN PLANNING, &c., ACT, 1909.

REGULATION OF UNDERGROUND ROOMS AS SLEEPING PLACES.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD, WHITEHALL, S.W.
17*th April,* 1914.

SIR,—I am directed by the Local Government Board to call the attention of the council to sub-section (7) of section 17 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909.

This sub-section, subject to a proviso for user after a closing order has been made for purposes other than those of a sleeping place, enacts as follows :—

[The sub-section, ante, p. 1167, is here set out.]

Assuming that the council have not already made regulations under the sub-section above cited, the Board direct me to inquire whether the council have already given consideration to the enactment, with a view to framing regulations under it, and what has been the result of such consideration. If not, the Board suggest that the council should consider how far regulations of the kind are needed in the district, and they would be glad to receive a copy of a report of the medical officer of health upon the extent to which any houses in the district come within the terms of the sub-section. The Board feel that sufficient experience has not as yet been gained of the operation of regulations under the sub-section in cases where they have been made, to justify them in issuing a model series, but they enclose for the information of the council a copy of draft clauses which have formed the basis of regulations made by a number of local authorities.

Further copies of the draft clauses together with a memorandum containing instructions for submitting regulations to the Board may be obtained on your application for them, and the Board request that any proposals of the council may be submitted to them in draft in accordance with those instructions before being formally adopted by the council.

I am to add that this circular will be placed on sale, so that copies will shortly be obtainable either directly or through any bookseller from Messrs. Wyman and Sons, Limited, Fetter Lane, London, E.C.

I am, Sir, Your obedient servant,

H. C. MONRO, Secretary.

The Town Clerk.
Clerk to the Urban District Council.
Clerk to the Rural District Council.

DRAFT CLAUSES (XXII.). Appendix II.

REGULATIONS PRESCRIBED BY THE UNDER SECTION 17 (7) (o) OF THE HOUSING, TOWN PLANNING, &C., ACT, 1909.

Every room habitually used as a sleeping place the surface of the floor of which is more than three feet below the surface of the part of the street adjoining or nearest to the room shall comply with the following regulations, namely :—

1. The subsoil of the site of the room shall be effectually drained by means of a properly trapped and ventilated subsoil drain wherever the dampness of the site renders such a precaution necessary.

2. Every drain passing under the room other than a drain for the drainage of the subsoil of the site of the room shall be gas-tight and water-tight.

3. The room shall be effectually protected against the rising of any effluvium or exhalation by being properly asphalted or by being covered with a layer of good cement concrete at least six inches thick or four inches thick if properly grouted laid upon the ground of the site of the entire room or in some equally effectual manner.

4. The space if any beneath the floor of the room shall be provided with adequate means of ventilation.

5.—(i.) Every wall of the room shall be provided with an efficient horizontal damp-proof course which shall be composed of materials impervious to moisture and shall if the floor of the room be formed of woodwork be beneath the level of the lowest timbers or woodwork of such floor and shall in every other case be not less than one inch below the level of the upper surface of such floor.

(ii.) No part of any wall of the room shall where it is practicable to avoid it be in contact with the ground or earth.

Provided that where any wall of the room is in contact with the ground or earth, such wall or such part thereof as is so in contact shall unless constructed as a hollow wall have an efficient vertical damp-proof course extending from the lowest horizontal damp-proof course therein to a height of at least six inches above the surface of the contiguous ground or earth.

6. Unless the room is provided with a fireplace and a flue properly constructed and properly connected with such fireplace it shall be provided with special and adequate means of ventilation by one or more suitably placed apertures or air shafts.

7. An area or open space properly paved with impervious material and effectually drained by means of a properly trapped gulley shall adjoin the room and shall extend either

(a) throughout the entire length of one side thereof ; or

(b) at least throughout the entire width of any window or windows required by these regulations and (except where the area of such window or windows shall be not less than one-seventh of the floor area of the room) for three feet on each side of such window or windows.

Any such area shall be not less than two feet wide in every part thereof, and shall be open upwards from a level three inches below the level of the damp-proof course in the adjoining wall of the room.

Provided (a) that where a bay window in the room having side lights overlooks such an area the width thereof in front of such window may be one foot at the least ; and

(b) that any steps necessary for access to any part of the building comprising the room may be placed in or over such an area or open space if they are so placed as not to be over or across any window of the room required by the regulation in that behalf.

8.—(i.) The room shall be effectually lighted by means of one or more windows opening directly into the external air.

(ii.) Every such window shall be so constructed that one-half at the least may be opened and that the opening may extend to the top of the window.

(iii.) The total area of such window or windows clear of the sash frames shall be equal at the least to one-eighth of the floor area of the room and a portion of such total area equal in extent to at least one-tenth of such floor area shall be so situated that a line making an angle of thirty degrees with a horizontal plane can be drawn upwards from any point thereon in a vertical plane at right angles to the plane of the window so as not to intersect within a distance of ten feet measured horizontally from the window any wall of any area adjoining the room or any other wall or any kerb or other obstruction except an open fence.

For the purposes of this paragraph a bay window having side lights shall be assumed to be equivalent to a flat window of the same area and of the same height in relation to the room and situated at a distance from the outside area wall equal to the mean width of the area.

(iv.) In estimating the area of a window or windows for the purpose of this regulation no account shall be taken of any part of any such window which is above the mean level of the ceiling of the room.

(v.) Any such window or windows shall overlook the area or open space provided in pursuance of the regulation in that behalf.
